Tickets for the grand concert Friday evening by Mrs. Susie F. Marcy, the Nowell brothers, Harlow's orchestra and a double quartette, can now be procured at Preston's, at thirty-five and twenty-five cents, with no extra charge for reserved seats. The hundreds who remember the pleasure given by Mrs. Marcy years ago, before she had submitted to the severe course of musical training to which she has since subjected herself, will all want to hear her at this, her last appearance on the public stage. And even leaving Mrs. Marcy out, the rest of the performers will give an entertainment superior to many of the highest priced travelling companies.

Sunday night a boy named Murphy broke a pane of glass in the shop of Mr. N. D. Miller, and thus effected an entrance into the shop. Mr. Miller does not miss anything, although the young scamp evidently intended to raise some change for the 4th of July by his illicit enterprise.

The High School exhibition will be at Franklin Hall this afternoon, commencing at exactly half-past two. Holders of tickets for reserved seats are expected to be on hand promptly, as all such seats not taken before the time of commencing will be thrown open to others.

QUICK WORK.

Monday afternoon a man who calls himself Joseph J. Morrison, and claims that he belongs to Francestown in this State, called at the house of Mr. Fred S. Wendell, on the corner of Deer and Market streets; he informed Mrs. Wendell that he was hungry, and begged for some food, which she gave him. While Mrs. Wendell had her attention called away Morrison stepped into a bed-room and stole a gold watch which was hanging there. Soon after he left Mrs. Wendell discovered her loss, and immediately notified the police, giving the description of the man. Marshal Entwistle and Assistant Marshal Gray started after him, and in less than an hour after the watch was stolen found the thief at Adams & Co.'s lumber yard, searched him and found the watch in one of his pockets. We doubt if there is a more successful thief-catching police force anywhere than our city can boast of, and it is a rare occurrance for a thief to escape from them; sometimes the pilferer manages to avoid them for a while, but he generally gets caught in the long run.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI REUNION.

The exercises at the reunion of the High School Association at Franklin Hall, this evening, will commence at half-past seven o'clock with music by Harlow's orchestra. A poem written for the occasion will be read bo the author, Mr. Samuel W. Foss, followed by brief addresses by the officers of the association. The Nowell Brothers will play a violin solo with piano accompaniment, followed by a recitation by a member of the class of '70. The class ode will be sung by the graduating class. Dancing at nine o'clock. The doors will be opened at seven o'clock. No person will be admitted to the hall without an admission ticket.

DANIEL STREET AS A DRY GOODS MART.

This street has always been decided for its inducements to customers in the dry goods line. Here for a long period of years George Henderson gave great bargains, in the wooden building next to the store now occupied by H. F. Gerrish, which was succeeded by the present brick block upon the site. In this block Eli M. Robbins and the late Ira B. Fonda did a large business, and afterwards William B. Trask had a large trade in this store. Dealers here have always endeavored to welcome customers from Market street by giving good bargains, and claiming to sell at little lower prices than the same goods sell at on that street. But this is an open question, which can only be solved by our lady readers. Trade from city and country and from sojourners at the Isles of Shoals and the beaches is invited to No. 7 Daniel street, where Mr. Lewis E. Staples, an accomplished merchant and a business man who is familiar with the wants of the community in his line, is to be found with a full stock of goods in a new and pleasant store, and where buyers can find a large assortment of goods at prices that come within the reach of all.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, July 1; Batchelder, J.

There was but one sinner before the Court, viz.: Nellie White, who was charged with having been drunk. She was adjudged guilty, and ordered to pay $9.90, fine and costs, and showed that she was not the worst of sinners by paying up. No increase of county expenses on her account, this time.

THE PEN VS. THE SWORD.

Our neighbor, the Times, seems to be suffering from a malignant attack of Light-Artillery-phobia. The predisposing cause, as we understand it, is the personal hostility of the Times reporter to the commanding officer of that company; but be this as it may, it is evident that the Times not only proposes to abolish and utterly annihilate the Light Artillery, but is also determined to sit upon, flatten out, polish off and otherwise use up and demoralize any person or newspaper that may presume to mention that organization without abusing it. We are not interested in the quarrel, and do not propose to take it up for one side or the other, though the Times has done a little feeble whang-banging at us because we dared copy from Concord and Boston papers complimentary allusions to the object of its special hatred—the Light Artillery. But we have a real grievance of our own against the Times in this matter, in that we have been placed in a false position regarding another paper, through our assuming to be true what it squarely stated as a fact. The circumstances are as follows: In a recent issue of the Times, (June 24th, we believe,) under the heading of "Fiction vs. Fact," the following was given:

The following query from this city, addressed to and published in the last number of the Army and Navy Journal, an official authority, explains itself:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 15, 1878.

Editor of the Army and Navy Journal,—Sir: In 1775 a militia company was formed in this city, which continued in existence until, say, 1854, when it was disbanded. In 1876 a company, called the Portsmouth Light Artillery, was organized, which went to the Centennial, representing itself as the company formed in 1775 and claiming an existence of over one hundred years. Between, say, 1854 and 1876 no organization was kept up for drill or other purpose. No State law governs the matter. Can this company consistently and according to military usage claim an existence dating back any further than 1876? MAS.

To this the Journal responds with an emphatic and common sense "No!"

Assuming that the statement so plainly made by the Times—that the letter given was actually published in the Army and Navy Journal and answered by "an emphatic and common sense 'no'"—was true, we briefly commented on it, and by return of mail received the following letter:

Office of the Army and Navy Journal, 245 Broadway, New York, June 26th, 1878.

Editor of the Portsmouth CHRONICLE—Sir: In the CHRONICLE of June 25th I find the following: "The Army and Navy Journal says that the Portsmouth Light Artillery cannot claim a history further back than 1876." Will you permit me to say that no such statement has appeared in the Army and Navy Journal, which has expressed no opinion as to the age of the Portsmouth Light Artillery.

Very truly yours,
WM. C. CHURCH, Editor.

This letter seriously undermined our faith in the correctness of the Times' statement, and the following, which we clipped from the last number of the Army and Navy Journal, capsized it entirely:

The Portsmouth (N. H.) CHRONICLE undertakes to defend the Light Artillery of that city against a statement as to its age, which it credits to the Army and Navy Journal, which has expressed no opinion as to the age of this organization, and made no reference to it, certainly not recently.

We are no more interested in this question of veracity between the Times and the Army and Navy Journal than we are in the former paper's attacks upon the Light Artillery; the Times says the Journal published a letter regarding the age of a military company, and answered it "no;" the Journal says it has "made no reference" whatever to that military company, "certainly not recently;" and we fail to find any such reference in its columns.

The pen is mightier than the sword, no doubt, but in case of a quarrel between them it would seem to be as well for the pen not to become so sharp as to stick clear through the truth and protrude on the other side.

REPORT OF DIRECTORS OF E. R. R. IN N. H.

At a meeting of the directors of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, held June 26, 1878, it was Voted, That the report which has now been read be adopted; that the same be printed, and sent by mail to the stockholders; and that it be presented at the next annual meeting as the annual report of the directors to the stockholders.

The following is the report referred to in the above resolution:

To the Shareholders of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire:

While the affairs of your corporation have received from its officers full and careful attention since the last annual meeting, it is not needful, in the present report, to set forth the details then submitted regarding the relations between your corporation and the Eastern Railroad Company in Massachusetts. To the last report, any shareholder who desires may readily refer, for a statement of the causes which led to the legal measures taken to secure to you the possession of your road.

As you were advised in the last report, the quo warranto suit against this corporation and the Eastern Railroad Company, and the equity suit auxiliary thereto, were at the June term, 1877, of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, referred to George A. Ramsdell, Esq., of Nashua, to report the facts. After several hearings, the referee made his report at the December term. The report came into the hands of counsel at so late a day that it could not be argued at that term. Briefs have now been submitted on both sides; and the causes were, at the June term, postponed to the adjourned term, August, 1878.

During the hearings, and at other times, the evidence produced before the referee, as well as the facts elicited in other ways, have been considered by your directors, and have confirmed them in their previously expressed views of the justice of your cause, and of the value of the property and franchise owned by your corporation. The road was originally built with funds furnished in large part by stockholders resident in New Hampshire; the stock always has been and still is largely held by citizens and corporations of that State; the corporation's duties to the public are exercised there. The income produced by the traffic of the road will yield a net revenue quite sufficient to produce satisfactory dividends. There is no debt; and, as regards the legal proceedings in which we are engaged, your directors still believe "that there is no reason to expect any other result than one favorable to the interests of the corporation."

At the last annual meeting the corporation voted to request of the shareholders a contribution equal to one dollar for each share of stock held by them, to provide funds for the expenses of the contest in which we are engaged. The fact that the desired contribution has been paid on more than three-fourths of the shares in the Company, shows not only the confidence of the shareholders in the ultimate results of our proceedings, but that they may be relied on to furnish further contributions should they be needed during the progress of the suits.

At the last annual meeting, the by-laws of the corporation were referred to the directors for examination and revision. It was found needful to obtain certain further changes in our charter before undertaking this duty; and it is the hope of the directors that they may be able to submit, at the coming annual meeting, an act passed by the Legislature of New Hampshire at its present session, containing certain amendments they have deemed it prudent to ask to the Company's charter. The subject of the by-laws will therefore necessarily remain with the directors until another meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
MOODY CURRIER, President.
WALTER HASTINGS, FRANCIS THOMPSON, DEXTER RICHARDS, EDWARD L. GIDDINGS, Directors.
THOMAS J. LEE, Treasurer.

"THE BOY IS FATHER," Etc.

The Biddeford Times has the following concerning one of the numerous "sons of Portsmouth resident abroad:"

The many friends of Rev. E. A. Rand, formerly principal of the high school in this city, who was settled for several years as pastor of the Congregational church at South Boston, where he did good service, and is now settled over the first church at Springfield, will be interested to learn that he has just received a call to a church in New York city at a salary of $5000 or $6000. Mr. Rand read his resignation over the church at Springfield last Sunday. One of the members arose and entered a protest, and the church offered him $5000 and a vacation of six weeks per year, and to supply his pulpit during vacation if he will remain. One of the secrets of Mr. Rand's success is his labor outside of the pulpit—he treats all classes alike.

Mr. Rand, at the time he was "Ed Rand" and went to school, had the same good luck—or rather possessed the same faculty of gaining the good will and esteem of those with whom he was brought in contact, that he has shown since. Although he always had good lessons, never put bent pins or carpet tacks in the master's chair nor joined raids to rob orchards or melon patches, did not countenance fighting or stealing window blinds, shunned the surreptitious cigar stub, and always told the truth—in spite of all these drawbacks the other boys always entertained for him a sincere liking and respect, or a sentiment as near respect as is possible for schoolboys to entertain. We really believe he was more popular than the ablest smoker, window-destroyer and melon-confiscator in the school; but then he never assumed to set himself up for a "good boy," for the rest of us to pattern after—and it wouldn't have made any difference if he had, for the rest of us wouldn't have patterned after him anyway. And then he didn't tell tales on us, and was ever ready to help the "hard cases" out of scrapes when he could conscientiously do so, and to aid the dull scholar who asked his assistance.

Political.

The Potter committee has been holding sessions four weeks, and in that time the only testimony which stands uncontradicted and is corroborated by two witnesses is that Mr. Tilden's agents in Louisiana offered $100,000 to Elector Levissee to vote for that zealous President claimant.

General H. V. Boynton, one of the most careful of Washington correspondents, and a keen and unprejudiced political observer, sends to the Cincinnati Gazette a notable letter on the tendencies of the democratic party in the last Congress. He insists that nothing but a fear that extreme measures would jeopardize their success in the next elections prevented the democrats from revealing their full purposes. One of these was to break up the army and clear the way for a democratic reorganization with ex-rebel material. "Beyond any question," he says, "it is the fixed purpose of the democrats, so soon as they have control of both branches of Congress, to claim places in the army for ex-rebels, to place them on the pension rolls, to admit them to the national military asylums, and, in short, to give them a full share in whatever the nation has done or is doing, for Union soldiers or their heirs." On the question of Southern claims he is equally emphatic, saying: "An immense payment of Southern claims will begin at once whenever the democrats secure both branches of Congress. It is quite the style in many quarters to sneer at those who make this assertion; but for all that, those who are only surface observers here cannot fail to see that such payments are a settled part of the democratic plan."

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and certainty.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. Of its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficacious remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the purposes for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has wrought cures, as it has in hundreds, with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of women. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, for the price of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of these affections.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on a heavy oak tie, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS'
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL.
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each one Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug stores. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietors of these Pellets, to any chemist who, chemical analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1878.

The Coming Congressional Contest.

The Mirror's Legislative correspondent, in a sketch of the probabilities of the coming campaign, thus discourses:

In the first district Frank Jones will be put on the track again. He has caused it to be announced that he does not wish to run again, but nobody talks of running anybody else in his place, and he is certain enough to be the candidate. It costs $30,000 to elect a democrat in that district, and he is the only man who has the money and who is willing to invest it in that way.

Who is to be the republican Congressional candidate in the First District is doubtful. The district is republican, and there is no lack of first-class men to select candidates from, but the party in some localities is weakened by fights of factions, and the district contains more and worse Hessians than all the rest of the State. Men who have been kept out of the poor-house and made rich by being put into, and kept in, office, have been bought by Frank Jones to vote for him as openly as he buys his oxen; and others too cowardly to sell themselves in open market, and too instinctively mean to lose an opportunity to do a dastardly act, have, while pretending to support their party candidates, stabbed them in the back.

It was these Judases who defeated Charley Whitehouse in '75 and beat Gen. Marston in '77, and that they will be more honorable or more decent this fall is, perhaps, not to be expected. Frank Jones owns them as much as Barnum owns his snakes, and until somebody else buys them they can be counted on to strike at his bidding.

Under these circumstances the question is not wholly who would make a good candidate, but who can stamp out both the democrats and the serpents. Gen. Marston came very near doing it last year, and is, we understand, willing to undertake the job again. Another good man who would run well is Hon. John H. Morrill, of Gilford; and, if Hon. Chas. Doe leaves the bench, and could be induced to accept the nomination, he would make the canvass a warm one.

Several republicans in this district have been accused in times past of desiring the election of Mr. Jones, because before the convention they were not enthusiastic supporters of the nomination of the republican candidate.

Mr. Jones has always proved a strong candidate for the democracy. It is of no use to charge that his money alone elects him. He has first of all, a great power in his own party, and has no powerful enemies in his own camp; and then he has a large number of business friends in the republican ranks. As a business man, his votes on business questions have been in Congress precisely those of a republican. On party questions, to be sure, he has voted with his party, but as far as the general interest of his constituents are concerned, his congressional course is open to no criticism. And in this he shows the same tact evinced by his friend Leopold Morse of Massachusetts. These men have the shrewdness to see that the great mercantile, manufacturing and mechanical interests they represent, are far more prone to watch the votes of their member upon business and financial propositions than upon mere political issues, and when election day comes around many of their constituents of opposite political views are apt to say that the democratic candidate is a safe man on questions affecting their immediate interests, and if they do not vote for him, often at least do not cast a vote against him. Despite all the talk of Mr. Jones' buying up republicans, and spending large sums in the election (and we believe this statement to be immensely exaggerated) Mr. Jones has been adroit. He has been exceedingly attentive to the wants of his constituents, and has grown in influence since he entered Congress. As a member of the Naval Committee he has striven to check the ill-advised projects of some of his party friends having less information upon naval affairs than he possessed, and he is regarded by those who have seen him at the seat of government as a valuable member. He probably has no unsatisfied ambition to be again a candidate, but once in the field he is a contestant of formidable strength.

If there is no lack of first-class men from which to select a republican candidate, it is high time that some such man was put in training, for there is plenty of work between now and the November election. There can be no doubt that the district is republican, but there must be a candidate who will see that the republican strength is brought out. It is said that the few hundred votes to be cast by the greenback party in this district will come about equally from the other two parties, and the contest between Mr. Jones and whoever is to be be the republican nominee will be quite a neck-and-neck race.

But it will require a strong candidate, a popular man, a hearty organizer, who will go over the district, and heal the dissensions (if any exist) in the ranks of the republicans, and straighten out the "Hessians." No other need apply. The republicans of the district are anxious to redeem it from democratic control. They are ready for a vigorous fight, but it must be under a standard bearer who will not only ably prepare his campaign, but be ready all through the contest to lead on to victory in person, and cheer the soldiers all along the line by his presence. The last election was lost, for one reason, because the candidate had not time to spare from his business to give to the canvass. In the coming contest such neglect must not be repeated.

News and Notes.

A truckman in New York drove deliberately against a ladder to see it drop a fellow who was up two stories painting. He fell and was mortally injured. The truckmen laughed immensely until the police arrested him.

A Noblesville (Ind.) colt was frightened and jumped between two cars of a passing freight train. The train stopped a mile further on, when the colt jumped down unhurt, having been safely carried between the cars.

In the police court at Newburyport, Mass., Monday, A. W. Thompson, for violation of the liquor law, was examined and discharged. Two hours later J. E. Durgin, who had Thompson arrested, when on the street near his residence was knocked over the head with brass knuckles, felled to the ground and shockingly cut in the face and head. Durgin is the third person assaulted within eight months in Newburyport for testifying against rum sellers. The assailant may possibly be arrested, as he is well known.

It is reported that Mr. Gulley, father of Mrs. Deacon Smith, the Vergennes, Vt., woman who was poisoned, will apply for a new trial of her husband, on the ground that several of the jurors who acquitted him had formed and expressed opinions favorable to him, previous to the recent trial.

Prince Bismarck has proposed to the Emperor and the Imperial Crown Prince that, as a stroke of wise policy, the eldest son of the latter be sent on a visit of six months to the United States, accompanied by a numerous retinue. Bismarck expects thereby to strengthen the amicable relations of the two countries, gratify the American Germans, and promote hostility to socialism.

The Sound steamer Massachusetts ran down and sunk schooner Illinois, Tuesday morning, in a thick fog; no lives lost.

Mr. Isaac S. Burnham of Bridgton, Me., who for seven years was without the power of speech above an ordinary whisper, by reason of paralysis, has had his voice restored to its normal tone in consequence of his getting chilled while bathing.

The internal revenue receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30th were $110,503,746, being a decrease of $8,397,231, as compared with the previous fiscal year. This decrease has nearly all occurred since the agitation of the tax and other laws on finances by Congress.

Orders are reported to have been issued in view of possible Indian and Mexican troubles, to recruit the army immediately to a maximum of 25,000 men.

An express train was wrecked near Wilmington, Del., Saturday night, and four men killed, while others were injured. Haley Brown was arrested for causing the accident by placing a tie on the track, and has confessed the crime.

Col. Alvah Buckbee, a prominent resident of Elmira, New York, shot his wife and mother-in-law Monday afternoon, and then blew his own brains out, dying instantly. His wife left him some weeks ago, and he went to the house of her parents, where she was stopping, and importuned her to return and live with him. She refused, and he drew a revolver, shooting her twice in the head. Her mother ran in, and he shot her twice. It is thought that both women are fatally injured. The murderer is about thirty-two years old.

Naval Affairs.

Capt. Richard L. Low has been appointed Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, in place of Rear-Admiral John C. Howell, resigned and to be assigned to sea duty.

Information has reached the Navy Department that the U. S. S. Wyoming was to have left Southampton, England, June 25th, for Washington.

New Hampshire Items.

Alonzo P. Carpenter of Bath, Ellery A. Hibbard of Laconia and William M. Chase of Concord have been appointed as a committee by the Supreme Court to examine at the August adjourned law term, candidates for admission to the bar, under a new rule of the court.

George Foster of Nashua fell from a high embankment, Monday, fracturing his skull. His recovery is doubtful.

Why Longer Remain Fat?

Obesity was considered by the ancients as evidence of corseness. Even yet the slim forms of the Grecian goddesses are regarded as models of female beauty. Corpulence is now held to be a disease, and Allan's Anti-Fat has fully demonstrated it to be curable. The Anti-Fat chemically neutralizes in the stomach all glucose, saccharine, and oleaginous substances, thus preventing the formation of fat. Its use insures a loss of from two to five pounds per week. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City. eod&ottsept15 7

An Important Function Stimulated.

The kidneys exercise most important functions, which are so wearisome that they tax to the utmost the strength and endurance of these busy little organs. Every breath, every pulsation of the heart, every movement of a limb, every thought, makes waste and necessitates the development of new atoms. The used up particles in the blood are sifted from it and dissolved in a watery fluid by the kidneys, which then discharge this fluid into the bladder. A train of disasters to the system would follow if these "ashes," so to speak, were not thoroughly strained off and discharged. This is the case when the kidneys become inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by restoring their activity, not only keeps open a most important outlet for impurities, but prevents diseases of the kidneys themselves, which when inert become liable to fall a prey to diabetes, Bright's disease, nephritis, albumenuria, and other maladies specially incident to them, which, although not specially rapid in their progression, are particularly obstinate and fatal.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, New York. 4jy18

Milwaukee Lager, New York Lager, Stock Ale, and Refined Cider.

Of the different summer beverages manufactured at this establishment it is hardly necessary to say a single word. They have become popular "on their own merits" and can be found in many private families an on sale in every hotel, saloon and restaurant in this locality.

The lagers bottled by me are from the best breweries in the country, and it is safe to say that there is no better in the world.

☞ Orders may be left at my establishment for any of the above, which will be delivered anywhere within the city limits without extra charge,

THE CITY.

In the Legislature, last week, bills to incorporate the Eliot Bridge Company, and the St. Mary's Benevolent Association of this city, were ordered to a third reading.

Steamer Lancaster, (steam collier No. 9,) Capt. Mills, in coming up the river on Saturday ran into Sise's wharf and did considerable damage. She was libelled for $250 by the proprietors of the wharf.

A pleasant excursion for to-morrow will be a walk or ride to the second Newcastle bridge, to see the "Wonders of the deep" at the aquarium. The distance from Market square is but one mile and a quarter, and no charge is made for looking at the strange fishes.

On Monday Sheriff Kent attached on a writ in favor of the Bank of Commerce of Boston, for a claim of $20,000 damages, the franchise of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, so far as it relates to the rights to take tolls, with all its privileges and immunities.

The steward of the schooner Wellington, lying at Concord Railroad wharf, fell overboard between the vessel and wharf on Saturday while trying to board the schooner, and was under water nearly a minute before he came up, when he was rescued by the crew. His head, and one arm and side, were injured by his striking a timber in his fall.

The sale of reserved seat tickets for the entertainment complimentary to Mrs. Susie F. Marcy, to be given on Friday evening at Music Hall, commenced Tuesday morning at Dr. Preston's drug store, and at noon about two hundred seats had been checked upon the diagram. Indications point to a very large demand for reserved seats, and the committee in charge of the entertainment would suggest the necessity of securing tickets without delay.

Volunteer city missionary Loyne requests gifts of papers, magazines and other good and useful reading matter, for distribution among the seamen visiting the port, and the prisoners and other inmates of the county and city farm establishments. A thousand copies can readily be disposed of during a month's visitations, and many of the persons included in the classes named are glad to get hold of something wholesome to read. Donations will be thankfully received at Faith Home, No. 16 Deer street, or will be called for on notice being given to Mr. Loyne.

An enormous skate, five feet long and four feet from tip to tip of his "wings," was placed in the aquarium at Newcastle bridge last week; also two dogfish, each about four feet long. The latter are shark-like, voracious brutes, and Major Urch was advised by old fishermen not to put them in the aquarium, lest they should make it hot for the other fish; but he did put them in, and so far they have troubled only the porgies, which are easily replaced from the catches at the weirs. The huge skate—the largest ever taken in this vicinity, we believe—is the admiration of visitors to the aquarium, as he comes to the surface to take a look at those who are there to look at him; he is a great curiosity, though not a very pretty pet.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, July 2; Batchelder, J.

Henry Tutherly was complained of for stealing Frank Lefare's boat. This charge was nol. pros'd. Tutherly was then charged with taking the boat without the owner's consent, which he acknowledged doing, and was fined $3, costs $8.04. This stealing of boats from their moorings is largely practised along our wharves, and is a great annoyance to their owners; we are very glad one of the culprits has been caught, and hope others will be.

Joseph J. Morrison, charged with breaking and entering the house of Fred S. Wendell on Monday afternoon, and stealing a gold watch, was ordered to give bonds in $800 for his appearance at the Supreme Court. None of Mr. Morrison's friends coming forward to recognize, he was sent to jail.

Michael Gilligan, for breaking and entering the store of Fred S. Wendell on Monday night, and stealing a few dollars in old cents, dimes, etc., was bound over in the sum of $800, and went to jail in default of sureties.

Stephen Murphy, (the boy who broke into N. D. Miller's shop, as previously reported by us,) was brought up charged with being a disobedient, unmanageable boy, a constant truant and a bad case generally. He was sentenced to six months in the County House of Correction, this sentence being afterward commuted to three years in the Reform School.

John Burke, drunk, $9.90.

Award of Medals.
Presentation of Diplomas.
Music, America, School and visitors.

The salutatory, by Daniel S. Broderick, and the valedictory, by Miss Flora Lydston, we give to our readers, who may themselves judge of their merits. Mr. Broderick took for his subject Goldsmith.

Ladies and Gentlemen: Once more you are welcomed to the closing exercises of our school year, and the class of 1878 extends to you as cordial a greeting as any of its predecessors. As our course of four years draws to a close we would not forget to thank all those who have in any way aided us during our Hige School life. We return our thanks to the city for the many privileges enjoyed; to the High School Committee for the interest they have ever taken in us; to our parents and friends, who have always done their best to aid and encourage us; and to our teachers, to whom we are deeply indebted. We welcome you all here to-day and will do our best to please you.

In this age of culture and refinement, when a taste for good reading pervades the general public, it may not be out of place for me to mention one who I think has given us some of the best literature the English language affords: one with whom everybody is familiar—or should be—and one whom everybody likes, the good-natured, genial author, Oliver Goldsmith.

"There are but few writers," says Washington Irving, "for whom the reader feels such personal kindness as for Goldsmith, for few have so eminently possessed the magic gift of identifying themselves with their writings. We read his character in every page and grow into familiar intimacy as we read. The artless benevolence that beams throughout his works; the whimsical yet amiable views of human life and human nature; the unforced humor blending so happily with good feeling and good sense and singularly dashed at times with a pleasing melancholy; all seem to bespeak his moral as well as his intellectual qualities, and make us love the man at the same time that we admire the author."

Oliver Goldsmith was born in Ireland on the tenth of November, 1728. His father, the Rev. Charles Goldsmith, was the pastor of a small country curacy: his entire income did not exceed forty pounds a year. When Oliver was six years old he was placed in the hands of the village schoolmaster, Thomas Byrne, a capital teacher for a poet. He is well described in the "Deserted Village."

"Beside you straggling fence that skirts the way,
With blossomed furze unprofitably gay,
There in his noisy mansion skilled to rule,
The village master taught his little school.
A man severe he was, and stern to view;
I knew him well, and every truant knew;
Well had the boding trembler learned to trace
The day's disasters in his morning face;
Full well they laughed with counterfeited glee,
At all his jokes (for many a joke had he;)
Full well the busy whisper circling 'round
Conveyed the dismal tidings when he frowned.
Yet he was kind, or if severe in aught,
The love he bore to learning was in fault."

Little Oliver was interrupted in his studies under Byrne by an attack of small-pox, the marks of which he bore through life; after his recovery he was sent to school at Elphin. It was whilst attending the seminary here, boarding meanwhile with his uncle, John Goldsmith, that he displayed his juvenile wit by a celebrated epigram. During an evening party at his uncle's house, when the guests were engaged in dancing, Oliver,—then but nine years old—thought he would contribute his share to the amusement of the evening, so he undertook the execution of a hornpipe. The musician of the party, who was more forcibly impressed by the awkward form and pitted face of the boy than with his dancing, raised a laugh at his expense by calling him, his little Æsop; but Oliver soon turned the laugh on his assailant by the retort,

"Our herald hath proclaimed his saying;
See Æsop dancing and his monkey playing."

In 1745 Goldsmith entered Trinity College, and four years later was made A. B. After he left Trinity College he made a trip through England, and at one time proposed to come to America; he paid his fare on the vessel and went to take a walk in the country; when he came back the vessel had sailed, and he was left penniless. He subsequently went to Leyden, where he spent some time in study. He left Leyden in February, 1755, for the purpose of travelling on foot through Europe. The manner in which he disputed his way is best told by himself. "Whenever I approached a peasant's house toward nightfall I played one of my most merry tunes, and that procured for me not only a lodging but subsistence for the next day."

In 1768 his "Good-Natured Man" was published, and two years later the "Deserted Village." On the day of the sale of the "Vicar of Wakefield," March 27, 1766, the "Traveller" received the last touches of the author. After this some new work was produced every year. His life was a strange one, made up of light and shade, rather more of the latter, probably, than of the former; always good and kind, and generous to a fault, he was loved and honored by all.

Goldsmith had been for some time afflicted with a disease which was very tiresome. He was attacked by a nervous fever in the spring of 1774, and continued sick until April fourth, when the disorder terminated the life of the poet in the forty-sixth year of his age. His sudden and unexpected death created a general feeling of regret throughout the literary circles of that period. He was mourned by Burke and Reynolds and other great men. When Burke heard of Goldsmith's death he burst into tears, and Reynolds threw down his brush and palette and left his studio for the day.

And now in a review of the checkered life of the great author, his happy childhood, and lonely death among strangers unattended by any of the friends of his early years, who can refuse the tribute of a kind thought to the touching lines in which he breathed out his earnest desire to die amidst the scenes of his childhood?

"In all my wand'rings 'round this world of care,
In all my griefs,—and God has given my share—
I still had hopes my latest hours to crown,
Amidst these humble scenes to lay me down,
To husband out life's taper at the close
And keep the flame from wasting by repose:
I still had hope—for pride attends us still—
Amidst the swains to show my book-learned skill;
Around my fire an evening group to draw
And tell of all I felt and all I saw:
And as a hare whom hounds and horns pursue,
Pants to the place from whence at first she flew,
I still had hope, my long vexations past,
Here to return and die at home at last."

In looking over our High School life, classmates, we are reminded of the many favors we have experienced at the hands of others. May we always do our best to help others and to shed sunlight on the pathways of all with whom we come in contact. We may not all attain greatness, but everybody can be good, and

"However it be, it seems to me
'Tis only noble to be good;
Kind words are more than coronets,
And simple faith than Norman blood."

The valedictory was as follows:

"The Blue of Heaven is Larger than the Cloud."

Are the storm clouds thick and black around us? Let us remember that's far above, over all, is God's great blue imperial-arched heaven. For every day of sorrow shall we not have weeks of joy? Will not our sad and pain-fraught months grow into years of life-giving happiness? We are surrounded by the beautiful, and shall we close our eyes? We know that good is able to overcome evil, and shall we spend our energies in sighing? Most of our mental clouds are imaginary; the blessings of life are viewed through a gloomy vapor of pain, but these morbid states are temporary, and we shall find by patience that the "blue is larger than the cloud."

Fashion, ambition and the unhallowed desire for riches often hold a curtain before the mind and darken the windows of the soul, shutting out the pure heaven that shines in splendor just beyond and is no less real because we cannot see it. The blue sky is cheerful, a benediction upon all nature. Beneath it glow the fields with their wealth of ripening grain, the grand old hills, the sunlit valleys, the proud forests, the beautiful flowers and the sparkling waters. The sounds of nature are in harmony with its beauty. "Earth with her thousand voices praises God."

A bright, clear atmosphere is inspiration, and nowhere can we appreciate it more than at the seaside. The blue expanse of ocean stretches away to the horizon, snowy sails float here and there and the white surf breaks at our feet. Heaven is reflected in the light on land and sea. Waves and flowers catch their tints from it. Yet while we love the light we must not forget that darkness, too, has its equally important part in the divine economy. How refreshing is the rain that bursts from a summer cloud, and how beautiful its parting smile, the rainbow.

Our duties give us pleasure if we attempt them cheerfully. It is wise always to look on the bright side and do our best. If cares and grief gather in gloom around us, let us never forget the blue sky of hope and faith beyond. It is better to think of the good and true than of the gloomy and false, and as knowledge increases the mind is less occupied with evil thoughts, because there are so many beautiful things in nature and art to draw the attention away from all that is base. Evil shall be overcome by good. An old writer saw "that there was an ocean of darkness and death; but withal, an infinite ocean of light and love which flowed over that of darkness."

Sweet, ennobling influences from that "ocean of light and love" have guided us who leave school to-day, through four pleasant years of study. We have learned a little of science and of duty. We have bowed before the masters of art and literature, and our glimpses of truth in our narrow circle make us long to explore broader fields. We cannot present you with the ripe fruits of culture; in our hands are only a few early flowers, and for your kind acceptance of our gifts we thank you all.

Mr. Mayor and other members of the City Government, we thank you for the interest you have manifested in our school.

Mr. Chairman and others of the Committee, who have been associated with us in our duties and pleasures, it is with regret that we turn from your supervision; and for your support and encouragement we thank you as we bid you farewell.

We feel very grateful to our parents, who have placed us where we are to-day; and we hope in future years to be able in some degree to repay their loving kindness.

Dear teachers,—may the richest blessings fall upon you. We trust that your faithful instruction will enable us to enter upon our duties with greater strength and energy. Sadly we bid you farewell.

Dear schoolmates,—though we leave to-day, our best wishes remain with you. From your number two are missing. The first class laid Herbert away amid the snows of winter, and in the brightest month of all the year, Freeman has gone from us. The shadows of sorrow mingle early with our joys, and remind us of that higher life which, we trust, lies beyond the incompleteness of the present. My schoolmates, thanking you for the music and flowers with which you have favored us this afternoon, and hoping that our friendship may be permanent, the graduates of '78 bid you farewell.

Dear classmates,—with pleasure we shall recall our happy schooldays, our lessons, our talks at recess, the welcome holidays and happy reunions. In reviewing the last four years we can truly say the blue of heaven has been larger than the cloud. With sadness we part, but we joyfully anticipate the enlarged opportunities that are opening before us. In true wisdom may we advance forever. Our farewell shall be sung rather than said.

All of the graduating class acquitted themselves with credit, and where each did so well any especial discrimination would seem invidious, so we will only say that those most notable were Misses Lydston, Freeman, Roberts, Walker and Ham, and Messrs. Broderick, Leveen and Locke.

The singing by the school, led by Mr. Cole, was excellent, and remarkable for its good time. Miss Emma J. Flanders added much to this part of the entertainment, and Miss Roberts accompanied very acceptably on the piano. Piano duets by by Misses Ham and Roberts, and Freeman and Randall, were finely rendered.

The gesticulation of the various speakers was appropriate and easy, so much as to attract marked attention from the audience; this is due to the efforts of Mr. Clarke, principal of the school.

At the close of the literary and musical exercises the Haven medals were presented by Col. D. J. Vaughan, and the diplomas by Dr. James R. May. The following is the official

Award of Medals.

SECOND CLASS.

For diligent application, good deportment and general improvement in all the studies pursued:

Young ladies—1st medal, Sadie Paul; 2d medal, Grace Marvin.

Young gentlemen—1st madal, Morris Green; 2d medal, John W. Langley.

THIRD CLASS.

Best scholars in bookkeeping and mathematics, including all the branches of the latter pursued during this and the previous years:

Young ladies—Alice J. Newton. This young lady has also maintained the first rank in general scholarship.

Young gentlemen—Burnham Stickney.

Best scholar in English composition, (only young gentlemen contend,) Samuel W. Emery.

For diligent application, etc.:

Young ladies—2d medal, Ellen Gage; 3d medal, Alice M. Marston.

Young gentlemen—Winthrop L. Marvin. This pupil has maintained the first rank in general scholarship.

FOURTH CLASS.

Best scholars in Latin, also in mathematics:

Young ladies—Flora Lydston.

Young gentlemen—Daniel S. Broderick. Miss Lydston and Mr. Broderick have also maintained the highest rank in general scholarship. Miss Lydston has not been absent or tardy during the four years' course; the teachers say she had no demerits during the term, though she acknowledges to having received one "bad mark" for laughing.

For diligent application, etc.:

Young ladies—2d medal, Isabel G. Roberts; 3d medal, Lizzie W. Freeman. [Miss Rand's general] average was only one one-hundredth less, and Miss Walker's only four one-hundredths less, than Miss Freeman's. Florence L. Walker and Nellie G. Ham have not been tardy during the course of four years.]

Young gentlemen—2d medal, Isa H. Leveen; 3d medal, Charles A. Davis; 4th medal, Charles P. Brown. [Willis O. Lang has not been absent, and Amos R. Locke has not been tardy, during the course of four years.]

The compositions of Annie A. Emery of the graduating class, and of Benjamin F. Tripp of the third class, were judged to be second in merit, the committee of award, consisting of Rev. C. B. Pitblado, Walter C. Harriman, Esq., and Miss Mary A. Foster reporting that "in our opinion the essays are all well written, and that it was with some difficulty that we determined upon the first and second best."

Mr. Clarke and the assistant teachers are to be congratulated on the successful closing of the term, the graduating class of '78 having made fully as creditable a showing as any preceding one.

The hall was filled, and it is superfluous to say—with the thermometer at 95 in the shade out of doors—that it was very hot.

The names of the graduating class we have once given, but they certainly belong in this report, so we print them again. They are: Annie A. Emery, Nellie G. Ham, Mary A. Moulton, Jennie L. Randall, Carrie G. Tanton, Lizzie W. Freeman, Flora Lydston, Mary F. Rand, Isabel G. Roberts, F. Lillian Walker, Daniel S. Broderick, Charles A. Davis, Isa H. Leveen, Charles J. McDonald, Charles P. Brown, Willis O. Lang, Amos R. Locke, Arthur F. Williams. It will be noticed that Miss Lydston is the only one of the eighteen graduates who has not a middle name.

The graduating class of the Dover High School returned the visit of the Portsmouth class, and were taken charge of by the latter, and quartered in the Rockingham House parlors after the exhibition.

The reception in the evening was a brilliant affair. The programme as announced was carried out, the class ode being sung by the graduating class, and an original poem read by the author, Mr. Foss of the class of '70. The dancing was apparently enjoyed, though the floor was crowded, and it did not cease till after midnight.

THE VICINITY.

The summer residence at Little Boar's Head of G. W. Frost, agent of the Newmarket mills, was entered by burglars a few nights since and all the silver ware carried off.

The grand river and harbor steal bill, as finally passed by the "economy and reform" Congress at its late session, appropriates $6000 for the improvement of the Cocheco river.

Mr. Dennis Mahoney, of Greenland, has recently returned from a sealing and oil-hunting expedition to the South Georgian islands. The captain of the vessel (schooner Golden West, of New London, Conn.,) died soon after leaving South Georgia, and Mr. Mahoney, who was mate, brought the vessel home.

— Treasury Department experts estimate that counterfeit gold and silver coin to the amount of $2,000,000 is in circulation in this country and this sum is believed to be constantly increasing.

—A man has been arrested at Wilhelmshaven, Germany, on the curious charge of having predicted, a day before the event, the sinking of the Grosser Kurfurst by the Konig Wilhelm. Another illustration of a prophet being without honor in his own country.

—A big Yankee from Maine on paying his bill in a London restaurant, was told that the sum put down didn't include the waiter. "Wal," he roared, "I didn't eat any waiter, did I?" He looked as though he could though, and there was no further discussion.

—At a popular store famous for the prompt and polite attention of the clerks, a woman of perhaps thirty years was looking at goods, when a young man stepped towards her and asked: "Is any one waiting upon you?" "Why, what a question! I've been married these ten years."

—A man in New Orleans, who stuck his arm out of a horse car window and had it broken by a car passing in the other direction, has recovered $7,500 from the company, though it would seem that his own carelessness was more responsible for the accident than any negligence of the railroad or its employes.

— During a recent trial in England it came out that economical band leaders were in the habit of imposing upon the managers whom they had contracted to furnish with music at so much a head, by the introduction of "dummy" violins. These instruments are played with a greased bow by men who know nothing of music, and render no audible sound.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and promptness.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficacious remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has wonderful cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Menstrual Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Climaxic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotence, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this class my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but as a scientific and a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives more valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of the great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science, No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by one of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful catharic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect: but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of the Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Dissociation, and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in clumsy wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1878.

Travel on the Sound.

The heated term has seemed to convince the great body of summer tourists who make an annual pilgrimage through New York to the sea coast and mountains of New England, that at this season there can be no such comfortable route of travel between these points, as that offered by the Sound steamers. The Providence line, which carries its passengers over the best railroad in the country from Boston to Providence, a distance of forty-two miles, and places them on board their commodious steamers in an hour's time, is doing a large business. This is an old and natural route for New York travel, and the Providence people seem to appreciate the return of tourists and business travellers to the route. All down the Providence river and through the beautiful Narragansett, as the palatial steamers nightly take their departure for the Empire City, on passing the summer resorts of the Providence people, salutes are fired in honor of the passengers, and flags waved by friends on shore to others on board. The steamers are celebrated not only for their magnificence and suburb appointments but the regularity in which their time is made in all kinds of weather, while the railway of the Boston and Providence railroad must continue in the future to maintain its high repute, as in the past, so long as that efficient son of New Hampshire, Capt. Albert A. Folsom, is connected with its operation.

New Hampshire Legislature.

In the House, July 2d, the following bills were passed: The amendment of the General Statutes relating to the collection of resident taxes; appropriating $5000 for repairs of the asylum for the insane; to authorize the enlargement of the new State prison, appropriating $30,000 therefor; an act relating to petit jurors; an act to authorize the city of Nashua to take the census of its legal voters in relation to abolishing the City Council; an act to incorporate the Trustees of the Soldiers' Home in New Hampshire; an act providing for annual town elections in March, and for a Board of Supervisors of Check-lists; an act regulating the sale of lager beer. This latter bill, which prohibits the sale of lager beer with a local option clause, passed by a vote of 167 to 103.

News and Notes.

James S. Bedlow of Portland, for many years Superintendent of the Eastern Department of the Western Union Telegraph, died suddenly on July 2d, at Pine Point, near Old Orchard Beach, of paralysis of the heart. He had plunged into the water to rescue his little daughter, who was in danger of drowning, and the chill he received induced the disorder which caused his death. Mr. Bedlow was a native of Portland and was about 52 years of age.

Two sons of George Boutel of West Rutland, Vt., aged eight and nine years, on the 2d inst. went into a barn near their home. They found a gun, which the older took up. Supposing it was not loaded he snapped it at his young brother, when the gun was discharged, the contents striking him in the head, killing him instantly.

Great excitement is reported in Oregon, over a reported general uprising of the Indians.

Steamer Capitol City, and an elevator by which she was lying, were burned on the 2d inst., at Memphis; two lives were lost, and $250,000 of damage done.

And now comes along the Congressional Record with speeches that men wrote and obtained permission to print as if delivered, as if this addition of insult to injury could ever be forgiven by a free people.

A company advertises for a treasurer with $25,000, in a Boston paper. In other words, the company proposes to take care of the treasurer's cash instead of the treasurer taking care of the company's funds. The rule of late has been with some companies that the treasurer has taken too much care of the corporation's funds.

A French agricultural paper announces the discovery of an extremely simple and cheap means to protect houses from being struck by lightning. This consists merely of bundles of straw attached to sticks or broom handles, and placed on the roofs of houses in an upright position. The first trials of the simple apparatus were made at Tarbes, (Hautes Pyrenees,) by some intelligent agriculturalists, and results were so satisfactory that "soon after eighteen communes of the Tarbes district provided all their houses with these bundles of straw, and there have been no accidents from lightning since."

The Fall River Print Works have suspended.

Sanford, Me., had a $30,000 fire on Tuesday, 2d inst.

The Monthly Reader for little folks, for school and home, illustrated, has reached the 4th number of its 2d volume, and still keeps up to the high promise of the 1st number. It is an excellent work, and deserves a large patronage. John L. Shorey, Boston; five cents a number; fifty cents a year.

The New York Surrogate, who is hearing the testimony and arguments in the case against the late Commodore Vanderbilt's will, is a man of very decided views upon various subjects, and among them spiritualism, so-called. The late Commodore was accused of having been influenced by spiritualists. "If," said the Surrogate, "you show that the Commodore entertained hostility toward one member of his family and extraordinary tenderness for another, or entertained any strong notions derived through the so-called mediums, in respect to his duty to any member of his family, and that that hereay entered into the execution of the will, I will not hesitate to set the will aside." But as this charge was not clearly made, he set such evidence aside for the present, remarking that "when the proper time comes the court will not hesitate to hold that modern spiritualism, as generally understood in its present pretensions, is not only a delusion but an obviously ridiculous and pernicious doctrine." It is good to have this question authoritatively settled.

James S. Bedlow.

The sudden death of Mr. J. S. Bedlow, in addition to the grief it brings to his family and immediate friends, produces a shock all over New England, where he was known for his zeal in behalf of the interests he represented, his tact as a manager, and the confidence reposed in him by the business community whose interests he always regarded as identical with those of the great corporation he so faithfully served. The Western Union Telegraph Co. has been deprived by death, recently, of two of its best men; the late President Orton, summoned a short time since in the prime of life; and now Mr. Bedlow, whose vigor and industry in his field of duty seemed unbounded, is no more. In every place where the wires of this extensive company were stretched Mr. Bedlow had friends who mourn his sudden departure.

New Hampshire Items.

Frank H. Mower of East Jaffrey on the 1st inst. assaulted Benjamin Pierce, with a revolver, shooting at him once, but by good luck Mr. Pierce warded off the aim with the handle of a pitchfork. Mr. Pierce had refused young Mower the company of his daughter. Mower has evaded the officers thus far, and the Selectmen of the town have offered a reward of $200 for his arrest.

President Bartlett of Dartmouth College delivered an address in the Representatives Hall in Concord, Tuesday evening, 2d inst., in behalf of the bill making an appropriation for that college, which is now before the House. He spoke in detail of the needs of the college, the benefit of the institution to the State, the small amount of aid demanded, and argued eloquently in favor of the bill. He was followed by Hon. J. W. Patterson and Col. John H. George, both of whom spoke in advocacy of the appropriation.

A passenger train on the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad ran off the track at Tilton, on the 2d inst.; the engine was smashed, but no lives were lost. The accident was caused bo the expansion of the rails by the intense heat.

Rev. D. S. Hibbard has resigned his position as Principal of the Gilmanton Academy.

Alvah N. Rowe of Plymouth, who was shot by Dickey, is able to be about the streets, although he will carry some dozen shots in his body for a while.

A freight car on the Northern Railroad in Concord was broken into on Sunday night, 30th ult., and a quantity of boots were stolen. A man named Coverly was arrested, Tuesday, and confessed the burglary.

The twenty-eighth anniversary of the Keene High School and the first reunion of the Alumni Association occurred at the City Hall Tuesday afternoon, 2d inst. The oration was by Prof. J. H. Seelye, and the poem by O. A. Dickinson.

An Important Function Stimulated.

The kidneys exercise most important functions, which are so wonderous that they tax to the utmost the strength and endurance of these busy little organs. Every breath, every pulsation of the heart, every movement of a limb, every thought, makes waste and necessitates the development of new atoms. The used up particles in the blood are sifted from it and dissolved in a watery fluid by the kidneys, which then discharge the fluid into the bladder. A train of disasters to the system would follow if these "sinks," so to speak, were not thoroughly strained off and discharged. This is the case when the kidneys become inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by restoring their activity, not only keeps open a most important outlet for impurities, but prevents diseases of the kidneys themselves, which when inert become liable to fall a prey to diabetes, Bright's disease, nephitis, albumenuria, and other maladies specially incident to them, which, although not specially rapid in their progression, are particularly obstinate and fatal.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Shenar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, New York. Uj18

Why Longer Remain Fat?

Obesity was considered by the ancients as evidence of coarseness. Even yet the slim forms of the Grecian goddesses are regarded as models of female beauty. Corpulence is now held to be a disease, and Allan's Anti-Fat has fully demonstrated it to be curable. The Anti-Fat chemically neutralizes in the stomach all glucose, saccharine, and oleaginous substances, thus preventing the formation of fat. Its use insures a loss of from two to five pounds per week. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

Read what the dealers say:

F. W. Klasman, Esq.—Dear Sir:—With pleasure we order ten gross Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam—showing conclusively that merit has won the day, and that your Balsam is taking the lead over the many bottles of trash that now flood the market.—From Smith, Doolittle & Smith, Druggists, Boston.

In these trying times, it is necessary to make money, and there is no surer or quicker method than to invest a few hundred dollars in stock speculation. Alex. Frothingham & Co., 12 Wall st., N. Beautiful Helen no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more than doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Sold by all Druggists. HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. Uj21

THE CITY.

Schooner Grace Choate arrived on the 3d inst. with 20,000 lbs. of fish.

There was no work on the navy yard on the 3d inst., on account of the intense heat.

It is rarely that an easterly breeze is greeted with such sincere benedictions as welcomed that which came to us Wednesday afternoon.

In our report of the High School exhibition, in Wednesday's CHRONICLE, the following paragraph was accidentally omitted from the record of awards of medals to the graduating class:

For best English composition, (only young ladies contend,) the 4th medal was awarded to Carrie G. Tanton.

The grand 4th of July Fair will be a blessing to all bent on having a gay and festive holiday—everything beautiful to see—good to eat—and the coolest and pleasantest place to sit in—with the punkahs waving up stairs and giving one all the luxury enjoyed by an Eastern nabob.

On Wednesday, shortly after noon, fire was discovered in a stall in the stable back of Mr. James Norton's store on Penhallow street, fortunately in season to prevent an extensive conflagration. It is supposed that some one had been smoking a pipe in the barn, and let fall some burning tobacco among the straw. The fire was put out with a few buckets of water, without giving an alarm and with slight damage.

Tuesday was the hottest day, the thermometer standing at ninety-six in the shade; but Wednesday was hotter still, the thermometer that stood at ninety-six the day before showing one hundred and two at noon. Other places were even hotter than this city, Tuesday, when Manchester announced one hundred and eight degrees in the shade, Bellows Falls, Vt., one hundred and five, Plymouth one hundred and two, and Enfield one hundred.

The Portsmouth Weekly says: "Rev. Edward A. Rand, one of Portsmouth's old High School boys, is still preaching at Franklin, Mass., and it must be some other of the name who was not tempted from Springfield to New York with a large salary, as mentioned by the Biddeford Times and Portsmouth CHRONICLE." We only mentioned it as a statement of the Biddeford Times, giving due credit. We have since learned that the Springfield pastor is Rev. E. A. Rand; but we don't take back anything that we said about our old schoolmate, E. A. Rand.

On Monday evening, 1st inst., about seventy-five friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Betton called upon them at their residence, No. 66 Pleasant street, the occasion of the visit being the tenth anniversary of their wedding. The lady visitors took with them plenty of cake and other goodies, and with ices, sandwiches, coffee, etc., a sumptuous lunch was spread. Of the best of tin made up into all sorts of useful utensils, enough to stock a tin-shop was carried by the visitors, as tokens that they remembered it was a tin wedding and entertained friendly feelings toward the wedded pair. There were some good singers in the company, and with music, social conversation and the interchange of kindly greetings the evening was most pleasantly passed.

THE HIGH SCHOOL REUNION.

The reunion of the High School Association and reception of the graduating class we were able to give but a brief notice on the morning after it occurred. The President of the Association, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, opened the exercises with a brief address, after which a letter was read by Miss Nellie E. Ham from Rev. Edward A. Rand, regretting his inability to be present. The poem by Mr. Foss was then read by him, and Miss Florence L. Walker repeated the recitation which she gave at the exhibition in the afternoon. The Nowell brothers gave a violin and piano duet, after which speeches were made by Dr. May, Mr. Stephen W. Clarke and others. The class ode was sung by the graduating class, and then the room was cleared for dancing. The stage was dressed with flags, and the different graduating classes were represented by mottoes on the front of the gallery. The poem read was as follows:

The Eternity of Deeds.

SAMUEL W. FOSS.

As men who roam on strange and foreign shores,
Far distant from their absent fatherland,
Enjoy the sweet and friendly intercourse
Of wandering strangers from their native strand;
So we, who erst were bound by kindred ties
Of common aims, and common hopes and fears,
Preserve a sacred love that time defies
Of pleasant scenes and joys of other years.
The silent memory of former hours
Like perfume borne from sweet and dying flowers,
Sheds pleasing fragrance round each hallowed spot
Bringing pleasure for the joys that were,—and grief that they are not.

Long in a common work we constant toiled,
And long together side by side we wrought,—
And though, perchance, some cherished scheme were foiled,
Yet golden sheaves were reaped in fields of thought.
And seeds were sown, in those fair days, whose fruit
Shall yield abundant harvest through the years,
And benefits be reaped beyond compute
When teacher, school, and scholar disappear.
A noble thought will ever shed its light
When the great sun shall sink in endless night,
And every vestige of man's power disappears
In the gray and glimmering twilight of the evening of the years.

We feel the spell the more this scene presents
Because 'tis gilded o'er by Memory's hues;
Occasions bring emotions more intense
When joys of Past and Present interfuse.
But 'tis the memory of our days of toil,
Although perchance a pleasant work was ours,
That paints a scene irom which no swift recoil
Tells of the thorns concealed among the flowers.
A well directed labor leaves no place
Upon Life's page that Memory would efface,
No staring blank, or speaking blot to tell
The crowning heights from which its glad possessor fell.

The plain routine, the quiet of the life
The student leads is fraught with peaceful joy,
Free from the wild disquietude of strife
And all that gives the outside world annoy
Lost in the storied grandeur of the past,
Or gazing on the subtle lines of art,—
He sees new eras from the old recast,
And learns to read the universal heart.
Not ours to praise the bookworm's zeal that pries
Into all coverts with its searching eyes,
That drags from unseen nooks to light of day
The mouldy tributes of the past,—spared relics of decay,—

But zeal deep tinged with love, zeal that delights
To raise the flag of progress in the van,
A nobler, purer ardor that unites
A love of learning with a love of man,
A frank and open culture that reflects
The inner man unpoisoned by pre cense,
The broad, unbiased learning that respects
The stern, unchanging laws of common sense.
Let creeds and mooted dogmas pass away,—
The hobbies of the mad enthusiast decay,
And all the treasured mites the pedants bring,
And still the sons of men can draw from Truth's unfailing spring.

But what can open up this spring so pure,
And make its crystal waters all our own?
'Tis work, and work alone, that can procure
The precious treasure of this priceless boon.
The man who works can crush his evil fate,
And wrench from tyrant Circumstance his due,
And force the babbling tongue of envious Hate
To own her evil prophecies untrue.
He holds a motive power in his hand
No obstacle or cunning can withstand.
For Nature yields her suppliant to his skill,
And Science, Art, and heavenly Song are vassals to his will.

Hard, patient, earnest toil in every field,—
In fields of labor, or in fields of thought,
A fruitage in the harvest time will yield
That gold or treasured wealth has never bought.
The story of earth's greatest sons who climb
And stand upon the cloudy heights of Fame,
And through the ever-rolling years of time
Send down the deathless record of a name,
Is but a tale of plodding work, unsung
Life's humble scenes and homely joys among.
Ah, not unsought they gain their journey's goal
Whose names adorn the cycles that the tireless ages roll.

And what we do lives after us. We die
And like the slowly falling Autumn leaf
We mingle with the earth. Our history
Fades to a dim tradition. Like a thief
Time steals away our names from off the earth—
And all our monuments of pride o'erthrown
Even in the regions that have given us birth,
Our names are lost and we become unknown;
But still the impress of our lives remain
And leaves its mark—and ornament or stain,
Whate'er our ceaseless influence may be,
We leave it, to descend with time—man's common legacy.

Every kind deed of thoughtful charity,
Each sweet and unseen ministry of love,
Goes on increasing in its brilliancy
Until it breaks in radiance above.
And he who works to soothe a friend's distress,
Will soon to his own heart the lesson prove,
That he enjoys the greatest happiness
Whose inner soul is overflown with love.
A life of love, like sunset's golden sky,
Adorned with folds of cloud-formed drapery,
Gives mellowed beauty to the light behind,
And gilds, refines and purifies the sunlight of the mind.

Our deeds are but the pictures of our souls,
Reflections of our motives else unseen;
And as Life's panorama slow unrolls
We catch the shifting shadows of the scene,
Every external impress we receive—
By the mysterious alchemy of mind,
And each impulsive thought that we conceive
Is with our beings silently combined,
We see no change. Upon the mind as light
And silently as snowflakes fall at night,
Impalpable and unseen forms impress
Their stamps of fate, deep-tinged with grief or happiness.

And so the lessons that in school we learn
Shape all the tenor of our future lives,
And still the silent flames of Memory burn
When nothing but our memory survives.
Like stars that shine from the deep vault of heaven,
To light the darkling chaos of the night,
A silent influence from our lives is given
That ever radiates its gleaming light.
Though every remnant of our frames be gone,
The circling wavelets of our deeds go on.
We cannot die. Our minds' inherent force
Will have its sway while rolls the star-crowned universe.

BURNED TO DEATH.

On Tuesday night, 2d inst., a young man named Towle, eighteen years old, son of Mr. Moses Towle of Hampton, and employed by and living in the house with Deacon Samuel French of North Hampton, came to this city in company with one or more other persons after waste grains from one of the breweries. Young Towle arrived home at Deacon French's at about two o'clock Wednesday morning, and immediately retired. About an hour later another hired man, who occupied the room next to Towle's, was awakened by smoke and the crackling of flames in Towle's room; springing from bed he attempted to awaken Towle, and to break down the door to his room, but failed to do either, and then turned his attention to arousing the other inmates of the house, who all escaped. The building, which was one of the finest private residences in the town, was totally destroyed.

FOURTH OF JULY.

No work in this office to-day; therefore, no CHRONICLE to-morrow.

The bells will be rung half an hour, morning, noon and night.

The Portsmouth Artillery Cadets, Capt. Judson P. Marvin, will fire a salute on Liberty Bridge this morning, at the raising of the flag.

A meeting of the Reunion Committee of 1873 will be held at the Common Council Room at eleven o'clock this forenoon. Full attendance requested.

The Dover Band will give open-air concerts on Market square from 2 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 10 in the evening.

The post-office will be open for general delivery from eight o'clock A. M. to eleven, and from five to six o'clock P. M. Box office open all day.

Picnic of Freewill Baptist society and congregation at Kittery Point.

Excursion and picnic of St. Mary's Benevolent Association at Pinkham's Grove, Dover Point. Base ball match between Granite States of Portsmouth and Blue Stars of Rochester, for a prize; game called at noon. Fat men's race, greased pig, etc. Extra railroad trains; fare up and back, 50cts. Refreshments for sale on the grounds. Judging from the programme prepared, there will be a good time for all attending.

A pleasant walking excursion for to-day will be a walk or ride to the second Newcastle bridge, to see the "Wonders of the deep" at the aquarium. The distance from Market square is but one mile and a quarter, and no charge is made for looking at the strange fishes.

Fair at corner State and Washington streets, with the usual attractions, minstrels, play of "No cure no pay," and dance in the evening.

Cricket match at the Creek; fifteen cents admission to grounds—no standing on railroad embankment; music by Rye Cornet Band. Game to commence at 8:30 o'clock A. M. and close at 6 o'clock P. M.; after which there will be a running match of two hundred yards between Mark Scott, John Hann and Thos. Leary; to be followed by a two-hundred-yards race between William Sladen and Joseph Hagerman—two "fat'uns." Then dancing on the green, for all hands, until nine o'clock, when a very fine display of fireworks will be made. The band will arrive at one o'clock and play until nine. Refreshments will be procurable on the grounds during the day and evening.

THE CONCERT FRIDAY EVENING.

The great occasion in Portsmouth for the week, notwithstanding the anniversary of our National Independence, and the interesting High School reunion, will be the concert in Music Hall on Friday evening. It is not simply because it gives us such a varied entertainment, but for the reason that we are to enjoy such a rare treat, in the characters of vocal and instrumental music. Mr. Willis E. Nowell, whose proficiency as a violinist has been long acknowledged by the best musical critics, is soon to go abroad to spend several years under the instruction of the leading violinist of Europe, to further increase his skill in this accomplishment. His brother, universally admitted to be one of the best piano accompanyists, is also to appear. The double quartette of male voices will be welcomed in their new pieces. Harlow's orchestra will render operatic airs new to a Portsmouth audience and expressly arranged for this occasion. Miss Caldwell's readings will be quite enough to add a new variety to the programme. To those who were fortunate enough to listen to this charming reader and recitationist at the Nowell concert some time since, her second appearance will be hailed with delight. She comes from our sister city across the Merrimac, and we hope will be heartily welcomed.

The many admirers of Mrs. Susie Foster Marcy will gladly embrace this opportunity to listen to her dulcet notes, which in times past, in concert room or in church choir, have so enchanted her hearers. Mrs. Marcy has added to the advantage of her sweet and powerful voice the result of careful instruction and practice under the best artists of the land. Wherever she has appeared of late, in public, she has had splendid ovations, enthusiastic encores, followed by high encomiums from the press—not the commonplace complimentary or stereotyped reports, but criticisms written, for the most part, by well informed professionals who know whereof they affirm when they say that not since Jenny Lind has any lady artist in this country shown such sweetness and compass of voice, and warbled so naturally and unaffectedly as our native songster.

The whole entertainment will be worthy not only of a generous and hearty support, but should develope a large share of gratitude of our townspeople for the opportunity of enjoyment the occasion presents.

As in a concert every chair in Music Hall is a good seat, and as especial pains have been taken and no expense spared to give us a superb entertainment, we trust a due appreciation of the effort will be expressed by a full attendance, which will be likely to encourage a repetition of such enjoyments.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

The firm of Perry, Wendell, Fay & Co., of Boston, is dissolved. The dry goods commission business of the late firm is now transacted by the new firm of Wendell, Fay & Co., of which Mr. Mark R. Wendell, formerly a partner in the late firm of Wm. Jones & Son of this city, is senior partner.

Messrs. Joseph S. Simes and William Simes, Jr., sons of Ex-Mayor Simes of this city, have formed a co-partnership for the transaction of wholesale tea business in Boston, under style of J. S. Simes & Brother.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

Regular meeting Wednesday evening; present the Mayor, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, Messrs. Shannon, Gardner, May, Hutchinson, Goodrich, Wendell, Pender and Vaughan.

It was voted inexpedient to buy maps of New Hampshire, as offered by Mr. Cline, of Manchester.

The grade committees recommended the re-election of the various teachers, which was done, the only vacancy being the principalship of the Jones Grammar School. The proper committee was ordered to make all the necessary arrangements for the examination to fill the vacancy.

It was voted that the committee on salaries report at the next regular meeting the amount of salaries which they recommend to be paid the teachers for the ensuing year, and that they enquire into the expediency of paying all teachers by the week for actual time employed.

THE VICINITY.

Horace Sawyer has added an attractive club house for the use of his guests at his extensive boarding-house at Rye Beach.

Mr. Stanton, of Washington, D. C., formerly of the Riggs House, is clerk at the Farragut House at Rye Beach this season.

Fred Ritchie, eighteen years old, a clerk in Durell & Co.'s store in Saco, was drowned Sunday morning, June 30th, while bathing in the river below the city.

Mrs. John W. Dodge, of Hampton Falls, has opened the Summit House on Mount Washington. Mr. Dodge has been connected with this hotel since its first opening.

Steamer Cambridge, of the Bangor line, makes an excursion from Boston today, passing between Star island and Appledore. The excursion is eloquently advertised in the Boston newspapers.

A fine four-in-hand from Thompson's Hotel at York Beach is carrying a large number of passengers to and from the Beach and the Concord Railroad station. The time on the road is about an hour and a quarter.

Rev. Mr. LeLacheur, of the Methodist church in Biddeford, preached four times on Sunday, the 30th ult.,—the thermometer indicating 100 degrees in the shade, too! What terrors can the lake of fire and brimstone have for a man like that?

Antoine Chicoine and his wife were thrown from a wagon in which they were riding in Saco, June 29th, through a wheel being smashed by striking an iron post as they attempted to drive past two young men in another wagon. Mrs. Chicoine was badly bruised about the face, and her husband seriously and it is feared fatally injured.

The old block house in Seabrook, whose history dates back to 1650, is being torn down. It was built of oak logs covered with boards and clapboarded, and in early times often sheltered the inhabitants from the raids of Indians. On one occasion they attempted to burn it, but were unsuccessful.

The Dover Democrat of July 1st says: "A peculiar and very acceptable and satisfactory part of the services at the Methodist church yesterday was the music by Ralph Reinewald on his cornet. It really added a new inspiration which seemed to thrill and captivate the whole audience. The instrument itself was evidently an excellent one, and then Reinewald has no match in playing it. He is a most excellent musician anyway, but somehow there seems to be nothing like the the cornet in its adaption to sacred music. Mr. Reinewald has been engaged for a year at the same place as we are glad to know. With Burley Pinkham as leader, Ralph Reinewald with the cornet and Miss Carrie Gray at the organ, the congregational singing at the Methodist church is precisely first-rate and no mistake."

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the money paid for it, then take according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has wrought cures, and may be sought, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotence, or Sterility, Spinal Diseases and Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this class, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but as a admirable fulfiller of a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these points can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, postpaid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of these diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of the delicate affections.
FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. It
Construction AND Equipment
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of clumsy, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Sick Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling after meals, Loss of Appetite, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

New Hampshire Items.

James Blanchard, alias Charlie Ross, the "St. Albans Pet," was sent to jail on Friday to await trial at Manchester in September, for burglarizing D. S. Burnham's drug store July 2d.

Henry Colby of East Andover was run over and killed by a train on the Northern Railroad between Franklin and East Andover on the 4th. It is supposed to be a suicide, as he got on the track in front of the train.

The State Temperance Association's camp meeting at Weirs Landing opened Tuesday, the 2d inst. On Wednesday the attendance was very large, Governor Prescott, President of the day, arriving early and making a twenty-minutes speech. On the 4th there was another large audience.

A few months, or even weeks, since, her pallid countenance was the very type of ruddy health—the delight of the school and the pride of the household. She was always welcome wherever duty or pleasure led her. Diligent, punctual, and exemplary, in the class-room, obedient and loving at home, she won the hearts of all. But alas! those glowing cheeks and lips are now blanched by consumption. The voice once so enchanting in laugh and song is feeble, husky and broken by a hollow cough. Let us approach her couch and gently take her bloodless hand in our own. Do not shudder because of its feeble, passionless grasp. The hand once so warm and plump shows its bony outlines, while the cords and tortuous veins are plainly mapped, upon its surface. The pulse that bounded with repletion, imparting beauty, vivacity, health, and strength, to the system, is delicate to the touch. The enervated heart feebly propels the thin, scanty blood. Must we lose her while yet so young and so fair? No. There is relief. But something more is required than the observance of hygienic rules, for enfeebled nature calls for aid and she must have it. Administer this pleasant medicine. It is invigorating. It allays the irritable cough, improves the appetite and digestion, and sends a healthy tingle through her whole being. The blood is enriched, nervous power increased, and the heart bounds with a new impulse. Her face brightens—the blood is returning, her voice is clearer, and her requests are no longer delivered in that peevish, fretful tone so deadening to sympathy. Her step is still faltering, but strength is rapidly returning. Let us take her out in the warm, life-giving sunshine. In a few weeks she will go without our aid and be able to join her companions in their pleasant pastimes and feel her whole being "warmed and expanded into perfect life." The change is so great that we think she is sweeter and nobler than ever before. And the medicine which has wrought this transformation, we look upon as a blessing to humanity, for there are other loved ones to be rescued from the grasp of the insidious destroyer. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has raised her. It will raise others.

SATURDAY, JULY 6, 1878.

Hasten Slowly.

The Dover Press intimates that it looks very much as though Dartmouth College was asking the State to make good the institution's loss by the defalcation of a former treasurer. Col. George and Harry Bingham, good democratic authority, advocate that the State should make the desired appropriation. Where these constitutional lawyers find the power for this we are not informed; but we can easily imagine, if the Legislature should make this grant, how the entire democracy would cry aloud in the next campaign against the unauthorized action of the majority in the General Court in thus voting away the people's money. And the pressure to in like manner aid other institutions of learning would come thick and fast by another session.

Chronicle Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 5th.

Tuesday and Wednesday were days fruitful of much discussion and useful legislation. Some new speakers have been developed by means of this. The great event of the session thus far was the speech on Wednesday of O. C. Moore of Nashua upon the bill in relation to levying a State tax of $400,000. Mr. Moore said he proposed to make the issue of the different bills for direct taxation, now lying slumbering in different committees, upon this bill. He said if the bill in question was passed he should make no further attempt to defend the bills, now in the committee, which are the results of the labors of the Tax Commission appointed last year. He then in a clear, forcible and logical manner went on to defend the results of the Commission, and to show they were just and equitable, and if passed would relieve the burden of taxation from the people. He spoke an hour and ten minutes, and was listened to with marked attention. It was acknowledged on all sides that it was a masterly effort.

A short speech was made by Jos. B. Clark in favor of the State tax bill, and then upon motion of Mr. Marston of Exeter further consideration of the bill was postponed to Wednesday of next week.

On Wednesday an interesting debate, showing the manner in which opposite parties look at the same bill, was had upon the Woodcock bill. The bill as reported from the committee was a compromise of parties interested in having the law remain upon the statute book as it is now, and those in favor of having the time placed at September 1st. The compromise was to the effect that the time should be placed at August 1st. Those who opposed the report were those who wished the time to be July 4th. Messrs. Wallace of Newton, Ide of Claremont, Batchelder of Littleton, and Morris of Epping, spoke against, and Messrs. Dodge, Clark, and Herse of Manchester, and Foster of Canterbury, in favor of the report. It was finally adopted.

A bill entitled an act in amendment of chapter 126 of the general statutes, in relation to assignments for the benefit of creditors, was reported favorably from the committee. Mr. R. M. Wallace, of Milford, in a careful and telling speech slaughtered the bill by having the motion to indefinitely postpone pass. He shew that it was in reality a species of the bankrupt law and that there was no justice in the proposed bill, but on the contrary much of injustice.

On Wednesday twenty-eight bills were passed. Among those of local interest to Portsmouth were an act to incorporate the Eliot Bridge Company; an act to incorporate the Unique Lodge of Independent Order of Substantials in Newcastle; an act to incorporate Winnicut Lodge of F. and A. Masons of Greenland; an act to incorporate St. Mary's Benevolent Society in Portsmouth.

The 4th was spent in a very quiet manner here in this city. Between ten and eleven o'clock in the evening fire works to the amount of $1000 were exploded on Main street, which made considerable clatter, and was the result of a good natured rivalry as to which of two stores could make the greatest amount of noise.

Naval Affairs.

Paymaster Henry T. Wright has relieved Paymaster Edwin Putnam as Purchasing Paymaster, etc., at this navy yard.

Gunner Thomas H. Fortune is ordered to duty on board the U. S. S. Plymouth.

Commander A. R. Yates is granted leave of absence from the League Island navy yard, from July 6th to Aug. 1st.

Capt. Milton Haxton is ordered as Captain of the Boston navy yard, vice Capt. E. Y. McCauley, detached and ordered to Naval Asylum at Philadelphia.

Ensign John W. Beane has resigned, and his resignation has been accepted, taking effect June 30th.

Commander Lester A. Beardslee has arrived here to take command of the U. S. S. Speedwell, now at the navy yard being fitted for use of the Fish Commission. The Speedwell will have her headquarters at Gloucester, and the operations will be along the coast of this State and Massachusetts. The steamer is expected to be ready for sea next week.

It is reported that the U. S. S. Plymouth, now temporary flagship of the North Atlantic and Gulf squadron, will soon arrive at Norfolk from New York and remain the headquarters of Rear Admiral Trenchard until September, when his flag will be again transferred to the Powhatan, and command of the squadron turned over to Rear Admiral John C. Howell.

The U. S. S. Gettysburg, which has been engaged on surveying duty on the coast of Africa, has been ordered home in consequence of an accident to her machinery, which has temporarily disabled her. She will proceed to the United States under sail, and is expected to arrive in October.

Pay Director Charles W. Abbott is ordered to the Boston navy yard. Paymaster F. H. Swan is detached from the Boston yard, and ordered to report for duty at the Naval Academy after settling his accounts. Paymaster S. F. Browne is detached from the Naval Academy and ordered to settle accounts. Paymaster Edwin Stewart is detached from duty as inspector of flour, etc., at New York, ordered to settle accounts and to report for duty as inspector at the navy yard at Mare Island, Cal. Passed Assistant Paymaster H. G. Colby is detached from the Mare Island yard and ordered to settle accounts.

Details have been made as follows: Professors Wm. Harkness and Simon Newcomb, Commander Wm. T. Sampson, Lieutenants E. W. Sturdy and C. G. Bowman, to Creston, Wyoming; Professor E. H. Holden and Lieutenant Samuel W. Very, to Central City, Colorado; and Professors J. R. Eastman and Asaph Hall, to Pueblo, Colorado, to observe the total eclipse of the sun, July 29, and when concluded to return and resume their respective duties. Meantime Professor Harkness has been ordered to New York on special duty connected with the fitting out of the expeditions to observe the eclipse, and on its completion will return to Washington and resume his regular duties.

News and Notes.

At the international college boat-race at Henly, on the Thames, July 4th, the American crews, the Sho-wae-cae-mettes and Columbias, beat their British competitors in good style. On Friday the "Shoees" were beaten, one of their best men being suddenly taken sick in the boat; the Columbias won the visitors' challenge cup by half a mile.

Tramps are of some use, after all. In a conflict between a large band of tramps and some thugs and thieves who attacked them at Astoria, Iowa, on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway, July 1st, the tramps killed one and fatally wounded three of their adversaries. Sad to relate, the thugs did not succeed in killing any of the tramps.

The Missouri river was higher, July 3d, at St. Joseph, Mo., and Atchison, Kansas, than at any time for many years past. Much damage has been done to bridges, and farms along the banks of the river.

David Trumbull, one of the rowers in the Yale boat at the recent Yale-Harvard race, and Col. Charles M. Coit, treasurer of the Chelsea Savings Bank of Norwich, Conn., were drowned in New London harbor on the 3d inst. They were in a yacht, and both jumped overboard to save a little son of Col. Coit, who fell overboard. The child was saved.

Three men entered the Receiver General's office, in Toronto, July 4th, and engaged the teller in conversation, while a confederate slipped into the vault and stole $12,600, $10,000 in two-dollar bills, $2000 in ones, and $600 in silver.

A storm at Pittsburg, Pa., on the 4th, threw down a large tree upon a picnic party, killing ten persons and injuring fifteen others, four or five of whom will die.

The first bale of the new cotton crop has arrived in New York.

There was an attempt made at Sweetsburg, Quebec, on the evening of the 2d inst., to assassinate Edward H. Goff, President of the Boston, Montreal & Portland Railroad. While he was seated in his residence two shots were fired through the library window by some unknown person, who immediately fled after firing.

The drunken leader of the orchestra at the new National theater in Hartford was publicly cowhided during Monday evening's performance by Mme. Duclos, the leader of a troupe of "blondes" who were performing, because he tipsily persisted in playing just the songs that she and her companions did not wish to sing.

Judge Nathan Clifford and wife celebrated their golden wedding on the 4th of July at the residence of their son, Hon. William H. Clifford, in Portland. There are now living of the venerable gentleman's descendants three sons and two daughters, and twenty grandchildren, all of whom, with many invited guests, were present on this occasion. Both Mr. and Mrs. Clifford are in the enjoyment of remarkably good health.

Why Longer Remain Fat?

Obesity was considered by the ancients as evidence of coarseness. Even yet the slim forms of the Grecian goddesses are regarded as models of female beauty. Corpulence is now held to be a disease, and Allan's Anti-Fat has fully demonstrated it to be curable. The Anti-Fat chemically neutralizes in the stomach all glucose, saccharine, and oleaginous substances, thus preventing the formation of fat. Its use insures a loss of from two to five pounds per week. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

An Important Function Stimulated.

The kidneys exercise most important functions, which are so wearisome that they tax to the utmost the strength and endurance of these busy little organs. Every breath, every pulsation of the heart, every movement of a limb, every thought, makes waste and necessitates the development of new atoms. The used up particles in the blood are sifted from it and dissolved in a watery fluid by the kidneys, which then discharge this fluid into the bladder. A train of disasters to the system would follow if these "ashes," so to speak, were not thoroughly strained off and discharged. This is the case when the kidneys become inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by restoring their activity, not only keeps open a most important outlet for impurities, but prevents diseases of the kidneys themselves, which when inert become liable to fall a prey to diabetes, Bright's disease, nephistis, albumenuria, and other maladies specially incident to them, which, although not specially rapid in their progression, are particularly obstinate and fatal.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, New York. 4ly18

Read what the dealers say:

THE CITY.

Mr. John Morgan is the possessor of a kitten having three eyes, two mouths and two noses.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado will lecture in the Methodist church Sabbath evening at 7:30 o'clock. Subject, "Let us protect the rum business."

There will be a praise service at the Middle street Baptist church on Sunday evening at six o'clock, led by the choir. Address by the pastor.

The Vesper Service of the South Parish will be discontinued until further notice. The Sunday school will meet at the chapel on Court street at nine o'clock.

A young son of Mr. George Wilson was accidentally shot in the left breast just above the heart on the 4th, by a companion named Sullivan. He is doing well.

The Times of Friday says: "On Tuesday night the wife of James F. Mahoney attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum, but an overdose served to act as an emetic and she still lives. She threatens to try it again."

Shortly after eleven o'clock Thursday night fire was discovered in the story-and-a-half house No. 11 Pine street, occupied by Mr. Joseph Drew, which, with nearly all its contents, was destroyed. Loss about $800; insured. How the fire caught is unknown.

Mr. Howard Grover, a young man recently married and residing on Sagamore road, fell from the roof of Mr. J. Edward Colcord's new house on Pleasant street to the ground, Friday afternoon, a distance of between thirty and forty feet, and was insensible when taken up. Mr. Grover is a painter by trade.

Two new portraits from the studio of Ulysses D. Tenney of this city, have just been added to those already hung in the Representatives' Hall at Concord, being those of Theodore Atkinson and Theodore Atkinson, Jr., formerly Secretaries of the Province. They were copied from the originals in the possession of a descendant at Dover, and are superior pieces of work.

The concert Friday evening was attended by an audience of seven or eight hundred persons, notwithstanding the oppressive heat. Mrs. Marcy was most cordially received, and was forced to respond to encores after each number; both she and Miss Caldwell received handsome bouquets. The other performers did their parts well, and the entertainment as a whole was a decided success.

The Portsmouth Weekly says: "Rev. Edward A. Rand, one of Portsmouth's old High School boys, is still preaching at Franklin, Mass., and it must be some other of the name who was not tempted from Springfield to New York with a large salary, as mentioned by the Biddeford Times and Portsmouth CHRONICLE." We only mentioned it as a statement of the Biddeford Times, giving due credit. We have since learned that the Springfield pastor is Rev. E. A. Reed; but we don't take back anything that we said about our old schoolmate, E. A. Rand.

The young "gentleman"—it would of course be absurd to call so well dressed and courteous a person a sneak thief—who one evening not long since borrowed our New Hampshire Register—price twenty-five cents—and promised to bring it back next morning, which he has not yet done, is hereby informed that we have received a new and enlarged one from the publishers, and now don't care about his returning the one he borrowed. We should, however, be happy to have him apply for the loan of our copy of the new edition, and if we can discover his name will give him a quarter's worth of gratuitous advertising.

THE SCHOOL TEACHERS.

The teachers in the several schools of the city, who were re-elected for the ensuing year by the Board of Instruction at the last regular meeting, are as follows:

Grammar Schools—Charles E. Buzzell, R. H. Perkins, Harriet L. Hill, Susan F. Drake, Sarah A. Whittem, Eliza M. Marshall. One vacancy.

Intermediate Schools—Josie F. Prescott, Sophila J. Foye, Emma E. Young, Nellie C. Moers, William G. Kidder, Clara Barri, Lizzie S. Woods, Frances N. Shackford, Irene O. Clark, Lucy H. Rand.

Primary Schools—Helen L. Philbrick, Annie S. Hanscom, Nellie E. Rand, Florence A. Ham, Ida E. Shackley, Marian M. Ham, Dolly O. Rowe, Laura E. Giddings, Charlotte A. Walker, Ida L. Marston, Katie Green, Annie E. Smart, Mary E. Prescott, Lizzie S. Dodge.

Suburban Schools—Thomas K. Shannon, Mary F. Garrett, Jeannette E. Hoyt.

The principal and assistant teachers of the High School are elected by the High School Committee.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Less gunpowder and fewer fireworks were burned in this vicinity than ever before within our memory. Hitherto "the fourth" has commenced about the middle of June, steadily increasing in racket and sulphurous smell up to the morning of Independence Day; this year we question if a dozen bunches of crackers in all were set off in the city up to the evening of the third, and guns and pistols were not heard at all. Wednesday evening there was some firing of torpedoes, crackers and guns, but nothing like what we have been used to, most of the noise being confined to the vicinity of Market square; one solitary bon-fire was kindled at midnight, in the middle of the square, and that was allowed to go out before two o'clock; and another fire was built at Christian Shore. There was a good deal of drunkenness visible throughout the night and following day, and one or two fights, though no general disturbance.

The 4th, though cooler than for several days previous, was yet uncomfortably hot, and numbers took to the river in boats to find it about as hot on the water as anywhere else; and a large party from the Freewill Baptist society went to Kittery Point on a picnic, in steamer Clara Bateman. The bells were rung as usual; a salute was fired at noon from the navy yard; and the Dover band gave an hour's concert on Market square in the afternoon, and played two hours (from eight o'clock until ten) in the evening, returning to Dover by steamboat at about midnight. The concerts were good, the band playing very finely; but several of the members who played in the afternoon mysteriously disappeared before the last performance commenced, and did not show up in the band-stand at all. The number of listeners was smaller than usual on such occasions. The principal centres of attraction during the day were the Creek field and Pinkham's Grove, though many availed themselves of a spare hour to visit the aquarium at Newcastle, and quite a number went to Newburyport to attend the greenback corroboree.

The annual meeting of the reunion committee on the Return of the Sons was held at the Common Council room in the forenoon. Col. W. H. Sise, secretary, read his report, from which we learn that of the committee of one hundred who were interested in the last return of the sons eight have died, ten moved from the city and five have married. The meeting adjourned for one year.

AT THE CREEK.

The game of cricket in the field at the Creek, between the Portsmouth and Lawrence clubs, resulted in a victory for the home club by a score of fifty to nineteen, in one innings. The score was as follows—and for the benefit of persons not initiated in the mysteries of cricket we will explain that "b. o." means "bowled out," "c. o." is "caught out," "n. o." stands for "not out," and "l. b. w." means "leg before wicket:"

Mr. Lever, a professional bowler, played remarkably well. Mr. Parnahan, a young amateur, made a good record, and his friends say that with more practise he will be hard to beat. Booth did some very good batting. Canty and Waterman will make extra players, if they keep up to the promise of their play in this game.

After the cricket match there was a fat men's race of two hundred yards, which was won by a well known resident of the Creek district, beating his competitor by twenty yards.

Mark Scott and Thomas Leary then ran the same distance, Leary beating Scott by one foot.

A very large crowd enjoyed the sports of the day, the best of order being maintained throughout. After the races there was dancing on the greensward for several hours, a considerable number participating; and then there was a fine display of fireworks, lasting until ten o'clock. The day's amusement was a decided success.

The club has been to a large expense in securing a fine field; and procuring the necessary paraphernalia, with other outlays, has largely reduced the funds. The club has been assisted by several gentlemen, for which thanks are sincerely returned; but further aid will render possible still further improvements, and any contributions will be thankfully received.

AT PINKHAM'S GROVE.

The grand festival or picnic of the St. Mary's Benevolent Society of this city, at Pinkham's Grove, Dover Point, was a main attraction for amusement seekers. The variety of programme offered to many inducements not to be resisted, and a large concourse was gathered on the grounds; Dover, Great Falls, Newington, Eliot and other towns being largely represented.

The game of base ball between the Granite States and the Blue Stars of Rochester was one of the events of the day. The playing was excellent on both sides, but the uneven ground rendered it impossible to make any display of good fielding. Capt. Crowley caught two difficult flies, and Coubig did well on first base. McClinchy's pitching was fine, and Buckley's catching was good, but in the fourth innings the latter was struck three times by the ball and was so badly injured as to be unable to play further, Mr. Barney Clark, of Dover, substituting him in a very creditable manner. The game lasted two hours and a half and was carefully contested for. The following is the score:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Granite States	4	1	0	2	0	1	2	3	1	—14
Blue Stars	0	0	0	0	6	1	0	0	2	—9

Mr. F. E. Mack acted as umpire, to the satisfaction of all.

In the afternoon the Clipper base ball club of Dover and the Queen Stars of Great Falls played four innings, the score standing fifteen to ten in favor of the Clippers. The Great Falls nine gave up the game, owing to fatigue, they having demolished the River-sides Club of Great Falls in the forenoon, followed by a ride over a rough road to the picnic grounds. Several outside scrub games were had, which added to the jollity of the occasion.

The fat men's race was not a slow affair. The distance was sixty yards and return, without stopping; and the way the three jolly fat men went in was a wonder to the lean ones who looked on. The portly Thomas J. Sheehan of this city, weight 270 pounds; Dr. Webster M. Raines of Dover, weight 240 pounds; and Mr. Michael E. Long of this city, weight 210 pounds, were the contestants. The crowd packed in so close to the bounds that Sheehan took the rear and good-naturedly allowed Dr. Raines of Dover to carry home the honors of being the champion. It is possible that a small and suspicious looking morocco case might have had something to do with the doctor's success.

The "greased pig race" created lots of merriment, as everybody had a show, and the way the pig slipped through their hands delighted all. Dover took the honors and the pig.

The dancing afforded a large fund of amusement. Parsons' band furnished the music, and all the day long there were many hearts and nimble feet tripping to the tune of the music, both old and young entering into the sport; and it was only the approach of the homeward bound train that caused a cessation of their pleasant pastime.

The party arrived home at about eight o'clock, well pleased with the festivities of the day.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, July 5; Batchelder, J.

Stacey G. Moran, James Walker and George W. Hersey were complained of for an assault on Frank and John Greenough, brothers. From the evidence it appeared that the Greenoughs and others were "celebrating" at about one o'clock on the morning of the 4th, by running a bon-fire at the corner of Woodbury and Burkitt streets, on Christian Shore, when another party, headed by the accused, made war upon them with rocks and things and captured the fire. The parties arraigned were each fined $5, the costs, amounting to $20.05, being allotted between them. Paid.

Frank Greenough was then arraigned on a charge of assault on Frank Foster with intent to kill him. This case was continued to Monday, Foster being unable to appear, owing, we are informed, to a bullet wound in his leg. Greenough gave bonds in $800 for his appearance on Monday.

All the parties named are young fellows, and would find it much more to their credit to keep out of disgraceful brawls. There is nothing admirable in ruffianism, although it may gain the perpetrator some notoriety; notoriety is not fame.

THE VICINITY.

The projected greenback rally at Strathham Hill on the 4th of July did not take place. The greenbackers were not green enough to attempt anything of the kind at a time when the weather was so hot as to cause the top of the thermometer to be blown off.

The Congregational society of Kittery Point had a picnic on the 4th, and the Christian Baptist society of the Foreside a picnic near Rogers' cemetery on the same day.

Among the earlier arrivals at the Marshall House at York Beach, are A. B. Stoughton and wife from Washington, and R. Campbell and family from Montreal.

The mills of the Exeter Manufacturing Company shut down on the 3d, to remain closed until August 5th. This gives a vacation to about one hundred and fifty hands.

Dr. M. F. Wentworth, of Kittery, raised a flag at his residence on the evening of the 3d inst. The Kittery Cornet Band was in attendance, and refreshments were served after the flag was thrown to the breeze—or to the place where the breeze should have been.

An unoccupied barn on Fourth street, Dover, was burned Thursday night; loss $100. Friday morning the barn connected with the academy building, occupied by John Scales, was damaged by fire and a quantity of hay destroyed; loss $200; cause, fire-crackers.

The mercury at Biddeford marked 105 in the shade on Wednesday at eleven o'clock. This the people there thought rather tough, coming at the end of four days with the thermometer at 100 and over. A large force of men at work near the Boston & Maine depot were obliged to give up, the thermometer where they were indicating 130 degrees in the sun. The out door hands on the Pepperell corporation were called in and the horses stabled.

At St. John's (Episcopal) church, Rev. Chas. A. Holbrook, rector, services at 10:30 A. M. and 5:00 P. M. every Sunday,—except the first Sunday in each month, when the Children's Choral Service and public catechising, commencing at four o'clock, is substituted for the usual one at 5:00; seats free at this service.

Mission services; William A. Loyne, Volunteer Missionary. Residence at Faith Home, 16 Deer street. At home daily from 8 to 10 A. M. and 12 to 2 P. M. Services every Sabbath at the Alms House at 10:30; at the County Jail at 12:30. Consecration Meeting every Monday evening at the Home.

At the Middle street (Baptist) church, Rev. W. H. Alden, D. D., pastor, services at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.; Sunday school at the church at 2:45 P. M.

The Reform Club will hold a meeting in Franklin Hall at four o'clock, or immediately after church in the afternoon. Admission free.

Political.

Glover, the champion "investigator" of the "democratic House," is a very unfortunate mortal, who seems doomed to all sorts of blunders and mishaps. He blundered upon the "bounding Banning" and exposed him as having drawn pay twice for one month's service in the army, with the intimation that there were more of the same sort. It now comes out that Glover himself was one of that sort. The records of the pay department show that Glover, as colonel of the cavalry, drew pay twice for the month of May, 1863. This fact has thus far escaped the eagle-eye of Professor Wilcox, Glover's, noted "expert" who has just been paid out of the House appropriation for oil and fuel.

In view of the talk about the payment of the southern slave-holders for their emancipated slave-property being prohibited by the Constitution, it is well to remember that a repeal of the prohibitory amendment is demanded by the democrats of the banner democratic State of Georgia.

The democratic convention of the 15th Congressional district of Ohio adjourned on the evening of the 3d inst., after having been in session two days and had six hundred ballots for a candidate. No choice was made, and the convention will meet again.

The Philadelphia contractors have determined to send colored men to Brazil to work on the Madeira and Mamore railroad.

During June eighty-seven newspapers were started in the United States, and forty-two suspended.

William Wackerle, whose life was insured in the Ætna Life of Hartford for $3000 and the Mutual Life of New York for $4000, and whose wife has traversed the country over for four years, making sympathy in the newspapers because the companies would not recognize the fact of his death by a railroad accident in Louisiana, has been discovered alive and well in California.

Statements from the western States say scores of reaping machines are destroyed. Every day brings reports of fresh depredations. On other machines notices are posted threatening destruction if the owners do not lay them aside and employ men to cut the grain. Many farmers are yielding and discarding the machines. Those who have travelled in several districts of Indiana during the past week say that a very large proportion of the fields of wheat are being cut by hand. Farmers have posted notices of warning on their lands, and taking means for the protection of property at night. If the destruction of machines goes on heroic remedies will be tried soon. In many localities the supply of labor is not equal to the demand.

The chief engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern road, to test the smoothness of the track, placed a glass of water on the seat of a Pullman palace car the other day, and carried it right through from Chicago to Omaha without losing a drop. Thinking specific gravity might have something to do with it, next trip he tried a glass of whisky, and when he examined the glass at the first station out he found it as dry as the desert of Sahara at high noon.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the four special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it on I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotence, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to women, not mentioned here. In all affections of the same, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not offer as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those desire further information on these subjects can obtain my THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.00. It treats minutely of these diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this fine well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

THE GREAT

FALL RIVER LINE,

BETWEEN

BOSTON and NEW YORK.

THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS

Bristol and Providence,

Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!

Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.

No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—

ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,

Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—

NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,

But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.

Grand Promenade Concert on each Steamer every evening during the summer.

New and Elegant Drawing-Room Cars on Steamboat Express Train.

BROOKLYN ANNEX STEAMER connects with this Line only, leaving Pier 28, North River, New York, on arrival of steamer from the East. Passengers and baggage for Brooklyn transferred free.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of clean, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3d.

The Acklen-Rosser matter still monopolizes a good share of local attention. It has assumed a new phase about every day since it first startled our gossips and scandal-mongers out of all sense of propriety by the abruptness of its event. Acklen arrived here Friday. The Saturdays papers contained the affidavits of two waiters at Welcker's, who waited on Acklen and his female companion on the night of the alleged assault, denying that Acklen was guilty of any impropriety toward her while at that establishment; a statement jointly signed by three M. C.'s certifying that the lady's brother (also a member of Congress) for her, had acquitted Acklen in their presence of any misconduct towards her; and a statement from Acklen denouncing the story as "an unmitigated and willful lie." He says he only heard it when he arrived in Louisiana from Washington, and at once turned back to trace it to its originator and to characterize it in fitting terms. He said he had been unable to compass the former, but had taken the first opportunity to set to rights the two parties most vitally concerned. He also says that after Rosser's denials, he cannot longer hold him responsible. In what may be regarded as a sanguinous annex, after what he had proved and disproved by his witnesses, he goes to the very verge of self-immolation and chivalric self-sacrifice in an averment that he had made a tender of his heart and hand to the lady, which had been declined. Everything about the sworn statements of the two waiters is most vigorously explicit, even to the exact kind of cheese and wine (both of the most aristocratic brands) ordered, and the comparative length of time Rosser and his female companion occupied their private dining-room. Mr. Acklen's inability to trace the scandal seems to many inexplicable, considering the exactness of details when it was first given publicity. And though the duels first promised are "off," the tidbit was too sweet to be at once relinquished, though Mr. Acklen's witnesses most solemnly affirm it had no foundation in fact, and he voluntarily acknowledged to having "got the mitten."

The preamble and resolution under which the Potter committee was authorized, offered as a pretext for the inquiry that it was alleged that the electoral votes of several States—among them Louisiana and Florida—were tainted with fraud. Mr. Sherman promised to prove it, if allowed the opportunity. Many of the Secretary's political friends didn't hesitate to criticize what appeared to them his exceptional timidity when brought before the committee, to plead to the authorship of a certain letter. But the democrats under-rate the intelligence of the country if they count on its acquiescence in their refusal to subpena the witnesses Mr. Sherman names, on the pretext that he (Sherman) hadn't yet acknowledged or denied writing the letter that guaranteed Anderson and Webber federal offices. The country will more especially condemn their refusal, as Mr. Sherman says he can prove by them all grades of crime on the part of the Louisiana bull-dozers, from downright murders to the number of more than thirty, down to whippings and scourgings by the nocturnal raiders in the two parishes of East and West Feliciana. But this is precisely what the democratic majority of the committee has done, confirming what was generally believed before, that no effort would be spared to suppress all evidence of the democratic murders and other outrages committed by tens of thousands during the last campaign in the south.

The report current here for the past few days that a more vigorous and less lenient policy is to be adopted toward the Rio Grande thieves, seems authentic. It is known that Gen. Ord has been here some days in consultation with the President, Secretaries of War and State, and that the matter occupied the best part of the time of a late Cabinet meeting. It is alleged that since our recognition of the Diaz government raids have increased in frequency and extent, several lives and a large amount of property being sacrificed during the last one. It has just this appearance: Diaz having at last got the validity of his usurpation formally endorsed, would not hesitate to provoke a war as the means of enhancing his home popularity and consolidating his power. It is the almost uniform feeling that it was only the comparative weakness of the Mexican forces encountered by McKenzie that deterred the Mexican general from making an attack, and that the next crossing on a similar errand may precipitate hostilities that have been threatening for many months. There seems no room to doubt that Gen. Ord has been instructed to execute the orders issued months ago, in the fulness of their letter and spirit, on his return. The representative of President Diaz here has been or will be once more notified that we shall forbear with their marauders no longer.

There seems now no way to deal with the hostile Indians but to slay till they cry for quarter, and yield up their arms in token of submission. The horrible possibilities of the other alternative cannot be contemplated without a shudder; so there has come to be a good degree of unanimity as to the present course to be pursued. But the government will make a grave mistake if it construes this spirit of acquiescence into an endorsement of a policy that forced the Indians to break away from their reservations or starve, or of another feature of the same policy which renders it an easy matter for agents to divert Indian appropriations into their own pockets, thus provoking discontent, a feeling of secret enmity and finally of open warfare. The present also seems an occasion peculiarly calculated to impress intelligent people with the incompetency, imbecility or arrant hypocrisy which led a "democratic House" to the virtual repudiation of treaties by refusing the appropriation of a few thousand dollars, to enable it to keep up a little longer the "economy dodge."

Discoveries of several more important omissions by the inebriated committee on enrolled bills have come to light, that will still further complicate those found previously, and add to the embarassment of the general and district governments from this cause. Provision made for one District obligation, amounting to nearly $300,000, seems to have been rendered inoperative by failure somewhere among those charged with the duty to insert the rate of interest—five per cent.—agreed upon. It is a most shameful series of blunders, which Mr. Clerk Adams can't gloss over by going into generalities about the tired-out condition of his clerks. It don't begin to cover the ground; and it is hoped voters this fall will see to it that they are not again disgraced by returning to Congress any member of that committee that forget the respect due their position by getting too drunk to attend to their duties, no matter what their politics may be. KNOX.

Portsmouth Chronicle

MONDAY, JULY 8, 1878.

A "Reformer's" Conscience Quickened.

Eph Holland, the sporting man, democratic "reformer" and leader of repeaters who elected the "Bounding Banning" to Congress from the Cincinnati district of Ohio; who was sentenced to the penitentiary for three years for his crimes, and pardoned out by President Hayes after serving a few months; and who was subsequently sent to the democratic State convention of Ohio as a delegate, but was refused a seat, has had his conscience quickened by the refusal, and makes a full confession of the manner in which the democrats carried Ohio.

He says he knows that Banning was defeated by 500 votes, but "it was my business to see those votes overcome, and I did it and was caught. I never suffered any punishment I was not paid for. I was caught, but the man I engaged to see elected enjoys, just the same, the office that he was never elected to." He does, and Holland might have added that while enjoying it the same man had the sublime impudence to make a speech on the dignity and purity of the ballot. Continuing his confession to a Cincinnati Commercial reporter, Holland adds: "Why, I voted my New-York and Baltimore men that day so many times I was ashamed to turn up with them. We kept going from poll to poll and back again, till it seemed foolish and like boy's play. You think these hired repeaters were 'roughs,' without collars or clean shirts. There is where you are mistaken. They looked like gentlemen, like yourself or myself, neatly dressed and gentlemanly in appearance. At a republican ward poll they would say: 'Give me a republican ticket, please,' and then substitute a democratic ticket for it. You may bet your life a nice, gentlemanly looking fellow, asking for a republican ticket at a republican poll, would not be challenged. At a democratic poll, of course, he was all right anyway." In the face of this confession Banning has the audacity to stand for re-election! If he gets back to Congress, the party will have a chance to put him again at the head of the committee on military affairs, where he can yelp once more for "army reform!"

News and Notes.

Secretary Thompson and the heads of the various bureaus of the Navy Department will start this week in the United States steamer Tallapoosa on a tour of inspection of the various navy yards on the Atlantic coast. The party expect to be absent about a month, and will go as far north as Halifax before returning.

Miss Lida Hutton, while sitting in the porch of her house in Avondale, Ohio, July 4th, suddenly fell dead, as first supposed from apoplexy,—but an examination disclosed the fact that a bullet had entered her breast and passed out of her back, killing her instantly. It is not known where the shot came from.

An old, unused light-keeper's house on Plum Island, at the entrance of Newburyport harbor, was burned by an incendiary Friday evening. Valued at about $500.

The rally of the greenback men in Newburyport on the Fourth of July was small in point of numbers and without enthusiasm. Neither Caleb Cushing nor William D. Northend were present, and the list of Vice-Presidents was made up of those who are greenback men and others who may be. Mr. E. M. Boynton of West Newbury presided, and speeches were made by him and ex-Mayor Jenness of Haverhill, Mass., Gen. Horace Binney Sargent and Gen. Butler.

Dr. J. C. Ayer, the well known proprietor of Ayer's medicines, died at Winchenden, Mass., July 3d, aged sixty years. He had been insane for several years, his estate, estimated at $3,000,000, being managed by trustees.

The Cape Ann Bulletin of July 3d says: "The steamer Leopard has been abandoned by the wreckers, since which, the inhabitants of the Cape have made the most of the fine weather in freeing her of her load of coal. Never before has old Rockport harbor been entered by so many coalers in the same length of time as the past week, not in quantity but in numbers. Every available dory and rowboat are at the business, and the small fishing boats have given up their usual vocation and gone into the coal trade, so much so that our wharves are piled on either hand with heaps of coal, varying from one-half to ten or a dozen tons."

A violent tempest of thunder, lightning and rain visited Norwich, Conn., and vicinity about two o'clock Thursday afternoon, and continued two hours. At Thames Grove, midway between Norwich and New London, St. Mary's Temperance Society, of New London, were holding a picnic party, numbering five hundred. Here the storm raged fearfully, and with fatal effect. Upwards of thirty persons were prostrated by lightning shocks; Mrs. Bridget Maxwell, of New London, was killed; Mrs. Joseph Harris, of the same place, and Mrs. Rodgers, of Montville, Conn., were paralyzed, but will probably recover; and a lad had his shoes torn from his feet. The people were in a terrible state of alarm and excitement.

William McGill, of Port Deposit, Md., on Friday shot James and Thomas Armstrong, and then blew his own brains out. One of the Armstrong brothers will die, but the other may recover. The trouble grew out of the invention by McGill of a new stove, which the Armstrongs patented, afterward refusing McGill any of the benefits from the patent which he claimed.

Dr. Willard, of the Chicago High School, declares that school-room walls, for the sake of pupils' eyes, should be tinted with a pinkish, greenish or blueish tinge, and the blackboards should be green, brownish or drab in color. He adds that it is a mistake to think that the board must be black to make the chalk mark distinct; and that though the relief and comfort to the eye may seem slight, it amounts to a great deal, taking day after day.

New York city has appointed fifty-two physicians to attend the sick in tenement houses during the summer.

More than a year ago an exploration was made across the Isthmus of Darien by an expedition under Lieutenant Wyse of the French navy, with a view to an interoceanic canal. The project originated with a company having its seat in France, and after careful exploration Wyse reported in favor of a line from the point of Gandi on the Atlantic, along the valleys of the Tupisa and Tisti, to the river Tuyra, near where it discharges in the Gulf of San Miguel. Recently he went to Bogota to negotiate with the Columbian government, and news has been received that a contract has been concluded. The canal will be neutral, and free to the commerce of the world. The company is to receive a grant of the land for 600 feet on each side of the canal, and a million acres in any part of the country they choose. The work is to be completed before 1895.

Montreal is preparing for trouble on the 12th inst. The magistrates will ask the government to appoint Sir Selby Smyth, the Commander-in-Chief, Magistrate, and give him full civil and military control of the city then. Application has been made for two batteries of artillery and the Ninety-seventh British regiment stationed at Halifax.

John Stewart, of Steubenville, Ohio, on the 4th deliberately shot to death with a gun a saloon keeper named McCann and the latter's little son, because McCann refused to sell him liquor, he being drunk at the time. Another person was wounded. The drunken ruffian is in jail.

Noyes, the convicted Life Insurance President, got eighteen months in the Jersey State prison.

New Hampshire Items.

The Claremont Manufacturing Co., publishers and proprietors of the New Hampshire Register, have just issued the State Directory and Political Index for 1878. This new work is substantially the same as the Register, but in addition contains Carter's New Senatorial District Map, the organization of the Legislature, appointments to office by the Governor up to the time of the book's going to press, the number of inhabitants in the towns which have taken a special census and reported to the Secretary of the State, the last governor vote, arranged by the new Senatorial Districts, and other valuable matter. The book is well gotten up, is a credit to the publisher, and of great value for reference, and should be in the possession of every editor, politician and business man.

The farm buildings owned by Richard Boyle of Gilford were burned Friday morning. Loss $2500, insurance $1200; incendiary.

The rails on the Peterboro' and Hillsboro' Railroad were connected with Monadnock at six o'clock Friday evening, and a locomotive turned on the turn-table and returned to Hillsboro'. Regular trains will commence running on July 20th.

Frank H. Mower of East Jaffrey committed suicide by drowning himself Thursday morning.

Hon. John G. Sinclair of Bethlehem has failed. His liabilities are probably over $100,000. Congressman Frank Jones it is said holds considerable of Sinclair's paper.

Clarence B. Sargent, in State prison for some time past for complicity in burning the store of McAllister & Johnson, in Sutton, in November, 1876, has been pardoned.

A gang of roughs from Methuen, Mass., beat and nearly killed Constable Taylor at Policy Pond, Salem, on Thursday.

Blindly Groping

For some medicinal alcoholic resuscitant of physical energy which should take the place of the heady and frequently adulterated stimulants of commerce, the medical practitioners of a quarter of a century ago were electrified on first observing the reviving effects upon the system of a tonic then recently introduced, but which has since become the most popular medicine sold on this continent, viz.: Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their astonishment and admiration were increased when experience farther disclosed that this botanic remedy effected results which the mineral drugs of the pharmacopoia often utterly failed to produce,—among others, the permanent restoration of vigor, the removal of digestive, secretive and evacuative irregularities, and the eradication and prevention of periodic fevers. Speedy recognition of the merits of the Bitters by unprejudiced and enlightened physicians naturally followed this revelation of medical facts, which have since received such frequent and positive confirmation.

Why Longer Remain Fat?

Obesity was considered by the ancients as evidence of coarseness. Even yet the slim forms of the Grecian goddesses are regarded as models of female beauty. Corpulence is now held to be a disease, and Allan's Anti-Fat has fully demonstrated it to be curable. The Anti-Fat chemically neutralizes in the stomach all glucose, saccharine, and oleaginous substances, thus preventing the formation of fat. Its use insures a loss of from two to five pounds per week. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, New York. 4jy18

Read what the dealers say:

F. W. Kinsman, Esq.—Dear Sir:—With pleasure we order ten gross Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam—showing conclusively that merit has won the day, and that your Balsam is taking the lead over the many bottles of trash that now flood the market.—From Smith, Doolittle & Smith, Druggists, Boston.

THE CITY.

Capt. Alfred B. Taylor, U. S. A., is at the Rockingham.

A little steamer from South Newmarket, with a party of thirteen excursionists, came down the river to this city on Friday. The steamer is owned by Mr. Geo. E. Fifield of South Newmarket, and is a handy little thing for running about the river with.

Eastern Railroad stock sold at auction in Boston on Saturday at $17; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth at $84; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway at $11. Manchester & Lawrence brought $132; Eastern 3 1-2 bonds $71.75; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway bonds $56. Gold was at 100 1-2.

There was a narrow escape for the building corner of Liberty and Court streets, at about half-past seven o'clock Friday evening. Fire was discovered on the roof near the chimney, and was put out with buckets of water without an alarm being given, after burning a hole several feet across through the roof. It is supposed to have caught from a spark from a neighboring chimney, or from a fire-cracker thrown on the roof by some boy.

On Tuesday, stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, and holders of proxies, will be passed to this city on the regular trains leaving Boston at 8:05 and 8:30 o'clock A. M., and back on the regular trains after the meeting, on exhibition of their certificates, or proxies with stock certificates attached. On that day there will be on sale at the ticket offices in Boston, Lynn, Salem and Portsmouth, Stockholders' Excursion Tickets, at the following rates: Portsmouth to North Conway and return, $2.50; Portsmouth to Wolfeboro' and return, $1.50. These tickets will be sold to holders of stock in the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, on exhibition of their stock certificates to the ticket sellers, and will be good to Wolfeboro' and North Conway on the train leaving Boston at 8:05 A. M., Tuesday, and will be good to return on any train until July 15th, inclusive. Proxies will not be recognized unles accompanied by the corresponding stock certificates.

COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

Elden Eastman and Frank Howard, of Farmington, were on Saturday brought before United States Commissioner W. H. Y. Hackett, charged with passing counterfeit money in Ossipee. They waived examination, and were committed to jail in default of bail in $600 each for their appearance at the Circuit Court of the United States on the 8th of October next.

JOHNSON'S UNIVERSAL CYCLOPÆDIA.

In this Cyclopædia,* as in others, all depends upon the quality of the workmen, and it must not be supposed that condensed, analytical and comprehensive construction requires only the hodcarriers and bricklayers of literature. It requires all the talent and knowledge of the subject for diffusive essays with the additional arts of condensation and constructiveness, which are equally rare and valuable. The list of contributors to Johnson's Cyclopædia contains a great number of the best-known and authoritative names in the country. The Editors-in-Chief are President Barnard of Columbia College and Dr. Arnold Guyot, while the associate editors, who have charge of special departments, include Dr. Woolsey on public law, Dr. Dwight on civil and constitutional law, George P. Marsh on English and foreign literature, Wm. T. Harris on philosophy, Alexander H. Stevens on American history, O. B. Frothingham on art and liberal Christianity, Dr. Philip Schaff on ecclesiastical history, Joseph Henry on meteorology, John G. Barnard on military engineering, Admiral Parker on naval affairs, President Seelye on ethical science, and many others equally distinguished for knowledge of special subjects.

Johnson's New Universal Cyclopædia*: A Scientific and Popular Treasury of Useful Knowledge. Illustrated with Maps, Plans and Engravings. A. Johnson & Son, Publishers, New York City. J. Reid, Jr., Canvasser for Portsmouth. Address P. O. Box 1111.

BUZZELL'S CASE DECIDED.

Through the courtesy of Col. J. Horace Kent our reporter was on Saturday accorded an interview with Joseph B. Buzzell, who passed through this city on his way to State prison at Concord, there to remain to await his execution for being accessory before the fact to the murder of Susan A. Hanson at Brookfield. He was in charge of High Sheriff Demeritt of Carroll county, and his nephew Mr. Daniel Demeritt, to the latter of whom Buzzell was handcuffed.

The case was given to the jury at ten o'clock Friday evening. Three ballots were taken. On the first one the jury stood nine for conviction to three for acquittal; on the second ballot eleven to one; and at two o'clock Saturday morning they announced that they had agreed upon a verdict. The Court came in and Buzzell was sent for; he was found playing cards with his wife, was brought into court, and the verdict was then announced by the foreman, "guilty."

The Court then took a recess until nine o'clock Saturday morning, when sentence was pronounced—that the convicted criminal be confined in the State prison for one year, and then hanged by the neck till he is dead. Buzzell received his sentence without any display of emotion; and from that time up to the moment of his leaving here maintained a good degree of composure, and looked well with the exception of a slight wildness about his eyes, which may have been due to loss of sleep, as he did not sleep any Friday night.

His wife, who had been in constant attendance during the trial, completely broke down after the verdict was pronounced, and gave way to terrible mental suffering; but she remained with her husband until he left Ossipee in custody of the Sheriff. Mrs. Buzzell had no hope of her husband's acquittal while the trial was in progress, though he had. Buzzell, on being questioned at the jail here, stated that all through his trial he had hopes that the jury would not agree, and clung to the belief that he would be acquitted, though told that his expectations would be in vain. He stated that he had no fault to find with his counsel; that they had worked arduously in his behalf, and had his gratitude. On being questioned about "the other side" he was noncommittal, and said, "speak only of my own." He thanked Sheriffs Kent and Demeritt for their attention all through the trial. He further stated to Sheriff Kent that, notwithstanding the latter had been employed by the State in the investigation of this case, he had no fault to find with him.

The unhappy couple have two children, one three years old, the other nine months; the latter has never been seen by the father. Buzzell is forty-one years old, is about five feet ten inches in height, with dark hair, moustache and whiskers, and rather stout; he is intelligent looking, and has the reputation of being as good a farmer as lived in his neighborhood. He remained in jail here two hours, from three o'clock until five; he was considerably agitated at first, thinking that some job was being put up on him. He was placed in a cell with Cochrane, the Peruvian confined to await trial for shooting Shepard; and after being in the cell a short time, and receiving assurance that he would be kindly treated (which he was, by Sheriff Kent and his lady, who did all they could for the comfort of the unhappy man during his brief stay,) he took a Bible from one of the shelves and read it for some time, until a friend called to see him. His demeanor while here was gentlemanly and his manner unassuming; he talked but little, saying nothing unless spoken to, and when he left he bid all present good bye. He remarked that the Portsmouth jail seemed a great deal stronger than the one at Ossipee.

Cook, the principal witness against Buzzell, was required to recognize personally in $1000 for his appearance at the court in Ossipee on the third Tuesday of October. He was confined in the jail here for a long time, and during his imprisonment made good use of his hours in learning to read and write, making good progress in both. He was in this city Saturday afternoon. Judges Foster and Stanley, who presided at the trial, also came to this city, and left on the evening train.

While at the jail, Saturday, Sheriff Kent showed us around the premises, and we do not hesitate to say that the institution is conducted in the best manner. The cells are clean as can be; the prisoners are clean, too, and agree in saying their food is abundant and good, and in speaking in the highest terms of Mr. and Mrs. Kent. The Sheriff of Rockingham county is not only a superior detective officer, but an efficient and careful jailor as well.

The hen-coop of the establishment is a very large one, and contains handsome fowls of many fancy breeds; and the stye holds as fine a pair of hogs as we have seen in this city.

THE VICINITY.

Atkinson Brown, of Kittery, died Wednesday night from the effects of sunstroke. He leaves a wife and child.

Hon. E. H. Rollins entertained a large and distinguished company at a lawn party at his Rollinsford residence on Thursday.

A Rochester man went out to sleep on the piazza on a recent Sunday night. He slept so well in the cool outer air that he did not wake until he heard the girls giggling in the next house, at breakfast time.

The large steam mill of John W. Smart, for sawing lumber, shingles, clapboards, etc., at Newmarket, was set on fire and burned to the ground Thursday night. Loss $6000 to $8000; insured $4000.

A Newington farmer one day last week harvested the bug crop from one acre of potatoes, and secured twenty-seven pounds of the insects—or reptiles, whatever they may be. They're a nuisance, anyway.

Schooner Sharon, Capt. Donnell, arrived at Dover Point from Cape Neddick on Saturday, with wood for Card's brickyard. Schooner Satellite, Capt. Adderton, was loading brick at Dover Point for Boston, Saturday.

The Good Templars of York and Cumberland counties, Me., to the number of 2500, picnicked at Bar Mills on the 4th of July. A resolution was passed condemning any Good Templar who opposed prohibition.

Elden Eastman and Frank Howard, two young fellows of Farmington, have been arrested for passing counterfeit silver money. They had managed to put in circulation a lot of the spurious stuff before they were detected.

A ten-years-old son of Jonas D. Townsend, of Dover, was shot in the face by some person unknown on Friday. Four bird shot flattened on his forehead and were easily extracted; a fifth went in under one eye and cannot be found, but if inflammation does not set in the doctors hope to save the eye.

Mr. Alphonso Lord of Great Falls has bought the Rockdale cottage at York Beach, which was formerly owned by Rochester parties, and his family are summering there. The long-talked-of road through Mrs. Stover's field to the houses at the Bluff is being built by Decatur Bros. of Great Falls.

Naval Affairs.

Mate Hugh Kuhl is detached from this navy yard and ordered to the Speedwell at this station.

The frigate Tennessee, Capt. Jona. Young, arrived at New York on Saturday from China.

Chief Engineer F. A. Wilson is ordered to duty in charge of naval stores at Boston navy yard.

It is rumored in New York that efforts are being made to remove Constructor Webb, who is not satisfactory to the contractors, from the New York navy yard, and have the Constructor of the Boston yard sent to New York. This is just one of the suggestions that Col. Thompson will not be likely to appreciate.

Anchoring a Horse.

They tell a good story of an old mariner who keeps a little hotel down here (writes a correspondent from Coney Island, New York's seaside resort.) His wife was very anxious to have a horse, an animal in which the old gentleman took but little stock, and the old lady finally won her point, and got her horse. The steed was of an erratic and playful disposition, and used, on the least provocation, to tear madly along the beach, and succeeded in spilling the lady out several times. At last the captain, who had never driven the beast, volunteered to break him of his vicious habit; so, getting another old salt to aid him, he procured a kedge anchor with a stout line attached. Fastening the end of the line around the axle, and putting the anchor in the wagon, the fiery untamed was hitched up and the two old gents started for a drive along the shore. Soon the vivacious charger espied something which gave him an excuse to run away, and immediately dashed off with frightful vivacity. The captain dropped the reins and summoned all hands to "let go the anchor." The anchor was let go, and caught firmly in the sand. The unsuspecting quadruped pranced joyously along until he got to the end of the rope, and then he paused—paused so suddenly that the wagon was demolished, and the two old gentlemen shot up into the air like a couple of sky-rockets, coming down in a fearfully dilapidated condition.

—The whoop skirt—Skirt of the Indian country.

—The phonograph is like the small, but precocious brother of a young lady. It will repeat everything said in its presence without any regard for blushes.

Sunstroke.

The following report of the Sanitary Committee of the New York Board of Health, upon sunstroke, has been approved and published by the board:

Sunstroke is caused by excessive heat, and especially if the weather is "muggy." It is more apt to occur on the second, third or fourth day of a heated term than on the first. Loss of sleep, worry, excitement, close sleeping rooms, debility, abuse of stimulants, predispose to it. It is more apt to attack those working in the sun, and especially between the hours of eleven o'clock in the morning and four in the afternoon. On hot days wear thin clothing. Have as cool sleeping rooms as possible. Avoid loss of sleep, and all unnecessary fatigue. If working in-doors and where there is artificial heat—laundries, etc.,—see that the room is well ventilated.

If working in the sun, wear a light hat (not black, as it absorbs heat), straw, etc., and put inside of it on the head a wet cloth or a large green leaf; frequently lift the hat from the head and see that the cloth is wet. Do not check perspiration, but drink what water you need to keep it up, as perspiration prevents the body from being overheated. Have, whenever possible, an additional shade, as a thin umbrella, when walking, a canvas or broad cover when working in the sun. When much fatigued do not go to work but be excused from work, especially after eleven o'clock in the morning on very hot days, if the work is in the sun. If a feeling of fatigue, dizziness, headache, or exhaustion occurs, cease work, immediately, lie down in a shady and cool place; apply cold cloths to and pour cold water over head and neck. If any one is overcome by the heat, send immediately for the nearest good physician. While waiting for the physician, give the person cool drinks of water or cold black tea, or cold coffee, if able to swallow. If the skin is hot and dry, sponge with, or pour cold water over the body and limbs, and apply to the head pounded ice wrapped in a towel or other cloth. If there is no ice at hand, keep a cold cloth on the head, and pour cold water on it as well as on the body. If the person is pale, very faint, and pulse feeble, let him inhale ammonia for a few seconds, or give him a teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in two tablespoonfuls of water with a little sugar.

—A western minister officiated at the funeral of a former member of his church, and prayed earnestly in behalf of "the bereaved husband and the one to come who shall fill the place made vacant by the death of our deceased sister."

—The head of a Natick family thought it was not proper for his fourteen-year-old girl to have a beau. One of this class called, when the "stern parent" called her in, much to the astonishment of the beau, who remonstrated. She went in; so did the young man. He was thrust into a closet, while the mother applied a strap to the daughter.

—Mrs. Langtry, the reigning London beauty, did a spirited thing the other day. In the midst of an admiring circle she asked her husband to introduce to her a certain well-known gentleman. He did. The gentleman, flattered, smiled and bowed. "I want you," said the beauty, giving him her handkerchief; "I want you to wipe off paint from my face, as I hear you say at the clubs that I am painted."

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing the positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in never before attained by any medicine; Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures and the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in the PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of these affections.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South, but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated. Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Foreboding, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

NEW YORK, July 5th.

The police order forbidding the expression of patriotism by the explosion of fireworks was only partially successful. Nothing short of a radical change in his nature can eradicate from the New York small boy the conviction that the Fourth of July was made expressly for him, and that on that day it is not only his bounden duty, but inalienable right, to make, by the aid of gunpowder, the greatest possible noise. This conviction, assisted by the inherent propensity to do what he is forbidden to do, proved too much for the police, and would have done so had the force been increased to ten thousand, for what can that number of police avail against twenty-five or thirty thousand New York small boys? Scarcely anything. All over the city, at early dawn, the boys began to clandestinely explode firecrackers, torpedoes and other pyrotechnics. At first the police were inclined to, and did, wink at the juvenile offenders, and the winking capacity of New York policemen is immense. Encouraged by such action, the boys rapidly became bolder; finally they threw off all restraint, and then both the trouble and the fun began. The police, feeling compelled to stop such open and noisy infraction of law, endeavored to arrest the boldest of the boys in their respective precincts, but as far as is now known not a single boy was captured. The manner in which the imps eluded arrest was creditable at least to their courage and ingenuity. They threw out pickets to give warning of the approach of the "cops," and when informed of their coming, before retreating two or three ignited packs of fire-crackers were left fizzing and banging on the sidewalk. These the police stopped to stamp out; and, while thus employed, the boys escaped, scattering in all directions—some scaling walls and others climbing trees, from which they opened a fire of torpedoes on their foes. And woe to the policeman who attempted to climb one of the trees; if he tried this, the boys rallied and threw around him such a volley of popping fire-crackers that he was glad to get away on any terms. In many instances, in the upper part of the city, while policemen were stamping out fire-crackers, boys, with the agility and fearlessness of young catamounts, leaped over fences or darted around corners, and actually fastened whole packs of exploding "red coats" to the clothing of their disturbers, and then hooted and yelled like savages at their frantic efforts to free themselves from them.

With the exception of the small boy, the citizens of New York respected the police order relative to fireworks, and that the result is highly gratifying cannot be denied. Against the large number of fires and physical injuries occasioned by the general use of explosives on the Fourth of last July, there can be recorded this year only eleven fires and twenty-three cases of bodily injury, and but few of them serious. The small boy again excepted, the people of New York were unusually quiet on "the day we celebrate." No patriotic, parboiled processions marched over the blistering pavements, and no ten-octave orators metaphorically straddled the soaring eagle and waved the stars and stripes before sweltering audiences; but the usual amount of whiskey straight, mixed drinks and lager was imbibed, and, of course, the usual number of noses and eyes were smashed and blackened. There was, however, but one murder; two drunken men got into a fight, and one stabbed the other to death with a pocket-knife.

Most of those able to do so left the city, and the boats and railroads to the numerous summer resorts were overcrowded. The excursionists to Manhattan Beach and Long Branch alone were over fifteen thousand. Those who visited the latter place were startled by a murder which finished a dispute about a beefsteak. A waiter brought a visitor a steak which, in the purchaser's opinion, was too small. Blows followed angry words, when the waiter seized a large carving knife and literally and coolly carved up his victim in the presence of at least a hundred persons, not one of whom attempted to interfere. It remains to be seen whether a jury of "good and true" men will acquit the murderer on the ground that when he committed the murder he was laboring under an "insane delusion." BEOR.

YORK, ME., July 5th.

It grows no cooler very fast. It seems, however, that a kind Providence, out of pity for the noble animals that generally have to suffer on the Fourth, gave us a good and refreshing, though not very cold, breeze yesterday. The 4th passed off very pleasantly hereabouts. The Antiques and Horribles paraded all the principal streets in the morning, and they (the horribles) were horrible indeed; besides, the streets were horrible dusty, making horrible walking. Ringing of bells, fire crackers and pop beer through the day; in the evening a splendid display of fireworks at the village.

We are glad to record no accidents. The only thing to mar the peace of the day was a fight at the eastern end of Long Sands Beach, or in that vicinity. Whether it was a drunken row or not I have not learned.

This weather is the kind for the haymakers, and the farmers are taking a liberal advantage of it, haying being progressing finely. P.

The Indian War.

Further details from Oregon and Idaho confirm the previous reports of the gravity of the situation. Canyon City, Oregon, is surrounded by hostile savages, and many whites have been killed, there and at other places. There is no longer any question as to the general uprising of the Indians, and it is evident that the army has got hard and bloody work before it. Abe Hewitt has not been heard from for several days, as to the propriety of abolishing the army on his assurance that "it is certain there will be no Indian war this summer."

Gov. Chadwick, of Oregon, telegraphed from Uwatilla on Monday that Sperry's volunteers (fifty men) were cut to pieces, only seven having escaped.

The Congress of Nations.

The following is given by the European papers as an authentic but unofficial summary of the protocols of the congress: The northern boundary of Turkey is to be the line to the Balkan mountains, extending east of the Black Sea at the northern boundary of Kirki, near the mouth of the Indus river, and to the west to the southern edge of Delmatias, excluding Antivari. Russia receives that portion of Bessarabia which was taken from her after the Crimean war, extending from the Pruth to the valley of the Kilia. The new Roumania has the Dobrudsha annexed to it, and Roumania and Montenegro are to be independent States. The latter occupies Antivari as a seaport, and Roumania promises to remove all the disabilities now imposed upon the Jews residing within her borders, and secure to them equal political and legal rights with all the other inhabitants. Austria is to make an arrangement with Turkey for the future annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Meanwhile an adjustment for a joint military occupation of the two provinces is to be effected on such terms as may be agreed upon between the Porte and the Emperor, and Servia is to be an independent State, the Russian army withdrawing north of the Balkans within the next three months. The question of Batoum is to be referred to a commission; the rectification of Greek frontier is to be settled by a conference between Turkish and Grecian commissioners, and the latter are not even to ask for more than the border districts of Epirus and Thessaly. The Danube is to be made a free river, open alike to the ships of all nations.

A special despatch from England to New York, Monday, says England has concluded a defensive treaty for the maintenance and integrity of the Sultan's Asiatic dominions. The Porte has accordingly granted to England the right to occupy the island of Cyprus immediately. This treaty was to be announced to the congress Monday, as it was done independently of the congress, and is an independent contract between England and Turkey alone. The London Telegraph says, "The possession of Cyprus will give England absolute control over the Euphrates valley. A railway having this object in view will be constructed. No further Russian encroachment in this direction will be possible. So far as Asia is concerned, England and Turkey will practically form one power."

News and Notes.

The papers report another revolution impending in Mexico. We should like to see the time when another revolution isn't impending in Mexico.

Immense fires are raging in the Canadian forests, the smoke being so thick on the St. Lawrence river as to seriously impede navigation.

By an explosion in a petroleum refinery at Lyons, France, on Thursday, thirty persons were killed.

Capt. A. H. Bogardus and the London Gun Club are to shoot a match in which the stakes will be 2500 guineas a side.

George S. Appleton, of the well known publishing firm of Appleton & Co., died in New York, Monday, aged fifty-seven years.

The Taunton, Mass., tack works were partially burned on Monday. Loss $75,000.

The company of gentlemen who started from Newburyport to Boston in a "tally-ho" coach recently, and met with a serious accident by the breaking of the rear axle of the vehicle, are to make another trip soon. The veteran driver, Mr. Edmund Knight, of Bradford, will hold the ribbons as before.

Mrs. James Willis, seventy years old, was instantly killed, and Mrs. William Willis severely injured, at West Newbury, Mass., Sunday, by a horse running away.

William McLean, of Lewiston, Me., saw his divorced wife riding out with another man, Saturday night, and attempted to kill her with a pistol shot. The bullet lodged in her corsets.

A recent fire in Maudalay, India, destroyed 4500 houses and many lives.

Prof. Lewis Swift, of Rochester, N. Y., on Sunday morning discovered a comet in the constellation of Hercules. Its right ascension is about 17 hours, 40 minutes; declination north 18 degrees. It is large but faint, and is moving very slowly to the southwest.

The priest of the Polish Catholic church at Pottsville, Pa., found himself barricaded out of the church on Sunday, and was beaten and abused by his parishioners when he tried to force an entrance. Only the arrival of the police prevented his being murdered.

The gates of one of the Erie basin dry docks gave way Saturday, and great damage was done. The dock is 440 feet long and forty feet deep, built of stone. About thirty men were at work in the bottom of the dock when the engineer in charge noticed water bubbling under the gates, and immediately ordered all hands out of the dock. A few minutes later the gates gave way and the water rushed in, carrying with it 70,000 feet of lumber. No lives were lost.

Trouble seems to be inevitable at Montreal on Friday next. The Orangemen have determined to walk in procession on that day, and the order of the Mayor, who is a Catholic, forbidding it, is looked upon as an illegal and exasperating decree, which will not be regarded.

William Sutcliffe, who a few weeks ago defeated Frank Printz at New Orleans in a twenty-four mile swim, was drowned in the Mississippi river, Sunday.

A fashionably-dressed man went into Hunt & Roskell's large jewelry store in Bond street, London, selected articles worth $4000, and tendered a thousand pound note in payment. Mr. Roskell ascertained that the note was a forgery. Just as he was about to summon assistance, a cab was drawn up and two men in police uniform hurriedly entered, saying that the man was an old offender of whom they were in search. Directing the porter to place the jewelry in the cab and to come along with them as a witness the men in uniform said that they would inform the firm when their attendance would be required to press the charge. Then they drove off with their prisoner, leaving the jewelers loud in their praises of the proficiency of the police. Next day, however, their porter, brutally beaten, returned with the information that the two supposed police officers were thieves in disguise.

The first discovery of fossil shells upon Cape Cod has been recently made by Warren Upham, assistant in the geological survey of New Hampshire. They occur at three localities in the cliffs which form the east or back side of the Cape, all in Truro. They show that when the sand and gravel in which they occur were deposited the sea stood certainly 100 feet higher than now. All of them are such as are now found lying in the sea.

New Hampshire Items.

Buzzell will hang July 10th, 1879.

The farm buildings of Morrill B. Doe, at the Weirs, were burned Friday night.

The buildings of Fernando Bailey, at Nashua, were burned Saturday morning, by an incendiary fire kindled in the barn. Loss $5000; insurance $2000.

The Manchester School Board has voted not to reduce the salaries of the teachers.

The Farmington Savings Bank corporation has voted that hereafter dividends be computed at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

Extensive preparations are being made for the Unitarian State grove meeting, which opens at the Weirs on Monday, July 15.

Hutchinson Brothers of Manchester have launched a beautiful steamboat on the Merrimac, which is to make trips between Manchester and Hooksett. It has been named Natt Head, after the popular General, will carry from twenty-five to thirty persons, and make the trip in one hour.

Political.

A democratic meeting in Augusta, Ga., has endorsed Alexander H. Stephens' course in Congress, and delegates were appointed to support him for renomination. Four counties have passed resolutions endorsing and supporting Mr. Stephens for re-election.

The Arkansas democracy declare against the law which permits federal officers indicted or sued in State courts for acts committed in the discharge of their duty from carrying the cases to the federal courts. A democrat by the name of Andrew Jackson recommended the passage of that law, but that sort of democrats have no standing in the present so-called democratic party.

Silver Mining at Newburyport.

Several years since it will be remembered our neighbors the Newburyporters were in a frenzy of speculative excitement over the discovery of the precious metals in their vicinity. Fabulous stories of the wealth of the ore deposits were circulated, and the promise was that right at home were bonanzas to rival those of auriferous Nevada. Time has modified these extravagant estimates, but has demonstrated that gold and silver in tolerable paying quantities do exist amidst the eastern Massachusetts rocks. An interesting survey of the mining operations in that district thus far is contained in a recent number of the Scientific American. The metal-bearing veins extend over an area of about ten square miles, and there is hardly a farmer in all that territory but has dug up fine specimens of ore upon his lands, thereby enhancing them in his eyes to a value far beyond their agricultural worth. The trouble is that capital has not felt sufficient confidence to set up the costly machinery necessary to thoroughly test the capacity of the ore deposits, and mining has been restricted to little more than surface prospecting. It is argued, however, that a mill with a capacity of reducing 200 tons of ore a day, the amount estimated to be taken from the principal shafts, would pay well.

As it is, the various owners simply pile their ore in heaps, and spend all the money they can raise in ridding their mines of water. The Merrimac mine is the one which has been thus far the most extensively worked and shows the largest yield. During the past five years it has paid 12 dividends amounting to about $80,000. Its shaft is 200 feet deep, and a streak of galena is now being mined, which yields $70 to the ton. One eighteen pocket of gray copper struck in this mine was sold at over $2,000 a ton in Liverpool.

The China mine, opened last fall, has a shaft 90 feet deep, from which 300 tons of ore have been taken, worth $200 a ton, besides gray copper assaying $1,000 a ton. The Noyes property yields auriferous pyrites carrying gold worth over $20 a ton, besides a rich showing of silver and copper in the galena. The Newhall mine affords ore assaying $26 per ton, while specimens of galena picked up at random from many scattered heaps over the whole territory yield an average of about $28 a ton in gold and silver. There can be no reasonable doubt, according to the Scientific American, as to the reality of the large metal-bearing deposits said to exists, but there seems to be a lack of the exact knowledge of their value which is necessary to inspire capital with confidence, and more extended surveys and investigations by mining experts would seem desirable.

Glimpses of Lincoln.

So much has been written about Lincoln's private life and personal habits, that it seems unnecessary now to add more than a word. He was simple in all his tastes; liked old songs and old poetry. He was always neatly, but not finically dressed. He disliked gloves, and once I saw him extract seven or eight pairs of gloves from an overcoat pocket, where they had accumulated after having been furnished him by Mrs. Lincoln. Usually he drank tea and coffee at the table, but preferred milk or cold water. Wine was never on the table at the White House, except when visitors, other than familiar friends, were present. The President's glass was always filled, and he usually touched it to his lips. Sometimes he drank a few swallows, but never a whole glass, probably. He was cordial and affable, and his simple hearted manners made a strong impression upon those who met him for the first time. I have known impressionable women, touched by his sad face and gentle bearing, to go away in tears. Once I found him sitting in his chair so collapsed and weary that he did not look up or speak when I addressed him. He put out his hand, mechanically, as if to shake hands, when I told him I had come at his bidding. It was several minutes before he roused enough to say that he "had a mighty hard day."

Once, too, at a reception in the White House, I joined the long "queue" of people, shook hands with him, received the usual "Glad to see you, sir," and passed on. Later in the evening, meeting me, he declared that he had not seen me before, and explained his preoccupation of manner while the people were shaking hands with him by saying that he was "thinking of a man down South." It afterward came out that "the man down South" was Sherman. Once, when a visitor used profane language in his presence, he rose and said, "I thought Senator C— had sent me a gentleman. I was mistaken. There is the door, and I wish you good night." At another time a delegation from a distant State waited on him with a written protest against certain appointments. The paper contained some reflections upon the character of Senator Baker, Lincoln's old and beloved friend. With great dignity, the President asked, "This is my paper which you have given me?" Assured that it was, he added, "To do do with as I please?" "Certainly, Mr. President." Lincoln then stooped to the fireplace behind him, laid it on the burning coals, turned, and said, "Good-day, gentlemen." — Scribner's Monthly.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

Mr. Henry Drake, fireman on the Eastern Railroad, has taken up his abode in this city, at Wendell's block on Market street.

Eastern Railroad stock sold in Boston at $14.87 1-2 a share on Monday—quite a drop from the $17 a share it sold at on Saturday.

The schooner Annie M. Nash arrived at Doane's wharf on Sunday, after a five weeks trip, and reports twenty-six barrels of mackerel.

Mrs. Jane L. Patterson of Boston Highlands is to preach at the Universalist church next Sunday on exchange with Rev. E. M. Grant.

Over sixty boating parties were down the river on Sunday; some of the parties were very large ones, numbering twenty or thirty persons each.

The Times says: "It is reported that Mrs. S. W. Clarke has bought the house No. 30 Deer street, formerly owned and occupied by Mr. John S. Harvey."

Coal freights from Baltimore to this port are reported at $1.45 per ton. Ice from the Kennebec to Philadelphia and Baltimore at seventy cents per ton.

The bills introduced into the Legislature to change the time of the annual city election from August to November, and to abolish the Common Council and increase the number of Aldermen, have been referred to the Portsmouth delegation in the House.

The steamer Little May, which used to run between this city and the Marshall House, York harbor, has been bought by Capt. Albert Rand and Mr. John Locke, and fitted up in good style. She made a trial trip on Sunday with a small party to the Shoals, taking one hour and forty minutes on the passage, which is considered good time for so small a steamer.

Some thief got into the window of William DeCourcey's tailor shop on Congress street, Sunday night, and stole a pair of doeskin pants. The office of Miller's Weekly was also burglarized, through the skylight, some time between Saturday evening and Monday morning, but the thief didn't get much; he wasn't a professional, or he would not have tried his hand on a newspaper office, anyway.

The annual picnic of the Baptist society and congregation takes place at Stratham Hill to-day, carriages leaving the chapel at half-past eight o'clock. The annual picnic of St. John's church Sunday school will take place in the latter part of August, at Kittery Point. The Universalist society is arranging for a picnic next week at Pinkham's grove. Harlow's orchestra is to furnish the music, and there will be dancing, music, games, etc.

Among those who acquitted themselves with great credit and received favorable mention from the Board of Visitors at the West Point Military Academy in June, was Cadet Theodore F. Bingham of the third class, son of Rev. J. F. Bingham, D. D., formerly Rector of St. John's church in this city, and now of Waterbury, Conn. Cadet Bingham received an appointment at large from President Grant in 1875, at which time he resided in this city; he will graduate in June, 1879.

We are informed that one night last week some worthless scoundrel or scoundrels ruined the head-stone over the grave of the late John Stokell, in the south cemetery, breaking it in two pieces and throwing one piece into the street. We regret to be obliged to add that there is no clue to the perpetrators of this cowardly and contemptible outrage, for it would be a good thing if they could be compelled to exercise their stone-breaking propensities in the State prison for a year or two.

The "national greenback party" of the United States seems to be meting away everywhere except in New Hampshire. In New York city, Saturday evening, there was a grand mass meeting of the party at which eighty persons were present; these were divided into eighty factions, and wrangled vigorously, one excited member "punching the head' of one of the secretaries of the meeting. The Newburyport mass meeting was a fizzle both in numbers and enthusiasm, not even Ben Butler being able to draw a crowd. A loudly heralded meeting in Kennebunk, Me., last week, at which Messrs. Buffum and Clark, two leading greenbackers of Lynn, Mass., were the speakers, had an audience of fourteen persons at the finish. The greenback movement in this State, under the able management of its engineers in this city, is reported to be going ahead all right.

Among the passengers in the steamer Batavia, sailing from Boston on Saturday, were Geo. B. Chase, Esq., and Lemuel Shaw, Esq. The latter was one of the losing parties in the suits recently decided in favor of the Eastern Railroad relative to the liability to pay interest on the Conway bonds, and he is so much disgusted with the law laid down by the court of Massachusetts over which his father once presided that he takes a run across the ocean to get a sniff of the pure common law of England.

Hon. Frank Jones has received notice from the War Department of a vacancy again existing at the Military Academy at West Point, from this Congressional District. Mr. Jones has already made two appointments to the Academy, but both the candidates have failed to pass the rigid examinations.

The Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad pays its semi-annual dividend of three per cent. on the 15th inst.

The Portsmouth and Dover Railroad is paying a semi-annual dividend of three per cent.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, July 8; Batchelder, J.

Frank Greenough, charged with assault with intent to kill on Frank E. Foster, on the morning of the 4th inst., appeared on a continuance of the case from last week. Foster was still unable to appear, and the case was further continued to July 17th, Greenough's bonds being placed at $800, as before.

Benjamin Shepard, the colored man for shooting whom one Cochran is now in jail here awaiting trial, was arraigned for drunkenness. He acknowledged the corn, signed the pledge and promised never to get drunk any more, and was let off on probation.

Badger Hauscom, who recently finished a term in jail, to which he was sentenced at the last sitting of the Supreme Court in this city for stealing from a freight car at Greenland, was adjudged guilty of having been drunk, and ordered to pay $9.90 or go to Brentwood.

James McDonald was arraigned for drunkenness, and the offence was proved against him. He pleaded hard to be let off, claiming that he is a public benefactor, inasmuch as he cures people of impediments in their speech. [He had a very bad impediment to the clearness of his own speech while in court in the shape of a huge mass of tobacco with which his mouth was crammed.] He pleaded, also, as evidence of his respectability, that he was well known to many prominent citizens of Portsmouth; and in answer to a query from the Court as to the names of his high-toned acquaintances, mentioned the keepers of two notorious drinking places. He was informed right away that it was a case of $9.90 or Brentwood.

THE VICINITY.

Steamer Cambridge, with eight hundred passengers, made a trip from Boston around the Shoals on Sunday.

Mr. John E. Lawry, of Kittery point, formerly watchman on the navy yard, received severe injuries from a sun-stroke on Monday, while working in a hay-field.

Seven members of the Biddeford Kansas colony start for Kansas this week. This will make twenty persons that have left that city for Kansas within two weeks.

The house, barn, contents and all the live stock except one horse, belonging to John O'Rourke, on the Ferry road in Saco, were destroyed by fire Sunday noon. Loss about $1500; insured $1100.

A sawmill in York, belonging to Andrew Todd and John Goodwin, was burned at about eleven o'clock Saturday night. Loss $1000, with no insurance. The fire was undoubtedly caused by an incendiary, a benzine can never seen about the mill being found in the ruins.

A large tenement house near Salmon Falls, owned by Nathaniel Came and occupied by Robert Graffam and wife, was struck by lightning Wednesday afternoon, July 3d. Mrs. Graffam, who was alone with her little girl in the house, was struck down insensible, and quite seriously, though it is hoped not fatally injured. When the house was struck Mrs. Graffam stood at her kneading board, which was smashed into kindling wood.

—The Tribune thinks the Potter investigation ought to go into the hands of a receiver. The lie-abilities that have been shone are enormous.

—During a time of great political excitement, Dr. Cheever called on an old deacon for prayer. The deacon said, "Well, pastor, I will, if you insist on it, but, really I'm too mad to pray now."

—Charles Gregory, of Seneca, has been severely injured by a boar. And he was not an editor either.

—A small boy, a tin can and a strange dog; these be trifling things, but the union thereof is much trouble.

—It may be said in all seriousness that Jonah had more occasion and a better place to blubber than any other man who ever lived.

—"What is faith?" asked a Sunday school teacher of a boy scholar. He belonged to a base-ball nine, and replied, "Betting on a left-handed pitcher."

—The graduation exercises at a school in Brooklyn, a suburb of Cleveland, O., were varied by the marriage of the school Superintendent to one of the sweet girl graduates.

Why Longer Remain Fat?

Obesity was considered by the ancients as evidence of coarseness. Even yet the slim forms of the Grecian goddesses are regarded as models of female beauty. Corpulence is now held to be a disease, and Allan's Anti-Fat has fully demonstrated it to be curable. The Anti-Fat chemically neutralizes in the stomach all glucose, saccharine, and oleaginous substances, thus preventing the formation of fat. Its use insures a loss of from two to five pounds per week. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, New York. 4jy18

Read what the dealers say:

F. W. Kinsman, Esq.—Dear Sir:—With pleasure we order ten gross Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam—showing conclusively that merit has won the day, and that your Balsam is taking the lead over the many bottles of trash that now flood the market.—From Smith, Doolittle & Smith, Druggists, Boston.

A lady in Westchester county, N. Y., made $1,200 lately by an investment of $103.25. Alex. Frothingham & Co., 12 Wall street, New York, were her brokers. Send for their Financial Report. You may be equally as fortunate. 5

One of the pleasantest recollections of the Centennial trip to Philadelphia thousands of people will connect with their pleasant quarters and agreeable treatment at the Colonnade Hotel.

Beautiful Helen no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more than doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Sold by all Druggists. HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. 4jy21

TRIUMPH OF A GREAT DISCOVERY!

The public has rebelled against enchancing Hair Dyes. Fashion has foreworn them. A sagacious community has adopted in their stead, and for these reasons: It embrowns and blackens the hair, not the skin. It is a vegetable emollient, not a burning fluid. It does not burlesque nature with blooming metallic tinges, but produces her own living hues. Its cooling effect is lasting. It defies detection. Its results are uniform. It never fails. Manufactured by J. CRISTADORO, No. 63 William St., New York. Sold by all Druggists. Applied by all Hair Dressers. Ujy15

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE,

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

A Costly Bug Bane.

A lady in Port Jervis, whose house was overrun with water-bugs, cockroaches and bed-bugs, and who had tried all known remedies to rid the premises of them, took the advice of a book agent as follows: She procured a pound of brimstone, placed in an iron pot in the cellar, closed all the outer doors and windows, fired the brimstone and started on a week's visit to her friends. When she returned there was not a bug in the house, but there was such an overpowering odor of brimstone that it was upward of a week before the rooms were fit to live in. The fumes had penetrated every nook and corner, even to the bureau drawers and wardrobe. The valuable plants in the conservatory were dead, and the foliage bleached as white as snow; the delicate curtains and upholstery were bleached and ruined. It was an expensive way to kill bugs, but it seems to have been effectual, and the life of the book agent who gave the receipt is safest out of that lady's reach.—Utica Herald.

Why Doubt.

A steamship company, knowing that success begets confidence, may advertise that they have never lost a passenger or met with serious delay, and no one questions the statement. But if a physician, after many years of investigation, announces the discovery of a remedy that positively cures certain forms of disease, and backs up his statements by indisputable evidence, his word is doubted, and his motives questioned. Is not such prejudice unreasonable? There are those afflicted with coughs, colds, consumption, liver complaint, or some affection of the blood, that still refuse to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, notwithstanding they have witnessed its efficacy in others similarly affected. They "have no confidence in advertised medicines." Does the guide board at the corners of a country road, which advertises the way to go, shake your confidence, and create distrust in the route? Do you refuse to patronize railroads that advertise their time tables? Then why doubt the truths published concerning Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines? If debilitated females fail to receive the relief promised after using his Favorite Prescription, the money will be refunded. Full particulars given in the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a work of over 900 pages, price $1.50. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

—It is encouraging to those who are ambitious to go to Florida to get rich by orange-culture, to read that a man in Pensacola, Fla., has an orange tree thirty-four years old, which has bloomed the present season for the first time.

—The young women are to have another college at Bryn Mawr, not far from Philadelphia on the Pennsylvania road. A wealthy New Jersey Quaker has purchased thirty-two acres there, and it is proposed to erect extensive buildings and have the standard of the college as far advanced as it is at Princeton. Though it will be under the control of the society of Orthodox Friends, there will be no sectarian restriction to the admission of students.

—The British Parliament has passed an act providing that, whenever a husband is convicted of an aggravated assault upon his wife, the magistrate who hears the case may, if he is satisfied that the future safety of the wife is in peril, order that she shall no longer be bound to cohabit with her husband, "and such order shall have the force and effect of a decree of judicial separation on the ground of cruelty." The order may provide also for a weekly payment from the husband to the wife and for the custody of the children.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALT. EXT. OR

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are alone directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in Harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The experience of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, coated tongue, loss of appetite, bad breath, hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," some part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AT $1 PER BOTTLE.

$777 is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $66 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. Reader, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. Address at once. GUY & CO., Portland, Maine.

BLOOD PURIFIER

IS the most wonderful discovery for the radical cure of SYPHILIS and SCROFULA. It never fails to entirely eradicate either of these diseases and all Blood Poison from the system. It has been in private practice eighteen years, and over 10,000 cures effected by it are on record.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be cited:

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed, a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South-west, without change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general massaging, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the systemic vessels, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Tracheal, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated there, and the results which have been attained in this department, are highly gratifying to both physician and patients.

EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. If we are accessible in carriages, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

DE 'SPERIENCE OF DE REB'REND QUACKO STRONG.

Swing dat gate wide, 'rostle Peter,
Ring de big bell, beat de gong,
Saints and martyrs den will meet dar
Brudder, Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Sound dat bugle! Angel Gabrel!
Tell de elders loud an' long,
Clar out dem high seats ob heaben,
Here comes Reb'rend Quacko Strong!

Turn de guard out, Gin'ral Michael,
Arms present de line along,
Let de band play "Conk'rin Here"
For de Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Den bid Moses bring de crown, an'
Palms, an' weddin' gown along!
Wid percession to de landin',
Here's de Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Joseph, march down wid your bred'ren,
Tribes an' banners musterin' strong,
Speech ob welcome from ole Abram Answer, Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Tune your harp-strings light, King David,
Sing your good Ole Hundred song,
Let de seraphs dance wid cymbals
'Round de Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Angels hear me yell Hosanner,
Hear my dulcem spiritool song;
Hallelujer! I'm a-comin',
I'm de Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Make that white robe rather spacious,
And the waist belt 'stroda'ry long,
'Cause 'twill take some room in glory
For de Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

What! No one at de landin'!
'Pears like suffin 'mudder's wrong;
Guess I'll gib dat sleepy Peter Fits—from Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

What a narrer little gateway!
My! dat gate am hard to move.
"Who am dat?" says Postle Peter
From the parapet above.

Uncle Peter, don't you know me—
Me a shinin' light so long?
Why, de berry niggers call me
Good ole Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Dun'no me—de shoutin' preacher,
Reg'lar hull hog Wesleyan, too;
Whar' in the woods you've been a loafin'?
Some old rooster's bodder'd you.

I reckon. Why! I've convarted
Hundreds o' darkies in a song.
Dun'no me! nor yet my massa?
I'm de Reb'rend Quacko Strong.

Hark to that ar cur'us roarin',
Far away but rollin' nigher;
See de dreffe dragon flyin',
Head like night and mouf ob fire!

Tis de berry king ob debbils,
An' he am rushin' right along,
Oh! dear Peter, please to open
To Class-leader Quacko Strong.

Ole Nick's comin', I can feel it
Gettin' warmer all about.
Oh! my good, kind Kurnel Peter,
Let me in; I'm all too stout

To go 'long wid Major Satan
Into dat warm climate 'mong
Fire and brimstone. Hear me knockin',
Ole church member, Quacko Strong.

Dat loud noise am comin' nearer,
Dreffe smell like powder smoke;
'Nudder screech! Good heaben help me—
Lord, forgib dis poor ole moke.

Allers was so berry holy,
Singin' and prayin' extra long;
Now the debble's gwice to catch me,
Poor ole nigger, Quacko Strong.

Hi! dat gate swing back a little,
Mighty squeezin' dat froo!
Ole Apollyon howlin' louder,
Everything around am blue.

Bang de gate goes! an' Belzebub,
Bunch ob wool upon his prong,
Goes along wideout de soul ob
Misabul sinner name ob Strong.

Unitarian Grove Meeting.

The plan of the grove meeting of the State Unitarian Association to be held at Weirs Landing, Lake Winnepiseogee, during the entire week beginning with Monday, the 15th of July, is to hold two preaching services each day,—one at two o'clock and one at 6:30 o'clock P. M., and on Thursday and Sunday a morning service. Many ministers and members of liberal congregations throughout the country have already signified their intention to be present at these meetings, and sermons may be expected from, among others, E. E. Hale, S. R. Calthorp, A. D. Mayo, C. G. Ames, J. L. Jones, M. J. Savage, R. R. Shippen and C. W. Wendte.

The best of accomodations, and at the cheapest rates, will be furnished to all who may come to these meetings, (whether nominally Unitarians or not,) in the hotel and cottages on the grounds at Weirs and in many hotels of the immediate vicinity. Board, including everything, will range from one to two dollars a day, and from five to twelve dollars by the week. Address Mr. L. R. Weeks, proprietor of the hotel at Weirs, who will make all arrangements.

Mr. H. Powers, on behalf of the committee of arrangements says: "Surely no pleasanter or cheaper way could be found of spending a week during the summer time than by attending this gathering on the shores of Lake Winnepiseogee. If the services are not appreciated then the other attractions of the occasion ought to be sufficient inducement for the coming together of a large assemblage. The preaching will be the most enjoyed by the crowds of people from the vicinity who have never had any opportunity to listen to a liberal sermon, and it was for their advantage, mainly, that this series of meetings was originally projected."

Portsmouth Chronicle

WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 1878.

The Indian War.

The Indian Bureau officials at Washington received information on Tuesday which leads them to think that the Indian hostilities will be more severe and more protracted than they had anticipated.

It is stated that Gen. Sheridan will start for the Black Hills in a few days, to personally direct the campaign against the Indians.

Steamer Northwest left Wallula, Oregon, Monday afternoon. She will be used as a patrol boat between that place and Umatilla. She is in command of Captain Wilkinson, who has twenty men hired and twelve soldiers well armed. There is a Gatling gun aboard, and he will receive two howitzers from Vancouver's. Capt. Wilkinson feels confident that he will catch the Indians crossing the river between Wallula and Umatilla.

Naval Affairs.

Ensign William Winder, of this city, is attached to the U. S. S. Constellation, which ship arrived at New York on Sunday. The Constellation came out at Madeira in company with the Tennessee. The vessels hailed at midnight, and both arrived at New York on the same day.

The naval cadets will join the Constellation at New York for the summer cruise.

Advices from Annapolis, Md., of July 7th, report as follows: "The order of June 22d, directing Captain George P. Houston of the Marine Corps to take command of the Marine Barracks at Portsmouth, N. H., is revoked."

Costs of Court.

The Legislative correspondent of the Manchester Mirror thus informs us in relation to the discoveries of the greatly growing burthens of the costs of court:

An examination of the several county reports will show that the rapid increase in county expenses, which are fast becoming a burden too grievous to be borne, is due quite as much to our courts as to the paupers to whom it has generally been charged; and that our system of contracting and paying court expenses needs remodeling quite as much as the existing plan of taking care of the poor. In all the counties court expenses are assuming startling proportions. In the little county of Strafford they increased about $10,000 last year, and in other counties nearly as much. A part of this increase is due to the multiplication of criminal cases and is unavoidable; but more of it may be charged to the introduction of new plans for plundering which have been authorized by statute or made respectable by "rules of court." For instance, take the referee law, an offspring of the double-headed court which the democrats gave us in 1874. Under the law which provides for the trial of cases by one or more referees instead of a jury, if the report is accepted as final, the referees' fees are paid by the county. At the time the scheme was born we were told that it would reduce the expenses of the courts, because it would cost less to try a case before one man or three than before twelve, but every lawyer knows that exactly the reverse is the case. Under the old jury law not one case in ten entered in court was tried; but now when two lawyers get hold of a fight involving ten cents they have a third appointed referee; the parties meet at their convenience, when the attorneys have nothing else to do, tell their stories, spend two or three days very pleasantly, agree, perhaps, on a compromise report, and, at the next term comes the well-worn order, "costs to be paid by the county." One of the worst features about this business is that it is farmed out among a little ring of court officials and favorites. The books of any county treasurer will show that a few men monopolize the referees' fees. I can point out one clerk of the court who is paid handsomely in other ways for all his time, so handsomely that he has got rich from his clerkship, and who still found time enough, and enough favor with the court, to sit as a referee in more than a hundred cases last year, pocketing therefor nearly $2000. It is nearly as bad with some of our judges. They tell us they are worked to death, and need two or three assistants; but they manage to find leisure in which to earn twenty dollars a day for a good many days during the year.

Another very bad specimen of "salary and pickings" is found at the asylum for the insane. Dr. Bancroft, the superintendent of that institution, receives from the State a yearly salary of $3000,—which certainly ought to pay him for most of the time in twelve months of ordinary length, especially, as he pieces it out by an extensive private practice; but it does not prevent him from charging any county in which he is summoned to testify as an expert, fifty dollars per day. Again, it is well known that there is, among certain classes of officials, a system of duplicating witness fees, which enables them to draw from two to ten fees per day for every day they are in attendance upon court.

Our court expenses are, practically, wholly within the control of the judges: whatever bills they approve are paid, and it is certain that some of them approve every thing which they are asked to without any examination whatever. Said a prominent lawyer to me yesterday, "I have seen a judge approve a pile of bills eight inches thick as fast as he could write his name on them." Then when the clerk and treasurer make their reports, in some counties at least, the receipts and expenses are bunched in such a way that no one is any the wiser. The only information these reports contain is the fact that the county is ten or twelve thousand dollars more in debt than it was a year before. Some of these evils might be partially cured by the passage of several bills now under consideration. One of these makes the county commissioners auditors of all the county expenses; another requires the clerks of courts to publish itemized reports showing what has become of the money expended; and a third prohibits the superintendent of the insane asylum from taking more than his expenses when summoned to testify for the State.

We think the judges ought to be more particular in the appointment of referees. As it is, the lawyers are generally requested to "nominate" the referee in their cases. Some lawyers have a standing referee. Like John F. Hale's justice of the peace, they pull well together. The result is, the losing party wants a jury trial after a reference, if he can manage in any way to obtain it. The judges have been reminded often enough that it is not the correct thing to appoint each other referees, and to enlarge their salaries by this process. But they are human, and office-holders. Some of them however, to their credit, admit the impropriety of this course and decline to act as referee in any case. In olden times, the presiding Judge had the assistance of the County Judge in the matter of approving bills; but now they come thick and fast, at the busy closing hours of a term. The Judge is in haste to reach a train to take him home, and bills are placed before him, for the examination of which he has no time. This is all done in a loose way. The idea of making County Commissioners, who spend the money, County Auditors, is certainly bright. This could be improved by adding the Sheriff, Clerk of Court, Solicitor and Treasurer, and perhaps the janitor, as a Board of Examination of each other's vouchers!

News and Notes.

At the annual meeting of the Quadruplex Gold and Silver Mining and Tunnel Co., of New York, recently, William Hinds was chosen President; P. Doyle, Vice President; George W. Marston, Secretary; Alfred W. Beasley, Treasurer; William H. Ashton, Superintendent. These compose the Board of Trustees.

New York complains of a scant water supply.

The order directing Lieutenant Green to return home has been revoked at the request of Secretary Sherman, and he is ordered to remain with the Russian forces around Constantinople, as military attache of the American legation to Russia.

The July-August number of the North American Review contains the following articles: "The Failure of Universal Suffrage," by Francis Parkman: "International Obligations of the United States," by William Beach Lawrence, LL. D.; "An Advertisement for a New Religion," by a Positivist; "A Senator's Fidelity Vindicated," by Edward L. Pierce, the biographer of Charles Sumner; "The Position of the Jews in America," by Rabbi Gustav Gotheil; "The Outlook," by Wendell Phillips; "Debtor and Creditor," by R. P. Bland, M. C., and Henry V. Poor; "The Native." For sale by booksellers and newsdealers generally.

In connection with a rumor that efforts were being made to secure the pardon of Lucius W. Pond, the Worcester forger, the Gazette of that city states that the effort could scarcely be called an attempt, as it was only a suggestion made by and among the friends of Mr. Pond that it was about time to begin measures to secure a pardon for him. When this suggestion became known to Pond he at once discouraged it, on the grounds that it was too soon to move for a pardon, if that time should present itself before the expiration of his sentence. It is said that he feels his guilt and thinks that he has not served out as much time as he should in order to satisfy the public.

Political.

Admirals Porter and Rogers have filed charges with the President against Ernest Deichman, recently appointed Minister to Columbia through the efforts of Hewitt of New York. It appears that Deichman was forced to resign from the navy for bad conduct and disreputable character, and has since been an office broker in Washington.

Fessler, the last absconding county treasurer of Ohio, has returned from Canada with twenty thousand dollars, and is now in jail. The balance of his stealings is $40,000. He was from Stark county, and his money packages had upon them the county seal. Stealing by democratic treasurers of counties has been quite common of late in Ohio, no less than nineteen out of forty-three having proved defaulters within nine years past, but it seems this one has come back to vote the reform ticket in the fall. During the past nine years the republicans have had over sixty county treasurers in Ohio, three of whom have defaulted.

Ex-Secretary Chandler is reported to be in Washington organizing the campaign in Michigan to elect himself to the United States Senate as an anti-Hayes candidate. It is stated also that the Potter committee will summon him to testify relative to what he knows about buying up members of the returning board.

A Raleigh letter to the New York Times says that the new election law of North Carolina is one of unexampled meanness, for after compelling the negroes to comply with several qualifications in order to be registered, the judges of elections can deny suffrage to any one whom they may deem is unqualified to vote.

Senator Withers, of Virginia, considers Thurman the favorite for the next democratic nomination in his State, and thinks Grant will be the republican candidate.

It is stated that Mr. Hunton, a member of the Potter Committee, was defeated at the democratic Congressional convention at Alexandria, Va., Saturday, for re-nomination, on the ground that he was too anxious to serve on the investigating and other committees and neglected the pressing interests of those whom he represented in Congress.

An Indianapolis telegram to the Cincinnati Gazette says: "The Indiana democratic State central committee is reported to have made a very heavy draft upon the pocketbooks of nominees on the State ticket for the purpose of carrying forward the campaign. William Fleming, candidate for State Treasurer, it is said has been assessed $5,000, and others in the same proportion, the whole amount raised from the five candidates aggregating about $15,000."

Blindly Groping

For some medicinal alcoholic resuscitant of physical energy which should take the place of the heady and frequently adulterated stimulants of commerce, the medical practitioners of a quarter of a century ago were electrified on first observing the reviving effects upon the system of a tonic then recently introduced, but which has since become the most popular medicine sold on this continent, viz.: Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their astonishment and admiration were increased when experience farther disclosed that this botanic remedy effected results which the mineral drugs of the pharmacopœia often utterly failed to produce,—among others, the permanent restoration of vigor, the removal of digestive, secretive and evacuative irregularities, and the eradication and prevention of periodic fevers. Speedy recognition of the merits of the Bitters by unprejudiced and enlightened physicians naturally followed this revelation of medical facts, which have since received such frequent and positive confirmation.

The event causing most excitement recently in New Orleans has been the great success attendant upon the purchase of a single ticket in the June drawing of the Louisiana Lottery Company by Mr. W. S. Campbell, a coal dealer of No. 29 Carondelet street (well known there), yielding a return, paid immediately, of $100,000 in cash. Who will be the next? For information address M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. THE CITY.

Eastern Railroad stock sold as low as $11.50 a share in Boston on Tuesday.

Capt. James Lawry, formerly for many years a pilot on the Piscataqua river, died at his residence in this city on Tuesday.

Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, rector of St. John's church, will start on Monday next for St. John, N. B., on a month's visit to the eastward.

Owing to the extremely hot weather all the workmen (excepting the painters) in the construction department at the navy yard were suspended on Tuesday.

A fine coach drawn by four splendid steeds and labelled "York harbor," driven by J. W. Bragdon, has appeared, in addition to the other lines to York.

An examination of applicants to fill the vacancy of Principal of the Jones Grammar School will be held at the High School building in the latter part of July.

Steamer Cambridge, of the Sanford line, is to make an excursion trip to this city from Boston on Sunday, the 21st. The party is to be accompanied by a band of music.

Mr. John S. Whidden having resigned his position as clerk of the Board of Inspectors of Checklists, the board on Tuesday evening elected Mr. Joseph H. Gardiner to fill the vacancy.

Mr. James F. Jenness has declined an offer of ten thousand dollars for his very valuable collection of coins.—A Mr. McKay of Philadelphia, who is sojourning at the Shoals, having offered that sum.—Times.

Col. Albert H. Hoyt, A. M., recently of Boston, where he had charge of the New England Genealogical Magazine, but now engaged in educational pursuits at Cincinnati, is in town spending a part of his summer vacation.

Mr. Wm. H. Canty, for several years in the employ of John Conlon, grocer on Penhallow street, has taken the store at Christian shore formerly occupied by the late Franklin Ayers, and will engage in the grocery and provision business.

Two of the men at work rigging the new schooner Cocheco, at Pier wharf, Mr. John S. Tuckerman of this city and Mr. Hubley of Newcastle, were sunstruck on Monday, but prompt assistance was rendered and it is hoped no permanent serious results will ensue.

The summer travel has got fairly started. The mountain houses are rapidly filling, and the trains are thronged. The beach houses also are receiving large numbers of guests. The Appledore House, of course, will soon be crowded, the steamer taking out large loads every trip, of which she makes two a day.

The mayor, accompanied by members of the boards of aldermen and overseers of the poor, visited the city farm Tuesday afternoon by invitation of Superintendent Shannon, and were well pleased with the general management of the farm and also with the neatness and tidiness of the house and inmates, in charge of the matron, Mrs. Shannon.

The Boston Post says of Capt. Rand, of steamer Appledore, that "he is an experienced and accomplished officer, and very popular with the travelling public;" also that "those who cannot take a sea voyage can nowhere else find equal benefits resulting from the cool, bracing ocean breezes of this charming locality"—referring of course to the Shoals, which are about the coolest place south of Labrador. Both statements of the Post are correct.

One of the finest four-horse stage coaches which run from this city to the beaches is the one owned by Mr. Henry Knox, of Epsom, and which is on the route between the Concord and Eastern railroad stations in this city, and Concord Point and Foss' Beach, Rye, making two round trips daily, under the management of Mr. C. A. Dearborn, an experienced driver. The large number of passengers going in this coach daily shows how the beautiful and cool localities in this part of Rye are being appreciated.

RAILROAD MEETINGS.

The annual meetings of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, and the Portsmouth, Gt. Falls & Conway Railroad, were held in this city on Tuesday, the business transacted being as follows:

PORTSMOUTH, GREAT FALLS AND CONWAY.

The meeting of this corporation was held in the ward room on Elm street, near the Eastern Railroad station; Gen. A. P. Rockwell, President of the corporation, presided. The call for the meeting was read by Wallace Hackett, Esq.; and on motion of H. J. Stevens, Esq., of Boston, a committee of three was appointed to receive, sort and count the votes. The committee consisted of Nath'l Ropes of Salem, H. J. Stevens, of Boston, and Benj. Russel of Portsmouth, and their report was as follows:

Whole number of votes..... 5620
Alfred P. Rockwell, of Boston, had..... 5610
Willard P. Phillips, of Salem..... 5614
George E. B. Jackson, of Portland..... 5620
John Cumnock, of Great Falls..... 5620
Samuel C. Lawrence, of Medford, Mass..... 5620

William H. Hackett, Esq., referred to the death since the last meeting of the corporation of a prominent citizen of this State, who had been a director in the corporation since its organization. He presented the following resolutions, which were read by the clerk:

Resolved, that the members of this corporation have learned with deep regret of the recent death of George Wm. Burleigh, late of Great Falls, who was instrumental in forming this corporation; was one of its original grantees, authorized to call the first meeting in August, 1865; and who has since been continuously, to the time of his death, one of its directors.

That we desire to express our obligation for his long and continuous service as a director, and for his constant watchfulness of the welfare and interests of this corporation.

That as a tribute of respect to his memory these resolutions be adopted and entered upon the records of this corporation, and a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted, and the meeting adjourned without day on motion of Mr. H. J. Stevens.

EASTERN IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

About fifty persons gathered in Music Hall, Tuesday forenoon, to attend the meeting of this corporation; at about half-past ten o'clock the meeting was called to order by the President, Hon. Moody Currier of Manchester, who occupied a seat upon the stage. The call for the meeting was read by the clerk. The report of the directors was presented; it had been sent to each stockholder, and on motion of Mr. Folsom, of Laconia, was accepted. The next business was the acceptance of an act of the Legislature, but the treasurer, Mr. Lee, stated that it would be necessary to adjourn for a couple of days until the act had passed the Senate and received the signature of the Governor. Judge John J. Bell, of Exeter, suggested that the adjournment should be for a longer time; and after some discussion Mr. Lee accepted the suggestion, amended his motion, and the meeting voted to adjourn to Thursday of next week. After duly admiring the beauties of Music Hall the stockholders separated, to reassemble on the 18th inst., at the same place, at ten o'clock, A. M.

JEREMIAH RAITT.

Mr. Jeremiah Raitt, recently of this city, who moved to Eliot about three weeks ago to take charge of a farm and blacksmith shop there, fell from a load of hay beneath the feet of the horse drawing it, Tuesday afternoon, and was kicked by the horse, receiving injuries from which he died at about seven o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Raitt was an industrious, worthy man and good citizen, and an excellent mechanic; and he always had a pleasant greeting for every one. He was one of the Californian pioneers, going out in the barque Martha, Capt. Grace, and remaining in California nine years. He leaves a widow and one son, the latter now a young man. Mr. Raitt was a member of the Portsmouth lodge of the Knights of Honor, being one of the latest admitted members; from this association his widow will receive $2000. His age was about fifty years.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, July 9; Batchelder, J,

Andrew McKennie, drunk, $9.90 fine and costs. Having depleted his treasury in purchasing stimulants, he was obliged to go to Brentwood for lack of means to pay his fine.

THEY ENJOYED THEMSELVES.

"Dover Class" writes to the Dover Democrat an account of the visit to this city of the graduating class of the Dover High School, and their reception by the Portsmouth graduating class, concluding as follows:

Surely a pleasanter time could not be anticipated than was enjoyed by the Dover class, and if Portsmouth will have it that there never was such another class as the Dover class, Dover wishes to maintain that there never will be such another class as the Portsmouth. The evening exercises over, the visitors, with the young gentlemen of the Portsmouth class, returned to the hotel, which was kindly kept open by the proprietor. After waiting about one and a half hours the Dover class tendered a vote of thanks to the Portsmouth class for their kind reception, and reluctantly started for home. The Dover class will ever cherish the most pleasant recollections of their Portsmouth friends.

The statement that "the young gentlemen of the Portsmouth class" accompanied their guests to the hotel, and entertained them for an hour and a half, will be duly appreciated when we remark that the Dover graduating class was composed almost wholly of young ladies.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. Hardy, of Marlboro', in jail at Keene on suspicion of poisoning her husband, died on Tuesday, aged sixty years.

George Porter of Alstead, in this State, a young man employed by the Vermont Valley Railroad at Brattleboro', lost a leg by a switching engine Friday.

The receipts at the Nashua post office for the year ending July 1st, were $1300 more than any previous year, indicating a growth in the population and business.

Charles St. George, the railroad ticket thief and tramp from Canterbury, in jail at Concord, made an unsuccessful attempt to break out of jail by digging from his cell on Saturday.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council on Monday the following appointments were made: Trustees of Asylum for Insane, Dexter Richards of Newport, Charles A. Tufts of Dover, David Gillis of Nashua; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Charles A. Downs of Lebanon; Bank Commissioners, Leander W. Cogswell of Henniker, John G. Kimball of Nashua, Amos J. Blake of Fitzwilliam; Trustee of College of Agriculture, William H. Mason of Moultonboro; Commissioner of Pharmacy, Charles A. Tufts of Dover; Insurance Commissioner, Oliver Pillsbury of Concord; Prison Physician, Albert H. Crosby of Concord; Prison Chaplain, Rev. Sullivan Holman of Concord.

The Jackson dam, which crosses the Nashua river at Nashua, was tapped on Monday in order to draw off the water so that a new dam may be made a few feet above the present site, and to raise the water line, so that more spindles may be added. The water ran through the openings with tremendous force. The platform on which the men were was torn from its fastenings, precipitating one of the workmen into the river. The Canterbury mills will start up next Monday.

Another shooting affair, which came very near ending the life of one of the leading citizens of Thornton, occurred in the village of North Campton, late on Saturday night. As Orrin Straw was driving down the road leading to the village, having attended a dance at the Grafton House, he suddenly heard a man call out "halt." Being so dark that he could not see any one he complied with the person's request by driving faster. The next thing he heard was the report of a pistol, the bullet marking his face. Mr. Straw supposed at the time that it was the escaped murderer, Dickey, wishing to take his team, but for various reasons did not pursue the would-be assassin. The theory of the community is that the unknown supposed Straw to be Dr. Smith, a well-to-do physician from Campton village, who has been shot at two or three times for the purpose of highway robbery, as the doctor is reported as carrying considerable money. The people have a feeling of insecurity, and are becoming very much exasperated over the fact that Dickey, the murderer, has not been recaptured, and the lame way in which the authorities are working the case, only having offered $200 reward. As Dickey is a desperate character at close quarters, few wish to run the risk of their lives for so small an amount.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

It is stated that a broker in New Orleans, well known there, is ready to testify to having paid Weber, for a prominent democrat, $2500 for vacating his seat in the Louisiana Senate in order to leave it without a quorum; but he subsequently returned on being paid $10,000, to help elect Kellogg to the Federal Senate It is also stated that proof can be had that Weber's late testimony in support of Anderson was bought by a purse of $7,000, the deposits being made in the hands of a certain well known broker. He went on to Washington ready to accept a higher bid from Sherman, but failed to get it.

It is at last settled that there was no murder and bull-dozing by the democrats in the Feliciana parishes of Louisiana; the chairmen of the democratic campaign committees say there wasn't; and if they don't know, who does?

—The city that is set upon a hill cannot be hid, and it's just the same with dirty cuffs.

—The superintendent of a Long Island railroad gives a very lucid explanation of a collision on his line last week. "Oh, a switch engine happened to get in the way of an incoming train; that's all there is to it."

—A New York policeman arrested a young man who had been swimming in the East River for making an indecent exhibition of himself, and then marched him naked through the streets to the station house, several blocks distant.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALT. EXT. OR

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are alone directed for relief, the discoverer combines he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or skin alternated with flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, or steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.

EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8th.

The intimations of the New York Times Washington correspondent that it is in accord with the programme of the sensational correspondents here to revive rumors of war with Mexico in order to bridge over the dull season between Congressional sessions, are not destitute of foundation; and their expedients to keep up the flagging interest of their readers are not confined to our Mexican relations, but extend to many other matters which, by careful manipulation, can be made to appear of national importance. It may be that the danger of war now said to be imminent has been magnified by ingenious writers in this way. But allowing the widest margin for such exaggeration, the feeling here that war may grow out of existing complications is more general than at any time during the present administration. Nor is it confined to those who rely wholly on sensational sources for information, but is shared by many who from their official positions are supposed to have the very best opportunities for getting at the actual facts. Diaz appears to be in an ugly position, and may think himself obliged to yield to popular clamor to save himself. He is doubtless suspected by more than a majority of his subjects of having made disgraceful concessions in return for the recognition of his government. The promise to cooperate with us to suppress the raiders of the Rio Grande border is regarded as one of the most humiliating of these; hence the half-hearted manner in which he at first kept his promise, and the openly made threats to McKenzie on his recent expedition into Mexico, to drive him back across the border. Several cabinet meetings have been largely devoted to the Rio Grande dispute. General Ord has been newly instructed that our citizens must be protected in accordance with the orders issued months ago, and it is difficult to see how this government can longer temporize with the bandits across the line; and I am confident that intelligence of the inauguration of hostilities against our troops would surprise government officials here very little, if at all.

Since Butler's latest bid for the leadership of the levellers, the disorganizers and the flannel-mouthed blatherskites, the wish is often expressed here, where he is known as a rich man living in a palace, that the treatment he prescribes for others might be meted out to him. It is probably asking too much of an arrant demagogue, always watching to ingratiate himself with the lawless, to be consistent and square his own course of life by the rule he is so ready to prescribe for the government of others. His political eccentricities have been regarded with a degree of tolerance that was only observed toward him by republicans because of his services to the Union cause during the war; but if he is as far-sighted as he pretends to be, he ought to know that their patience is about exhausted, and that he cannot reasonably count on their forbearance to the extent of allowing him to cut their throats. All the way through the investigation he has appeared only too glad of any stray opportunity to gratify his feelings of malice toward the President, at the expense of the party he has professed himself so anxious to serve, and which has done a good deal more for him than he has for it.

The only thing that seems to be certain about the Indian war is that the feeling of discontent is spreading, and that if the hostiles should succeed in gaining a decisive victory the Indians of the entire northwest would soon be in arms against the government's authority.

Senator Windom has punctured the pretensions of our "reform House." According to him its appropriations exceeded those of its immediate predecessor by almost $29,000,000; and he asserts that when the deficiencies are all paid the last two Houses will be seen to have been more extravagant than any House prior to the advent of "Reform." KNOX.

—During this drowsy weather this story of the sleeping Quin may encourage the indolent to persevere in their evil courses. The actor said to his servant, "John, what sort of a morning is it?" "A regular rainy day, sir." "Are there any mullet in the market, John?" "No, sir, the season has not yet arrived." Then, languidly turning over on his other side he whispered: "Then, John, call me at this time to-morrow morning," and was gone.

—A Chicago clergyman was aroused at midnight last week to go and pray by the bedside of a dying man. On ascertaining that the unfortunate man was a director in a gas company, he said to the messenger: "Well, I don't know that there is any use in my going; it'll just be a waste of good praying; still, I suppose it's my duty," and reluctantly accompanied him.

Portsmouth Chronicle

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1878.

Fight in Oregon.

A dispatch from General Howard, dated Head of Birch Creek, Oregon, July 8th, says he found the Indians in force on the heights near the head of Butler creek. He advanced two columns, one consisting of two companies of artillery, one of infantry and a few volunteers, and the other consisting of seven companies of cavalry and twenty of Robbins' scouts, Gen. Howard accompanying the latter column. Bernard's scouts notified him of the vicinity of the hostiles, when the cavalry moved forward at a trot over three foot hills, each over a mile in ascent. The Indians were strongly posted on the rocky crest. One company was left with the pack train; the others deployed and advanced handsomely under a heavy fire. The ascent is described as steeper than that at Missionary Ridge, but no man broke the ranks, though several saddles were emptied and many horses killed. The enemy were driven from their position to another height in the rear of greater elevation, and crowned with natural defences of lava rocks. In twenty minutes this position was also stormed from different sides at once, and a rapid pursuit commenced of the flying Indians, who abandoned their horses, provisions, ammunition and camp material. The hostiles made for a thick timber crowning the ridge, and made another stand, but were again dislodged and pushed four or five miles further into the mountains. The rough country and great exhaustion of the men and horses caused a cessation of the pursuit for the day. In this engagement five enlisted men were wounded and about twenty horses killed. It is impossible to state the loss of the enemy. Their women and children and best horses were moved before the flight began, apparently in the direction of Grande Ronde, and the hostiles fled in that direction. The officers and men behaved in the best possible manner.

The Potter "Fraud" Humbug.

Secretary Sherman returns to the charge, and in a manly letter places Clarkson Potter in a position where he will be constrained to summon the witnesses required by the Secretaty, or concede that the pretended "investigation" is a partisan sham and a contemptible farce. The Secretary points out that the committee's pretended uncertainty as to the propriety of taking testimony to prove that murder and intimidation did exist in Louisiana, has not prevented them from taking the testimony of Weber (the $7000 democratic witness) that such things did not exist. He also calls Potter's attention to the fact that Weber was examined when no republican member of the committee was present, and that cross-examination of that able liar was refused; that the questions put to him by the democrats were "leading" ones; and that he was not only allowed to give common rumor, but his own inferences from common rumor, as evidence! He also gives Potter a deserved rap for his miserable partisanship in publishing Morrison's paper in answer to his (Sherman's) first letter, while he suppressed the letter itself for weeks—until, in fact, Mr. Sherman was compelled in self-defence to give a copy of it to the press. He concludes by reiterating his offer to prove all he has charged in relation to the scoundrelism of the democrats in East and West Feliciana, and again demanding that at least a show of fair play and decent treatment be accorded him by the frauds of Potter's committee.

A Fall in the Price of a Prominent Product.

The price of Cincinnati beer has fallen to three cents a glass in Cincinnati. Whether this is good news or the contrary depends, as a Cincinnati philosopher of considerable local reputation would express it, upon the standpoint from which you survey the matter. The devotees of beer will be rejoiced, but the people who think beer as bad as whiskey and whiskey the worst enemy of man will regret the cheapening of the price of sinning. Viewed commercially and without regard to moral consideration, this decline of forty per cent in the retail price of beer is important. It was not accomplished without a struggle that has attracted considerable attention in the country. Some time ago a Chicago man went to Cincinnati and began selling beer, good beer, at five cents a schooner. There may be some of our readers who do not know that a schooner in the parlance of beer-drinkers is a tall glass holding about twice as much as a common beer mug.

For a long time the price of a glass of beer has been five cents and the price of a schooner ten cents. Therefore, when that audacious Chicago man advertised that he sold a schooner of beer for five cents, it produced almost as much sensation in all circles of Cincinnati business and social life as if the price of bread had been reduced one-half. The other retailers conspired to crush the foreigner, who was playing a part similar to that of the heathen Chinese, and ruining them by cheap beer. The game was to cut off his supplies, and the Cincinnati brewers, who were sagacious enough to discover that ultimately they would have to share loss of profits involved in the reduction, unanimously refused to sell beer by the barrel to a man who would sell it for five cents a schooner. Cincinnati beer is good beer, no doubt, and the retailer would have preferred to dispense it to his customers; but he was that kind of a man that didn't like to be beaten in what he had undertaken to do. He had attempted a great reform, and he did not propose to be thwarted by a combination of brewers.

He transferred his patronage to a brewery in Covington, just across the Ohio river, and obtained a beer a great many people thought to be better at five cents a schooner than the Cincinnati beer at ten cents. But the Cincinnati brewers "gathered at the river" and crossed over, and bulldozed the Covington brewers so that it happened in a little while that the reformer could not get beer in Covington.

Nothing daunted, he then sent to Milwaukee for his supplies, and, notwithstanding that he had to pay freight, he yet sold a schooner of beer for five cents. Now the Milwaukee brew enjoys a reputation hardly inferior to that of Cincinnati, and the sale of it in Cincinnati at half the price of Cincinnati beer was not at all relished save by the imbibers. The Cincinnati brewers made a statement of the facts to the Milwaukee brewers, and requested them as a matter of comity to sell no more beer to the heathen Chicago man, who was ruining the business in Cincinnati.

The Milwaukee brewer wrote back that he brewed his beer to sell, and when anybody paid him what he asked for it he did not care what the purchaser sold it for, or words to that effect. The Cincinnati brewers realized that they were beaten, and that the Chicago man had them, so to speak. They had sense enough to know that under the circumstances nothing would become them so much as to come down handsomely. This they did by reducing the price of a burrel of beer to $6 and of a keg to $1.50, whereupon all the retailers reduced the price of beer by the mug to three cents, and thus a complete readjustment of the beer trade has been accomplished through the determination of one man, and the public gets the benefit—if it is a benefit.

Even at three cents a mug it is said the retailer can make a hundred per cent. on the present price by the keg, if he knows the tricks of drawing it. It all depends on the proportion of foam to solid beer in the mug, and the tapster who cannot make a keg yield a hundred mugs does not understand his business. Undoubtedly, beer drawn to foam looks well in the mug, but it is hardly as satisfying as the solid article. And if it takes two mugs at three cents each to assuage the same thirst formerly quenched by one mug for five cents there will not be much gained by the drinker. This, however, is an imposition that the purchasers of beer must remedy themselves. If they have half the courage of the man who forced a reduction of the price, they will not long be cheated by paying for bubbles instead of beer.

In the meantime the beer men are intensely competing among themselves, and a portion of the shrewd ones have thought to overreach their eastern competitors by enlarging their barrels to a capactiy of thirty-two gallons, from twenty-eight. This the prominent brewers in this section, such as Frank Jones and the managers of the Portsmouth Brewing Co., understand, and they are all ready to checkmate their sharp New York and Boston friends whenever they are ready to "Cry havoc, and let slip the dogs of war." In fact, the intense competition to sell and the prolonged dull times have wrecked many a hopeful brewer and carried others toward the ragged edge of bankruptcy, so that this business, once deemed so entirely profitable, has its uncertainties with all others.

Freedom in the Carolinas.

The democratic Legislature of North Carolina having gerrymandered the State so as to consolidate the republican strength in one judicial district, the republicans of that district have nominated for county solicitor Mr. John H. Collins, a colored lawyer and a graduate of Lincoln University, Pa. As the colored men are in an overwhelming majority in the district, it might be supposed that Mr. Collins had a chance for election; but the Raleigh News notifies the republicans of the district that "the white people of the south having from the first, determined not to submit to negro domination, have, in every southern State, thrown off the yoke of negro rule, and the attempt to re-establish that sort of thing now, even in a single judicial district in North Carolina, will most ignominiously fail." The North Carolina democrats need a great deal more "conciliating" before any rights which a white democrat is they discover that a colored republican has bound to respect.

The town of Summerville, South Carolina, at an election for mayor and aldermen some time ago, gave very large majorities for the republican candidates; but the democratic incumbents of the municipal offices, contrary to law, positively refused to vacate and allow the successful republicans to be installed into the positions to which they had been chosen. The democrats have organized several additional rifle-clubs, and threaten to "bury hundreds of niggers" if the republicans persist in claiming their just dues. A judge of the Supreme Court of the State issued a decree to his democratic friends in Summerville, commanding them to count and declare the votes according to law; but they quietly advised him to go to—"a warm climate," and notified him that he would be impeached before the next Legislature if he didn't "mind his own business."

No wonder there is now "no political trouble" in the south; in most parts of it no man dare vote unless he votes democratic; and where the republicans are numerous enough to dare vote as they choose and the democrats are not strong enough to kill them for so doing, the democratic managers simply "manage the count" a la Tammany.

News and Notes.

General Sherman is preparing a plan of organization for the army, to be submitted to the Congressional Committee which will meet at White Sulphur Springs on the 22d. He believes where the civil power is weak the reserved power should be strong, but that the use of troops should be brought within defined limits of law. In the matter of organization he thinks that the present organization of the army answers every requirement. He does not think the committee is a fair one, particularly as Banning and Bragg have shown so much hostility toward the army.

There was a very heavy thunder shower in Boston and vicinity on the 9th. Nearly two inches of rain fell in Boston in two hours; and many building and a ferry boat on the river were struck. A woman was killed by lightning in Newton, and many buildings were damaged in that and neighboring towns.

Attorney-General Devens has given an opinion sustaining Secretary Thompson's view of the eight hour law as expressed in his circular. This is that while eight hours constitutes a day's work, it does not provide that the employer and laborer may not agree with each other as to what time shall constitute a day's work. Hence the law is practically of no consequence. This decision, as we look at it, leaves it entirely to the Secretary of the Navy to say how many hours—whether eight or eighty—a man shall work for the government for a day's pay, on the navy yards. It is a queer performance all through, and we do not believe the question is settled yet.

The New Haven churches received 177 new members on Sunday, the result in part of Moody's work there. This brings the church additions since last winter's revival up to 400.

Mrs. Dr. Allyne Maynard, a lady moving in the highest social circle of Cleveland, and whose mind was affected by a fever, saturated her clothing with kerosene, and, applying a match, inhaled the flames, dying soon after.

Carens W. Morse, ex-collector of Newport, Vt., is a defaulter to the extent of $3000. Two weeks ago he was cited before the selectmen to submit his books for examination. Failing to make his appearance an officer attempted to arrest him. It was anticipated by Morse, who made his escape just across the Canadian border.

J. H. Converse of Damariscotta, Me., has kept a record of the temperature in that locality for over thirty years, and says that in that time no such extended heated term as the present has before occurred.

Several colored people have commenced a suit to recover five million dollars' worth of property located in Kentucky, Virginia, and other southern States, which they claim was willed to them by a former master, an Englishman, who died many years ago.

Ship Anna Camp, of Bath, Me., Capt. Gardner, sailed From New York for Java on the 12th of April with a cargo of petroleum, and has not since been heard of. A life buoy with her name on it was picked up on the beach near Pernambuco some weeks ago, and pieces of charred wood, some of them marked with her name, have since been found near the same place. It is supposed she has been burned, and all hands lost.

The Sutro tunnel and the Comstock lode in Nevada were connected on the night of the 8th inst. The connection was made at about eleven o'clock, between the tunnel and the 1650 foot level of the Savage mine. A strong draft of air at once poured into the mine, blowing out the miners' lanterns and wafting the Savage drift with dust and gravel. Sutro entered the Savage works from the tunnel, and a general jollification ensued. The tunnel was commenced on the 18th of October, 1869, and has therefore required eight years, eight months and ten days to complete. It is 20,170 feet long, and has cost about $4,000,000.

We have received from Estes & Lauriat, publishers of the "Cobweb series of choice fiction," another of the series, entitled "Doria: a Russian story, translated from the French by Mary Neal Sherwood." It is a very bright and sparkling story, excellently translated.

E. G. PIERCE, Jr., P. M.

THE CITY.

Hon. John Wentworth of Chicago is at the Rockingham.

A cable dispatch has been received in this city announcing the safe arrival in England on the 6th inst. of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O. Larkin.

Mrs. Susie Foster Marcy was married in Boston on the 8th inst, to Mr. Kirkpatrick, a wealthy merchant, formerly of Bangor, Maine, but now of New York city.

The yacht Moll Pitcher, of Newburyport, which was in this harbor about the 1st of the month, on her way to the eastward with a party, was in here again on Wednesday, on her way home.

A dog belonging to master Chas. Pickett was seized with hydrophobia Wednesday forenoon while in the carriage shop of Mr. Ezra H. Winchester, 2d, on Fleet street, and attempted to bite several persons present, but was finally killed by City Marsal Entwistle, who had been notified to take care of him.

Mr. Daniel Trefethen last winter built in his shop at Noble's island a boat eleven feet and four inches over all, five feet wide and eighteen inches deep, which "sails like a witch," and is claimed to be able to beat anything of her class on the river. She is cat-rigged, and stands up very stiffly under a large sail.

At about ten o'clock Wednesday evening fire was discovered in an unoccupied house on Bridge street, next to the engine house of the Concord railroad. The fire was discovered in the attic and was speedily extinguished. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The building is owned by the Concord & Portsmouth railroad corporation.

The hoisting engine belonging to Messrs. C. E. Walker & Co., which was in a scow moored at the wharf near the navy yard landing, was dumped into the river on Wednesday morning by the scow being caught under the wharf as the tide rose. Operations for raising the machine were at once commenced, and the engine was landed on the wharf before night.

As one of the street sprinkling carts went down Pleasant street, Tuesday afternoon, two street gamins stole a nice ride on the sprinkling apparatus at the rear, the valve being then closed. When the driver reached the proper place he set the concern at work, not knowing he had deck passengers on behind, and the speed with which those two urchins got off that water cart was admirable to observe. A few minutes later the little ducks were seen lying down in the hot sun, while their linen jackets were spread on a fence to dry.

The Portsmouth Reform Club has elected the following officers for the ensuing term: President, Horace A. Martin; Vice Presidents, G. W. Randall, Frank G. Thurston, Joseph French, Eugene A. Sanborn, F. Herbert Peverly, Charles Hoyt, Charles W. Lolley, Morris Tobin; Secretary, Frank E. H. Marden; Treasurer, Joseph Pettigrew; Ticket Seller, Charles Hatch; Ticket Takers, Benjamin Powell, Reuben Rand; Chaplain, John W. Wilson; Missionary, William A. Loyne; Finance Committee, Stephen W. Clarke, Ransom B. Crook, Charles Mason; Standard Bearer, James R. Eaton.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, July 10; Batchelder, J.

The Court had a light job to-day, but quite enough, considering the state of the weather. Mary Cronin was charged with having been drunk; worse than that, the charge was sustained by the evidence, so Mary was ordered to Brentwood in default of payment of $9.90.

THE VICINITY.

Hon. Moody Currier of Manchester is at the Appledore.

Parties are camping out on Gerrish's island, and on the banks of Chauncey's creek.

There was a very heavy rain and wind storm in Eliot, Wednesday afternoon, and considerable damage was done; the brick yard there suffered especially. As on the previous day, we had promise of a good shower in this city, but didn't get it.

Major Urch recently placed two sharks in his aquarium at Newcastle bridge. Result, he hasn't quite so many cod-fish there as he did have. But the sharks are still there.

A sharp shower passed over Hampton, Seabrook, Rye and the Shoals on Tuesday, the 9th inst. There was a faint promise of a shower in this city, but it did not come.

Henry C. Bean, the keeper of an intelligence office in Portland, and Mrs. Susan Moody, were arrested in Portland on the 9th inst., for adultery. Bean has a wife and child in Great Falls.

Laighton Brothers of the Appledore house, Isles of Shoals, have secured an excellent orchestra for the season. Mr. Horace D. Gordon, leader of the Manchester cornet band, is a member.

New Hampshire Items.

In the House, Tuesday, the act to amend the charter of Portsmouth was read and referred. It was voted "inexpedient to legislate" on the question of amending Manchester's charter. Most of the afternoon was spent in discussing the bill appropriating $5000 for the State Normal School. The committee reported in favor of the bill, and the minority reported against it. A motion to substitute the minority for the majority report was passed by a yea and nay vote.

Miss Betsey Carr, a deaf mute and an inmate of the Sullivan county poor house, died recently, aged 111 years, 7 months. She was born in Salisbury, Mass., and her age was ascertained from records recently found there. For many years she resided in the family of the late Siloam S. Wilcox of Claremont. Miss Carr retained her strength wonderfully, and up to within a short time of her death she was as vigorous and sprightly as most persons at 75 years.

An attempt at burglary was made on the night of the 9th inst., in Dr. Ayer's building, on Main street, in Nashua. The robbers were frightened by the inmates, and left without any booty. A dozen burglaries have been committed in Nashua within a few weeks.

A large circular saw, in operation at the Concord depot at Nashua, was burst on the afternoon of the 9th inst., by centrifugal force, sending a large piece through the building and badly damaging a car on the track. Three men who were working near the saw had a narrow escape from injury.

In consequence of the lowering of the Nashua river by removing a dam, the water, when let on at the Nashua mills, fell with great force on the gravel bed and washed it away, undermining about thirty feet of the walls, which fell, interrupting the running of the mills until repairs can be made.

Timothy McDonnell of Lebanon, a fireman on the Northern railroad, while shifting cars in the yard at Franklin, Tuesday morning, fell from the top of a car between the cars and was run over. Both legs and an arm were crushed, and he died in the afternoon. He was unmarried, and eighteen years old.

Samuel Runnells, a carpenter, aged about forty-five years, fell thirty feet from a scaffolding on the Universalist church in Manchester on Tuesday afternoon, 9th inst. His injuries are probably fatal. He was standard bearer in the first New Hampshire battery during the war, and was a member of the G. A. R. He weighed 300 pounds.

George A. Gleason and George A. Robie, of Colebrook, got lost while on a fishing excursion in the neighborhood of Connecticut lake a few days ago. They wandered some fifty or sixty miles without food, finally bringing out at a village in Canada.

M. M. Little, of Hill, who works in a saw-mill, had his arm taken nearly off July 5th, by a circular saw. The down train over the Bristol branch was stopped at the mill, and the injured man taken to Franklin for medical attendance, there being no doctor in Hill.

The annual meeting of the Orphans' Home Corporation was held at the Webster place, in Franklin, June 20th. The receipts during the year were $4,212, and the expenses $3,181. During the year the officers have found homes in this State for twenty-seven orphans, making a total of 200 thus settled since the Home was organized. The average physician's charge will not exceed $20 for the past four years. Present number at the Home, thirty-two.

Wednesday afternoon, 3d inst., the depot on the Conway railroad at North Wakefield was consumed, together with seventy or eighty cords of wood lying beside the track. The fire caught in the wood, being caused by a spark from a passing train.

—As one of the late cars was going up Shawmut avenue, Boston, a while ago, a young couple in one corner created a great deal of amusement for the few passengers by their affectionate outbursts. Just as the young man had bestowed the twentieth kiss on his sweetheart, the conductor suddenly sang out, "Sawyer!" meaning the name of the street. "Don't care if you did," shouted the no-way-disconcerted lover; "we're engaged."

—Fanny Ellsler, the once famous dancer, is now eighty-four years old.

—What is called the washerwoman's polonaise is becoming quite popular. The front breadths turn upward, and are faced with a different color from the remainder of the costume, giving the effect of a dress pinned back to avoid contact with a wash-tub. The sleeves and trimmings usually match the turned-up pieces. This pattern is suitable for cambrics, percales and organdies.

NEVADA CITY, Nevada Co., Cal., May 24th, 1875.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—For three years I was afflicted with a scaly eruption on the face, and pimples. I tried every physician, and every remedy that I could hear of, but to no purpose. At last I tried your Golden Medical Discovery, and was happily astonished with the result. In one month's time my face became smooth and well, and every pimple and blotch entirely disappeared. I regard it as the best remedy in the world for diseases of the blood.

Yours truly, A. DIAMOND.

Blindly Groping

For some medicinal alcoholic resuscitant of physical energy which should take the place of the heady and frequently adulterated stimulants of commerce, the medical practitioners of a quarter of a century ago were electrified on first observing the reviving effects upon the system of a tonic then recently introduced, but which has since become the most popular medicine sold on this continent, viz.: Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their astonishment and admiration were increased when experience farther disclosed that this botanic remedy effected results which the mineral drugs of the pharmacopœia often utterly failed to produce,—among others, the permanent restoration of vigor, the removal of digestive, secretive and evacuative irregularities, and the eradication and prevention of periodic fevers. Speedy recognition of the merits of the Bitters by unprejudiced and enlightened physicians naturally followed this revelation of medical facts, which have since received such frequent and positive confirmation.

Nothing in the Quaker City has received more unlimited or well-merited praise from its guests than the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, for liberal management and excellent courtesy.

As ice disappears under a July sun, so fat disappears under the use of Allan's Anti-Fat. Those having uselessly tried other remedies are readily reduced from two to five pounds per week by this great remedy for corpulence. Sold by druggists.

Read what the dealers say:

F. W. Kinsman, Esq.—Dear Sir:—With pleasure we order ten gross Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam—showing conclusively that merit has won the day, and that your Balsam is taking the lead over the many bottles of trash that now flood the market.—From Smith, Doolittle & Smith, Druggists, Boston.

A lady in Westchester county, N. Y., made $1,300 lately by an investment of $100.25. Alex. Frothingham & Co., 12 Wall street, New York, were her brokers. Send for their Financial Report. You may be equally as fortunate. 5

Beautiful Helen no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Sold by all Druggists. HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. tjy21

Norfolk, July 7—The Bangor Wrecking Company's bark Resolution, which sailed from Norfolk some time since on a wrecking expedition to Key West, arrived at that port on the 29th of June with all hands well. Capt E M Stoddard, who is in command of the expedition, reports that the steamer Arratoon Apcar, ashore at Fowey rocks, will prove almost a total loss.

The Barnstable Patriot says a petition is circulating among the coasting captains asking for a change in the light shown from Pollock Rip Lightship. Masters of vessels claim that it is next to impossible to distinguish the light now shown from the lights of fishermen and coasters anchored in the vicinity, and two lights at the mastheads are suggested instead of the one now shown.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

United States Treasurer Gilfillan thinks that by the first of January next he will have at least twenty millions of silver dollars locked up in Washington and in the vaults of the sub-treasuries in other cities. Unless something can be done to check this accumulation of silver, or to get it into general circulation, Mr. Gilfillan looks for a general business depreciation to a silver basis within the next couple of years. As one result of this the paper currency, he believes, would drop to the level of silver, and the premium on gold would certainly rise. In this case the demand for gold would drain the Treasury, and the matter would be made worse by the law which permits the silver, and perhaps greenbacks, to be receivable for customs ducs.

Senator Burnside, who has a summer residence in Bristol, R. I., was seriously injured on the afternoon of the fourth by a window falling on him. He returned from Washington a few days ago, and has been in rather a delicate condition for some time past. He has suffered from excessive heat, the result being to make this recent accident take a serious turn.

A sad affliction befell Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Otis of the Providence, R. I., Journal, on the arrival of the express train from that city at the union depot in Worcester Monday afternoon. They were on their way to Nashua, N. H., with their infant babe, seven months old, which was taken sick with cholera infantum Friday night. Monday morning their physician in Providence advised them to take the little one to New Hampshire, hoping that cooler air might be found there. They reached Worcester, and while going from the train to the ladies' waiting room in the depot the baby died in its father's arms.

The Commercial has, this morning, one and one-eighth columns of extracts concerning the possibility of Grant's nomination in 1880. Of this one full column is from democratic papers. The very idea has struck the democratic party wild with dismay.—Cincin. Times.

Hendricks and Randall would make a popular straddle-bug ticket for 1880. Randall straddles the tariff issue with the grace and compass of the Colossus of Rhodes, and Hendricks straddles the currency, and everything else, as if his legs belonged to a forty-ton derrick.—Chicago Times, dem.

General Sherman is of the opinion that "we will soon have to apologize to the people we whipped," meaning that the encroachments of ex-Confederate over Union power in the government is being impudently asserted.—National Republican.

In that event the braggart Sherman will have no apologies to make, as he is not conspicuous for having whipped anybody. If General Joe Johnston, who punished him almost daily, had not been removed from his front, he never would have marched to the sea and gained the fictitious fame which he did. His vandalism among women and children should have brought disgrace upon him rather than honors. Sherman is a bumbog of the first water. His arrogance is only equalled by his empty-headedness.Lynchburg Virginian, dem.

—The custom of calling railway passenger cars "coaches," which has recently gained a place in our vernacular, is English, according to Richard Grant White. He says that the "guard" and "coach" of the English railways are relics of the old mail-coaching days.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALT. EXT. OF

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined the harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has installed into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced, as a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

THE GREAT

FALL RIVER LINE,

BETWEEN

BOSTON and NEW YORK.

THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS

Bristol and Providence,

Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!

Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.

No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—

ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,

Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—

NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,

But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 10th.

Yesterday afternoon the committee on Normal school made a report in favor of appropriating $5000 for the use of that institution. A minority report was also presented at that time, signed by Carr of Andover, Frost of Franklin, Frost of Madison and Way of Munroe. The minority report was against any appropriation. Mr. Carr moved to substitute the minority for the majority report. Then followed a debate of nearly three hours. Mr. Carr supported his report in a speech bristling with facts and figures. He opposed the appropriation on the grounds that it is only a Normal school in name, that it was founded on a lie, that it is a local school, that is no better than an ordinary high school, that the teachers sent from it are no better than those from other institutions in the State, and that the expenses are not judiciously managed. Mr. Carr is a graduate of the class of '75 C. S. D. of Dartmouth college. He carried great weight with him. Then followed an able, clear, and forcible speech by the chairman of the committee, Mr. Mosher of Dover, in favor of the appropriation. He refuted in the main the statements of Mr. Carr, and shew that the appropriation was absolutely necessary for the welfare of the school at the present time. Then followed speeches by McCutchins and Hobbs in favor of the minority report, and by Spaulding of Dover and Moore of Nashua in favor of the majority report. On motion of Hobbs of Ossipee the yeas and nays were called upon the question of substituting the minority for the majority report, and resulted in its adoption by a vote of 179 yeas to 128 nays. Of the Portsmouth delegation Ryder, Curtis, Call and Sherburne voted in favor of the majority report, and Goodrich and Wendell in favor of the minority report

In the evening Samuel McLean of Boston addressed quite an audience in front of the State House upon the greenback question.

Later in the evening the committee on railroads had a meeting in the Representatives Hall to hear matters connected Nearly two-thirds of the members were present to hear the arguments. Gen. Anderson was present to present the case of the Portland and Ogdensburg railroad, and Col. John H. George in favor of the railroads in general. Col. N. G. Ordway of the Tax Commission answered the gentlemen who spoke in the first part of the evening.

The matter of appropriating money for the Normal school came up again this morning as unfinished business, and for two hours it was earnestly discussed. An amendment was offered by Mr. Moore of Nashua, that the sum should be $3000 and than the word annually should be stricken out. The amendment was advocated by Messrs. Moore of Nashua, Patterson of Hanover, Goodell of Antrim, Wallace of Milford, Sargent of Concord, Marstou of Exeter, Brown of Tilton, Libby of Nottingham, and Foster of Canterbury; and was opposed by Carr of Andover and McCutchins of New London. The bill as amended was ordered to a third reading by a vote of 205 yeas to 90 nays. Under a suspension of the rules the bill was read a third time and passed.

A. B.

A Bold Swindler.

One Louisa Silvan on Wednesday sent for a Pemberton square (Boston) lawyer with whom she had done business, to come to her room at the Revere house to negotiate the purchase of some real estate. He complied with her request, and once at the hotel and in her room, she turned upon the bewildered lawyer and demanded $10,000, or threatened to ring the bell and call the police. Finally she reduced the sum to $1000, and a check for the amount was given her, when she left, taking the precaution to lock the door, and promising to let her prisoner go in case the money was paid. She presented the check, was arrested by officers sent for by the bank officials, and then tried to swallow the check. On going to the woman's quarters the officers were astonished to find the lawyer locked into the room, and "in a state of mind," but without much clothing on, his "wardrobe" being locked up in Louisa's trunk. He made a clean breast of it to the detectives, acknowledging that after some talk on business with the woman she induced him to remove his clothing, and then before he was aware of her purpose she clapped his garments in the trunk, locked them up, and proceeded to bounce their astonished owner for a big check as the price of her silence and his liberty.

The lawyer's name is Charles E. Allen, and the whole affair is "queer" in the extreme. The check, though fraudulently obtained, was of course genuine, though the officers supposed it a forgery when they arrested the woman, and her attempt to destroy it confirmed their suspicions. The reason for suspicion was not that the signature did not look all right, but because a number of blank checks had some time before been stolen from Allen's office, and several of them subsequently presented, filled out and signed with a forgery of his name, at various banks. Mr. Allen will be careful how he fools around the "strange woman" hereafter.

Neglecting His Duties.

It is quite within the memory of persons now living that the democratic papers for eight years kept up a continual howl at President Grant for "neglecting his duties" and "junketing at Long Branch" and other places when he pleased; and that the first "democratic House" the country had been cursed with for years addressed to him an insolent demand for information as to "how many days the Executive had been absent from the seat of government" during his incumbency, and received as a reply that while it was none of their business how often he was absent or where he went so long as he did his duty, he had no objection to telling them just how many days he had been away—which he did do, and also showed that Jackson, Van Buren, Pierce, Polk and Buchanan were each absent from the National Capital more days than that special object of the Confederate Brigadiers' hatred, Ulysses S. Grant! Remembering all this, it is amusing to notice that the democratic papers which were so loud and unanimous in their abusive comments upon Gen. Grant, for leaving the seat of government and making excursions to various points, are now singularly silent upon the same practice by Mr. Hayes, which was indeed the practice of all his predecessors, from Washington down. The first President made it a point to visit every State during his term of office, and as Rhode Island had not adopted the constitution at the time of his first visit to New England, and he consequently did not extend his visit to her territory, he made a separate visit to that State, after she had entered the Union, the last of the Old Thirteen.

The Lawyers in Council.

[illegible] A. D. Hubbard, Stanley Matthews, Lyman Trumbull, Chas. R. Train, and several other leading lawyers of different States, have issued a circular proposing an informal meeting at Saratoga, N. Y., on the 21st of August, of members of the bar, to consider the feasibility and expediency of establishing an American Bar Association. The idea is to create a body of delegates, representing the legal profession in every part of the country, which shall hold annual meetings for a comparison of views and friendly intercourse. This is regarded as likely to be of much service in helping to assimilate the laws of the different States, in extending the benefits of true reform, and in publishing the failure of unsuccessful experiments in legislation. The circular referred to, has been sent to a few members of the bar in each State.

The members of the bar attending at Saratoga will be entertained by a special arrangement at Congress Hall, at the rate of three dollars a day; and from the character of the promoters of the scheme it will be likely to take such shape as to produce a permanent body which will be of benefit to the legal profession and the country.

Partisan Venom.

The reckless and disgraceful partisanship—to speak mildly—of the Boston Post's correspondent at Washington, is well shown in his reports of the doings of the Potter-Tilden fraud committee, in which he figuratively holds up both hands in admiration of Weber and Anderson or anybody else who will furnish good democratic perjury, and shamelessly slanders every republican. One of his latest exploits in this line is to assert that "Mr. Sherman wants to break the force of Weber's damaging testimony" (the testimony which he read from a paper unquestionably prepared for him by the democratic counsel, which he read to the committe when no republican member was present, and for swearing to which he received $7000 from the potterers,) and therefore wishes to have called as witnesses Gen. Garfield, Eugene Hale, Gen. Harry Wright of Pennsylvania, Congressman Danford of Ohio and Ex-Congressman Morey of Louisiana,—the Post writer adding that these witnesses "would be willing to swear Sherman out of any hole that an elastic conscience would get him out." The partisan venom of that correspondent is too bitter; it defeats its own object.

News and Notes.

The President on Thursday removed Gen. Arthur from the collectorship of the port of New York, and appointed Gen. E. A. Merritt, late surveyor, to the vacancy. Naval Officer A. B. Cornell was also guillotined, and Deputy Surveyor G. W. Burt appointed to his place.

Brig Kremlin, of Boston, from Cienfuegos with sugar, was sunk near South Shoal on the night of the 8th inst. by British steamer Golden Grove. Mrs. Haskell, the captain's wife, and a seaman named Charles Smith, were drowned. The rest of the crew were rescued by the steamship.

Two native tribes in New Caledonia have risen against the French authorities, killed 125 men, women and children, and captured two military stations. Col. Passedose was killed. The communists and other convicts remained quiet.

Hoedel, the would-be assassin of the Emperor William, was arraigned in Berlin on the 10th inst., and pleaded not guilty, maintaining that he only attempted to commit suicide. Thirty witnesses testified, however, that he aimed at the Emperer. He was sentenced to death.

William E. Gray, the noted forger and acknowledged prince of confidence men, arrived in New York Wednesday in charge of officers who brought him from London. The chase after him has lasted nearly nine years, and the most expert detectives of the principal cities of the world have been engaged in it.

At Amsterdam, N. Y., on the 10th, a broom factory, nearly completed, was demolished by a hurricane. Nine workmen were buried in the ruins; four of them were fatally, and the rest severely injured. Several other buildings were damaged. Albany also had a heavy squall, damaging buildings and crops, but no lives were lost.

There was a peremptory trade sale of 10,000 packages of flannels, 500 cases of blankets, and 200 cases of Whittenton cheviots in New York Wednesday. Upwards of 300 buyers or their representatives were present from all the principal cities of the country.

There is considerable excitement at Norwich, Conn., over the death there from Asiatic cholera on the 8th inst. of a woman, and the illness of two others.

The huge Italian ironclad Dandolo, sister ship to the Duilio, was launched at Spezzia, Italy, on the 10th inst. She is 340 feet long, 65 feet in breadth, and her armor is 22 inches thick. She will be armed with 100-ton Armstrong guns, carrying projectiles of 2500 pounds weight.

At the race of the Newburgh yacht club, in the bay at Newburgh, N. Y., July 10th, four yachts were capsized by a squall, the crews being rescued by other [illegible] only nine finished the race.

Another "lord" has come to grief. Wilfrid Montressor, Lord Ogilvy, son of the Earl of Airlie, has been (of course) admitted to the best society of Boston and New York for a couple of years past. As usual with lords, he failed to pay his bills, his board bill at a fashionable Boston establishment amounting to $800, for which when he left he gave a note for $1000, signed "Ogilvy." He was recently arrested in New York by his Boston boarding house creditor, but was discharged by the court. Now it turns out that the Montressor in an imposter, the Earl of Airlie declaring that his son is in India.

Gen. Sherman has issued an order calling the attention of army officers to the new law providing that it will not be lawful to employ any part of the army as a posse comitatus or otherwise for the purpose of executing the laws, except in such cases as may be expressly authorized by the Constitution or act of Congress.

Two men were working on the spire of a church in New York on the 10th inst., when it was struck by lightning and one of the men was thrown to the ground, sixty feet below, and instantly killed. The other was badly burned, but will recover.

A Chinaman on the 10th inst. made application in New York to Judge Choate of the United States District Court to become a citizen of the United States. The Judge verbally denied the application, under the decision of Judge Sawyer of the United States Circuit Court of California, in the case of Ah Yup, which was made a test case.

Pomeroy, the boy murderer, now in prison at Concord, Mass., is not quite so much of a prison pet as he was. No officer is allowed to converse with him except in the strictest way of duty, his reading permit has been withdrawn, and he endures all the torture of solitary confinement, with almost nothing to vary the monotony of his prison life. He was lately allowed to work a little at brush making, but he maliciously spoiled about $75 worth of stock, and the privilege of work is now denied him.

Ephraim Richardson of Buffalo, N. Y., aged twenty-three years, has been missing since the 4th inst., when he returned from Lockport with $400 cash. On forcing the door of his house on the 9th inst., blood stains and general confusion were apparent. It is thought that he has been murdered and his body done away with.

Hattie Mosier, an orphan, thirteen years of age, being accused of stealing thirty cents, committed suicide by drowning in the Oswego and Syracuse canal, near Syracuse, N. Y. Part of the money has since been found on the floor of the store kept by the man who made the accusation, and the real thief has confessed.

A week or more ago a daring robbery was committed in a horse-car at Troy, N. Y. On the 10th inst. John and Thomas Monahan, two of the thieves, were arrrsted at North Adams, Mass., and were started for Troy in custody of two officers and a citizen. When near State Line station one of the prisoners asked permission to take off his coat, and the smoking car in which the party were travelling being hot, his request was granted. As soon as his hands were free he drew a revolver and commenced firing. Four shots were fired, one of the officers, named Quinn, being wounded in the abdomen and the hand. The passengers in the car fled; the prisoners were bound by the men in charge after a hard fight, and were finally lodged in Troy jail.

The New London Telegram tells this story: "Captpin Edwards, of the fishing smack Amelia, reports that when of 'Skunnett,' on the Rhode Island shore, one day last week, he discerned an object swimming off his bow which he finally made out to be a horse. He made sail but could not overhaul the animal, which was making desperate struggles to reach the main land three miles away. At times he would disappear from sight as the waves broke over him—the sea running high at the time—but a moment later would reappear and with a loud snort and toss of the head shake off the water from his ears and eyes and then renew his struggle. At last he made the shore and, without pausing a moment, dashed up the beach, his long tail and curling mane floating outward in the wind. The splendid animal was possessed of immense strength, else he could not have swam that long distance through such a sea. Where he came from nobody knows. No vessel was in sight from which he could have escaped."

Naval Affairs.

Pay-Director Thomas H. Looker, is appointed acting chief of the bureau of provisions and clothing, and Paymaster-General of the Navy; to act as such in the absence of Paymaster-General Cutler from the seat of Governmet.

Advices from Norfolk, Va., say the tour of inspection of the Secretary of the Navy as mapped out is as follows: "From Norfolk yard on board U. S. S. Tallapoosa to the Philadelphia yard; thence to the New York yard; thence via New London to Newport and the torpedo station; thence to the Boston yard; thence to the Portsmouth (N. H.) yard, which will complete the inspection of the dockyards on the Atlantic coast. The Secretary proposes to go as far east as Halifax, N. S., and visit the English naval establishment there. On their way to Halifax they will touch at Portland, Me.

The House committee on naval affairs reported adversely just before adjournment on a bill introduced by Mr. Hale, of Maine, to date Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson's commission April 15, 1871, instead of July 1, 1873, which change would have advanced Mr. Wilson's name two numbers in the Register. The claim was made on the ground that Mr. Wilson would have stood next to Constructor Easby on the list but for a clerical error; but the committee report that the original papers relative to the case cannot be found, and that to change the date of the commission now would be unjust to other officers who would be affected by it.

New Hampshire Items.

Jefferson C. Wright, a native of Hollis, committed suicide in Boston on the 10th by shooting himself through the head with a pistol at his boarding house. Despondency, owing to an injury to his head some time ago, was probably the cause of the act.

At Manchester, Wednesday evening, several thousand people, including various Catholic societies in procession, headed by a band, marched to the depot to welcome Rev. Father William McDonald from a five months' visit to Europe.

Political.

A New Orleans dispatch says it has been determined not to call Eliza Pinkston, as Potter's sub-committee will not go into the outrage business. The democratic papers have made much ado about an alleged "confession" of Eliza Pinkston's, in which her statements before the returning board were acknowledged to be false. This confession has been denounced as a democratic forgery, and the refusal of the Potter frauds to call her as a witness is good proof that the charge was true.

The Tammany democrats propose to naturalize the large number of foreigners in New York city who have disported through the various wards with illegal certificates, as this sort of thing has been stopped in the manner shown up recently in the letter of our New York correspondent.

They call him "Apollo Potter" now, because every time he calls a new witness, he strikes a fresh lyre.—Philadelphia Press.

THE CITY.

Mackerel have struck in at the Shoals. They are taken in moderate numbers with lines, but the seiners have not reported any luck with them as yet.

It is mentioned as an evidence of the dullness of business that several drummers who lately visited this city had to borrow money to enable them to get away.

Gov. Prescott and staff will visit the navy yard at half-past ten o'clock this forenoon, and will be received by the officers of the yard and marine corp with the usual honors.

The Heavy Artillery last evening decided to turn out this forenoon to receive Gov. Prescott. Members are requested to appear at the armory at 9:30, in uniform, for that purpose.

Lieut. W. I. Moore, U. S. N., for several years past engaged in the United States Coast Survey, along the south Atlantic coast and in the Gulf, arrived in this city on the 10th inst., on a brief visit.

Mayor Broughton has tendered to the abuttors on the south millpond the sums voted them by the City Councils for land damages for the proposed marginal road. We are informed that the tender was generally accepted.

A fishing schooner from Rockport on Thursday caught dogfish enough at the Shoals, with hand-lines, to make thirty-five buckets of livers. As they get thirty-five cents a bucket for the livers, the dogfish turned in to each of the three men on the vessel about four dollars for the day's work.

Mr. Charles Marden, formerly of Rye but recently of this city, on Thursday pitched off a load of hay for Mr. George Perkins. After finishing, he was observed to stagger about on the cart, as if unwell; assistance was at once rendered, but he died in a few minutes, probably of heart disease.

Codfish, which were scarce along the shore for several weeks, having been driven off by bluefish and dogfish, as was supposed, have struck in again, and are now plentiful between Whale's-back and the Shoals. Many boats were taking them on Wednesday and Thursday, lobster being the bait used by the most successful fishermen.

An odd circumstance—odd for these days, that is—is reported to us. Some new furniture being needed for fire department use, and Chief Engineer Fletcher being empowered to procure it, purchased it of Sheldon Brothers. The oddity comes in just here: Mr. Fletcher is himself a dealer in furniture, being a member of the firm of Fletcher & Tanton. The regard for propriety which prevents an official from dealing in his official capacity with a firm in which as a private individual he is interested, we thought was entirely out of date.

A friend hands us the handbill of a Chicago meat dealer, in which he advertises for sale prime sirloin steak at twelve and a half cents a pound; round steak, ten cents; mutton chops, ten and twelve cents; roast veal, nine and ten cents; pork chops and roasts, eight cents; sliced ham, ten cents; smoked shoulders, whole, six cents. These prices are not much more than half those demanded in this city. Chicago is nearer than Portsmouth to the great beef producing districts, but it seems that the difference in prices is greater than the difference in distance.

I. O. O. F.

On Thursday night officers of Osgood Lodge were installed as follows:

William S. Hazel, N. G.;
William C. Robinson, V. G.;
Edward T. Morrison, Rec. Sec.;
C. Dwight Hanscom, Per. Sec.;
Charles A. Neal, Treasurer;

After the business of the evening was over, the members of the lodge were surprised by the N. G. and V. G., who invited them to a very nice collation in the banquet hall. The lodge has taken a fresh start since moving into the present fine quarters in Pythian hall, seven applications having already been acted on this term.

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

The usual monthly bills were ordered to be paid.

It was voted to pay G. M. Goodrich's bill as recommended by the committee, at $31.28.

The city marshal's quarterly report of fines and costs collected was received and referred.

The bills of the street commissioner for superintending sidewalks and sewers, were reported back to the board. A discussion had been had as to the legality of the city's payment of the bills, and the matter was referred to the city solicitor for his opinion; the committee not being able to decide by the opinion, reported the bills back to the board; and the board referred the bills to the solicitor, to decide as to the city's obligations.

A communication was received from Dennis Shea, requesting permission to dig up drain of his manufacture, under direction of a committee, at such places as they may direct, for the purpose of testing the pipe, he to put the street in satisfactory condition afterward at his own expense. The request was granted, and the mayor and aldermen Sides and Hadley were appointed a committee.

Committee on drains, to whom was referred petition of James Locke and others for repairs of sewer leading from Cabot to Madison street, recommended that the sewer be relaid with a pipe not less than fifteen inches in diameter. Ald. Coffin presented petition from residents on Cass street relating to same sewer. Report adopted, and committee empowered to lay sewer when they deem advisable.

Requests for permission to open Court street, near Pleasant, for repairing drain, was granted.

Request for improved drainage on Vaughan street, for repairs of drain leading from High street to Fleet, and for repairs of cesspool corner Cabot and Islington streets, were referred to committee on drains, with power.

Permission to encumber Deer and Vaughan streets for building purposes was granted.

Oliver M. Knight asked permission to remove a tree partially dead, from in front of the house of the late Ammi R. H. Fernald. Referred to committee on streets.

Committee appointed to confer with the railroad authorities in regard to filling the pond at foot of Brewster street, reported a conference with President Rockwell of the Eastern railroad, who informed them that if the property was found to belong to the railroad the pool would be immediately filled up.

Proceeded to ballot for four members of the board of instruction, to serve three years. John Pender, John H. Locke and Alfred C. Hoyt were elected on the first ballot, and on the fourth ballot, Oliver M. Knight.

Matter of immediate repairs to railing on Langdon bridge, Lafayette road, was referred to Ald. C. W. Norton, with power.

Ald. P. D. Norton offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Voted, That a reward of twenty dollars be offered for the conviction of any one committing any depredation in any of the cemeteries of the city.

It was voted that the reward be advertised and posted in conspicuous places under the direction of the committee on printing.

Committee on schoolhouses recommended that the lower room in Cabot street schoolhouse be divided as asked by the board of instruction. Report adopted, and referred to same committee with power.

Same committee reported extensive repairs needed on the several schoolhouses, and power was granted the committee.

Ald. Coffin brought before the board a reported case of abuse by special officer Taylor of a prisoner he was taking to the station house, his attention having been called to the matter by a number of gentlemen. The mayor stated to the board that he was in the station house when the prisoner was brought in, and examined the man and found him little injured, and that in his opinion the officer did not exceed his duty; that the man was drunk and very violent, and resisted the officer, who called for assistance from bystanders, which was not rendered; and the mayor considered that the officer used no more violence than was necessary. It was further stated that the man next morning owned himself entirely in fault, and, pleaded to be let go without further punishment, which he was.

THE VICINITY.

The Portsmouth Weekly says that on Monday, 8th inst., Frank M. Osborne of Kittery was arrested for selling liquor without a government license. He was taken to Portland for trial, but was discharged for want of evidence of sale.

There was a free clam-bake at the Dover point house, Thursday afternoon, given by the proprietor of the hotel. A number of persons from this city attended it, the steamer Little May taking up a party, and others going up in boats.

The several York stages now go out heavily laden with passengers and baggage at every trip, and the Rye beach coaches also have about all they can attend to. The Appledore steamer is well filled twice a day, when bound out, the return trips being mode light.

The incendiary who set fire to the sawmill at Cape Neddick last week, used a "squirt-gun" loaded with kerosene, with which he stood at a distance and then literally covered the outside of the building with the oil, afterwards going into the mill and doing the same kind of work there and applying the torch. Of course the loss was total.—Times.

Constable Wheeler on the 10th inst. arrived at South Berwick, having in charge two women, each with a young child, and two men. The men escaped from the house of correction at Brentwood a week previous, and induced the women, paupers at the Brentwood county farm, to accompany them.

— The habit people have of beginning to converse the moment a singer sits down to the piano is often objected to by foreigners, but even abroad there are some people who do not care about music. "She is charming," said the old Marquis de B——, the other day, speaking of La Patti. "But she has one defect—she sings."

Blindly Groping

For some medicinal alcoholic resuscitant of physical energy which should take the place of the heady and frequently adulterated stimulants of commerce, the medical practitioners of a quarter of a century ago were electrified on first observing the reviving effects upon the system of a tonic then recently introduced, but which has since become the most popular medicine sold on this continent, viz.: Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their astonishment and admiration were increased when experience farther disclosed that this botanic remedy effected results which the mineral drugs of the pharmacopœia often utterly failed to produce,—among others, the permanent restoration of vigor, the removal of digestive, secretive and evacuative irregularities, and the eradication and prevention of periodic fevers. Speedy recognition of the merits of the Bitters by unprejudiced and enlightened physicians naturally followed this revelation of medical facts, which have since received such frequent and positive confirmation.

Nothing in the Quaker City has received more unlimited or well-merited praise from its guests than the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, for liberal management and excellent courtesy.

As ice disappears under a July sun, so fat disappears under the use of Allan's Anti-Fat. Those having uselessly tried other remedies are readily reduced from two to five pounds per week by this great remedy for corpulence. Sold by druggists.

Read what the dealers say:

F. W. Kinsman, Esq.—Dear Sir:—With pleasure we order ten gross Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam—showing conclusively that merit has won the day, and that your Balsam is taking the lead over the many bottles of trash that now flood the market.—From Smith, Doolittle & Smith, Druggists, Boston. 6

A General Rebellion.

TRIUMPH OF A GREAT DISCOVERY!

The public has rebelled against cauterizing Hair Dyes. Fashion has foreworn them. A sagacious community has adopted in their stead,

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE,

and for these reasons: It embrowns and blackens the hair, not the skin. It is a vegetable emollient, not a burning fluid. It does not burlesque nature with blooming metallic tinges, but produces her own living hues. Its cooling effect is lasting. It defies detection. Its results are uniform. It never fails. Manufactured by J. CRISTADORO, No. 53 William St., New York. Sold by all Druggists. Applied by all Hair Dressers. Ujy15

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

The Butler-Weber Committee's Dilemma.

The Providence Journal, speaking of Secretary Sherman's demand that the Butler (late Potter) committee call certain witnesses whom he names, says: "The committee must either go into the evidence, in which case Secretary Sherman will be able abundantly to prove all that he asserts, or it will refuse to hear witnesses on one side of a question as to which it has already taken evidence on the other side. Nor can it so gloss over such refusal as to deceive anybody. The fact of itself will suffice to show that the investigation is not to investigate; that the committee purpose only to do that, and hear that, which it supposes will tell in behalf of the democracy. Whatever it might do now, there is not the slightest probability that it can redeem itself in the estimation of judicious persons. For and as a mere party move, which this proceeding was and is, the conduct of it has been equally farcical and unjust. When it shall have come to an end, as in the progress of events it must, the summing up of its professions and protestations, its doings in form and substance, its one-sided enquiries and its utter abandonment of its first purpose, will make conclusive that which is now vaguely felt and admitted by the democrats themselves—that the whole thing has been a blunder, which, upon ascertaining, the committee had neither the fairness nor the courage to abandon. Dragging its slow length along, the investigation is harmful only to its promotors; and in view of the approaching Congressional elections, and the estimate in which the committee is now held, it may be pardonable for not being able to decide whether it is safer for it to hold on or to let go."

Greenback Eloquence.

The following is a specimen of the communistic appeals which are being sent out from headquarters at Chicago:

Young Men of the West and the South: We can clean all of those eastern pirates out of homes and the property they have stolen. We can unite and whip them to reason and to comprehension of the right. We can leave the country northeast of the Alleghany mountains to pay the national debt. We can unite and make the southwest the garden of the world. We can open the Mississippi river and float our billions of produce down its waters to market. We can send our surplus products to foreign countries by way of southern cities. With the products we can line the south and west with railroads, open new mines, and make the east a howling wilderness in which will roam the ghosts of the with-burners and of those Puritans who made fortunes in supplying the south witch slaves stolen from the coast of Africa. We can do all this, and you will take this for your repast in the near future if you do not burn your ill-gotten bonds and let the people live. Organize greenback clubs with bayonets in reserve.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT. OR
Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.
In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and loss of flesh, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AT $1 PER BOTTLE.
Prepared by H. V. PIERCE, M. D., Sole Proprietor, at the WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

$777 is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $66 per week in your own town. PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility of every of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns. tfebs20 78

THE GREAT
FALL RIVER LINE, BETWEEN
BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Stonington Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL.
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.
Grand Promenade Concert on each Steamer every evening during the summer.
New and Elegant Drawing-Room Cars on Steamboat Express Train.
BROOKLYN ANNEX STEAMER connects with this Line only, leaving Pier 8, North River, New York, on arrival of steamer from the East. Passengers and baggage for Brooklyn transferred free.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of every form, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this Infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, medical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the spines, general physical training, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in such cases to which they are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartments, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. HILLEN'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

THE DUNDERBERG, OR THUNDER-MOUNTAIN.

THE KIDD SALVAGE COMPANY.

The vicinity of this prominent and beautiful feature of Hudson River scenery, near Caldwell's Landing, was the scene, a few years since, of one of the strangest delusions of modern times. There had long been a tradition that the renowned Capt. Kidd, in making his escape from a British cruiser by which he was pursued, had run his pirate-craft ashore at the foot of the Dunderberg. An old gentleman, who resided in the vicinity, had such implicit faith in the story, he was in the frequent habit of going out in his boat a few rods from the shore, and with the aid of a long pole, having a sharp iron point attached to it, he fancied he could trace out through the mud at the bottom of the river, the entire outline of a vessel. Partly from faith in this tradition, but more from that in mesmerism, a stock company was formed in shares of one hundred dollars each, bearing the name of the "Kidd Salvage Company," and with one of the most respectable men of Wall street as the president, a large sum was raised for the prosecution of the work. The plan proposed was to construct a coffer-dam around the spot where the vessel was supposed to lie, and then by the aid of a steam-engine, to pump out the water, enabling them to reach the mud, beneath which was imagined to exist the antique pirate-craft, with its rich and long-buried treasures.

While the work was going on, a person who heard of the project had the curiosity to endeavor to obtain further information with regard to the wreck through the aid of a fine mesmeric subject, a lady who resided at Lynn, Mass. She described, when in a mesmeric state, with the most perfect accuracy, the scenery of the Hudson, although she had been no farther up the river than Hoboken, while on a visit to New York some years previously. The scenery in the vicinity of the Dunderberg she described with equal correctness, even to a grave in a retired spot known to but few of the residents in the vicinity, which she termed "the stranger's grave," as it really was, being that of an unknown man who had floated ashore near the spot. She gave a thrilling detail of the chase of the pirate up the river, and his escape, after sinking his craft with all on board—a very improbable part of her story—up the steep bank of the river to the woods at its summit; tracing out his after-history, but with less clearness, to his death upon the scaffold. Her description of the personal appearance of Kidd answering to that tradition has given of him, and his costume, which she described, with that of his crew, was probably such as was worn by seamen of their day. Descending to the wreck, she gave a detailed account of its appearance, its armament, and the vast wealth it contained; gold and silver, of untold value, both in coin and bars, gold watches, jewels, silver plate, diamonds of the purest water, and in an iron chest, a golden crown, sparkling with brilliants. When this new revelation became known, it gave renewed impulse to the project, and the balance of the stock remaining unsold went off at a rapid rate.

Among many things seen by the lady in her mesmeric rambles about the wreck, were a hand and wrist of snowy whiteness, preserved in spirits—the wrist encircled by a costly bracelet, and the fingers by jewelled rings—being portions, she said, of the person and ornaments of a beautiful lady whom Kidd held as a prisoner on board his vessel, and, when she died of grief, he had taken this mode of testifying the affection he professed to have for her while living. Rather a barbarous kind of sentiment, one would think, even for a pirate; but probably Kidd was not of the gentlemanly class of pirates Byron has given us in his "Corsair."

The work was continued from early in the spring until late in the autumn of two successive seasons; giving employment to a large number of laborers, besides machinists, engineers and others needed in the various branches of the work. It made lively times at the hotel at Caldwell's Landing, which was filled with those interested in the speculation, some of whom were accompanied by their families. All sorts of the wildest fancies were indulged in as to the riches that were to flow into their coffers when the enterprise was crowned with success. The ladies were promised by their husbands all kinds of indulgences in the way of dress, and other accompaniments of wealth and abundance. One gentleman declared his intention of commemorating the event of exhuming the wreck and its treasures by performing the rather difficult feat of driving his lady in a coach and six around the rim of the coffer-dam. As a specimen of the credulity of some of those engaged in the affair, a resident of New York sold out a good and well-established business in which he was engaged, converted the entire proceeds into cash, and invested nearly the whole amount, some thirteen thousand dollars, in the stock; and in another instance, among others, a farmer in one of the river counties mortgaged a fine farm, that that had descended to him from his father, to raise money for the same absurd purpose.

The construction of the coffer-dam occupied the whole of the first season, and about the middle of the second summer the steam-machinery for pumping out the water was got in operation, but a series of misfortunes befell them. Twice they had nearly reached the mud, when the water broke in, filling the dam to the top. Still, however, they persevered, their work being one more of faith than sight, and having for their encouragement the ancient adage, that "the third time never fails," till at last they succeeded in reaching the bottom of the river, the water being finally all pumped out, when their labors were rewarded, as might have been anticipated, by finding any amount of black mud, with the addition of a plentiful supply of oyster shells and broken bottles from the hotel near the spot.

In the course of a trial that grew out of the affair, it appeared in evidence that there was some knavery as well as a good deal of folly involved in it. A pair of antique-looking iron guns, which were said to have been raised from the wreck and had formed a part of its armament, were proved to have been taken from New York and sunk within the enclosure of the coffer-dam on the night previous to their being fished up from the bottom of the river. Other knavish tricks, equally apparent, were exposed on the trial; notwithstanding which it is difficult to discover a motive for imposture, as the entire proceeds from the sale of the stock must have been expended upon the work, giving employment, as it did, for a large number of men for so long a period, besides the cost of the steam and other requisite machinery. The remains of the coffer-dam, the steam boiler, and other fixtures, were visible to travellers upon the Hudson for a long time afterwards,—a monument of the folly of those who had shared in the delusion.

Nothing could better illustrate the wonderful accuracy, as in the case of "the stranger's grave," mentioned above, in some instances, and the entire unreliability in others, of mesmerism. It was a new thing then to the present generation, being the first of the strange phenomena, such, for instance, in addition to mesmerism, as what are known as "spiritual manifestations," psychology, etc., which have puzzled so many, and that all are equally unable, occasional spurious humbugs in imitations of it apart, to explain or understand. It would be difficult, at present, with the experience time has afforded of the uncertainties of mesmerism, to find any one who would be inclined to risk the smallest amount upon the most promising of its revelations; but it was not so then, and even, when, in the above case, the water had been pumped out of the dam, and several feet of mud removed, without disclosing the visionary wreck, there were not wanting those among the victims of the delusion who still believed in its existence, and that it could be found if the mud were removed to a sufficient depth to reach the spot where they fancied it lay concealed.

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1878.

News and Notes.

Edward Pettengill, alias Anderson, who was arrested in Philadelphia under the name of Edward Perkins on the 28th ultimo, after having negotiated for the sale of $2000 in stolen United States bonds, was brought up for a final hearing before United States Commissioner Smith Wednesday morning. He is charged with having been implicated in the theft of $48,000 in Government securities from the house of Naval Constructor Isaiah Hanscom, in Washington, about the 31st of May, and has been identified as the person who sold $12,000 of the stolen bonds at the banking house of Drexel & Co., in Philadelphia. The defendant, after being committed in default of $25,000 bail, was taken before Judge Cadwallader in the United States District Court, and an order for his removal to Washington made.

The working of the blast furnace of Stephen Robbins & Sons at Philadelphia was somehow impeded Wednesday, and during an effort to cool it off an arch of fire formed in the furnace which fell into the water beneath, and the great steam pressure thus formed, badly scalded a number of employes. John McCheshey, superintendent, cannot survive, and the injuries of half a dozen others are serious.

The Director of the Mint has received a letter from the San Francisco Mint, dated the 2d, stating that 40,000 standard silver dollars were exchanged at the mint that day for a corresponding sum in gold coin. This is regarded as showing that certificates issued at San Francisco for silver dollars deposited there can be used in New York for the payment of customs duties to their better advantage than shipping gold coin or purchasing gold exchange on New York.

An item clipped from an English paper contains a flattering notice of a Belfast, Me., boy, who was placed in a position of great responsibility. Some time since, the English ship Rodeil Bay sailed from Portland, Oregon, for Queenstown, Ireland, for orders. Shortly after leaving port, the captain died. Two weeks later the mate, in a fit of insanity, jumped overboard and was drowned. As the second mate left before the vessel cleared from port, the ship was practically without officers. The command of the vessel now devolved upon the boatswain, Chas. Sweetser, a son of Samuel L. Sweetser, of Belfast, Me. The ship was taken to her port of destination, making an average passage. As a mark of their appreciation for his valuable service, the underwriters on ship and cargo, representing about $300,000, have unanimously voted Mr. Sweetser a handsome gratuity.

It has been discovered that a large fraud has been perpetrated on the city of Montreal in charging double for the stone work on a reservoir lately completed. It is claimed that there was collusion between the party doing the work and the city officials who made the measurements, and one of the latter has left for the United States. It is estimated that the city paid $20,000 too much.

Adolphus Sherman, of Hyde Park, a designer in the employ of Bossum & Cuff, of 619 Albany street, Boston, was sitting at a fourth-story window, Wednesday, when a rifle ball struck him in the left side just below the shoulder, and probably penetrated the lung. It is not known by whom it was fired, or whether by accident or design.

Malcolm A. McNeir has been arrested charged with refusing to carry the United States mail from Ashford to Fort Kent, Me., after having been awarded the contract. This is a case, probably the first, under the late act of Congress intended to break up straw bidding.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has been sued for $10,000 damages by J. A. Conner, or Corinth, Miss., because of a failure to deliver a telegram till two days after it reached the office, so that Mr. Conner could not reach his sister at Bethel, Tenn., before she died.

Constable Thomas Quinn of North Adams, Mass., who was shot by the Troy, N. Y., rough and thief, Tom Monehan, is dead. Monehan will be at once returned to Massachusetts from Troy, where he is in jail for highway robbery in a street car, to be tried for murder.

Ex-Collector Murphy of New York has failed.

John Kennedy and Patrick Horan, who savagely assaulted policeman Veo of Lowell, have been ordered to furnish $500 bail each for trial.

Mr. Cobb and wife and Mr. Bishop and wife were neighbors in Norwich, Conn. Mr. Cobb and Mrs. Bishop died from poison, and Mr. Bishop and Mrs. Cobb have been arrested for murder.

The secret-service agents of the Postal Department have arrested James A. Long, a colored mail agent on the Macon & Augusta railroad, and son of ex-Congressman Long of Georgia, charged with robbing the mail. The evidence against him is very strong."

It is denied that charred wreck stuff belonging to ship Anna Camp has been picked up off Pernambuco.

The Taunton Gazette very politely remarks: "There are some peculiarly sensitive people in this world. A young rowdy will get ripping, raving, staving drunk; shout, howl, fight, bruise, yell, smash and swear for eight or nine hours; get grabbed by a policeman and have his head softened and nose pulled while being coaxed by twisters to the station, and then whine for an hour about a newspaper office to have his name kept from the police record out of regard to the feelings of his poor old mother."

New Hampshire Items.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic State Committee at the Phenix hotel in Concord on Tuesday, July 16th, at eight o'clock P. M., to fix the time and place for holding the several conventions and to transact the usual preliminary business.

Thomas Connors, aged of twelve years, was run over by the cars at Grafton on Tuesday evening, 9th inst., and his head severed from his body. He was lying on his face with his neck across the rail. He was subject to fits, and probably fell while affected by one of them.

The picker house of the Otis mills, Ware, was struck by lightning Tuesday, the 9th, and forty bales of cotton were destroyed or seriously damaged. The mill was saved.

The country store with tenements overhead, stable and two sheds of J. L. Parker, at Candia depot, were burned on the night of the 10th inst. Loss on buildings probably $1200 to $1500. Most of the goods and furniture were saved. The fire is supposed to have originated overhead. Insured.

A thunder storm of fearful force passed over Kennebunkport village Wednesday afternoon, 10th inst., and the lightning struck the house of Mr. Samuel Folsom, a short distance from the Ocean Bluff Hotel. Mr. Folsom and his wife were much injured. She, though bruised and senseless for a time, is improving, but Mr. Folsom, for some three hours after the shock, remained in great distress, with paralyzed limbs and more or less unconscious. The lightning entered through the roof, making a marked passage through the rooms and partitions to the porch, where the sufferers were seated.

Naval Affairs.

Of Secretary Thompson it is humorously said that he prepared himself for his cruise along shore by sleeping in a hammock and having the time of day struck on his dinner bell.

Ex-Paymaster-General Watmough, in a letter to Chairman Whitthorne, of the House naval committee, emphatically denies that he ever received or disobeyed orders from the Secretary of the Navy touching the suspension of any contract made by him (Watmough,) and stamps as utterly false the intimation that his resignation as Paymaster-General was enforced.

The Orange and the Green.

Affairs in Montreal were a menacing aspect on the morning of Friday, July 12th, the anniversary of "Boyne Water," where William of Orange so long ago defeated the forces of King James.

The Orangemen, enraged at the murder of young Hackett last year by a Catholic mob, after the Orangemen had given up their projected parade, and by the failure to punish the murderers, were determined to parade this year at all hazards; the Catholics, principally Irish and French, were equally determined to prevent the parade; the mayor of the city sided with his co-religionists, and forbade the procession; several Protestant magistrates of the city called for government aid to prevent disturbance, and troops were sent under command of Sir Selby Smythe; and Friday morning saw 3000 troops encamped in the city to act for the preservation of order, a force of 500 extra constables sworn in by the mayor to aid the 400 regular police in preventing the Orange demonstration, and the wildest excitement on both sides. The Orangemen's hall was in a state of siege, and the mayor offered the Orangemen protection if they would take off their regalia and go home, which they refused to do. The police eventually dispersed the crowd, they going away peaceably, the Orangemen deciding to give up the procession on the promise of receiving protection from the authorities. They stipulated with the mayor that he should disperse the mob in the vicinity of the hall and place guards on the hall at night to protect it. At last accounts peace and quietness prevailed to a great extent throughout the city, and no great disturbance was expected to occur, although Montreal was crowded with roughs.

An official statement announcing the conclusion of the Anglo-Turkish alliance is published in Constantinople. The statement says that England has engaged to pay the Porte $750,000 yearly, whereas the present revenue of the island of Cyprus is only paying $600,000 per annum.

Blindly Groping

For some medicinal alcoholic resuscitant of physical energy which should take the place of the heady and frequently adulterated stimulants of commerce, the medical practitioners of a quarter of a century ago were electrified on first observing the reviving effects upon the system of a tonic then recently introduced, but which has since become the most popular medicine sold on this continent, viz.: Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their astonishment and admiration were increased when experience farther disclosed that this botanic remedy effected results which the mineral drugs of the pharmacopœia often utterly failed to produce,—among others, the permanent restoration of vigor, the removal of digestive, secretive and evacuative irregularities, and the eradication and prevention of periodic fevers. Speedy recognition of the merits of the Bitters by unprejudiced and enlightened physicians naturally followed this revelation of medical facts, which have since received such frequent and positive confirmation.

JOHNSON'S UNIVERSAL CYCLOPÆDIA.

The list of contributors to this work* comprises Professor Child, Clarence Cook Gen. Garfield, J. G. Whittier, Hon. D. A. Well, Hon. Carl Schurz, Eugene Schuyler, Elisee Reclus, Professor Proctor, President Robinson, President McCosh, Gen. Newton, Hon. L. U. C. Lamar, Professor Hayden, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, John Fiske, R. H. Dana, Felix Adler, Chas. O'Conor, Col. Higginson, and hundreds of others almost equally well known; in short, a prominent specialist in every branch of learning. All the important contributions are signed with the names of their authors, who thus accept the full responsibility of their reputations.

As a whole, we should say that Johnson's Cyclopædia rivals all others in authority and fullness of explanation, while in recognizing the facts necessary for handy reference and adaptation to the wants of the present age in the United States, and the direction of popular desire for information; for economy of space and compactness, it surpasses them. The authoritative commendations of the work from persons qualified to judge equal the weight of the names of editors and contributors, and we select one from President Robinson as an example:

BROWN UNIVERSITY, Providence, Jan. 15th, 1878.

I have Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia, and prefer it to any other for numerous reasons. It is more comprehensive in matter, and more compact in form, and is fuller and more accurate in its treatment of science as applied to the arts. It is unencumbered with commonplace historical materials, or with crude articles compiled by unpracticed hands. It, in short, surpasses all others in the number of thoroughly competent writers, who have been employed in preparing it, and in the amount of wholly new and valuable information which it contains.

E. G. ROBINSON.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, July 12; Batchelder, J.

John Fagin was sent to the house of correction at Brentwood for ninety days, as a vagrant; costs, to be worked out in addition to the ninety days, $6.90. Fagin is a harmless individual, but worthless alike to himself and the public. He has been a regular police-station-customer until the police and everybody else tired of his society, so now he goes up.

Bridget Smith, a married woman with a number of children, the oldest one a daughter of twenty-two years, represented as entirely capable of caring for the younger ones if only the mother was out of the way, was complained of as being a common drunkard; Brentwood for three months; costs $9.18.

THE CITY.

There will be a praise service at the Middle Street Baptist Church on Sunday evening at six o'clock, conducted by the choir. Address by the pastor.

Aaron Akerman, Esq., agent of the Portsmouth Gas Company who has been confined to his house for several weeks by sickness, has so far recovered as to be out and attend to his business again.

Hon. Wm. H. Y. Hackett who has been suffering with a severe bilious attack, which at one time assumed a serious aspect is now pronounced by his physician to be out of danger.

After the installation services of the officers of the New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows on Wednesday evening, the members were treated to a collation at Whitcomb's saloon by the Noble and Vice Grand.

Gov. Prescott and staff visited the navy yard Friday; they were received in form by the officers of the yard and marine corps, and greeted with the regulation salute of seventeen guns.

Trinity Commandry of Knight Templar of Manchester contemplate an excursion to Montreal, leaving Manchester on Tuesday, August 13th, and returning the following Friday evening. They will be accompanied by a band of music; arrangements have been made with the railroads and hotels on the route, and no doubt they will have a delightful time if the weather should be pleasant. It is expected that quite a number of the Sir Knights of DeWitt Clinton Commandry of this city will accompany them.

Mr. Joshua M. Vaughan, of the firm of Vaughan Brothers, bakers, who drives a bread cart through the surrounding country, on returning from a trip through York was badly injured by a kick from his horse below the left knee at Noble's island. The wound was dressed by Dr. Hall, and the patient is now doing well.

As a stove was being lowered from the upper loft of L. V. Newell's store to the lower floor, the fastenings gave way, and the stove fell among a crowd of visitors in the store, but fortunately nobody was injured.

At the Legislature on Thursday, the committee reported it inexpedient to legislate on the bill to amend the charter of this city. The report was adopted.

Schooner-yacht "Lone Star," which lately returned from an extended trip to to the eastward, with C. Morris Tredick and party, on Friday started on a shorter tour to the Shoals and surrounding waters to fish and have a good time generally. Among those on board were our editor-in-chief and local reporter.

Sheriff Kent and Deputy Sheriff Brown have restored to Thomas M. Chase of Hampton a portion of the goods stolen from his store in February last. They were found in Massachusetts and were identified by sale marks.

A large quantity of mackerel was brought into this market on Friday, and were selling very cheap—eight for a quarter of a dollar.

There will be a number of athletic sports at the Shoals to-day, commencing at ten o'clock, the contestants being the young visitors at Star island vs. those at Appledore. Valuable prizes will be awarded to the victors by the boarders at this delightful summer resort.

On Friday as Mr. Enoch Jones, city teamster, was working at the city stables, he slipped on the wet floor, and fell heavily against a chest, badly injuring his side. At last accounts he was improving.

Rev. Lot L. Harmon, late pastor of the Pearl street Freewill Baptist church in this city was in town on Friday.

THE VICINITY.

The thermometer marked 104 above zero in the shade at Stratham during the recent heated term.

Mrs. Lunt of York, celebrated her 89th birthday on the 10th inst., and on the day previous did the family washing.

Captain Sparrow, superintendent of life saving stations for the New England coast, has been on a tour of inspection of the stations, and has called at Rye beach.

A greenback meeting is proposed early in August at York beach. Prominent politicians from the adjoining towns are expected to be present and address the meeting.

Edward Boyce, of Eliot, aged 81 years, works daily in the fields, and has worked all through the late heated term. Having almost the vigor of youth, he has felt no bad effects from his exposure.

Hon. Daniel Clark and wife, of Manchester, are at Star island, Isles of Shoals, where they will sojourn for several weeks with mine host Rymes of the Oceanic.

George E. Gowen of Stratham met with quite a serious accident in this city on the 8th inst. He had just removed the bridle from his horse with a view to baiting him, when he started. Mr. Gowen seized the animal and endeavored to stop him. During the struggle the reins became entangled about the legs of the horse in such a manner that he fell. Unfortunately Mr. Gowen came underneath, and was injured to such an extent that he has been unable to walk since the accident.

Mrs. Benj. Jewell, of South Hampton, came near losing the sight of her eyes June 29, by the explosion of a bottle of ammonia. She had been cleaning paint with it and had placed the bottle on a shelf in the kitchen, where the thermometer was up to a hundred, and having occasion to use the ammonia in another room took the bottle and shaking it in her hand, it exploded, fearfully burning her face and nearly strangling her. It may not be generally understood that ammonia will explode when subjected to great heat. A case of the kind happened in Portland a few years ago when a gentleman lost the sight of both eyes.—News-Letter.

Deacon Daniel Holman, of Biddeford, died at Biddeford Pool, Thursday evening, after about three weeks' sickness. He was one of the pioneers of the hotel business at Biddeford Pool, commencing in a small way about forty years ago. He has built up a large hotel business, and at the time of his death was the owner of the well-known Highland House. He was one of the oldest and most active citizens, and although nearly eighty-two years old, during the last year made a daily trip of nine miles from the Pool to Biddeford and return, as United States mail carrier.

The friends of Mr. Edward W. Perkins, to the number of thirty, gathered at the house of Mr. George S. Wells, in Kittery, on the evening of the 6th and presented him with a valuable Bible. The presentation speech was made by Elder Joel Wilson, and the recipient responded in a happy manner. After the speeches the company sat down to a bountiful supper provided by the ladies. Mr. Perkins has taught the school in District No. Three in Kittery for three years past during the winter terms, and to the entire satisfaction of the community.

Capt. John French of Stratham, while doctoring an ox a few days ago in that town, had one of his ribs broken by being struck by one of the animal's horns.

The Reform Club will hold a meeting in Franklin Hall at four o'clock, or immediately after church in the afternoon. Admission free.

—Young ladies at the seaside are wearing caps like those of the Roman peasant women—little oblong pieces of Swiss or organdie, decorated with lace and ribbons—and long, gold-headed pins are used to pin them on.

—A romance of Senator Windom's early life While studying law in an Ohio town he loved and became engaged to a young lady who was teaching school in the same place. She resigned her position in favor of a younger sister, and returned home to prepare for marriage. While she was stitching upon the wedding garments the young lawyer found a greater attraction in the younger and fairer sister, and they were married. The elder sister, unlike "Bertha in the Lane," did not make a flannel shroud and die, but is alive and single, and on the best possible terms with her outflanking relations.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or

$2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

The Art of Prolonging Life.

People generally desire long life and good health. Sickness and premature death are almost always due to violations of the laws that govern our physical being, and of which the masses are ignorant. If men knew better they would do better; but how can they avoid an evil they know not of? While efforts are made through the public schools to give each child a so-called common English education, yet the children are permitted to grow up and enter upon the responsible duties of active life, profoundly ignorant of the structure of their own bodies, and the laws of physical being upon which their health and lives depend. They are sent to school and crammed with arithmetic, grammar, and geography, by teachers who, in many instances, have never studied physiology and hygiene. They are taught to locate the mountains and trace the rivers of foreign countries, but are never taught to locate the vital organs and glands of their own bodies, or trace the veins, arteries, and nerves, in their various ramifications. They are instructed in the flow of the tides, and the course of the ocean currents, and the philosophy of winds and storms; but they have no correct conception of the relative effects upon their health of breathing pure or impure air, nor has their attention ever been called to the importance of keeping their bodies clean and healthy by regular bathing. The criminality of such neglect in teaching becomes apparent when we consider that the masses, ignorantly violating the laws of health, bring upon themselves sickness, suffering, and death, that might otherwise be avoided. In this condition of things we welcome into being one work that is calculated to impart to thy masses a knowledge of the structure of their own bodies, the laws of health, and the importance of observing those laws. We find Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser to be just such a work. It is physiological and pathological, and the major part of it should be converted into a text-book for the use of common schools. Its careful study will enable the healthy to preserve their health, and the sickly to regain health. Every parent should read it, and as their children become of proper age instruct them in the all-important truths it contains. Were this done, much suffering and premature death would be prevented, and many a youth saved from a life of shame and licentiousness. The book contains nearly one thousand pages, is profusely illustrated with colored plates and wood-engravings, and can be had by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. Price, post-paid, $1.50.—United Brethren Aid Journal.

—It is said that the leaders of Paris society are trying hard to restore the old hoopskirt to favor.

—Edgar Fawcett wishes that "man could make love like a bird," and a chorus of bachelors is heard: "He does, Edgar, he does; like a goose."

—Recently, at a social gathering, Bishop Harris was invited to sing. He declined, but told the following incident as illustrative of his talent in that line: During his journey through Palestine one evening, after he and Mr. Spencer, who occupied the tent with him, had gone to bed, the Bishop began humming a tune of the olden time called New Durham. Mr. Spencer joined in, and the two began singing a verse of one of our familiar hymns. Before the verse was finished a donkey outside of the tent brayed as only a donkey in the east can bray. While the hills of Judea were sending back the echoes of this most extraordinary and untimely performance of the donkey, the Arab dragoman put his head inside the tent and apologizing for his donkey said, "Ha! you sing one tune he think he know."

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALTERATIVE OR

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's overcoming curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mercurial Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which no utility of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, the ability of the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; it is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial agents used in treating such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movement, and full calisthenic exercises, to relieve and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve vitality, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.

EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. Miller's Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

Daily Chronicle.

THE SQUIRE'S HIRED MAN.

"More strawberries?" said Mrs. Wylde, with a perplexed contraction of her brows.

"Yes," said old Phillis, the cook, "an' dar ain't nigh enough left to fill de big glass dish for tea."

"Dear me!" said Mrs. Wylde, "what shall we do? Barbara"—to a slender young girl who was curled up in one of the deep-window seats, reading—"you'll have to go."

"Mamma," said she, "what a nuisance all this is! I don't believe Captain Ellwood Severn is worth all this trouble. I don't believe he'll fall in love with either Maude or Lisette. And I think preserved gooseberries are quite good enough for him."

"Hold your tongue, child!" said Mrs. Wylde, sharply. "Take the basket and go for the strawberries at once."

And Barbara disappeared, unwilligly enough.

"Strawberries, indeed!" said Barbara to herself. "It's dreadful to be the youngest of a family of girls, and have to pick strawberries for one's elder sisters' beaux."

"I wonder which of 'em he'll marry?" said Barbara to herself, as she paused a minute to listen to a robin which, perched on the boughs of a feathery elm beyond the brook, trilled out his barcarolle of glad music. "Lisette is the prettiest, of course, but Maude is literary, and has read all the new books, and can talk so well. Gentlemen like intellectual ladies. I wish"—with a sigh—"that I was intellectual."

And our little maid fell to work at the strawberries again for full five minutes. And then she shook her basket, and peered down into its depths with eyes of azure despair.

"Not half full," said she to herself; "not a quarter full. Oh, dear me! how I wish some one would come to help me. And there is some one stretched provokingly in the shade under Squire Dallas' big oak by the stone wall where the sweet-briers grow. People have no business to lie in the shade when other people have to be working hard in the sun! And I do believe it's Squire Dallas' new hired man, and he ought to be at work in the hay-field instead of lying there under the trees with a book. And he shall work; he shall help me!"

"Young man!" she called out.

"Young man, I say!" she called out again, this time with a certain accent of the imperious in her voice. The recumbent figure under the oak tree straightened itself up at once, and made haste toward the stone wall that separated Squire Dallas' domains from Deacon Wylde's south pasture lot.

"I beg your pardon," said he; "but did you call?"

"Of course I called," said Barbara, thinking within herself how tall and straight and darkly handsome Squire Dallas' new hired man was. "Don't you think, young man, you ought to be at work?"

"At work?" repeated the Spanish-browed stranger. "Well, perhaps I ought."

"There's no perhaps about it," said Barbara, brusquely. "Of course you ought. And since you don't choose to work for your master, you may as well be working for me."

"My—master?"

"Squire Dallas, of course," said Barbara. "Dear me, how stupid you are!"

"And how, may I venture to ask, did you know who I was?" he questioned, in an amused sort of way.

"Oh, it didn't require any great exercise of brilliance for that," responded Barbara, with a wise little nod of the head. "I know Squire Dallas has got a new hired man; and if you're not he, who are you?"

"That's the question," said the stranger, gravely.

"But we mustn't stand talking here," went on Barbara, in a business-like sort of way. "Take the basket and go to picking strawberries just as fast as ever you can, because we're to have company at our house—I'm Barbara Wylde, you know, young man—and I must get back with the berries for dessert as quickly as possible."

"All right," said the stranger; "I'm tolerably quick at this sort of thing, I believe."

"I hope you are," said Barbara—intent on extricating a tiny rose-pricker from the point of her stained forefinger—"and at other things too. Because if you're not, Squire Dallas won't keep you."

"He won't, eh?"

Barbara shook her head. "The last man went away because he couldn't endure the squire's driving ways," said she. "Oh, I was so sorry! He was nice. He used to lend me books and things over the fence, and he taught district school in the winters. I used often to come here and talk with him over the stone wall, because, you see, it's lonesome up at the house, if I do have two grown sisters. Grown sisters are dreadful," with a solemn shake of the head.

"And I suppose you are not grown," said Squire Dallas' hired man, with a curious gleam of amusement around the corners of his mouth.

"No," said Barbara, "I am only sixteen, and I haven't get trains to my dresses yet. But when the girls get married, and one of them is sure to marry this Captain Severn—Oh, take care, you're tipping all the berries out upon the grass! Squire Dallas won't keep you a week if you're as clumsy as that."

But the hired man luckily succeeded in righting the basket before its crimson contents were irretrievably lost.

"It's all right," said he. "See how rapidly it is filling up. But suppose this Captain—I forget what you said his name was?"

"You mustn't forget things," said Barbara. "Squire Dallas never will be suited with that. He's a very particular old gentleman. I mention these things, you know!"—with an air of mild patronage—"because you seem like a nice, respectable young man, and I should like you to keep the place."

"I am much obliged to you," said the stranger, hurriedly putting a strawberry into his mouth.

"Now you are eating the strawberries," said Barbara, severely. "You shouldn't do that."

"One or two is of no consequence, apologized Squire Dallas' hired man. "But I was going to say, suppose this company gentleman—"

"Captain Severn, his name is," interrupted Barbara.

"Yes—suppose that Captain Severn shouldn't fall in love with either of your grown sisters?"

"Then he'd be a very great disappointment," cried out Barbara.

"He might fall in love with you," suggested the young man, regarding his pretty companion with a sidelong glance from beneath his long lashes.

"With me," repeated Barbara, "Me!—a little girl that wears dresses without trains! and isn't out of her scales yet! That's a likely thing, isn't it? Now, I tell you what, young man, you are talking a great deal too much and picking berries a great deal too little. Perhaps, if you're very smart with the berries, I'll bring you one of Phillis' tarts, and put it on the stone fence to-night. Phillis does make the deliciousest strawberry tarts!"

"That would be delicious," said the stranger, promptly.

Barbara gave a scrutinizing glance into the berry basket.

"I begin to think we've got almost enough," said she.

"Not yet," pleaded her companion.

"Yes," nodded Barbara. "And mamma will be in a hurry, and Maude will scold dreadfully if I'm not there in time to do up her back hair. And as for you, young man," relapsing all at once into the severe Mentor again, "you had better get back as fast as possible to your work; and don't let Squire Dallas catch you loitering again, if you're any regard for your place."

The stranger stood with doffed hat, and attitude of chivalrous attention,

"But you'll not forget strawberry tart?" said he.

"Certainly not."

And off she tripped, with rosy-stained lips, golden hair floating recklessly in the wind, and light, elastic feet bowing down the buttercups and red clover as she went.

"Dear me, chile," said Phillis, as she came into the kitchen, rosy and breathless with the haste she had made, "what a time you's been!"

"Not half an hour," cried Barbara, flinging away her hat, and splashing her face with cool water out of the bucket.

"Has he come, Phillis?"

"De company young man, miss?" said Phillis. "No, he ain't. An' Miss Lisette she's a scolding 'cause you ain't ben to arrange de roses for de big bokay in de middle of de table; an' Miss Maude she done can't fix her hair to suit her; an'—dars de missus calling now. Run, Miss Barby, run!"

* * * * *

"There, mamma, I told you so!" said Maude Wylde, the 'intellectual' member of the family. "It will be an inconvenient crowd if Barbara comes to the table."

"Let her wait," said Lisette, serenely.

"But I won't wait!" flashed out Barbara, her blue eyes glittering with indignation. "I will come to the first table. After arranging the roses and gathering the wild strawberriss, and—Mamma, is it right to keep me in the back kitchen all my days?"

"My dear! my dear!" remonstrated Mrs. Wylde, "you are forgetting yourself."

"And I do so want to see Captain Severn!" added Barbara, resolutely choking down the big sob which rose to her throat.

"What nonsense!" said Lisette, the dove-eyed beauty with the rippling hair and the complexion of rose and snow. "As if Captain Severn would ever look at you!"

"But I may look at him, I suppose?" cried indignant Barbara, "And I'm sixteen years old, and you've no right to treat me like a baby."

"Children! children! don't go to quarreling," said Mrs. Wylde. "And Barbara can sit just behind the tea urn, and I dare say we shall have plenty of room."

"There!" said Barbara, with a triumphant grimace at her sister.

"Horrid little spoiled child!" said Maude.

"Barbara always gets her own way," commented Lisette.

"Hush!" said Mrs. Wylde, authoritatively. "Here comes your papa up the laurel walk with Captain Severn."

Lisette peeped from behind the folds of the fluted Swiss curtains, Maude ran to the Venetian blinds of the bay-window and Barbara climbed with sixteen-year-old agility into a chair to peep over her sister's shoulder.

"Oh, good gracious!" cried she, dropping from her aerial perch with startling suddenness.

"What is it?" said Maude.

"It's Squire Dallas' hired man!" gasped Barbara.

"What?" said Lisette.

"I—I don't mind about the first table," said Barbara, turning pink and white, like a York-and-Lancaster rose. "I'd rather eat in the kitchen with Phillis," and away she darted like a scared young doe, before any one could stop her.

* * * * *

"Go away," said Barbara indignantly.

She had cried until her eye-lashes were all glittering and her cheeks stained with tears, to say nothing of the crushed state of her sash ribbon and white muslin dress, and now she sat crouched under the shadow of the great flowering almond bush, as if she would fain retreat utterly out of the world of sight and hearing. Captain Severn stood immovable before her, with folded arms and questioning eyes.

"I shall not go away," said he, "until you have pardoned me."

"How can I ever pardon you?" flashed out Barbara. "You have imposed upon me, you have practiced on my credulity."

"You asked me to help you gather strawberries—and I helped you."

"You allowed me to suppose that you were Squire Dallas' hired man."

"I claimed no identity, one way or the other," pleaded Captain Severn. "I was trying to find my way by a short cut across the fields to your father's house, and sat down under the oak tree to rest. And when you called me I came, like a true knight of old. Now if you can convict me of any serious offense in all this, I stand ready to abide the consquences."

"You never, never will be able to forgive men," sobbed Barbara, again retiring behind the end of her blue sash.

"Little Barbara," said Captain Severn, falling on his knees, as if it were the most natural and conventional thing in the world to do, "will you forgive me?"

And what could Barbara say but "Yes?"

Captain Severn insisted upon his strawberry tart that evening, according to agreement, and they ate it together, he and Barbara, like two school-children, out on the lawn, while Maud yawned behind a book, and Lisette acidely wondered "what on earth Captain Severn could find to amuse him in the chatter of a child like Barbara."

And when the red leaves of late October choked up the little stream beside which they had gathered wild strawberries, there was a wedding at the Wylde homestead, and the bride was, not Maude the intellectual, nor the lovely Lisette, but little Barbara.

"Dat's no accounting for true love," said old Phillis, as she stirred the wedding cake.

News and Notes.

The Baltimore Sun says: "A story, originating with the Louisville (Ky.) Argus, is going the rounds of the press, and has been reprinted in Baltimore, to the effect that Miss Mary Anderson, the actress, was married in May last to a son of Gen. John C. Fremont. This is a mistake. The young man in question did marry a Miss Anderson, but the bride is a young lady of Washington, who won considerable reputation in that city last winter as an amateur singer. Young Fremont, who is an officer in the United States navy, at last accounts was in Paris with his bride, while Miss Anderson, the actress, is sojourning in London."

William B. Andrews, a young man of twenty-two years, formerly in trade in Rockland, Me., but more recently in the fish business at Addison, Me., and selling fish in New York, has obtained between six and seven thousand dollars from banks in Thomaston and Rockland on forged checks, and escaped with his booty.

Mrs. Kitty Stahl was arrested at Peoria, Ill., Thursday, for the murder of James O'Neill, several months ago, at Bloomington. She was accused by her husband of being too intimate with O'Neill, and she killed the latter. Hattie Gray was also arrested as an accomplice. Mr. Stahl is in New Orleans, having left his wife.

The Indian Bureau is advised by Capt. Dougherty, acting Indian Agent at the lower Brule agency, D. T., that one D. W. Spaulding had been detected introducing ammunition to the Indian country. Traffic in ammunition has been this man's business the last two years. He being on his own land it is impossible to reach him under the provisions of the President's order of November 23, 1876. Capt. Dougherty says that at least 150,000 rounds of fixed ammunition have passed over the Missouri river at a place known as Brule City within the last two years.

The Supervising Inspector-General of Steamboats has issued a circular directing his inspecting officers to exact a strict compliance in all cases with the instructions contained in the last paragraph of section 4407 of the Revised Statutes, and in case of the refusal or failure of any master of a steamer to furnish the number of passengers carried, the fact of such refusal must be immediately reported to a United States District Attorney for prosecution. Of the penalty of $100 provided in section 4468 of Revised Statutes, section 4469 Revised Statutes makes the penalties thus incurred a lien upon the vessel in each case. The Supervising and Local Inspectors furnish his office with a list containing the names of all excursion steamers in their various districts and their routes, together with the whole number of passengers each steamer is allowed to carry.

A trampet fire to a house in Milton, Pa., on Thursday, because refused what he wanted. The house and an adjoining building were burned down.

The sun's rays generated gas in a whiskey barrel in a liquor store at Steubenville, Ohio, Thursday, and the barrel exploded, killing a son of the proprietor.

The Post Office Department has ruled, at the request of a number of postmasters who asked for instructions, that there is no objection to a postmaster becoming a member of a political association, but he must not be an officer thereof or take any prominent part in its management.

During the last six months 91,262 car loads of all kinds of grain were inspected into store in Chicago, against 49,458 cars in the same time last year, and 53,552 cars in 1876.

Lieut. John A. Rucker, U. S. A., was drowned in Arizona river Friday evening, while unavailingly trying to rescue Lieut. Austin Herley from the water. The two officers belonged to the 6th U. S. Cavalry, and bore high reputations for bravery. Lieut. Rucker was a son of Gen. Rucker, and a brother of Mrs. Gen. Sheridan.

Tammany celebrated the Fourth of July by denouncing the army as the foe of American liberties and the standing menace of popular institutions. Times have changed, we should say, since compliments to the Boys in Blue used to be the stock phrases of public speakers. While Tammany's rebel allies were getting the worst of it at the South, abuse of the Union soldiers was not considered politic in these regions; but since the Confederate brigadiers tramped into the Capitol, the democracy of the north has shown its true colors. Probably we shall find out before the year is over that it succeeded in doing more for the crippling and punishment of the army in the last session of Congress than has commonly been supposed. It showed its feeling toward Sherman, Sheridan, and the other heroes of the Union, by cutting down their pay and taking away their horses. It laid a heavy tax upon the ill-paid officers by cutting off their fuel, the result of which bit of injustice, as General Sherman explains, must be that officers at posts on the distant and barren frontier, where trees do not grow, and there are no coal yards, will have to spend almost their whole income for firewood. But the most ingenious device for injuring the service was the enactment with regard to horses. The army has now been so regulated by Bourbon legislation that officers of artillery must go afoot while their men ride. No sooner is a battery ordered into action than away rush the privates with the guns, while the commanders are left far in the rear.—Tribune.

—The power of heat is shown at the Rockport (Mass.) Granite Company's quarry by the upheaval during the past few days of a stratum of rock 100 feet long, ten to fifteen feet wide, about five feet thick, and weighing 1000 tons, which has been cracked and bulged upward by the hot sun.

—One who claims to know says if any one is troubled with sleeplessness, let him fasten his attention on his breathing, and fix his eyes, as it were, on the stream of breath as it enters and leaves his nostrils. Of course, he is lying in bed with his eyes closed, so that this process is imaginary. If he continues to watch his breathing in this way for three minutes, he will fall into a dreamless and refreshing sleep.

—"I arose at six in the morning, and see what I found in taking a walk on the highway," said the fond father, displaying a silver dollar; "is that not a proof of the advisability of early rising?" "No," replied the son. "And why?" asked the father, just as people always do in fables and Sunday-school stories. "Because the fellow who lost it," boldly replied the son, "got up too early for his own good."—Puck.

—Years ago, one cold winter night, an old farmer went into the L—— house in D——, and found all the seats around the fire occupied by the lawyers of the place, who were having a chat. No one made room for the old man at the fire; finally one of them, B——, looked up and said: "Where in h—l did you come from?" The old man replied, "a place in h—l that strongly resembles this." "How so?" asked B——. "Because," replied the old man "the lawyers occupied all the seat nearest the fire." It is unnecessary to add the old man got a seat by the fire.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

—An Iowan has invented a balloon-turban fire-escape, to be placed on the head and fastened firmly beneath the chin. When a fire breaks out the wearer adjusts it firmly on his head and jumps out of the window; the air fills the balloon and expands it, and the wearer floats to the ground as lightly and gently as a thistle-down. By way of additional precaution padded shoes, with springs in the soles, are provided.

THE CITY.

Capt. George Wallace Tucker has recently arrived home from sea, looking well and receiving the greetings of his friends.

Hon. Solon Chase, the father of the greenback party of Maine, has been invited to address the citizens of Portsmouth at an early date, under the auspices of the local greenback club.

Referring to the circumstantial account given by the Times of this city as to the method of operations adopted by the incendiary who recently destroyed a sawmill at Cape Neddick, the Biddeford Times says: "Better have the editor of the Portsmouth Times summoned as a witness, as he evidently has positive evidence to give."

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, July 13; Batchelder, J.

Patrick Sheehan, drunk, $9.90. Brentwood.

Clarence Jenness, two complaints for aggravated assault (on ladies,) bound over in $100 to appear at October term of Supreme Court, in each case.

CAPT. JOHN MASON.

A fac-simile of the tablet on the memorial to Captain John Mason, erected in the year 1876, in the Garrison church at Portsmouth, England, has just been placed in the mayor's room of the city building in this city. It reads as follows:

D. D. John Scribner Jenness, Charles Levi Woodbury, Charles Wesley Tuttle, Alexander Hamilton Ladd, Charles Henry Bell, Eliza Appleton Haven, Charlotte Maria Haven, (All of New Hampshire, U. S.) To the Glory of God, and in memory of Capt'n John Mason, Captain in the Royal Navy, Treasurer of the Army, Captain of South Sea Castle, Governor of the Colony of Newfoundland, Patentee and founder of New Hampshire in America, Vice Admiral of New England. Born 1586. Died 1635. This faithful Churchman, devoted Patriot and gallant Officer, of whom England and America will ever be proud, was buried in Westminster Abbey.

This tablet measures thirty inches by seventeen; on the left hand is the seal of New Hampshire, drawn on a radius of four inches. Around the circle of the seal is: "Res Publica Neo. Hantoniensis, 1784."

AT THE SHOALS.

All through the late hot spell the thermometer stood from ten to fifteen degrees lower at the Shoals than it did in this city. The temperature at the Appledore was ninety degrees for a short time one day, the highest on record for that place; the same day it was one hundred degrees in this city.

The Appledore house was full on Saturday, and the Oceanic had about one hundred and thirty guests—a larger number than ever before so early in the season.

Last year, towards the close of the season, the "Appledore Athletic Association," composed of guests of the house, had a day's sport of foot-racing, jumping, sack-racing, etc., which was productive of much fun. On Saturday last the second field day of the association took place, and was a great success, over four hundred persons (a large number of them being from the Oceanic,) witnessing the various matches. The first event was a dash of one hundred yards, the contestants being E. J. Wendell and M. O. Mason of New York, and A. Hodgdon of Boston, Wendell winning in ten and three quarters seconds, with Mason six feet behind at the finish. Putting the shot came next, this contest being won by E. A. Woolston of Philadelphia, who threw a sixteen-pound ball twenty-eight feet. Then came a three-legged race, Messrs. Wendell and G. W. Mason being the winners. A standing horizontal jump was won by M. O. Mason, who cleared eight feet six and a half inches; a race of a hundred yards over seven hurdles was won by E. J. Wendell; and a running high jump was won by A. Hodgdon, who cleared four feet six inches. Then came a hop of fifty yards, in which five contestants managed to hop a dead heat, owing to fouls and stumbles; and then a hundred yards hop for boys under fifteen years of age was won easily by a Master Humbert, of New York. A potato race concluded the games, Messrs. Wendell, Woolston, Clements and Gardner contesting. Wendell took the lead, keeping it to near the end, when he fell, being picked up insensible, though not hurt. Woolston won, his nearest competitor ending four yards in the rear. The prizes consisted of elegant silver goblets and cups. The judges were H. A. Duhring of Philadelphia and A. H. Hinckler of Cincinnati; starter, R. S. Gray; referee, J. R. Paine of Harvard University.

Flying from one of the flagstaffs in front of the Appledore house, this season, is an immense burgee bearing the name of the house. Asking Oscar how long it was, he replied, "Don't know—much as thirty feet, I guess." We are willing to wager a bottle of tonic that it's fully fifty feet long. It is a very handsome flag, and was made by Mr. Thos. S. Gay of this city, we believe.

EASTERN RAILROAD ITEMS.

Mr. John W. Bowker, cashier of the freight department of the Eastern railroad at East Boston, left his home nearly two weeks since for a week's sojourn in Atlantic City, and has not been heard from since that time. The officers of the road have searched for him, but without success. The safe had not been opened up to Saturday.

An attachment has been made of all the right, title and interest of the Eastern railroad in the capital stock of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad at the suit of the National Bank of Commerce, which claims to recover a hundred thousand dollars in damages. The suit is founded on a note of the Eastern railroad made in November, 1876, payable in three months. It is not probable that anything can be secured by this attachment, as such a contingency was long since anticipated by the Eastern.

THE VICINITY.

The Congregational society of Newington has appointed a committee of three to confer with Rev. E. J. Rokes relative to his becoming the society's pastor.

It was reported, Sunday evening, that the farm buildings of Mr. Leonard C. Cook, of York, were destroyed by fire that day. We hope the report is incorrect.

The Great Falls Cadets went into camp at York beach Saturday evening, and intend to remain there a week. This is the company that won such encomiums at Concord on inauguration day, as being the finest company in the line, everything considered.

A special meeting of the school board of Dover was held Friday evening to consider the matter of retaining a superintendent of schools elected at the meeting of the board the previous Saturday evening. The meeting was largely attended by the best citizens, a decided opposition being manifested to the election of a superintendent. The prevailing opinion seemed to be that the citizens did not want a superintendent, as a reduction of teachers' salaries was made necessary to provide for the salary of this new official. The question was raised as to whether the board had authority to create the office of superintendent, and the board adjourned to next Friday to await the decision of the city solicitor. A great deal of feeling has arisen over the matter.

Chronicle Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 13th.

This week has been one of tiresome work for different committees, especially for the committee on railroads, which has had open sessions nearly every evening and has been attended by more than half the members at each sitting. The railroad committee has closed its hearings upon the subject of taxation, and will probably make a report early next week. Nothing further can be said of it now than that there will in all probability be a majority and a minority report.

The committee on military affairs have considered the report of the committee on revision of military laws, and the amendments proposed by the committee have been printed; its discussion will come up next week.

The committee on revision of statues have made their report to the House, and action upon it is only being delayed while the amendments offered by the committee are being printed, which will be completed early in the week. The indications are that the committee have thoroughly done their work, and in all probability their report will be adopted without much discussion.

It can be seen from the above that the coming week is to be one of the busiest of the session, as well as one of the most important. It seems to be the policy of the democrats to defer the consideration of important measures as much as possible, and to prolong the session. Last Wednesday, when the special assignment came up, which was the address for the removal of Major Crowell, register of probate of Hillsborough county, the democrats succeeded in having it deferred until Wednesday next so that John G. Sinclair could be present and conduct the case or decapitation. It may be assured that a warm political fight will be carried on then.

The committee on pauperism made a report that the subject of building a State tramp house be indefinitely postponed, and the report was adopted.

A warm political measure was brought up on Friday morning, when the Portsmouth delegation, through its chairman, T. S. Tredick, reported that House bill number twenty-eight, entitled an act to amend the charter of the city of Portsmouth, ought to pass. Mr. Wendell of Portsmouth moved to strike out section one of the bill, explaining that the bill thus drawn up would change the senatorial districts somewhat. Mr. Curtis explained its provisions and spoke against the striking out of the section. The motion was lost upon a roll call by a vote of 130 in the negative and 112 in the affirmative. Mr. Wendell offered an amendment to section two to the effect that in each ward a ballot box should be made, large enough to contain all the ballots to be cast during the election, that no ballot should be removed until the close of the polls, and that the moderator of each ward should invite the candidate receiving the next highest vote for moderator into the desk to see that no trickery was used in counting the vote. Then followed a racy and spicy debate between Messrs. Wendell and Curtis. Mr. Curtis claimed that fraud could not be prevented by this means, and shew up some of the old democratic tricks of days gone by. It was an amusing debate to members not particularly interested, in which the doctor came out as first man. The amendment was lost, owing to the fact that a quorum was not present to vote, and that not two-thirds of those present and voting, voted in the affirmative. Further consideration was deferred until next week to enable Mr. Wendell to consider an amendment suggested by Mr. Stevens of Nashua, similar to that ingrafted in the Nashua bill now before the House.

Naval Affairs.

Passed Assistant Surgeon John S. Bransford and Assistant Engineer Robert W. Gait have reported for duty on board the Speedwell at this station. The steamer coals and tests her engines the first part of this week, in preparation for leaving for Gloucester at an early day. The work performed under the Fish Commissioners is of a very important character, looking toward the increase of fish in the waters along our coast.

Secretary Thompson will to-day visit the Brooklyn navy yard, after which he will examine the torpedo station at Newport, thence proceed to Boston, and then he will come to this naval station.

Passed Assistant Engineer Nathan P. Towne is ordered to hold himself in readiness for sea duty.

Assistant Naval Constructor John F. Hanscom, attached to the League island navy yard, is granted leave of absence for three weeks from July 16th.

—Two Germans met in San Francisco recently. After affectionate greeting the following ensued: "Fen you said you hey arrived?" "Yesterday." "You came dot Horn around?" "No." "Oh! I see, you came dot Isthmus across?" "No." "Oh! den you come dot land over?" "No." "Den you bef not arrived." "Oh, yes! I hef arrived. I come dot Mexico through."

—Yonkers had a Fourth of July orator who said: "And while the heart of our nation continues to throb, while the hollyhock of liberty dissimulates its fragrance over the aria of our domain, while the gratitude of the free-born tons of soil—I mean sons of toil—recalls the heroism of those who bought and fled—excuse me, I should have said fought and bled—for us, so long will we treasure the noble heresy bequeathed to us by our bat-riotic posterity."

—His Majesty the King of the Sandwich islands is "one of the boys." On a recent Sabbath evening, while rambling around Honolulu, he discovered fire issuing from the cottage occupied by the French Commissioner. His Majesty instantly yelled "Fire!" at the top of his royal voice, and as promptly seized the garden hose and turned a stream on the flames. The damage done was slight, but Kal. doubtless saved the town from a serious fire.

—M. Alma Tadema has probably the most artistic grand piano in the world. It has just been finished by Broadwood, the noted English manufacturer, and is formed and decorated in the Byzantine manner. The top of the instrument is inlaid with various colored woods, ivory, mother-of-pearl and ebony, and the panels on the carved sides contains figures of owls, nightingales and cuckoos; while inside the covers are large panels of ivory, to receive autograph signatures of the distinguished musicians who may use the instrument.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at the port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

—The contractors for convict labor in the Vermont State prison give each prisoner a plug of tobacco every week, and about 2700 more hats are made a year than would otherwise be turned out.

—The arrival of the Cimbria at Mount Desert was a breeze blowing good luck to the seventeen landlords of the island. Not only are the officers and crew spending their money with sailor-like prodigality, but the curiosity of the travelling public has been excited by the event, and the prospect is that the island will be more crowded than ever before. It is slightly inconvenient, though natural, that the Cimbria should stop at Southwest Harbor, while beauty, fashion and art congregate at Bar Harbor, which is half a day distant, either by wagon or by sail.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the old, nauseous, and bulky pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other form of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, the gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that these Pellets are, when taken as a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the ability only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On this matter, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it, for any of the purposes for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weaknesses, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain a THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13th.

The population of this District does not exceed 150,000 souls all told; perhaps 125,000 is a more accurate approximation. Washington is exceptional in that it has next to no commerce, and very little manufacturing, that little being restricted to a few articles to supply local demands. We probably have fewer really wealthy men in proportion to the total population than almost any city in the world, though we may have our proportional part of men in easy circumstances. About one-third of our total population is colored. A vast majority of them came here during the war and since as contrabands or as freedmen, wholly without means, and have remained, most of them, similarly impecunious. An uncertain number of them—thousands certainly—live wholly or in part by begging. Their children are taught the "profession" and go from door to door soliciting food and clothing and refusing nothing portable. Twenty calls a day at the same house is no unusual occurrence. It is readily seen how little this element can contribute in the way of taxes. Aside from members of Congress, who average half the time here but who, with few exceptions, are as unprofitable to the District Treasury as those just considered, no small part of our population is made up from the thousands of departmental and other government employes, great and small; only a small fraction of these pay any taxes. But the real tax-payers have provided fine streets, lighted at night, police protection, and school facilities for all three of the classes last enumerated. Excluding the Cumberland coal, grain and flour trade, Georgetown has little to boast of over this city in the way of trade. Let all this be remembered in connection with the fact that Congress in or about 1871 abolished our old form of government and substituted therefor a territorial form. The Board of Public Works, consisting of a few men, was the essential feature of the new experiment. How notorious they soon became is not likely to be forgotten during this century. Though handling millions upon millions of public funds, its members were wholly irresponsible. Bonds to the extent of not one cent were exacted for the honest and faithful performance of their duties. They were arrogant and insolent, and disposed of citizens' property according to the dictates of caprice, private or personal grudges, or otherwise in accordance with their own sweet wills, without let or hindrance. There was positively no redress, and the full history of their few years' misrule yet remains to be written. An investigation early in 1874 stopped their career, and it was then found that the debt of the District, comparatively insignificant when they assumed power, had been carried up to between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. Subtract from the total population the classes above enumerated as paying nothing, and it will be seen how little hope the small remainder have, that are held for the payment of this debt, of avoiding absolute confiscation if full payment is exacted, and the forlorn character of this hope will appear still more decided if the smallness of their aggregate means is still kept in mind, and the limited number of avenues open to them to make money rapidly. Now for the bearing of all this on the action of the Congress just adjourned. After two-fifths of the property of citizens had been sold to pay taxes, the matter got before the courts and the several decisions rendered were to the effect that the assessments for special improvements were unconstitutional, fraudulent and oppressive. Some time ago the Senate passed a bill in effect to go on and collect these taxes under existing laws. During the closing hours it was half-surreptitiously hurried to the House, and rushed through when no quorum was present. It looks like an effort of certain members of Congress to frighten citizens into paying these assessments made in the interest of the First National Bank of New York, which holds the tax-lien certificates. The President and his Cabinet are reported of the opinion that this action of Congress in no sense legalizes what was unconstitutional and illegal, and that it bars none from seeking redress in the courts. The amount of these "special improvement taxes" yet unpaid is said to be about $1,500,000; and the enforcement of their payment now will result in the loss of their homes to many poor families who have struggled through nearly five years of depression, barely managing to pay ordinary taxes. It is also said that at about the last hour the bill to exempt Mrs. Ex-Senator Sprague from the payment of all taxes on an estate left her by her father, was passed. Tax-payers here cannot help feeling that this is one of the most barefaced and flagrant of the many outrages practiced on them by Congress, first and last. Bills for the relief of others abundantly able to pay their assessments have been introduced from time to time. Members of Congress will understand that every dollar abated in behalf of these favored few must be made up by the mass of the poorer tax-payers, who have Congressional influence just in about the proportion with their wealth or lack of it. I trust the love of fair play inherent in most of our fellow-citizens elsewhere will excuse this entire letter devoted to District affairs. We are wholly in the hands of Congress except as the courts interfere in our behalf. But we want an opportunity of letting others know of our ruined and undone condition, and solicit their sympathy and good offices. KNOX.

Portsmouth Chronicle

TUESDAY, JULY 16, 1878.

The International Congress.

The Congress of Nations at Berlin held its last sitting Saturday, when the treaty was signed by all the plenipotentiaries. The event was afterwards celebrated by a court dinner. Bismarck, in a speech closing the Congress, declared he did not hesitate to affirm this Congress deserved well of Europe. The plenipotentiaries had the consciousness of having, as far as was possible, restored and assured peace. He entertained a firm hope the European understanding would remain durable, and that the cordial relations established among the plenipotentiaries would consolidate the good relations between their governments. Bismarck incidentally remarked that his health was such he had scarcely hoped to preside over the Congress until its conclusion. Gortshakoff left for home on Saturday, and Beaconsfield on Sunday.

The Indian War.

Advices from Oregon indicate that the Indian difficulties in that quarter are assuming a very grave aspect. Gov. Chadwick declares that nearly all the ostensibly friendly Indians are secretly aiding the hostiles, for whom they act as scouts and spies. The Governor has called out three hundred volunteers for the emergency. Despatches report that on Friday a detachment of troops under Capt. Miles was engaged in a desperate fight with the Indians two miles from the Pendleton agency.

The "Fraud" Correspondence Condensed.

The New York Graphic thus condenses the correspondence between John Sherman, Secretary of the Treasury, and Clarkson N. Potter, chairman of the Anderson-Weber-Butler-democratic campaign committee:

To Hon. Clarkson N. Potter: If you please, I would like to introduce some testimony for the defence.
JOHN SHERMAN.

To Hon. John Sherman: Such an outrage cannot be permitted. In this trial no testimony will be allowed except for the prosecution. Not if I know myself.
C. N. POTTER.

An Unpardonable Crime.

Samuel J. Randall, the democratic Speaker of the "democratic House," sent to the editor of the Oneonta (N. Y.) Herald this 4th of July sentiment:

When the iron rule of stern necessity darkens every household in the land, extravagance on the part of the people's servants is an unpardonable crime.

This noble sentiment of Randall's has been widely quoted by the democratic papers, to show the people just what kind of men the democrats elevate to high office. Among other papers, the democratic Rochester (N. Y.) Union prints it, and adds:

And no class of the people's servants are more guilty of unpardonable crime than the Congressmen who took and kept the back pay steal of $5000 each, five years and four months ago.

As Samuel J. Randall, next to Ben Butler, was the chief engineer of the back pay steal, and has never given up his share of the plunder, the Union's comment on his noble sentiment seems rather rough, especially when it is remembered that the democrats have so far pardoned his "unpardonable crime" as to place him in the highest position in the nation to which democratic votes have elevated any man for almost a score of years.

Gen. Twiggs' Swords.

It is stated that a lady in England has made a demand on the government for the swords of the late Gen. Twiggs, which were captured at New Orleans by Gen. Butler. They are valued at $35,000. These swords are now in the United States Treasury, where they were deposited by Butler as the property of the nation soon after their capture. Some time ago another "lady," claiming to be Gen. Twiggs' niece, had old Ben in court for stealing these swords, nobody then knowing where they were; and the democratic papers sang pæans in honor of the utter overthrow of the man they then hated so fervently. But Ben defended his own case, produced government receipts showing that he had turned in the property years before, and certificates that the swords were then held by the government; and he also offered to prove that the "lady," instead of being the old soldier's niece, was in reality only his ex-mistress—but at this point the prosecution withdrew, greatly to the grief of the democratic press.

News and Notes.

The people of Plum Island, at the entrance to Newburyport harbor, have lived inharmoniously for some time, and Saturday night Edwin F. Hunt, son of the light tender, went to the hotel to shoot Calvin Tibbetts, the landlord, and fell into a dispute with Michael Doherty, the hostler, and fired a pistol shot at him, which Doherty returned with a blow on the head with a lantern. William M. Stone went to Doherty's assistance, when Hunt fired twice at him without effect. He was arrested.

There was a heavy storm at Valparaiso the latter part of May, which was reported by telegraph at the time. Advices by mail say the storm was fully as severe as first reported. Most of the vessels that were driven on the beach will be broken up, only one being relaunched. About twenty lives were lost among the wrecked vessels. Great damage was also done ashore to houses. Twenty-five vessels were damaged in the harbor by dragging their anchors, losing spars, etc.

A man and woman wearing orange-colored ribbons were shockingly beaten by a lot of Irish in New York, Friday, and Judge Flammer sent them both to Blackwell's island for thus causing a row.

Edward S. Stokes, the murderer of Jim Fisk, has named a favorite mare Josie Mansfield, in honor of the abandoned woman whose foul love was the cause of his quarrel with Fisk. The society with the long name should resent this insult to a defenceless animal.

A young man named Bancroft, of Plainfield, Vt., blew the top of his head off Friday night with a shot-gun, owing to a dispute with his father. The suicide was twenty-one years old.

Rose Stewart, of Anne Arundel county, Md., shot Ida Black, a colored girl of sixteen, through the head with an "unloaded" pistol, and killed her instantly. The officers have arrested the Stewart girl for murder, just the same as they would have done had the pistol been loaded.

Wisconsin has just passed a law legalizing the marriage of any man and woman who simply agree to live together as husband and wife.

The survey for the Seaboard Oil Pipe Line has been completed. It commences in the oil regions of western Pennsylvania, in the valley of the Allegheny river, at a a point one and a half miles below Monteroy Station, on the Allegheny Valley railroad, and takes nearly a straight course over the highlands of Indiana and Cambria counties, descends the face of the Allegheny mountains, crosses the mountains and valleys of middle Pennsylvania, the south mountain range, the red sandstone plane in front of them, and the hills of middle Maryland, passing one mile south of Westminster and one mile south of Reisterstown, following the ridge between the Patapsco river and Gwynn's falls, and terminating at the mouth of Curtis' creek, Baltimore, a total distance of 228 miles. Work on the proposed line will soon be commenced.

The United States Consul at Chin Klang, China, writes to the State Department that the demand there for American cotton drills is rapidly increasing. Kerosene oil is also largely imported.

The oldest railroad clerk in the world has just died. W. N. Found, of Burkenbed, England, booked the first passenger that travelled over the Liverpool and Manchester railroad. So recent a thing is the railroad.

The Chicago Commercial Advertiser says crop reports collected from numerous localities in Minnesota, Nebraska and Kansas represent that the outlook for wheat in those States is even better than it was last year, both as to acreage and yield.

Sixteen deaths from sunstroke occurred Saturday in St. Louis, where the mercury went up to 100 in the shade.

Judge Ludlow, Saturday, in Philadelphia, decided that Helmbold was a lunatic and refused a motion to supersede a commission of lunacy in his case.

Naval Affairs.

John McKeown, a sailor on board the U. S. S. Tennessee, is under trial by court-martial at Brooklyn navy yard, charged with attempting to murder Master Davis while the ship was at Naples.

The U. S. S. Essex was at Rio Janeiro June 19th, just arrived from the river Plate. The other vessels of the South Atlantic squadron were then expected to arrive at Rio Janeiro.

New Hampshire Items.

Arthur Bingham of Nashua committed suicide Friday night by taking morphine.

At a recent meeting of the trustees of Tilden Ladies' Seminary, Prof. Hiram Orcutt was unanimously re-elected Principal, a position he has already held for thirteen years. The new lease extends this engagement eleven years longer.

Martin V. Dickey, the murderer of Frank A. Eastman at Plymouth, was seen in New York city on the 4th of July, and the police are trying to hunt him up.

The corner stone of a new Universalist church was laid in Kingston on the 11th inst., with appropriate ceremonies.

James Fizzette, a Frenchman, was drowned in Hart's Pond, Canaan, Saturday night, by the upsetting of a boat while fishing. His body was recovered. He leaves a large family.

Walter Greenwood, while working on the new dam at Nashua, Saturday, was struck by a falling beam, and so badly injured that he died in a few hours. He was sixty years old, and a much respected citizen.

—An irrepressable Western tourist, who recently visited an Italian convent and was shown by a monk a consecrated lamp which had never gone out during five centuries, bent over and gave the flame a decisive puff, and remarked with cool complacency, "Well, I guess it's out now!"

"Waiting at the River."

As the Irishman stood waiting at the river for it to run by in order that he might cross over, so people wait when suffering with constipation, forgetful that the cause is torpid liver and dyspepsia, and that it never cures itself, but must be overcome by some gentle yet positive cathartic. No medicine or combination of medicines yet discovered give such prompt and permanent relief as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

DR. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
Dear Sir—I was sickly from youth up, for seven years life was a burden, my food would not digest, and my liver was enlarged. I tried various remedies, but to no purpose. Your Pellets have effected my entire cure. Inclosed please find $1.50 for a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. I regard it as the best book ever published. I am trying to get others to use your medicines and read your book. Yours truly,

THE CITY.

Piscataqua Lodge of Odd Fellows on Monday evening voted to indefinitely postpone the question of subscribing for stock in the proposed new hall.

The Universalist society have a picnic at Pinkham's grove on Wednesday; Harlow's string band furnishes the music for dancing. The temperance society have a picnic at Davis' woods, Sagamore creek, on Thursday.

Schooner Sharon, Capt. Donnell, from York with cord-wood for the Dover point brickyards, and three-masted schooner Hattie Lollie, from Philadelphia for Newmarket with a cargo of coal, were moored to the draw-pier of Portsmouth bridge on Sunday, awaiting a chance to go up the river.

Rev. Alfred Elwyn preached at St. John's church on Sunday, Rev. Mr. Holbrook, the rector, having gone to Rye beach to conduct the opening services of the season at St. Andrew's Episcopal chapel. Rev. Mr. Gibson, of St. Luke's church, Baltimore, will officiate at St. John's next Sunday.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge will be masted to-day at the navy yard. The Ticonderoga, which has been on the ways for months, undergoing repairs, is all ready to be shoved off into the floating dock, but she will not be until the Secretary of the Navy arrives here on his tour of inspection. The Speedwell will make a trip to sea to-day, to try her engines.

Steamer Cambridge, Capt. Ingraham, will leave Boston on Sunday forenoon next for an excursion to this city, arriving here at about half-past two o'clock in the afternoon; she will remain here some three-quarters of an hour, and leave Pier wharf on her return trip at a quarter past three o'clock. Tickets for Boston, at one dollar each, will be procurable at Preston's drug store the last of the week.

According to the figures given us by Messrs. Smart & Atwell, the palm for selling the largest quantity of strawberries here this season belongs to that firm. They state that from May 3d to July 13th inclusive their sales footed up over eight thousand five hundred boxes. The next in order are as follows: Hiram C. Locke, from May 3d to and including July 13th, sold 6182 boxes. His largest sale in one day was 647 boxes. Moses Brothers, from May 6th to July 6th, sold over six thousand boxes. Butler & Laighton, from May 24th to July 5th, sold 3377 boxes.—Times.

Mr. Daniel S. Broderick, a member of the last graduating class of the Portsmouth High School, left this city Monday morning to take a position as entry clerk with Armstrong, Vroom & Co., wholesale wool and leather dealers, West Farms, Bronx River, New York. Mr. Broderick starts out in life with good prospects. During his term at the High School he has shown well, winning several medals and graduating with honor; we have some doubt as to his having been one of the goody-good kind of boys—though he may have been, for all we know to the contrary; we only don't believe it—but he has been a manly and self-respecting one, and goes out into the world carrying with him the respect and good wishes of many persons, among whom we are included. As he has been faithful in little things which have come under our personal observation, we have no doubt he will prove himself worthy of higher trusts in a more extended sphere.

The Alley club of this city made their first excursion for the season on the 14th inst., to the Cape Neddick house, the party going over in the barge Fanny Fern, drawn by four horses driven by Mr. Albert Goldthwaite. Mine host Grant, of the Cape Neddick house, had to lay plates for fifteen to accommodate the club, and proved himself a worthy successor to the famed Ma'am Freeman of old, by giving the boys as good a dinner as they ever enjoyed, and to which they did ample justice. Before the dinner remarks were made by Dr. E. S. Fay, E. Leveen, Esq., Prof. John E. Roberts and several others; and after dinner Prof. Roberts delivered an address which greatly interested the members of the club and also a considerable collection of the denizens of the neighborhood. The parlor organ was also brought into use, and some singing was added to entertain the assemblage. The excursionists returned home in good style at an early hour in the evening, more than pleased with their first trip for this year.

The Times copied an item from Saturday's CHRONICLE to the effect that "our editor-in-chief and local reporter" were off for the Shoals in boat Lone Star, and added: "An anxious public supposed the CHRONICLE had several 'reporters'—in fact many heads." The public supposes the Times has no head at all, and knows that the labors of the CHRONICLE reporters are liberally appropriated by the Times without credit; but we are not aware that the way that paper is conducted is a source of much public anxiety.

SHEA'S DRAIN-PIPE.

At the last meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Mr. Dennis Shea requested and received permission to dig up certain drains at his own expense; under direction of a committee of the board, he to make the streets dug up good again without charge to the city. The object of this was to show how the drain pipe of Mr. Shea's manufacture stands the test of actual use; and his confidence in its durability was shown to be well founded by the inspection.

The committee appointed by the board, consisting of the mayor and two aldermen, were present Monday afternoon when Mr. Shea uncovered the pipe in five places, viz.: in Bridge street, a twenty-four-inch pipe laid in November, 1872; Hanover street, fifteen-inch pipe laid in 1874; Brewster street, twelve-inch pipe laid in 1869; Cabot street, twenty-two-inch pipe laid in 1871, the latter being uncovered in two places. In every instance the pipe was found to be even harder than when first put down; the surface was tested with a cold chisel and hammer, and found to be literally "as hard as rock." Mr. Shea wished to drill through the pipes, but the committee declined to permit it, being satisfied with the inspection without it. Some of the pipe is not more than eighteen inches below the surface of the ground, and of course is exposed to the action of the frost, but seems to be entirely unaffected by it. Mr. Shea claims—and from what we have seen we think rightly—that the longer his pipe is underground the harder it becomes.

We long ago expressed the opinion, based on personal knowledge of the merit of Mr. Shea's manufacture, that there was no drain pipe made superior to it; and we are still of the same opinion. We understand the city has been procuring drain pipe from other sources of supply, but we can see no reason why home manufacture should not be patronized, unless others dealers sell cheaper than Mr. Shea, for we do not believe any other dealer furnishes or can furnish a better article than he.

A NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.

Why cannot our business streets be kept more free from litter? They look bad to visitors, if residents are used to them. Strangers were heard on a recent Sabbath remarking upon the waste paper, fruit skins, and other gatherings among the sweepings from the stores of Congress street. Market street is or used to be made clean by each tenant keeping free from litter the front of his own premises. The rear of the Athenæum and stores on Congress and one side of Market street has a venerable collection of rubbish, the earliest strata of which would probably date back to the war of 1812. An enterprising archæologist might probably find something that would reward a search there for reliques of the long gone past. X. Y. Z.

SUMMER PICNICS.

The season for the above species of recreation having again returned, the lovers of rural rambles and rambles by the seashore are seeking their favorite haunts. A party of friends, with their guests, gathered last week at their wonted retreat in summer days, on private grounds at Newcastle, to re-enjoy what has given them in the past so much of pleasure. While the maturer in years rested beneath the trees and chatted of bypast enjoyment in the same delightful locality, of those who shared in it who now are in foreign climes, and others far away in our own land, the younger of the party roamed upon the beach, which the storms of winter had improved rather than otherwise, or sought cosy retreats among the picturesque rocks along the shore. Others climbed a lofty elevation, but easy of ascent, the highest point upon the island, to look upon a wide-spread scene that in its varied attractions is not surpassed on the American coast. As they looked out upon the sea a veil of mist suddenly obscured from view the Isles of Shoals, and then extending itself with a rapidity scarcely conceivable over so broad a space, in little more than the time it takes to state the fact, shut out from the eye the scene at every point both far and near, until but a few rods about the base of the elevation remained visible. Almost as quickly as it gathered did the mist disperse, so that by the time the little party had again reached the beach, it had disappeared both from land and sea.

Besides various excursions in their boats well out from the shore, in which their youthful companions of the fairer sex took part, the young gentlemen of the party had a spirited boat-race, conducted under the usual forms, that would have done credit to the most expert of those who in a similar way aspire to fame, adding another to the pastimes of the day that all had enjoyed looking upon, if they did not share in them. A noble horse, General Sherman by name, seemed to remember, also, his last year's holidays in the same region, when free as a bird on wing, he cropped the greensward, and looked off to sea at intervals as if he loved the music of the dashing wave and the surf-beat shore.

After a sumptuous repast, for which the sea-air gave all the keenest appetites, and another period of recreation in various ways, with the memory of a day of great pleasure, the party returned home in about equal numbers by land and water, both enjoying on their way a view of the setting sun and of the rising moon.

FIRES IN YORK.

On Sunday, at about noon, fire was discovered upon the roof of the house of Mr. Leonard C. Cook, of York, by Mr. Rogers, a neighbor, who hastened to give the alarm, but before he arrived at the house the inmates had become aware of their danger and escaped. Most of the family, which numbers seven persons, were lying down at the time; one of the younger female members had just kindled a fire to get dinner, and it is supposed the soot in the chimney took fire, and the blazing soot fired the roof. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and in half an hour the only portion of the farm-buildings left standing was the huge old-fashioned chimney of the house. The buildings consisted of the house, a large, two-storied building over a century old, very heavily timbered; a shed and butcher shop in the rear; a carriage house, and a large barn. Most of the horses and horned cattle were fortunately out at pasture, only one horse and one cow being in the barn, and they ran out as soon as a door was opened, having previously broken loose; three hogs were repeatedly driven out, but as often ran back, and were finally burned, as were also all the fowls. A dog and a cat also ran into the burning house after being gotten out, in spite of efforts to prevent them, and perished. One horse was standing outside the carriage house, harnessed up for a drive, when the fire commenced; and that carriage and harness were all that was saved from the carriage house, which contained a much larger number of carriages and harnesses than is usual on a farm. A few articles of the furniture were saved from the house by William Paul and another man, but most of it was burned, with all the clothing of the family; one of the children escaped without any hat, and another without boots. There was much old furniture, many ancient dishes, etc., in the house, all which were lost. In the barn was twelve tons of new hay and a quantity of old, and most of the farm utensils; a hay-cutter and a rake only were saved of these. A turkey that was sitting on a nest under a fence near the barn would not leave until her feathers were badly scorched; and as soon as the fire went down she returned to sit on her roasted eggs, and had to wait quite a while for them to cool! Some trees near the front of the house were unharmed, the strong wind blowing the heat away from them. The loss is estimated at about $7000; insurance $4000 or $4500.

Sunday night, at about ten o'clock, the house and barn of Mr. John Higgins, who lives in the Scotland district on the road to North Berwick, were burned. Mr. Higgins is a farmer in a small way, and the loss of his buildings is a very heavy one to him. Reported to be uninsured.

The Times says: "A few days ago a spark from a chimney set fire to a barn of Mr. Daniel Pierce of York, but the flames were soon put out. It took one thousand shingles to repair the damage. Insured."

THE VICINITY.

Two tramps set fire to a barn in Newmarket, Monday afternoon, and it was entirely destroyed. The tramps escaped arrest.

Rev. George W. Ruland, pastor of the Methodist church at Greenland, who was severely injured nearly a year ago, has been admitted as a patient into the Massachusetts Hospital, where he proposes to remain until he recovers sufficiently to attend to his pastoral labors.

Hen-roost thieves are reported to be active and annoying on the other side of the river. They recently stole a dozen or more fowls from Mr. E. C. Spinney of Kittery, and thirty from Sarah A. Cole of Eliot; and other fowl raisers have suffered to a greater or less degree.

The Advent camp-meeting recently closed at Seabrook was quite successful, and would no doubt have been more so but for the intensely hot weather. The executive committee propose hereafter to hold the meetings later in the season, so as to avoid the hottest weather if possible.

Mr. Dennis Lathrop, of Kittery, a workman in the boiler shop at the navy yard, was sun-struck on Thursday. Mr. John Phillips, who is employed by E. C. Spinney, Esq., was sun-struck on Wednesday, and did not recover for two days sufficiently to go to work. Much sickness has resulted in Kittery from the intense heat, (the thermometer stood at 102 degrees for several hours one day,) but the cooler weather has helped the sick ones along nicely.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire Items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

FRANK E. DEARBORN,

NO. 40 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH.

Says the Boston Post: "The Republican State Committee of North Carolina has held a meeting and adopted a resolution that it was inexpedient to nominate a ticket. Not being able to secure any offices in the State the party disbands. The democratic party in many States have held their organization steadily for years, although not relatively stronger in numbers than the republicans of North Carolina." That last statement is undoubtedly true; but the Post does not consider that the democrats could always vote as they wished, without fear of being murdered for so doing, whereas a republican can now vote in the south only at the imminent peril of his life, and after he does vote his ballot will not be counted by the "conciliated" Bourbon democracy which the Post so admires.

The greenback movement, we are told, is a grand uprising of the people, and in the management of the new party all old political hacks are to stand aside. Notwithstanding this relegation of old politicians to outer darkness, the new party seems to "tumble to" political trickery quite naturally. At a greenback convention in York county, Me., fifteen more votes were cast than there were delegates; and now Solon Chase's Chronicle complains that the editor of the New Era is publishing letters written in the Era office but purporting to come from various parts of Solon's Congressional district, recommending Thomas B. Swan for the greenback candidacy instead of Mr. Chase. The greenbackers seem to be but little better than the world's people.

—A Paisley publican was complaining of his servant maid that she could never be found when required. "She'll gang oot o' the house," said he, "twenty times for once she'll come in."

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gentle and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other form of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Dull coated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Foreboding, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is not peculiar, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alternative, or Purgative is required, these Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in thus risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

CORPULENCE.
ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT
is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It acts upon the food in the stomach, preventing its being converted into fat. Taken in accordance with directions, it will reduce a fat person from two to five pounds per week.
"Corpulence is not only a disease itself, but the harbinger of others." So wrote Hippocrates two thousand years ago, and what was true then is none the less so to-day.
Sold by druggists, or sent, by express, upon receipt of $1.50. Quarter-dozen $4.00. Address,

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Worse than Potato Bugs.

Our attention has been so frequently called, says the Norwich Bulletin, to the ravages of a new pest that has plentifully appeared in this city, that we reprint the following description of the ravager from the Aurora of last week: The little black, hairy, oval "bug" that has been discovered in residences hereabouts so plentifully, eating carpets, blankets, furs, furniture and even the flour, is the larva of a beetle of the dermistidæ family, the most destructive group of known coleoptera, so that housewives finding small bluish black bugs about the house, with wings plain or marked with a yellow band, should destroy them, by no means letting them escape. They lay their eggs in fissures and at the edge of carpets. These eggs hatch rapidly, and the beetle passes through two stages, larva and pupa, in three weeks, and propagate their species as rapidly as the Colorado beetle. They are less particular than the potato bug and very much more destructive. They eat anything from a library book to a safety pin, and are never more serene than when perched on a lump of camphor, taking the fur off a $30 muff. D. Vulpinus, a member of the same family, was, at one time, so active among the furs in the warehouses of London that $20,000 was offered for an available destructive agent without one being discovered. Housewives may save themselves a deal of trouble by inspecting the edges of their carpets, and seeing if the pests are there; also stuffed furniture that is kept covered. One family found them at work in their finest furniture last month, and they are now at work in many woolen carpets. They do not like benzine, but they are as happy in insect powder as a rabbit in clover. It is the worst invader of the household that has yet appeared, and can do more damage in a parlor suit of furniture in a week than a whole army of Colorado beetles can do in a ten-acre lot in all summer.

—According to a report made to the Admiralty by Captain Arthur, of Her Majesty's ship Vernon, a diver engaged in receiving some ballast suddenly fainted, and called out, "Pull me up." He did not signal with his rope, but was heard through the telephone attached to his helmet, and was at once brought to the surface. The man has recovered, and thanks the telephone for his restoration.

—A pretty girl stepped into a shop where her spruce young man stood behind the counter. In order to remain as long as possible she cheapened everything, and at last she said, "I believe you think I am cheating you." "Oh, no," said the youngster; "to me you are always fair." "Well," whispered the lady, blushing, "I would not stay so long bargaining if you were not so dear."

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1878.

The Indian War.

Despatches from Portland, Oregon, the 15th, say the troops under Gen. Miles defeated the Indians in Friday's battle. Miles had 300 regulars and volunteers, the Indians numbering 500 or more. The savages had previously destroyed Carus station, and then taken up a strong position on some hills. The opposing forces fought four or five hours; finally the Indians charged, but a howitzer worked by Miles's men did heavy execution, and the red men retreated. A charge was then made by the whites, and the Indians were driven from their position.

Though Howard and Miles have both won important victories, it is feared by the War Department that we are on the eve of a war with the red men more extensive, more costly and more bloody than any which has preceded it.

Naval Affairs.

Master John C. Fremont, Jr., has been detached from the Powhatan and ordered to special light-house duty in the third district.

It is stated that Secretary Thompson has ordered work on the two iron-clads in course of construction at John Roach's yard to be suspended, and contemplates altering their plan of construction to accord with results which have developed since they were begun. If finished under their first plan they might be disabled by the first shot fired at them.

Another Heated Term.

Another torrid wave is reported as sweeping over the country west of the Mississippi river, and gradually coming this way. At St. Louis the heat has been terrible, there being over one hundred and fifty persons prostrated by it on Monday, and about fifty deaths. At Little Rock, Ark., Alexander Warwick, representing A. T. Stewart & Co. of New York, fell dead in his store Saturday evening, and two other persons died Sunday. In St. Joseph, Mo., there were fourteen cases of sun-stroke, Sunday. In Omaha, Neb., three deaths occurred. Nearly one hundred fatal cases are reported already, and Monday evening the heat was reported to be steadily increasing about two degrees a day.

A Lately Frequent Custom.

The lately frequent custom of praying at one's human auditors, instead of addressing the Hearer of Prayer simply in their behalf, had an illustration in San Francisco, on the Fourth of July, when the chaplain of the day, the Rev. I. S. Kalloch, apparently assumed to speak the Divine mind on the Chinese question, in this wise: "We pray * * that the Chinese must go and the good men stay. We believe thou wilt hear our prayer when we pray for that we believe to be right." Of course, this part of the petition "brought down the house."—Boston Advertiser.

Kalloch was from the meridian of Boston, where it was once remarked of the late Edward Everett, while a clergyman, that he made the handsomest prayer ever offered to a Boston audience. This is not a "lately frequent custom," but an old Boston notion.

Kalloch is a hard case, anyway. Years ago he left this part of the country with much more haste than good name; the next we heard of him he was keeping a low rum-shop in one of the western States, and dabbling in politics; and now he turns up in California as a reverend demagogue, and finds his religious "principles" to be very satisfactory to his new clients, or constituents, or pals, or whatever it may be proper to call them.

News and Notes.

Robert M. Lowe, a white man, was shot and killed by Calvin Anderson, colored, near Bell Buckle, Tenn., Monday, while Lowe and fifteen others in disguise were engaged in breaking down Anderson's door.

William, alias "Mush" Riley of New York, was arrested Monday morning at Toronto. He is one of the garrotters who robbed Thomas Buckley of $3000 on a horse-car in Troy, N. Y., July 1st. All the robbers are now in custody. One of them, Monahan, who shot officer Quinn, will be punished for murder. The robbery was "put up" by a young manufacturer of Troy, named Tompkins, who had previously stood high in the community. Fast women and cards ruined Tompkins.

George Betts, a clergyman's son, aged fourteen, and a friend set out at Lansing, Mich., not long ago to spend an afternoon shooting at a mark with their revolvers. Returning home young Betts, in a tragic manner, cried: "You villain, die!" and snapped his pistol at his companion, who told him not to do so again, as some one might get hurt. Betts then held the revolver to his own temple to show it was empty, fired, and fell dead.

In Pawtucket, Rhode Island, Monday, John Bean lighted a fuse to explode six trains of powder at the bottom of a pit forty-six feet deep, and started to ascend the ladder, when a round broke, precipitating him to the bottom. Before he could ascend again the explosion occurred, and Bean was fatally injured.

A son of Admiral Porter will be the secretary of Governor Fremont of Arizona.

A despatch from Canon City says: A sheriff's posse pursuing horse thieves came upon them at Boyle's ranch, and were fired upon by the thieves. The posse returned the fire, killing one instantly and mortally wounding a second, who died in six hours, but refused to give their names or any information. On preparing the bodies for burial it was discovered that the robber who had been killed at the first fire was a woman, young and delicately formed and decidedly handsome. She had been mistaken for a boy. She was heavily armed, and was the first to fire on the pursuing party. There was no clue to their identity. They had stolen five horses and had all of them in their possession.

The whipping post has been re-established in Virginia. The first victim was a white sailor, convicted of stealing an anchor at Hampton. The lash was laid on by a negro constable.

There was such a demand for facilities of transportation to Europe from New York Saturday that several steamers were obliged to refuse freight. The cargoes consisted of horses, cattle, grain, cheese, tobacco, bacon, butter, fresh meat, flour, canned meats and vegetables, cotton and domestic dry goods. To have a surplus of freight is something unusual these times, and as this quickening of export comes when the war cloud in Europe has blown over the inference seems to be legitimate that it is due to natural and healthy causes.

The steamer Cimbria, which was chartered by the Russian government from the Hamburg-New York line some months ago, and which has been lying at Southwest Harbor, Me., ever since, will go to Philadelphia in about three weeks, when the officers and men will be transferred to the three steamers which Russia has bought there.

The great indignation of the citizens at Boston Highlands over the treatment of an invalid daughter by Matthew Lowery culminated Saturday evening in their mobbing the house with intent to tar and feather. The arrival of the police alone prevented them. The daughter, who is in a critical condition, was removed by neighbors, and will be cared for. Lowery married a second wife a few weeks ago, and since then has treated his three children with unnatural cruelty.

There was a fight in Philadelphia on Sunday between the owners of a yacht called the William Tell, in which pistols, knives, marlinspikes and capstan-bars were freely used, and all hands badly hurt. Two of the men were taken to the hospital, and will probably die.

Accounts from Montreal indicate that if Mayor Beaudry's special constables were a lot of the lowest roughs, and the Catholic—or anti-Orange—element disorderly, overbearing and lawless, the Orangemen were "no better than they should be," and committed many acts of ruffianism. The keeping up of the wretched squabble between "Orange" and "Green" is ridiculously absurd and out of place in this country.

While Secretary Thompson ploughs the seas in the Tallapoosa, Atty. General Devens acts as Secretary of the Navy. An exchange says the learned substitute ought now to study "Chitty on Contracts." But perhaps as he looks over some of the former contractors' papers on the files, it may strike him that a perusal of "Bigelow on Fraud" might be seasonable reading for a warm latitude.

It is now said that the new carpet-bag much prefers English to American carpets, and it is suggested that the destructive little pest is an invention of the protectionists, to force the use of native in preference to foreign manufactures.

Indian Commissioner Hayt and Inspector Hammond have discovered that for several years past the Indian agents at the Crow, Cheyenne and Lower Brule agencies, Dakota, have systematically robbed the government of vast sums of money through the medium of fraudulent vouchers and scant and inferior supplies to the Indians. No wonder that there is an Indian war.

New Hampshire Items.

The team recently reported stolen from Moses Stevens of Kingston, was found in Haverhill, Mass., Monday, in a gypsy camp.

The fact that Buzzell, the Brookfield murderer, was sentenced to be executed on the 10th of July, which next year comes on Thursday, being a departure from the old custom of hanging on Friday, having occasioned considerable comment and speculation, Judge Foster of the Supreme Court, one of the judges who presided at the trial of the condemned man, has stated that this day was purposely set by the court, as the custom of hanging on Friday arose merely from an old superstition, and the judges concluded to break away from it.

The Monadnock mills at Claremont have declared a dividend of thirty dollars a share from the past six months' earnings. This is over five and a half per cent on the capital.

In the Legislature, Tuesday, a bill was introduced to punish tramps. The bill gives a convicted tramp fifteen months in the State Prison for kindling fires on land without the owner's consent; for carrying firearms, two years; for any malicious injury to personal property or real estate, five years. It provides for a $10 bounty for such tramps convicted.

George Eyster, Assistant United States Treasurer at Philadelphia, has created a good deal of displeasure among those who consider a Union soldier just as good as a rebel by discharging from his office Mrs. Vanleer, the widow of Col. Vanleer of the Union army, who was killed before Williamsburg, and putting in her place a daughter of the rebel General Rhett of Georgia. As no possible charge could be brought against Mrs. Vanleer's efficiency and faithfulness, the Unionists of Pennsylvania are very properly indignant over her being turned out to make room for the daughter of a notorious rebel. The Pennsylvania republicans do not seem to be aware that the "democratic House" has not yet passed a bill removing the disabilities of those who fought for or otherwise supported the Union.

—Capt. Goodwin, the stroke of the winning Columbia crew, won his place by sheer pluck and perseverance. When he joined the class of '76, he was a tall New Hampshire youth, with a Yankee accent and uncouth ways, most of his classmates being rich and fashionable young men.

Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquillity of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

Fat People.

Corpulent people can be reduced from two to five pounds per week without starvation, by using Allan's Anti-Fat, a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy. It acts on the food in the stomach, neutralizing all saccharine and oleaginous matter.

The Princess Yturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

The best way to win success is to deserve it. Gens. G. T. Beauregard of La. and Jubal A. Early of Va. in approving of the strict integrity and high sense of honor shown by the managers of the Louisiana State Lottery, say "We venture to assert that it has rarely if ever happened in the case of any lottery drawn in this or any other country that such special pains and precautions have been taken in the preparations for and conduct of the drawing as we have adopted." Everybody sings the praises of Adamson's Botanic Balsam because it is an article of merit, of more value than gold; it relieves distress, restores health, and prolongs life. What greater office of kindness and mercy could it perform? Price only 35 cents.

What we all want now, is money! You may realize hundreds of dollars by investing $50 in stock operations through the reliable house of Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 12 Wall st., N.Y. Their Weekly Financial Report gives full information and is sent free. 7

Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway R. R. Company Meeting.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad Company will be held at the Ward Room on Elm Street, near the Eastern Railroad Station, in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, on the thirteenth day of July, A. D. 1878, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the following purpose, to-wit: To inquire into the condition of the affairs of said corporation; to consider the expediency of said corporation going into voluntary bankruptcy; and if it shall be deemed so expedient, to authorize some officer of the corporation to file a petition in its behalf for the purpose of having the same adjudged bankrupt, and for the benefit of an act of Congress entitled, "An act to establish a uniform system of Bankruptcy throughout the United States, approved March 2, 1867," — and of all acts in amendment thereof.

By order of the Directors,
WALLACE HACKETT, Clerk.

Portsmouth, N. H., July 16, 1878.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

By the Hon. Judge of Probate for said County.

TO LELIA EMERY, of Portsmouth in said County, a minor, for whose benefit certain estate has been held in trust by SAMUEL C. PERKINS, her heirs expectant, and all other persons interested: You are hereby notified that said FRANCIS M. PERKINS, adm'x of the Estate of said SAMUEL C. PERKINS, deceased, will exhibit her accounts of said Trusteeship at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for examination and allowance. You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have, and notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WOODBURY M. DURGIN,
Register of Probate.

THE CITY.

The Portsmouth Reform Club will have a picnic at Pinkham's grove, Dover point, next Tuesday, wind and weather permitting.

It is reported that the Kearsarge mills will close on the first of August for two weeks, in order to give the employes a vacation, and also for the purpose of making some necessary repairs.

The new schooner building at the Raynes ship-yard by Mr. Wm. D. Fernald, for Hon. Marcellus Eldredge and others, has been named the Mary E. Eldredge, in honor of Mrs. Eldredge.

The dry weather seems to have a marked effect upon the roads in the suburbs. Countless numbers of small stones come to the surface of the country roads, and should be removed. Sagamore hill is especially noted for this trouble, and its dangerous condition should be at once attended to.

At the meeting of the greenbackers, Tuesday evening, it was voted that a caucus be held on the 30th inst. for the nomination of candidates to be supported at the city election in August, and a committee of five was appointed to correspond with orators, the President of the club being authorized to secure a hall for public speaking during the approaching campaigns.

ANOTHER CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

An invitation has been received by Capt. Wm. O. Sides, of the Portsmouth Light Artillery, from the committee on celebrating the centennial anniversary of the battle of Rhode Island, which occurs on the 28th of August, urging that the Light Artillery take part in the celebration. The secretary of the committee in his letter says: "We know that each of the other four New England States was represented on the field of battle, because history informs us of the exact quota of each State. We further know that other troops were also engaged, which came from the middle and some of the southern States. We think it therefore the bounden duty of the representatives of those States that were represented on the original battle field to commemorate in a fit manner this first centennial. * * We cannot tell to a certainty just what associations will be present, but we are justified in expecting that Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York and Pennsylvania, and perhaps some other of the middle and southern States will be represented by from nine to fifteen associations. We are very anxious that your command shall be present to represent New Hampshire. Please take early action on this matter, and as soon as you decide to accept, please extend an invitation to your Governor, the President of your Senate and Speaker of your House of Representatives to accompany you under escort; and also state what other prominent gentlemen will probably be with you as guests." The celebration will include a short march about the streets of Providence; a trip of fifteen miles by steamboat to the battlefield, where the old fortifications are still plainly to be traced, and where a tent with accommodations for 3000 people will be pitched; an oration by Gov. Arnold; a genuine Rhode Island clambake, "with meats for such benighted people as cannot appreciate" Rhode Island clams, and fruit, creams, sherbet, etc., for everybody; a return to Providence by boat in the afternoon, and another short march about the city, when the procession will dismiss in time for all to take their respective trains or steamers for home. This invitation will be acted on at the next regular meeting of the company, on the evening of July 18th.

WILL TRY AGAIN.

We are gratified to learn that the Hon. Frank Jones of New Hampshire has agreed to run again for Congress, not only because we would like to have him back, but because his candidacy will ensure us a democrat in the House from the old Granite State. Mr. Jones has made an excellent representative, being one of the hardest working and most liberal men in Congress.—Washington Gazette.

We are not so confident as the Gazette seems to be that Mr. Jones' candidacy "will ensure a democrat in the House from the old Granite State," though we are not sure that the republicans cannot again elect him as they have already twice done, if they only try as hard as on the previous occasions. But if Mr. Jones is nominated there will be a regular feast of crow to be devoured by many of the democrats about here, who while it was supposed he would not again run for Congress were earnest in expressing their hopes that he would be a candidate for some office just once more, so that they could have the privilege of voting against him. They will all swallow their share of crow, never fear, and swear by the powers that it is their favorite article of diet, too; Mr. Jones is a strong candidate in his own party, and well knows how to wield the party whip over the heads of recalcitrants; and those democrats who have growled most persistently about him will meekly vote the straight ticket on election day, whether it bears his name or some other man's for Congressman. The republicans will need to put up a strong man against Frank Jones, and not indulge in any faction fights among themselves, to defeat him, for it is certain that the democratic party in the district will go in his favor as solidly as ever, despite all the cheap talk to the contrary—and there has been a good deal of it—during the past year.

P., G. F. & C. R. R.

The directors of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad held a meeting in Boston on Tuesday for organization, and to consider the propriety of placing the corporation in bankruptcy. The following officers were elected:

President, Alfred P. Rockwell of Boston;

Treasurer, Nathaniel G. Chapin of Boston;

Clerk, Wallace Hackett of Portsmouth.

It was ordered that a meeting of the stockholders in the road be called for the 30th day of July instant, to meet at the Elm street ward room in this city and decide upon the question of the corporation's going into voluntary bankruptcy.

A HEADLESS DEPARTMENT.

Thorough business men always appoint a head to each and every department of their business; more especially if there are a half dozen employees in the department, or if there is any great responsibility in it. If a half dozen gentlemen form a co-partnership to carry on a business where all are equally interested, one of the firm will be selected to have particular jurisdiction over each particular department of the business, to execute the will of the whole. It is the same with our banks; the president has his particular duties, the cashier his, and the teller still another; yet each one works under the general directions of the board of directors. The care of our streets is under the charge of a committee of three, appointed by and of the board of aldermen; yet there is a street commissioner to take charge of the work, altho' there is only about $10,000 expended annually. Our city farm has one particular man appointed to execute the will of a committee of three appointed by and of the board of aldermen. These things are thus, because "What is every one's business is no one's business," under the rule that "Too many cooks spoil the broth," etc.

Yet we have a department with really no head, which annually expends about $25,000 of our public money; this is the department of public schools. To be sure there are thirteen looking after it,—that is, there are thirteen who severally suppose that the other twelve are looking after this, the most important interest of our city; but if either one of the thirteen had a private business, with so much money invested, he would think it necessary to have two or three give their whole time caring for his interests. But it is only public money that is involved, and if the expenses are only kept sufficiently low so that the public do not complain, that is all that appears to be necessary.

Is there a business man in our city who would not appoint a special superintendent to look after this work and expenditure, if he was personally responsible for the disbursement of the funds?

QUERY.

THE VICINITY.

Nathaniel Thayer, Esq., of Boston, and J. Ingersoll Bowditch, are at the Appledore.

Hon. W. H. H. Allen, Justice of the Supreme Court, is inhaling the invigorating breezes from the Atlantic at York bluff.

"Agameticus: by E. P. Tenny," is one of the new books recently added to the Kittery Public Library. It has a least a good title. We are sorry that with the material at hand, the author did no better in his work.

Countess Lewenhoupt, a Swedish lady, and her children, have been staying at Old Orchard beach for some weeks. On Saturday they were joined by Count Lewenhoupt. Of course they are the lions of the place.

Matthew Grant of South Berwick, aged about twelve years, a son of Mrs. Oscar Grant, was drowned Monday afternoon while bathing in company with several boys near a wharf. The boy got beyond his depth and was unable to swim.

About eleven o'clock Saturday night fire was discovered in an unoccupied house at Great Works, South Berwick, owned by Wm. Parsons, which resulted in the total destruction of the building. It was probably the work of an incendiary. Loss $1000; no insurance.

At the police court at Salmon Falls, Monday, Judge Nowell presiding, John McGinness was held in $300 bonds to appear before the September term of the Supreme Court for Strafford county for entering the police station last Friday night and releasing a prisoner.

Saturday evening about eight o'clock the house of Chas. M. Stevens, situated on the "new road," so called, between Kennebunk lower village and the Landing, caught fire from the explosion of a kerosene lamp and was consumed. The furniture was mostly saved. House insured for $400.

Butler and Mrs. Jenks.

"Madame," said Gen. Butler, in his blandest tones, "I did not ask you just whether you considered the things you say you have done in this connection were entirely proper."

Jenks—"I should have replied, had you asked me, that all things that were necessary and possible in Louisiana politics were proper; but, General," and she assumed her most dramatic air, "I can assure you that if I did anything that was wrong in this connection, it was done in a fit of abstraction."

Butler—"Of course; it would be ungallant for me to think otherwise."

Jenks—"Precisely."

Butler—"But how and when do these fits of abstraction possess you, and how long do they generally last?"

Jenks—"They come and go, like my emotions."

Butler—"This sort of excuse may be current with a congressional committee, but what sort of an excuse will you give when you appear before the great Investigator up yonder?" and Butler turned his revolving eye upward until it pointed toward the zenith.

Mrs. Jenks smiled and remarked—"Don't worry about me, General; when I get up there I shall wait until you testify and then I will follow your pious example."

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

FRANK E. DEARBORN,

NO. 40 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH.

The Cincinnati Commercial is authority for the statement that it is not true, as has been represented, that General Sherman gave his consent to the resolution of his eldest son to be a Catholic priest. Says that paper: "A few months ago he astonished his parents by stating his purpose, and told his father that his passage was already engaged to Europe, and that he proposed to attend an English Jesuit school. It has been represented that General Sherman cheerfully acquiesced in this, but he did not. The incident was a very painful one to the General, and the action of the young man has not in any form met with his approval."

Gilmore's band has had a very appreciative reception in Great Britain, where in a tour of six weeks it has given sixty-five concerts in twenty of the principal cities. The most popular music played by the band has been the national anthems and patriotic melodies of the two countries, the enthusiasm that "Yankee Doodle," the "Star Spangled Banner," "God Save the Queen," "Rule Britannia" and "Auld Lang Syne" produced among the audiences being nothing less than a furore. The band is now doing the Paris exposition, and will shortly sail up the Rhine, giving concerts by the way, returning home through England in October.

At Cincinnati, a few days ago, the wife of Peter Lovell, who works in a dining saloon, was struck speechless. She retained all her powers and faculties except that of speech, but a black coating on her tongue preventing her from uttering a word. A few days later her husband was taken in the same way. Neither can speak and the physicians fear that a new disease has made its appearance.

A boat containing eleven boys was swamped in a pond at Fall River, Mass., on the 14th, and two of the boys were drowned.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, and results from their escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that of all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the generic organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. Of its merits, as a positive, safe, and efectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. But I not the least perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not dispond, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16th.

The evil genius that has never relaxed its grip on democracy since it precipitated the country into the whirlpool of civil war, seems to still have full possession of the party press. It couldn't do the work the republicans would have of it more certainly, were that party's managers directing it. In their fear of Gen. Grant and their frantic efforts to kill him they have brought him into a prominence that may give him the nomination by acclamation. Thus early we hear much about Hayes' successor, here; and where any other name is heard in that connection once, I think it is no exaggeration to say Gen. Grant's is heard a dozen times among republicans, both "stalwart" and administration. The mention of his name, even with the mercury dangerously near 100 in the shade, arouses a degree of enthusiasm that reminds one of old "Wide Awake" times in 1860. There is undoubtedly a feeling of confidence in him in an emergency, not accorded any other man. "Grant and Blaine" is the latest slate. Thurman is a good deal talked about on the other side. But it would start the party out under such a load of ridicule to match the "bloody shirt" with Thurman's "red bandanna" that it would break down before the half-mile pole was reached.

The intelligence received yesterday morning from the Oregon hostiles has startled every one, and seems to confirm the belief that Howard's engagement was only with a fragment of the Indian force. The tenor of all the dispatches now being received at the War Department is to the effect that the Oregon Indians heretofore depended upon as friendly have become wholly disaffected and will cast in their lot with those openly in arms whenever the opportunity offers. This is probably the case all over the north-west, or soon will be, unless we gain a decisive advantage soon. Notwithstanding the confident assurances of the other day, this latest news seems to have created something like a panic in official circles.

Though we have been assured that Mr. Sherman contemplates no immediate proclamation of resumption, the weight of opinion is that it will have been accomplished by October 1st, and all of Mr. Sherman's movements seem to be taken with a view to reaching that end as speedily as possible.

As Indian matters have forged to the front, the Mexican situation has receded temporarily. But its possibilities for a surprise were considered months ago quite equal to the Indian question, and may yet prove even more startling.

KNOX.

Kearney, the Reformer.

Kearney, the ignorant and brutal demagogue and communist from Europe who assumes to regulate affairs in America and has the assurance to call himself a "workingman," is on his way from California to the east, and it is reported will visit Massachusetts to fix things there so as to suit his fancy. The interviewer has had hold of him, and he said:

"I'm going to all the principal cities of the east. My business is to organize the workingmen and to tell them of their imminent peril at the hands of those hell-hound villains and daylight-robbers, the capitalists. I'm also going to look around for a President for 1880. I'm going to see Ben Butler."

"Why, the General is one of the richest men in Massachusetts. You don't want a Crœsus for a President. Besides, Gen. Butler wouldn't have the office."

"Oh, yes, he would. And as for his riches, that's just what I want—a candidate with coin. It will be necessary to buy out the two old parties now buying and selling each other and plundering the nation in the interim. It will take the money to pay campaign expenses."

"But why do you choose Butler? He's not popular with the laboring classes."

"We can make him popular. He has been retained to defend a pair of Molly Maguires in Pennsylvania; he will carry that State. Massachusetts will go for him to a man. He is sure of nearly all the northern States, and I guarantee now to give him all the votes west of the Rocky Mountains."

"Will he accept?"

"Of course he will. Hasn't he been bidding for it all through the last session of Congress? And isn't he bringing the blush to the cheek of every member of the Potter committee, democrat and republican alike? He is blank shrewd. I can put him in the White House without any trouble."

"And you are going to have Butler for President in 1880?"

"Yes, if he remains on the right tack until that time. Ben's our boy for 1880. It may be necessary to make him Governor of Massachusetts first; but I will arrange that when I get east."

During the interview Kearney used all the oaths and curses in the vocabulary, and was particularly abusive of the machine politician and the property holder. This "bouncing" bummer will not find the intelligent, property-holding workingmen of the east quite so ready to follow in his wake as the San Francisco hoodlums were.

Nominating Conventions.

The Republican State Central Committee met at Rumford hall, Concord, Tuesday evening, 16th inst.; E. M. Topliff, chairman, presided, and George E. Jenks was secretary. There was a large attendance, including many of the members of the Senate and House; United States Senators Rollins and Wadleigh, and Congressman Briggs, were present. After the time and place for the holding of the State convention (Tuesday, Sept. 10th, at Concord) were determined upon, the several Congressional, Councillor, County and Senatorial delegations arranged the times and places for holding these several conventions, as appears below:

COUNCILLOR.

District 1, Dover, Sept. 25.
District 2, Concord, Sept. 10.
District 3, Manchester, Sept. 17.
District 4, Claremont, Sept. 18.

Coos—Lancaster, Sept. 8.

CONGRESSIONAL.

District 1, Dover, Sept. 25.
District 2, Manchester, Sept. 17.
District 3, West Lebanon, Sept. 11.

After this a spirited and somewhat lengthy discussion took place relative to the number of delegates which should be sent to the various conventions from the several towns and wards, the debate arising upon a motion of Judge Sargent of Concord that the basis should be upon the new representation under the amended constitution. Hon. Wm. E. Chandler and Hon. J. E. Gallinger of Concord strenuously favored the proposition. Gen. Marston, Col. Kent of this city, Hon. N. G. Ordway and Hon. Larkin D. Mason strenuously opposed Judge Sargent's motion, and advocated the old rule of two delegates for every representative in the legislature preceding the convention; and the latter motion was adopted. Col. Kent and Mr. Ordway were evidently not in full communion with the amended constitution, believing that some of its requirements will not be of much benefit to the State.

The democratic State committee also met in Concord on Tuesday, and arranged for conventions as follows:

News and Notes.

Fifty-four deaths from sun-stroke in St. Louis on Monday, 15th inst., and twenty-eight Tuesday, is the record. In Chicago about thirty deaths occurred. Milwaukee had forty cases of sun-stroke, but only four or five deaths. At Leavenworth there were six deaths. Almost every village for hundreds of miles lost one or more residents by the intense heat. Rev. E. W. Clark, 79 years old, formerly a Congregational missionary to the Sandwich islands, died in Chicago.

Charles W. Morse, the defaulting town collector of Newport, Vt., has compromised with the authorities by turning over to them private property enough to cover his defalcation.

Walter F. Wade, late station master at Winter Hill, Somerville, on the Boston, Lowell & Nashua railroad, who decamped not long since with $500 belonging to the company, was traced to Burlington, Me., where he was arrested on the 15th and lodged in the lock-up.

Two negro girls in Early, Ga., held a playmate under water for fun until she was drowned.

Three Ohio ladies were captured at New York on the steamship Germanic, with their bodies loaded down with smuggled silks. A $2000 trunk belonging to a lady friend of two journalists is also in the Custom House seizure room.

Patrick H. O'Keefe, a saloon-keeper of Taunton, Mass., was shot dead in a brothel on the morning of the 16th inst. The murderer is supposed to be a young man named William H. Brock, twenty-one years of age, who was jealous of O'Keefe's intimacy with Eliza Ridlon, the keeper of the brothel. The Ridlon woman was sitting by O'Keefe when he was murdered, and had her arm pierced by a bullet.

English high life has been disturbed by a suit for divorce brought by the Earl of Aylesford against his wife, for improper familiarity with the Marquis of Blandford, the Duke of Marlborough's oldest son. The divorce was denied, the jury finding that though Blandford and Lady Aylesbury had been criminally intimate it was by collusion of the Earl, and that he also was guilty of the same offence with other women. Mrs. Dilke, wife of Sir Charles Dilke, was mixed up in the affair.

The English government is busy with the details of military and civil establishments in Cyprus. The English papers announce the appointment of a postmaster for the island, and other officials for the administration of government. General Wolsey has under consideration a scheme of a financial company for introducing railways.

On the 27th the operations of the Hill Manufacturing Company at Lewiston, Me., will discontinue till September. This corporation has two mills of 51,000 spindles, and employs 1000 operatives, with a monthly pay roll of $20,000. The agent of the corporation says: "We haven't for a long time received the actual cost of our goods from consumers. The raw material is quite as valuable to us as manufactured goods. We find in the absence of value we are obliged to take this step in order to regain our feet. We can dispose of our production readily, and haven't but a small quantity 'piled up;' but the prices are such, manufacturers are utterly discouraged."

A Cairo letter says the whole of Egypt is in English hands, including the navy, coast guard and everything else. The Khedive might as well abdicate in favor of the English protectorate, as everything is now done under English dictation.

Georgie Willis, a member of a temperance society in LaCrosse, Wis., recently varied the decorous but monotonous proceedings of the lodge-room, by yielding to the impulse of the moment and swinging about her head a pistol which she supposed was unloaded. Suddenly pausing in her sensational by-play, she took aim at a young gentleman named Charles Norman, and pulled the trigger. Now, as it happened, the pistol was loaded with ball-cartridge, and a bullet entered the brain of the good-looking target. Young ladies who enjoy playing with revolvers in mixed assemblages may be vivacious associates in temperance work, but they are not useful members of society.

Charles Purdue, convicted of having attempted to burn at sea the ship Robert Edwards, and who was sentenced to death, the sentence being commuted to twelve years' imprisonment, has received a full pardon from the President.

The Indianapolis Journal tells this story: "A few days ago in this city an acquaintance, courtship and marriage all transpired within fifteen minutes. A gentleman met a lady in company by accident, proposed to her, she accepting, carrying out a joke as she supposed; the license and minister were procured in a few minutes, and the lady informed, to her astonishment that took away her breath, that all was ready, when she began to consider and realize what it all meant. She was influenced, however, to abide by her decision given in fun but a few minutes before, and merely asked for time to change her apparel, but this was denied her by the impatient groom. He said it must be finished up right off, then and there, without delay, and the knot was tied instanter, at ninety-five degrees in the shade—all in a quarter of an hour, and housekeeping commenced within thirty minutes."

A planing mill boiler at Barnesville, Ohio, exploded Wednesday, destroying the mill, killing three men and mortally wounding three more, and seriously injuring others.

Gen. Miles had another fight with the Indians on the 16th inst., and drove them several miles.

The "heated wave" which has caused so many deaths around St. Louis is reported to be moving eastward. The signal service officials think it will be cooled off before it reaches the Atlantic coast.

The oldest woman in the world is claimed to be Mary Benton of Elton, England, who is in her one hundred and forty-eight year and is as smart, and busy as ever.

The Potter fraud sub-committee at New Orleans still declines to admit evidence as to the terrorism and violence in the Feliciana parishes at the Presidential election, Potter, Tilden et als. having decided that the question of intimidation cannot properly be investigated; but anybody who can be hired to swear that there was no intimidation is put on the stand at once, and his statements sent abroad as "proof" of something! This one-sided humbug of an investigation has degenerated until it is but the burlesque of a farce.

New Hampshire Items.

Over twenty years ago, says the Bangor Commercial, a young lady by the name of Addie A. Morrison, then living in eastern Maine, kindly befriended a deserter from the British army, who happened to pass her father's house. Time passed away and the young lady married one A. M. Hill and subsequently removed to Wakefield, N. H., where she is now living. The other day she received a notice that she had the nice little sum of $1,000,000 left her by the soldier, who had died a bachelor.

Charles Rice, a farmer living in Drewsville, committed suicide Tuesday morning by hanging. He was seventy years old. Intemperance was the cause.

An injunction was served Tuesday to restrain the Unitarian Society of Concord from moving their church from the back to the front part of the lot. The work of moving was in process at the time.

—One of the London boulevard weeklies gives as an opinion passed upon Mrs. Langtry, the reigning British belle: "She is very handsome; but she always reminds me of a Jersey cow, with her creamy face and great black eyes. If she had only a black nose the resemblance would be complete."

—Von Moltke tells a good story of a big Circassian whom he saw parading through a packed ball-room with a whole arsenal of pistols at his belt. "Are they loaded?" asked Von Moltke, with some apprehension of an accident. "Loaded!" said the Circassian with an accent of disgusted surprise; "what would I want to carry pistols for if they weren't loaded!"

—Work on the Boston post office extension is progressing slowly but surely. Four masons squinted over a block of stone yesterday for three hours to decide if it was level, and then went to dinner. A couple of men who spent the principal part of one afternoon in getting in and out of their overalls got as far as spitting on their hands before it was time to "knock off;" they will lift a couple of planks early in the week.—Commercial Bulletin.

—An amateur pedestrian, walking across the northern edge of Westchester county, N. Y., on a wager, stopped at the forks of a road, at a loss as to which way his course lay, and awaited the arrival of a stranger who was coming at a tremendous stride. "I say, sir," he cried out, "can you tell me which is the shortest road to Sing Sing?" "Yes, sir," said the stranger, unbuttoning a convict's striped shirt, and lifting a cap from a closely cropped head; "You just stand here and see which way I go, and then you turn right around and go just the other way—straight." The amateur pedestrian followed these simple directions and arrived at the end of his course in time to win his wager.

Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway R. R. Company Meeting.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad Company will be held at the Ward Room on Elm Street, near the Eastern Railroad Station, in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, on the thirtieth day of July, A. D. 1878, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the following purpose, to-wit: To inquire into the condition of the affairs of said corporation; to consider the expediency of said corporation going into voluntary bankruptcy; and if it shall be deemed so expedient, to authorize some officer of the corporation to file a petition in its behalf for the purpose of having the same adjudged bankrupt, and for the benefit of an act of Congress entitled, "An act to establish a uniform system of Bankruptcy throughout the United States, approved March 2, 1867," —and of all acts in amendment thereof.

THE CITY.

The wages of the workmen in the Eldredge brewery will be reduced ten per cent on the 24th inst.

The adjourned meeting of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire stockholders will be held at the Music Hall this forenoon, at ten o'clock.

The Granite State Base Ball Club of this city have accepted a challenge from the Clippers of Farmington, one of the finest amateur clubs in the State, to play at the Plains on Saturday, July 20. All lovers of base ball should witness this game as it will be the finest of the season in this vicinity. Game to be called at 2 P. M. sharp.

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences for the quarter ending with July is received from the publisher, Henry C. Lea, Nos. 706 & 708 Sansom street, Philadelphia. Edited by Isaac Hays, A. M., M. D., and I. Minis Hays, A. M., M. D.; published quarterly, at $5.00 per year, free of postage. This publication is a quarterly record of medical and surgical discoveries, and must be invaluable to the profession.

The Times says: "Another inscrutable act of the City Councils has been the removal of Mr. Mercer Goodrich from the Board of Instruction,—one of the most able and efficient gentlemen ever on the school committee." Mr. Goodrich undoubtedly attended to his duties as a member of the Board of Instruction, as we believe he has always attended to the duties of any position he has occupied; but the talk of his "removal" is as absurd as it would be to talk of Grant's "removal" from the Presidency. Mr. Goodrich was elected for a stated term, served it out, and then another man was elected to fill the vacancy, and that is all there is about it.

"Along the Danube," by Edward King, is the opening paper of Lippincott's Magazine for August, and both text and illustrations are spirited and lively. Edward H. Knight, one of our commissioners to the Paris Exposition, and a member of the jury on machinery, gives an illustrated paper on the Buildings and Grounds, with suggestive comparisons between Paris and Philadelphia. A much livelier article, and one better suited to the present temperature is "A Welsh Watering-Place," by Wirt Sikes; but the gem of the number is "The British Soldier," by Henry James, Jr., in which the exquisite irony and delicate powers of the writer are employed on a most attractive theme. "Sambo: a Man and a Brother," by S. A. Shields, contains some pictures of negro character from personal observation which cannot fail to be read with interest. Mrs. Hooper sketches the career of the Empress Eugenie with much animation and causticity; and Mrs. Howland gives an account of a new system of Musical Notation. There is a striking story in the number entitled "A Saxon God," and the new serial, "Through Winding Ways," shows a careful study of life with a genialty of tone that is especially charming. There are other good things in the number, which is almost wholly of a light character, suitable for the month.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, July 17: Batchelder, J.

Frank Greenough was before the court on a continued case, charged with aggravated assault on Frank E. Foster. This was the shooting case growing out of a display of rowdyism by a lot of young fellows on the morning of July 4th; but the parties to the affair having settled their differences and being anxious to let the matter drop, the case against Greenough was nol. pros'd, counter charges against Foster being withdrawn.

James Welch was called up on two charges, one for selling liquor, and the other for selling liquor on Sunday. The prosecutor failing to appear Welch was discharged.

THE VICINITY.

An excursion train consisting of seven crowded passenger cars went to Portland from Salmon Falls on the 16th inst.

The wife and daughters of Bishop Burgess, late of Springfield, Mass., are at York harbor. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stoughton, of Washington, D. C., are at York beach.

Moses Emery, Esq., of Saco, the oldest member of the York county bar and one of the oldest living graduates of Yale college, celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday on the 16th inst.

Miss Mabel C. Hartford, the valedictorian at the Dover High School, attended school regularly and paid her board and other expenses by labor outside of school hours and during vacations.

Three large ice-houses, containing in all about four thousand tons of ice, and situated on the banks of the river about a mile and a half from Saco, were burned on the morning of the 16th inst.

Edmund B. Whittier, son of Mr. Otis H. Whittier of Hampton, met with an accident while loading cartridges for his gun, one of them exploding and shattering the inside of his hand and taking off the ends of three fingers.

The funeral services of the late Deacon Holman, the veteran seaside landlord at Biddeford Pool, Me., were largely attended. A steamer from Biddeford carried over 300 people, and the summer visitors turned out in large numbers.

Gen. Edward F. Noyes, United States Minister to France, is at the Boar's Head hotel. Ex-Attorney-General Taft arrived at the same hotel on Wednesday, and will be joined by several distinguished citizens of this and adjoining States, including Senator Rollins, Hon. William E. Chandler, Gov. Prescott, Gen. Natt Head, Col. Daniel Hall and Collector Young.

The following is written in the front part of the large Bible that adorns the desk of the Congregational church at Hampton, under the date of January, 1874: "Presented to Rev. E. D. Eldredge, by Christopher S. Toppan of Portsmouth, N. H., in exchange for the Bible given by his grandfather, Hon. Christopher Toppan, in the year 1786, to Rev. Ebenezer Thayer, for the use of the Congregational church and society in Hampton."

SPARE THE BIRDS.

To the Sportsmen of Portsmouth and vicinity: Frequent complaints have been made during the summer that song and insectiverous birds have been shot in Portsmouth and vicinity by persons calling themselves sportsmen, either pretending it is in the interests of science or from mere wantonness. It seems hardly credible that a true sportsman should practice upon that class of birds, and we therefore appeal to you to discountenance the shooting of song and insectiverous birds and to aid in the enforcement of the bird-law against all those known to violate its provisions, whether claiming to kill birds for scientific purposes or for mere sport. The honor of the sportsman as well as humanity to the birds, often wounded by poor marksmen and left to die a lingering death, requires the execution of this law, and we will co-operate heartily in its enforcement whenever evidence can be obtained that the law has been violated. C. E. BATCHELDER, Secretary S. P. C. A.

Portsmouth, July 16, 1878.

—There were five of them, and they had assembled in a cigar store near Capital Hotel. The subject was in regard to horse racing. Said a hack driver who was present, "Talk about your fast time! Why, I've seen a horse trot a mile in 1:90." "Impossible!" said the cigar store proprietor; "It can't be done! The best time I ever heard of was 2:14 1-2." Said the hackman, "I'll bet you five dollars I can prove what I say." Taken by the cigar man, coin put up and a referee chosen. In a drawling voice the hackman explained to the man of cigars. "Don't you know, you idiot, that 1:90 is two minutes and thirty seconds?" Turning to the stakeholder the tobacconist then said: "Give him the money; it's worth five dollars to know what a fool I am."—Sacramento Bee.

MARRIAGES.

PEIRCE—SMITH, In Boston, July 16th, by Rev. Joshua R. Peirce, Mr. William A. Peirce of this city and Mrs. Susan M. Smith of Greenland.

DEATHS.

HOLMAN. At Biddeford Pool, July 15th, Mrs. Hannah Holman, aged 73 years, widow of Deacon Daniel Holman. Deacon Holman died a few days previously, and was buried the day before his wife's death.

WELLS. In Kennebunk, July 11, Mr. Nathan E. Wells, aged 63 years.

☞ The Funeral of the late Elizabeth P. Spalding will take place at St. John's church this (Thursday) morning at ten o'clock.

—Royalty is occasionally subjected to fleecing at the hands of grasping hotel keepers, as well as the ordinary run of mankind. The Shah of Persia, who dined and slept at a hotel at Fontainebleau, with his suite, was presented with a bill for $2850, and ultimately paid $1800. The items included $300 for flowers, $80 for twenty chickens, $10 for two bunches of cigarettes, $160 for carriages, and $12 for a single melon.

—A lieutenant applied to his captain for leave to go on shore. It was refused. He repeated his request, and asked for reasons of refusal. Both were still withheld. "But, sir," he expostulated, "if I ask for leave, and you refuse it, without giving me any reasons, I shall walk about the deck with a stigma on my back." "By George, sir," cried the irate captain, "if I catch you walking up and down her majesty's deck with anything but her majesty's uniform on your back, I'll have you tried by court martial!"—London World.

Fat People.

Corpulent people can be reduced from two to five pounds per week without starvation, by using Allan's Anti-Fat, a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy. It acts on the food in the stomach, neutralizing all saccharine and oleaginous matter.

383 Washington St., BOSTON, MASS., May 21st, 1878.

BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., Buffalo, N. Y.:
Gentlemen: Without special change of diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-half pounds. Yours respectfully,
M. A. BUSH.

Hundreds of letters similar to the above have been received by the Botanic Medicine Co. Anti-Fat sold by druggists.

Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

The Princess Yrturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

Everybody sings the praises of Adamson's Botanic Balsam because it is an article of merit, of more value than gold; it relieves distress, restores health, and prolongs life. What greater office of kindness and mercy could it perform? Price only 35 cents.

What we all want now, is money! You may realize hundreds of dollars by investing $50 in stock operations through the reliable house of Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 12 Wall st., N.Y. Their Weekly Financial Report gives full information and is sent free. 7

Beautiful Helen no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more than doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Sold by all Druggists. HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. 4jy21

—A man in Waco, Minn., having money enough to indulge his desire for seclusion, lives alone in a room to which nobody else is ever admitted. The rest of the house is used by his family and servants. His meals and whatever else he calls for are handed to him through an aperture in the wall. He is entirely sane, unless this eccentricity amounts to a mania. His novel mode of life was begun a year ago, and he says that he likes it so well that he will continue it until he dies. He spends a large part of his time in reading.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

A Philosophical Tramp.

The younger tramp seemed to be rather disheartened, and was grumbling that he did not like to be kicked about like a dog. The elder tramp, a large man with rather a cheerful face, but very ragged exterior, rebuked his companion in a way that showed how the average professional tramp views his situation. "I tell you," said he with a careless glance at the apparently inattentive Craig, "you ought to be glad to have such good times. Here, take a drink and don't be a fool. I've been on the road now several years, and I don't want a better life. I get a living, and that's all a man wants. Now, look at those poor devils hurrying along to and from their work. They slave all day and worry about it if they don't get a chance to do it. They work all day, year in and year out, and give all the grub we need to such chaps as me without thinking much about it. You and I lay here and sun ourselves, for this is the chilliest June I ever saw, and sleeping out this forenoon made me feel cold. Will I catch cold from last night's rain? Well, suppose I do; I'm drying off and warming up now, and if I have whiskey enough I'll drive out the cold. I tell you there's no danger of any man starving to death in this country if he ain't ashamed to wear ragged clothes and has cheek enough to ask for grub. These folks will toil and slave to support us, and why shouldn't they if they are fools enough." And the tramp laughed heartily and passed the bottle to his companion, who was soon also in the best humor. —Reading (Pa.) Eagle.

Don't Forget the Place!

UNDER FRANKLIN HALL, FLEET STREET.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, compound of drugs, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any mineral or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. As a specimen of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in advance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time one of the many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning point of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times, under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it, for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; for during the years of its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhea, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a panacea, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, postpaid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1866, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in preference, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Daily Chronicle.

Our New York Fashion Letter.

SARATOGA, July 17th.

New York Fashions as illustrated at Saratoga. A letter from the city in July would be stale, flat, and unprofitable. Besides, it would scarce be a fashion letter, for now there is no fashion proper left. Among notables here are Wm. H. Vanderbilt and family, Mrs. A. T. Stewart, Judge Hilton and family, W. Shishkin (Russian Minister) and family, Sir Mantilla de los Rios (Spanish Minister) and wife, John S. Owden, son of the Lord Mayor of London, Mr. and Mrs. George Opdyke, Rear Admiral Livingston and wife, Hon. and Mrs. Isaac Sherman, Robert G. Remsen, Gov. Haight of San Francisco, and ex-Gov. E. D. Morgan. Let me describe a morning toilet worn by Mme. Mantilla as she sat on a piazza entertaining a Spanish gentleman. Princess wrapper of white muslin over white silk. The front ornamented with two very wide insertions of lace, which separating below the waist, gave room for bows of satin ribbon, double faced, black on one side, white on the other. Sleeves reaching to the elbow, ten-buttoned white kid gloves, coral bracelet on her right arm, coral broach and earrings. Dainty black slippers, and white silk stockings. Her dark hair came low at the back, puffs above, and frizzes brought over her forehead. She held an elegant white brocade silk parasol over her head, as a protection from the sunlight. Her complexion is soft and white, her eyes very dark and bright. She has a full rounded figure, and is a pretty, attractive woman, but her large mouth prevents her from being beautiful. However, her smile is very pleasing, and her teeth are pearly white. A handsome costume worn by Mrs. D—— of Baltimore, is made Favorita demi-train; the material, bourette grenadine and black silk. For out doors, with this, she wears a Clarissa mantelet made en suite. Her neice wore the other evening a toilet of pale blue cashmere made Francesca polonaise. Blouse waists are quite fashionable, and charming models in this style, are the Alcia and the Ariel. The Corisande overskirt combines practically with either. Preference seems divided about equally between short dresses and trained costumes which are exceeding long. Pretty morning dresses are of white or pale tinted bunting trimmed with bows of velvet or ribbon. Some chance is now also given for the display of a pretty neck, since the front of the dress may show a heart shaped neck. But don't be afraid to come here for a week or two, with your black silk or your bourrette or cashmere combination suit. We have plenty of plain people—even old-fashioned people, but they are refined—elderly, of course. But every does just as one chooses; the lady in her traveling ulster feels as much at home as the belle in her trained silks. In the daytime, and in the evening, ladies may walk around town, and down to the springs, dressed in such a way as elsewhere would subject them to immediate insult. Fancy wrappers, light silks—anything indeed, which one happens to have on. Anything and everything is comme il faut, and that which constitutes the charm of the place, is the abandon which prevails. Here at the Grand Union Hotel, life seems a fairy tale. The spacious inner court, spread with green and flowering enameling; the ancient forest above, linked in splendid canopy; the song of birds intermingling with the play of fountains, while morning and evening music from a trained band attracts not only the guests of the house, but others who, less favored, come from elsewhere to listen. In magnitude of proportion, as in general attractiveness, it defies competition, extending fourteen hundred feet along the street, with a grand central dome rising nearly one hundred and fifty feet. The dining room, capable of seating one thousand guests, is two hundred and eighty-six feet in length, by fifty-five in width. Then there is the spacious ball room surrounded by piazzas; but of piazzas indeed, there is no end, since they are everywhere. Accommodation is afforded for two thousand inmates, with auxiliaries for three thousand, hot and cold water in every room. The furniture is of course, elegant and costly. Just a word about Coiffuers. Fanciful towers of finger puffs, placed with small regard to symetry of outline but with much striving after effect, are placed high on the head. Often at the back, having the appearance of a support thereto, are ornamental combs, or they are intermixed in some careless way therewith. Again, the hair is brought low in soft braids or from two to four short curls.

LUCY CARTER.

—Close of the season,—straw hats and dusters.

Portsmouth Chronicle

FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1878.

The Heated Wave.

The terrible heat that has wrought such havoc to human life in the northern Mississippi valley was on Wednesday evening reported to be slowly approaching the Atlantic coast, having then reached western New York and Pennsylvania. The cool wave announced by the signal service as being on the way south from the great lakes on Tuesday, had reached the heated districts but brought only temporary relief, passing over in a few hours and the heat again becoming intense as ever. Wednesday was the hottest day of the season in Cincinnati, but only three cases of sunstroke occurred. In Chicago nine persons died Tuesday; Wednesday forenoon there were fourteen cases of sunstroke, four being immediately fatal; over fifty horses had died from the heat up to Wednesday night. In St. Louis the number of persons struck down by the heat up to Wednesday night amounted to over 1500, and 145 deaths had been reported, while many other of the sufferers will die; the mortality among children, which does not appear in the heat record, is appalling. All through the west business was almost entirely suspended. At Toronto, Canada, the thermometer marked 103 degress in the shade, Wednesday, and many persons were sunstruck, but none fatally. At Wheeling, W. Va., the thermometer was 101, and there were two fatal sunstrokes. At Janesville, Ill., the temperature had been above ninety for five days in succession, but no sunstrokes had occurred.

Reports from various points in Iowa, Illinois and adjacent States, Thursday evening, announced the heat as still unabated and many cases of sunstroke occurring.

Naval Affairs.

The Alta-California (San Francisco) says the proposition to put the U. S. S. Benicia's boilers into the Pensacola has been abandoned. The boilers are of a very inconvenient size, and about the only thing to be done with them is to build a new ship for them. It is the general impression that the Pensacola will not be sent to sea again. She is too far gone.

The U. S. S. Marion arrived at Gibraltar some time ago, awaiting advices from the British government in regard to the Liberian boundary arbitration, of which Commander Bradford was, by the department's order, appointed arbitrator; on June 26th the Marion was ordered to proceed to Villefranche, where she arrived July 1st.

News and Notes.

The Cornell-Harvard freshmen race at Auburn, N. Y., Wednesday, resulted in a victory for Cornell. Cornell crossed the finish line the winner by nearly three lengths in 17:13 3-4. The excitement among the Cornell students was of the wildest description, a great number rushing into the lake waist deep to carry their victorious comrades ashore.

Sweet sixteen made a stir in Ann Arbor when she was graduated at the close of the term. The subject of her commencement essay was "My Lovers." She handled them without gloves, gave their names, described their manner of courtship and pointed out their mistakes—dissected them in public, as it were.

Henry Green, a crazy Englishman, who recently committed suicide in Leavenworth, Kan., had a disordered fancy. One night he determined to attend his own funeral. He hired a hearse, a coffin and several mourning carriages, and proceeded to have a funeral all by himself. He placed the coffin inside the hearse, got into the coffin with a bottle of whiskey, and the solemn procession took its course through the principal streets of the city. It was a queer time for a showy funeral, but it was not until the procession had appeared in the same thoroughfares several times that the suspicions of the community were aroused. When the hearse was opened, the corpse was found sitting upon its coffin and declaring that it wouldn't go home till morning.

The people at Bangor, Me., are greatly excited over the announcement that there are several cases of small pox in one house. The selectmen have secured a house out of the village and the patients will be removed to it. The schools are closed.

The fish along the shores of the Connecticut river at Springfield are dying in large numbers, and it is believed that the mortality is occasioned by Paris green washed from the potato fields on the banks.

New Hampshire Items.

A son of Andrew Parker of Bartlett, fifteen years old, fell from a load of hay recently, the wheel passing over his body. His recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Maria Hardy, the alleged poisoner of her husband, who died in jail July 9th, is said to have left a confession.

John F. Doyle, signal officer at the summit of Mt. Washington, has been relieved by J. C. Linsley, and is ordered to duty in the office of the Chief Signal Officer at Washington.

At Keene, Wednesday, one J. P. Conley was fined $50 and sent to jail for selling rum in bottles to workmen on the line of the Manchester & Keene railroad from a wagon.

The late Edward Wheeler left a bequest of $1000 to the city of Nashua, on the condition that the city expend $30 a year on his grave forever.

Capt. John French of Stratham, while doctoring an ox a few days since in that town, had one of his ribs broken by being struck by one of the animal's horns.

The following order was left on the slate of a Dover doctor: "Doc, cum up to ther house; the old man has got snaix in his butes agin, an raisin kain."

—Have nothing to do with any man in a passion, for men are not like iron, to be wrought upon when hot.

—New York never probably looked so vacant in July as during the present season. The stampede out of town during the hot weather has been more general than ever before, partly because accommodations in all classes of summer resorts are, as a rule, cheaper than they have been for years, and partly because there is so little business to detain men in town.

Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, literateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

Fat People.

Corpulent people can be reduced from two to five pounds per week without starvation, by using Allan's Anti-Fat, a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy. It acts on the food in the stomach, neutralizing all saccharine and oleaginous matter.

283 Washington St., BOSTON, MASS., May 21st, 1878.

BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., Buffalo, N. Y.:

Gentlemen: Without special change of diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-half pounds. Yours respectfully,

M. A. BURR.

Hundreds of letters similar to the above have been received by the Botanic Medicine Co. Anti-Fat sold by druggists.

The Princess Iturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

Everybody sings the praises of Adamson's Botanic Balsam because it is an article of merit, of more value than gold; it relieves distress, restores health, and prolongs life. What greater office of kindness and mercy could it perform? Price only 25 cents.

Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 12 Wall st., N. Y., make careful investments for customers, in sums of $25 to $100, which frequently pay ten to twenty times the amount invested. Their Weekly Financial Report, sent free, gives full information. 8

Beautiful Helen no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more than doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Sold by all Druggists. HELL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. 6yr13

—People who come to high words use low expressions.

Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway R. R. Company Meeting.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad Company will be held at the Ward Room on Elm Street, near the Eastern Railroad Station, in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, on the thirteenth day of July, A. D. 1878, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the following purpose, to-wit: To inquire into the condition of the affairs of said corporation; to consider the expediency of said corporation going into voluntary bankruptcy; and if it shall be deemed so expedient, to authorize some officer of the corporation to file a petition in its behalf for the purpose of having the same adjudged bankrupt, and for the benefit of an act of Congress entitled, "An act to establish a uniform system of Bankruptcy throughout the United States, approved March 2, 1867," — and of all acts in amendment thereof.

By order of the Directors,
WALLACE HACKETT, Clerk.

THE CITY.

Hon. Thomas L. Tullock is in this city on a brief visit from Washington.

Solon Chase, Esq., of Maine, has accepted the invitation of the Portsmouth greenbackers to speak in this city, and will deliver an address here on the evening of July 30th.

During the past six months the Kearsarge mills have manufactured 2,777,686 yards of cloth, which is 568,416 yards more than during any previous six months. It is reported that the shutdown for repairs to machinery and vacation for the hands will not take place at the time mentioned a few days since, orders that need to be at once filled having been received for goods.

Harper's Magazine for August is now ready for delivery at Myers' and Moses Brothers' bookstores. It contains "The golden age of engraving," with thirteen illustrations; "The White Sulphur Springs," twenty illustrations; "An old-fashioned spa," thirteen illustrations; "Birds and plumage," sixteen illustrations; and many other interesting articles, with and without illustrations, poems, sketches, the ever-fresh "Editor's drawer," scientific record, etc.

The Weekly comments as follows on the opinion given by the mayor before the board of aldermen, in the case of special officer Taylor, accused of abusing a drunken and violent prisoner who resisted arrest: "That is right; stand by the officers and law and order. Better crack a dozen drunken bullies' heads, than harm or even endanger a good officer." That's our creed exactly; we always assume an officer to be in the right until he is clearly shown to be in the wrong.

The rigging of the new schooner Cocheco is finished; the painters settled down to business on Thursday, and the sails will be bent the first of next week. She is certainly a fine-looking vessel; competent judges pronounce her a first-class craft, and say she will be a good sailer and carry a large cargo. She has been measured by the custom house authorities, and registers 220 42-100 tons. Mr. Joseph C. Muchmore, who rigged the Cocheco, commenced work on Thursday at fitting the rigging for the Mary E. Eldredge.

The Portsmouth Weekly says: "We are convinced from examination, that the headstone of Mr. John Stokell at the south cemetery, was broken and overturned by cows rousting about there, from the adjacent pasture, and not by vandal man. Our attention was first called to the matter by Undertaker Adams, who saw the cows near; and there is no mark on the three-inches-thick marble, of a bruise or blow necessary to break it across in the middle, as it is, while one cow might easily hook or push another against it, and tip it over from its foundation, as it now lies, and break it. We once saw a small mare break a granite post eight inches square short off, in front of the First National bank, merely by coming down hard with her breast against it, after rearing in fright at a steam engine operating on Market square. We are glad no other vandal but a cow committed this outrage, and wish the owner could be discovered and made to replace the stone."

The Boston Traveller of Wednesday evening says "the U. S. S. Speedwell has left Portsmouth on a trial trip. The Kearsarge is being masted." How long do they suppose it takes to put the masts in a little vessel like the Kearsarge at this navy yard? The Kearsarge was hauled under the sheers Tuesday morning, and was hauled back to her berth before noon with her masts in all right. And this reminds us that we have recently seen in the New York and Boston papers a statement that two ship carpenters employed on the Brooklyn navy yard had been unavailingly urged to leave there and take a job on the Boston yard, where they were wanted to do something to the deck of a ship, there being no carpenters on the latter yard able to do the job! We do not fully credit this yarn; but if they have got at the Boston yard a ship they can't handle, let them send her down here, where there are plenty of shipwrights who can put her deck under her keel, and her bowsprit and steering gear both in the same end if required, and think nothing of it.

The United States Circuit Court, Judge Clark presiding, will hold a session in this city on Saturday.

Sherman Newton, son of Mr. Elvin Newton, while playing ball recently ran into a tree-box and cut a bad gash in his head.

Mr. Edward S. Swasey has been elected second lieutenant of the Heavy Artillery, in place of Lieut. Andrew P. Preston, resigned.

Thirty disciples of Isaac Walton had a convention on 2d Newcastle bridge, Wednesday, and caught twelve mackerel in as many hours—"tinkers," at that.

At a meeting of the Light Artillery, Thursday evening, the invitation from Providence, R. I., was acted on, and a committee on transportation and music was appointed.

Two sloop boats sailing up the river, above Portsmouth bridge, Wednesday afternoon, were caught in a squall, and one had her mainsail split while the other's mast was carried away.

All the parties owning land taken for the proposed new road around the south millpond have accepted the award made by the board of aldermen for land damages, excepting Ben. F. Webster and Joseph H. Barnard.

EASTERN R. R. IN N. H.

The adjourned meeting of the stockholders in this corporation was held at Music Hall in this city on Thursday. Hon. Moody Currier, President of the corporation, occupied the chair. The clerk read the record of the proceedings of the meeting of the ninth inst., of which this meeting was an adjournment.

The act of the Legislature passed on the 11th inst. was read by the clerk. It provides that the number of directors shall be not less than five nor more than seven, as the stockholders may from year to year determine; and that the treasurer shall be required to give bonds in such sum as the directors shall determine. It also provides a new plan for calling special meetings whenever the directors shall be requested so to do by holders of fifteen per cent. of the capital stock, and that at all meetings of the corporation, twenty per cent. of the stock of the corporation present in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. It also enacts that section two of the act of July 2, 1839, shall be taken and deemed to authorize the renewal, modification or extension of existing contracts if any for the use and operation of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, and also to authorize the making of any new contract or contracts for the use and operation of said railroad upon such terms and for such time as may be deemed expedient; provided that nothing in this act contained shall be taken or deemed to approve or disapprove or in any way affect the existence of any contract for the use and operation of said railroad now claimed to exist and be in force; and provided also that no such renewal, modification or extension, or new contract shall be valid until approved by a majority of the board of directors and of the stockholders present at any legal meeting called for that purpose, and by the Governor and Council and Railroad Commissioners as provided by existing laws, and a copy of such contract shall be placed on file in the office of the Secretary of State.

On motion of E. L. Giddings, Esq., of Beverly, this act was accepted and adopted.

On motion of S. C. Eastman, Esq., of Concord, the meeting proceeded to the election of seven directors, and a committee of three was appointed by the chair to receive, sort and count the votes. This committee consisted of Messrs. Eastman, C. H. Odell of Salem, and Wm. H. Rollins of Portsmouth. The report of the committee after the polls were closed shew that 2538 votes had been cast, all of which were for Moody Currier, Walter Hastings, Dexter Richards, Francis Thompson, Edward L. Giddings, Edward A. Abbot, Thomas J. Lee.

Their report was accepted, and the gentlemen above-named were then declared by the president duly elected directors for the year ensuing.

Mr. Thompson of Boston enquired of the chair as to the condition of the litigation with the Eastern Railroad Co. The president called upon Mr. Eastman, the counsel for the road, to enlighten the meeting as to the matter enquired of. Eastman stated that the suit in the State court was in a very satisfactory condition, and the questions would be submitted to the Judges next month, and a favorable result was confidently looked for. The suit in the United States court remained in the same condition it was in at the last meeting.

The stockholders then adjourned.

The directors subsequently met for organization, and the officers of last year were re-elected, namely: Hon. Moody Currier, president; Thomas J. Lee, treasurer; and William H. Hackett, clerk.

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

Henry R. Stoddard and others called the attention of the board to the very dangerous condition of the street at the corner of Vaughan and Hanover, and requested that improvement be made. Referred to committee on streets to report.

G. M. Goodrich's request that his bill be referred to committee on claims was laid on the table.

Committee on drains recommended that the petition for a sewer from Deer through Vaughan street be granted, and a six-inch pipe be laid to connect with the main sewer on Elm street.

City treasurer reported that he had tendered the money to the owners of the land around the south millpond.

Myron A. Webber was appointed special police without pay.

The bids from the New Hampshire and Rockingham national banks for the deposits and loans of the city's money were received, and the award was given to the Rockingham bank, its bid being the most favorable, viz.: 4 3-4 for loans and 2 3-8 for deposits.

Voted that the city clerk be empowered to bid in any real estate that may be sold for non-payment of taxes.

The opinion of the city solicitor, to whom was referred the bills of street commissioner Holmes, was read, to the effect that the city is not legally bound to pay them. Voted that the bills as presented be paid, and the street commissioner notified that hereafter no bills of that description will be allowed.

The committee appointed by the board to examine the drain pipe laid by Dennis Shea made the following report:

That portions of the cement sewers were on Monday last exposed and examined by the committee, as follows: in Bridge street a twenty-two inch oval pipe laid in 1872; in Hanover street, a twelve inch pipe laid in 1874; two places in the twenty-two inch pipe in Cabot street, laid in 1871; and in Brewster street, a twelve inch pipe laid in 1868 or 9. The examination was satisfactory to the committee, the pipe being found in good condition, showing no signs of decay. It bore heavy blows with a hammer and cold chisel without fracture, and where chipped off on the surface showed the substance of the pipe to be like a stone. They find no difference in the pipe on account of frost, a portion of the sewer examined being only about eighteen inches deep, yet that and all the rest seems to have grown harder with age. The committee are confirmed in their opinion that the cement pipe is reliable for sewerage purposes.

JOHN B. BROUGHTON,
C. H. SIDES.

Alderman Hoyt, chairman of the committee on drains, thought the board's action reflected somewhat on the committee, and explained why the committee were induced to purchase the Ackron, O., pipe; he read a report from an engineer recommending the glazed pipe, and said it was cheapest, though Mr. Shea has since offered his for about the same price.

Voted that the new street laid out by the county commissioner, and extension at Christian shore, be called Northwest street.

THAT SUMMARY REMOVAL.

The Times sticks to it that Mr. Mercer Goodrich was "removed" from the board of instruction, and says "the CHRONICLE knows, if it knows anything, that Mr. Goodrich's summary removal was a contrived plan among certain members of the educational board, because he was not considered partisan enough to suit a certain clique." The CHRONICLE doesn't know anything of the kind, and our neighbor is at liberty to infer what he pleases as to whether we know anything else or not. But our opinion is that a failure to re-elect any official is not "summarily removing" him; and as to Mr. Goodrich's partisanship—we never heard of him as being a narrow partisan, but he was certainly partisan enough to be put in a city office by the democrats when they had the power.

The "educational board" does not elect its own members, the board of aldermen selecting them. The terms of four members, viz.: Messrs. Hutchinson, Shannon, Goodrich and Pender, expire August 1st, and at a late meeting of the aldermen Mr. Pender, and Messrs. Alfred C. Hoyt and John H. Locke were elected on the first ballot to fill three of the vacancies. Messrs. Hutchinson and Shannon, both republicans, were "summarily removed" by not being voted for; Mr. Goodrich received four votes; and Mr. Wm. C. Newton, a democrat, also received four votes—all, as we are informed, being brown by republicans, so that one democratic vote would have elected him. On the fifth ballot the vote was: Oliver M. Knight five, Mercer Goodrich one, and the former was elected. That is all we know about the matter. If the Times knows that Mr. Goodrich owed his failure of a re-election to the intrigues of "a certain clique," we are perfectly willing it should expose them; but its inuendoes and vague assertions amount to nothing.

THE VICINITY.

The address of Rev. Isaac C. White at the funeral services of Hon. Wm. B. Small, at Newmarket last April, has been neatly printed in pamphlet form.

Rev. E. M. Grant and family will spend several weeks of the heated term at Fort Point, Newcastle, one of the most pleasant and breezy spots about the harbor.

Otis P. Dudley, who was injured by being struck by a train about two weeks since at a crossing in Durham, has since died. He was buried on the 15th inst.

Capt. Nat. Low, Jr., of Dover, has received an appointment as special agent of the post office department, and ordered to report at Washington at once. His salary is $3500 a year.

The farm buildings of George W. Perkins of Epping, near the Hedding campground, were destroyed by fire early on the morning of the 16th inst. Loss $2500, including household furniture. Insured $1200.

John Griffin of South Newmarket jumped from a train on the Boston & Maine railroad, near the station, on the 13th inst., and received injuries rendering the amputation of a foot and a portion of the leg necessary.

Bradford W. Blaisdell, Esq., of York, died suddenly in that town on the 16th inst. Mr. Blaisdell was one of the younger members of the York county bar, having been in practice but a few years. He had a paralytic shock in the city hall at Saco last winter, he being then attending the session of the court there, and he never fully recovered his health. He leaves a wife and one or two children.

John Lyndsey, formerly of the Fabyan house, and long ago of the Eagle hotel at Concord, is now landlord of the Ocean house at Old Orchard beach. Ben. Barnes, Jr., formerly of Dover, and a well known newspaper correspondent, is chief clerk at the Ocean. Ex-Judge E. D. Rand, of Lisbon, is among the guests of this establishment.

David Webster, one of the liquor detectives who, in default of bail, was sent to jail here two months since, and who afterwards was set free, was arrested at Newmarket, Wednesday, for slandering one E. A. Keep, a free-rum-advocating lawyer of that town. Webster was arraigned before Justice McNeal, but was immediately discharged as there was no evidence against him.

William A. Strangman, late a provision dealer in Great Falls, is in trouble. Last April he visited Boston, purchased goods to the amount of $25,000, and ordered his purchases shipped for Great Falls. He then preceded the goods, took them off at way stations, and sold them for what he could get. A week or two later he failed, and offered his creditors for ten to thirty cents on a dollar. The creditors arrested him, when he applied to Major F. J. Jones for permission to take the poor debtor's oath. A hearing was had and these facts were developed, whereupon Major Jones sent Strangman to the House of correction for six months. The charges upon which conviction and sentence were declared were, first, that Strangman bought goods without intending to pay; and secondly, that he fraudulently concealed his assets before applying for the oath. The cases of the creditors in civil suits are postponed until the 18th of January, when the term of imprisonment for fraud will have expired.

TO TEACHERS.

A COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION, open to all applicants possessing the requisite qualifications, will be held at the High School Room in this city on TUESDAY, August 20th, at nine o'clock, A. M., for the purpose of filling a vacancy in the office of Principal of the First Grammar School, Dist. No. Two, in this city.

The selection of the teacher will be made with a due regard to attainments, experience, testimonials and character, together with the ability to properly discharge the duties of Master having supervision of the schools in the District.

Applicants will be required to be proficient in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic (Practical Arithmetic complete,) Physiology (Cutter's First Book complete,) and History (History of the U. S. complete,) Geography, Grammar and Language.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

FRANK E. DEARBORN,

NO. 40 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH.

A State of Perplexity.

Tuscarora, in the State of Nevada, has lately been the scene of a most remarkable occurence. A person known as Samuel M. Pollard courted and married a young woman of good family and reputation, named Maranecy Hughes. Maranecy after living with Pollard for six months, went back to her parents. She stated that Pollard was a women, who, from motives connected with her previous career, had assumed male attire, and had married her partly as a cruel jest, and partly to better maintain her assumed character. Maranecy also said that Pollard had deterred her by threats from previously making known the facts; and when some doubts were expressed as to the truth of her astonishing story, Maranecy went before a Justice of the Peace and made affidavit to it. She also urged the authorities to prosecute Pollard. Meanwhile Pollard stoutly asserted that he (or she) belonged to the male sex, and averred that his wife had left him for other reasons than those put forth by her. The public, at first incredulous, gradually became convinced that Maranecy's statement was correct. In order to settle the question, Pollard was arrested on a charge of perjury in having sworn falsely when the marriage license was obtained. Tuscarora was in a fever of excitement, as women are scarce in that mining town, and a prospect of an addition to the rank of the favored sex was anticipated with anxiety. But whatever hopes existed were dashed by the reconciliation of Maranecy and her husband. They met in court, they embraced, Maranecy wept, and they walked off arm in arm without a word of explanation to the wondering officers. But still the Tuscaroras believe that Pollard is a woman.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science, No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of clamp, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Pellet, or Pellet Relief represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed, being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without pain, inconvenience, or constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Foreboding, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I would state that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and put up in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will prove the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in advance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and roadbed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. As its author, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly marvelous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not exhibit as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Our Navy.

The San Francisco Chronicle of June 24th has the following:

The bill introduced in Congress for the reorganization of the Navy Department did not come up for final passage during the session just closed, and for another year at least the affairs of that Department are likely to be conducted in the same passive manner which has marked its administration during the last sixteen months. An article on the present condition of the navy, printed on another page of to-day's paper, fully demonstrates the necessity for a change, but it is doubtful whether such a bill as that proposed by B. W. Harris would effect any improvement on the present state of affairs.

The measure referred to proposes, in substance, to turn the mechanical departments over to the line officers of the navy, and to reduce the naval constructors and engineers from their important positions to the grade and duties of master-workmen. The line officer, in common with most masters of merchant ships and skippers of flat-boats labors under the hallucination that because he commands he can also build a vessel. The argument is used that in foreign countries naval officers manage the affairs of the navy; but the fact is overlooked that such officers have been selected for their particular fitness and that where a naval officer is the chief constructor, he has been previously thoroughly educated in ship-building.

The Board of Navy Commissioners of 1815, although composed of high grade naval officers, did not add to, but rather detracted from the efficiency of the navy. The vessels built under their directions were nearly all failures, and several millions were wasted in the experiments, and on ships never launched. These Commissioners did not design or build the fast-sailing sloops of the Portsmouth class, nor the ships of the Merrimac, Hartford or Iroquois type. Those vessels were built by talented professional ship-builders.

The Harris bill provides for twelve assistants to the Secretary of the Navy, ten of whom are sure to be line officers and two to be civilians or staff officers. Admiral Porter, Rear-Admiral Howell and Commodores Ammen, Shufeldt and Jeffers would be the principal officers of the board to reorganize, design and build a navy. Now, as a matter of fact, these officers have been on trial in the past and were all found wanting.

Admiral Porter, during his administration of naval affairs from March 1869, to June, 1870, expended over $10,000,000 on changes and repairs to vessels, most of which were barren of result, and the cost of operations under his direction may be therefore regarded simply as money thrown away. The other aspirants are chiefs of bureaus and held the same offices under Robeson. They were his trusted advisers, and if they were unable to prevent the then existing irregularities, self-respect should have made them resign, and not jeopardize their reputations by allowing their names to become connected with the ex-Secretary's rascalities.

It is improbable that such a board of naval officers could fitly decide upon a definite naval policy and conduct its affairs harmoniously or economically. It would simply be a one-man power, as each member would endeavor to carry out his individual crotchets—every one of them being notoriously afflicted with a hobby—and in so doing they would in a short time metamorphose our few good vessels into nondescripts, with all the faults and none of the good qualities of foreign vessels of war. As advisers of the Secretary of the Navy, their suggestions as to the class of vessels to be built would be desirable; but for them to have control of the mechanical departments, to design and build vessels and engines, would be unadvisable in the extreme.

Notwithstanding the assertions of Admiral Porter and Commander Mead that "there is no naval constructor or engineer in the United States navy competent to build or engine a vessel of war," it is nevertheless true that, as a class, the staff is as competent to perform its duties as the line is to sail and fight the ships. It would not be any greater impertinence on the part of the staff officers to plot and scheme against the "line," invoking Congressional legislation to exchange or absorb the occupation of line officers of high grade, than it is for the latter to attempt to usurp the functions of the staff officers.

—The question of compelling employers to insure their servants against accidents incident to the nature of their labor is discussed in England. Wonder if it is meant to cover the case of Bridget kindling the fire with the kerosene can?

Portsmouth Chronicle

SATURDAY, JULY 20, 1878.

The Heated Wave.

Reports from the torrid wave, Thursday evening, indicated that the worst was over in the west, the centre of extreme heat having travelled further east. At St. Louis the cases of sunstroke were few, though the thermometer was still very high. In Chicago, where thirty-one fatal cases occurred on Wednesday, there were none on Thursday, and but few prostrations; a cool wind from the lake put the mercury down to about 75 degrees. At Milwaukee the weather was more comfortable, and there were no new cases of sunstroke. In Washington, D. C., Thursday was the hottest day yet, the mercury standing at 100 in the shade for hours—103 in some places. In Baltimore the mercury was at 98; there were fifty cases of sunstroke, one fatal. At Trenton, N. J., the mills shut down in the afternoon and all out-door work was stopped; temperature 102. In New York city the mercury reached 100 degrees, and there were many sunstrokes, but none fatal; heavy showers cooled the air in the afternoon, and at five o'clock the temperature was 82, rising to 83 at midnight. The heat was terrible all over Pennsylvania, the highest rise of the mercury being at Lancaster, where it marked 105 degrees; not many sunstrokes are reported. New Bedford and Northampton, Mass., had it at from 94 to 100, with several sunstrokes, one fatal. At Providence the temperature was 100; no sunstrokes. In Boston at midnight the thermometer indicated 85 degrees.

On Friday the weather in the vicinity of Cincinnati was hotter than ever, the mercury being 100 in the shade in many places. There were some cases of prostration, but not so many as on previous days. St. Louis was hot, with 54 sunstrokes. In New York the mercury was at 98 and there were many sunstrokes, but few if any were fatal.

Naval Affairs.

Ensign William Winder is detached from the Constitution and placed on waiting orders.

Lieutenant-Commander Gorringe, commanding the Gettysburg, which is on special duty, reports to the Navy Department, under date of June 17 last, the arrival of his vessel at Ben Ghazi, Africa. He had made a survey of the reefs at Zonage and searched successfully for reported dangers in the Gulf of Sidia, making 375 soundings. He also reports having rediscovered and examined dangers reported by Beechey, after his return around the shores of the gulf. Such discoveries were made as will permit (combined with similar work done by Captain Mouchez in 1876) the construction of a chart and a description of the coast and dangers sufficiently accurate for all purposes of safe navigation.

U. S. S. Speedwell, Commander Lester A. Beardslee commanding, has arrived at Gloucester from this station, for service under the U. S. Fish Commission during the summer.

News and Notes.

A Boise City, Idaho, dispatch says it is not true that the Umatillas joined the hostiles. On the other hand, a hundred warriors joined Col. Forsyth and fought the hostiles, and brought in twenty-two scalps and three hundred horses.

One of Howard's staff under date of Pendleton, Tuesday, 16th inst., says that Miles struck the enemy at Umatilla agency that morning. After a stubborn fight of several hours the entire command, including Bendire's company of cavalry, charged the enemy, driving them in confusion several miles. Our wounded number two; no killed. Enemy's losses five killed and large numbers wounded.

Yellow fever prevails at the Naval Hospital in Brooklyn, and three deaths have occurred. The authorities hope to be able to stay a spread of the dreaded disease, and measures looking to that end were taken Thursday. It is stated that the disease has been generated by the dredging causing the noxious vapors to rise from the sewerage; that, in addition, the ballast from Cuba and other foreign ports had been used as filling at the dock.

Lieutenant-Commander Hoff, of the United States navy, was fatally injured in Washington on the 17th inst. by the breaking down of a carriage. Mrs. Hoff, another lady and the coachman were slightly hurt.

Under the influence of a hurricane in Canada, the brush fires, which have been slowly burning for several days past, are getting dangerous. Much valuable timber has been destroyed along the railroad between St. Armand and St. Alexander and far back into the country. The country for hundreds of miles in Canada, northern New York and Vermont is enveloped in dense smoke. No rain for weeks past.

Two bottles of whisky mixed with opium were recently found within the lines of the camp of the Fifth Fusiliers on St. Helen's islands near Montreal, placed closed to where the guard was stationed. It is supposed that the object was to drug the sentries and steal their arms. An investigation is in progress.

Alice Giblin, who was horribly burned on the 8th of June at Fall River, Mass., when her husband threw a lighted kerosene lamp at her, has died from her injuries. Her husband will be charged with murder.

Oliver P. Baldwin, one of the editors of the Baltimore Sun, died in that city on Thursday.

The Post Office Department decides that a postmaster cannot lawfully refuse to register a sealed package properly prepaid, on the ground that it is addressed to a person or firm engaged in the lottery business, unless he has received special instructions from the Postmaster General, authorizing him to do so, nor can he refuse to issue a money order to such person or firm without the special authority to do so.

Two men named Moses and Kersler were employed to repair a well at Waverly, near Baltimore. Kersler went into the well first and was overcome by the foul air, when Moses went to his assistance and both fell to the bottom of the well in water twelve feet deep and were drowned.

A locomotive and twenty-two passenger and freight cars went through a bridge into the Tippecanoe river near Monticello, O., Thursday. The engineer and bridge tender were killed, but no one else was seriously hurt. The train, which contained many passengers, was smashed to pieces, and that more life was not lost was wonderful.

E. J. Oakley, the absconding cashier of the Merchant's Exchange National Bank of New York city, who embezzled $350,000 in 1870, was arrested in New York on Thursday. He has been living seven years in Montreal and two months in New York, from which city he fled in July, 1871, forfeiting his bail bond. He says the money was lost in Wall street speculation by his brother. The indictment against the prisoner was found February 26th, 1870. He will be tried in October.

Thursday afternoon the wife of Deputy Sheriff Back, of Butler county, Ohio, fired twice in a Cincinnati hotel at a well known democratic politician named Scott Simmes. A scandal concerning her and Simmes has been circulating, Simmes being its author. She was arrested, but Simmes declined to prefer a charge.

Mary Brewster, an unmarried lady sixty years old, was found dead in a pool of water in a swamp at Meriden, Conn., Thursday, with her feet tied.

T. B. Aldrich, in the Atlantic for August, appears in a burlietta called "Moonshine," which is of course bright and sparkling.

The Russians near the Gulf of Saros recently fired on an unarmed boat from a British man-of-war, which had come in search of some sailors who had been detained within the Russian lines, and continued to fire after the Englishmen had hoisted a white flag.

New Hampshire Items.

Edward Everett Hale writes to the Boston Advertiser that the Unitarian camp meeting at the Weirs is a great success.

As William Carr and George Moulton were passing through the woods near B. F. Wiggin's house in Meredith Village they were met by four tramps, who proved to be the parties who entered J. Odel's store in Lake Village, a day or two since, carrying off property estimated at several hundred dollars. Carr and Moulton attempted to make an arrest, when one tramp struck Carr with a slungshot, knocking him senseless. Moulton, who is very powerful, succeeded in knocking two down, when, after a desperate fight, the other two escaped, leaving about $30 worth of goods behind. Mr. Carr's wounds are very serious, but are not believed to be fatal.

The Methodist church at Plymouth was struck by lightning Wednesday night and badly shattered.

Eliphalet Nye, an aged and respected resident of Nashua, was prostrated by a sunstroke, Thursday forenoon, while at work on the sidewalk.

The critic of the American Law Review characterizes the opinion of Judge Foster in a recently published volume of the State Reports of decisions, as "a judgment marked by the elaboration which distinguishes the utterances of that learned but rather long-winded tribunal, the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, which has a gift of explaining a thing till all men doubt it."

In the debate in the House of Representatives upon the Crowley removal, Frank H. Peirce, the nephew of his uncle, made the appeal to the majority to spare Crowley because he had been a Union soldie. As this was the very reason for which the older heads, Bingham and Sinclair, caused Major Farr and others to be removed four years ago, they were on this occasion decidedly silent, and permitted the battle to be waged by the new recruits.

Political.

The time for holding the Maine Republican State Convention has been changed from Thursday, August 1st, to Tuesday, July 30th, to accommodate the delegates in the eastern portion of the State who prefer to go to Portland by the steamboat route.

There was an illustration of Alabama justice at Decatur, in that State, a few days ago. The house of a prominent citizen was entered, and a jar of preserved fruit was stolen. It was ascertained that an unknown colored man was the thief. A reward was offered for his arrest, and the next day a strange and suspicious-looking negro was arrested at Huntsville, twenty-five miles away. The man was taken to Decatur for trial, and carried to the court-house. While the negro was still bound hand and foot, the man whose fruit had been stolen drew a revolver and shot the prisoner in the neck. This ended the "trial," and the negro was sent to jail. The next day the would-be assassin was rewarded for his act by receiving the democratic nomination for the legislature for Morgan county. He is evidently on the high road to Congress.

Gov. Hampton authorizes the statement that all citizens of South Carolina accused of offences under the Ku-Klux law, who have left the State on account of the prosecutions pending in the United States courts, may return in safety without fear of further molestation. The administration having condoned the former doings of the Ku-Klux, they will now proceed to make it lively for the republican again if the latter dare to outrage southern sentiment by attempting to vote according to their desires.

Fat People.

Corpulent people can be reduced from two to five pounds per week without starvation, by using Allan's Anti-Fat, a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy. It acts on the food in the stomach, neutralizing all saccharine and oleaginous matter.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

Dr. Silas Durkee, formerly a practising physician in this city but for many years past a resident of Boston, died in the latter city on the 17th inst. at an advanced age.

Mr. George Wendell of this city has sold his fine colt to Capt. Emerson of York, the figure being reported at $225. A good bargain for the purchaser, we think.

Mr. Tredick's bill entitled an act for the more effectual prevention of cruelty to animals, has been reported upon favorably by the committee on the judiciary of the House of Representatives.

Several persons in this city were prostrated with the heat on Friday, but with prompt attention soon recovered. The day was uncomfortably hot, but not so much so as some previous ones.

Among the speakers announced to take part in the temperance camp meeting at Old Orchard beach next month are Rev. C. B. Pitblado of this city and Mr. Everett O. Foss of Dover. Mr. Pitblado will deliver the forenoon sermon on Sunday, Aug 11th.

Says the Times of Friday evening: "All the sophistries of the CHRONICLE cannot explain away the fact of the summary removal of Mr. Mercer Goodrich from the board of instruction." Mr. Mercer Goodrich is still a member of the board of instruction.

Wm. Conn, the champion greenback, has made a pilgrimage to Concord to examine the situation. He returns with the assured belief that should the greenback element prevail in the national councils he will be able to afford two pounds of butter at sixteen ounces each wherd now only one is given.

On Friday afternoon a horse attached to the job wagon of B. F. Brown started on a run from the depot, and went as far as the corner of Deer and Market streets, where he upset the wagon, which was somewhat injured by such usuage, the horse falling in the doorway of Mr. Thomas Neil's store.

The hosts of friends in this city of Mrs. Laighton, widow of Carpenter William M. Laighton, U. S. N., will regret to hear that a serious misfortune befell that lady this week in the breaking of both wrists by falling down stairs while sojourning at the mountains with her invalid daughter. The injuries are very severe, as both bones of one wrist and a single bone of the other were broken short off, leaving the lady in a perfectly helpless condition.—Times.

The base ball match this afternoon at the Plains between the Granite States and the Clippers of Farmington promises to be one of the most interesting and exciting games of the season; game called at two o'clock sharp. The following are the players and positions of the Granites: Buckley, c.; McGlinchie, p.; Conhig, 1st b.; D. Crowley, 2d b.; C. Crowley, 3d b.; Getchell, s. s.; Walden, l. f.; Rowe, c. f.; Morrissey, r. f.

Mr. Hiram Wetherill of Exeter, who served in Capt. John Haven's company of militis detached from the Second Regiment under command of Col. Isaac Waldron, and was stationed in Portsmouth in September, 1814, has been granted a pension of eight dollars per month under the recent act of Congress. He is now eighty-three years of age, but seems hearty, and was in town on Thursday looking after his claim.

In the House, Thursday afternoon, the bill to amend the charter of the city of Portsmouth came up, when filibustering by the minority began. Various dilatory motions were made and defeated by yea and nay votes. During the roll-calls the doors of the House were locked, but the democrats refused to vote, to prevent a quorum. The bill passed; then a motion was made to reconsider, and another to lay that motion on the table was carried, after which the House adjourned.

The large and finely appointed steamer Cambridge will make an excursion from Boston to this city and return to-morrow, leaving Boston at 10 o'clock A. M. and arriving here at about half past two o'clock in the afternoon, making a landing at Pier wharf. She will stop here an hour, starting on her return at about three o'clock and arriving in Boston between seven and eight o'clock in the evening, making the entire run by daylight. Refreshments will be furnished on the steamer at moderate prices, and a fine band will furnish music for the occasion. Tickets for Boston, at one dollar each, can be procured at Preston's drug store.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, July 19; Batchelder J.

Timothy Lynch was brought before the court on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, and was bound over in the sum of $100 to appear before the Supreme Court to answer to the same charge.

Patrick Quinlan was complained of for being a common drunkard. The charge was sustained, and Quinlan was ordered to the county farm for four months and to pay $9.18 costs. He will have a chance to get sober before his sentence expires.

BOYNTON'S BEVERAGES.

One of the busiest places in our city just now is the establishment of Mr. C. E. Boynton, manufacturer of soda water, cream nectar, tonic, and pineapple, root, birch and cream ginger beers, all well established and cooling summer drinks. The syrup for all of Boynton's beverages is manufactured from the purest ingredients to be procured. The carbonic acid gas is generated in a Morse & Co. machine, and then transferred to the fountains; in the movable fountains (for the soda-water fountains of the drug-stores, etc.,) the pressure is raised to two hundred pounds; in the stationary fountain, for bottling on the premises, the pressure is kept at sixty pounds. The bottling process is quite curious, the work of filling and corking a bottle being done by two motions of a lever. The syrup to be used is placed on a shelf over the bottling machine, a small pipe leading from the reservoir to a syrup gauge in the machine, which regulates the amount for each bottle. The bottle is placed in a receiver and the cork in a tube; the gas, which is led from the stationary fountain to the machine by a pipe, is then let on by the lever and the bottle is filled to the proper point, when a movement of the foot presses the cork into the bottle and the work is done. Lager beer of different kinds, stock ale and cider are bottled at this establishment, syphons being used in their cases. The amount put up daily during the summer months is about sixty dozen bottles; it requires six men and two teams to do the work, Mr. Boynton supplying nearly all the hotels in this city and the neighboring towns. And no better light drinks than he furnishes are made anywhere.

A HEADLESS DEPARTMENT.

Mr. Editor: A day or two since you published a communication from "Query" under the above heading. In it the writer advocates a special superintendent—poosibly two or three of them—to look after our school interests; and cites the street and city farm departments, which each have "one particular man appointed to carry out the will of a committee of three eppointed by and of the board of aldermen," as examples of how the school business should be conducted. I hardly think "Query" can have studied the last report of the board of instruction, or he would know that the principal of the first grammar school in each district is the superintendent of all the schools in his district, "to carry out the will of a committee of three appointed by and of the board" of instruction, which seems a close parallel to the way in which the street and city farm departments are managed. The high school is under the charge of a competent principal, who acts under the general directions of a special committee of three members of the board of instruction. Then the city councils exercise a general supervision over the school affairs, as the appropriation of money depends on the councils, and the approval of school expenditures is done by the board of aldermen; and the mayor of the city is ex-officio chairman of the board of instruction. The plan of classing the schools in departments, with a special superintendent and supervising committee for each department, seems to work well so far, and is certainly worthy a longer trial before "putting a head on" the school management by employing a single superintendent (which would largely increase the expenses) as "Query" may possibly desire. "SPARE THE BIRDS."

PORTSMOUTH, July 19th.

A contributor to the Times, who signs himself "Sportsman," entirely misconstrues the meaning of the letter published in the CHRONICLE and Times of yesterday. Most certainly no injustice to sportsmen was intended, and there was not the least idea of alleging that the sportsmen of this city were in the habit of shooting song or insectivorous birds. Such an assertion would deserve more severe censure than "Sportsman" gives the letter, for it would have been a statement of an untruth. The letter was published by vote of the S. P. C. A., and the language was carefully chosen for the purpose of preventing such a construction as "Sportsman" has put upon it. The letter was addressed to "sportsmen," not gunners; and they (the sportsmen) were asked to co-operate with the Society in preventing persons falsely claiming to be sportsmen from shooting insectivorous birds, an act which certainly concerns the honor of the sportsman, when the mere gunner claims to be a sportsman. Had there been the least suspicion that true sportsmen were engaged in such shooting the letter would have been out of place, and we should never have asked the sportsmen to prevent what they themselves were doing. I believe the sportsmen of this city are an honorable and humane body of men who have always been earnest friends of the birds and done much to protect them; and I have no doubt, as "Sportsman" says, "that the game laws are generally observed by sportsmen." But nothwithstanding this there are persons calling themselves sportsmen, who do shoot song and insectivorous birds. To check the proceedings of such gunners the first letter was published, and although it was submitted to several persons, none of them construed it as "Sportsman" has. The best feeling has always existed toward the true sportsmen on the part of the S. P. C. A., and nothing could be further from our intention than to say anything unkind or untrue of a class of men who have done so much for the protection of birds, and have done it so well. C. E. BATCHELDER.

[Note. Since "Sportsman's" letter appeared we have carefully re-read the letter he refers to, and fail to see how it can be construed as anything other than an appeal to sportsmen to aid the S. P. C. A. in preventing those who are not sportsmen from killing little birds.—Ed. Chron.]

THE VICINITY.

There was a clam-bake at Wells beach on Sunday, the 14th inst.

The mercury at the Shoals registered eighty-four degrees in the shade on Friday.

The mackerel fishermen caught quite a lot of large mackerel near the Shoals, Thursday, all of the seiners making takes.

Eleven barbers from Great Falls went to York beach on Saturday night, 13th inst., starting at a quarter past twelve o'clock. They returned Sunday night.

At Newmarket on Wednesday, 17th inst., two French boys named Robbins, while hunting birds' nests fell from a tree through the breaking of a branch and each had an arm broken.

Daniel W. Perkins, a greenback orator, hired a team at Biddeford a few days ago to be gone a day or two on a stumping tour. The orator has not been heard from since, though the team has been found.

W. C. Cheney, proprietor of a confectionery store in Great Falls, collected quite a sum of money from citizens of the town for the purpose of having a Fourth of July celebration. It is quite possible that he is still celebrating, for he left town the night before the fourth and has not yet returned. His goods have been attached.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.
The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of decap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is contained in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thoroughly yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.
$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without inconvenience, constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Blotted feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over colds, I may add, it is proper to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of stone ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

WOMAN.
By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of the value imparted upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Menstrual Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 172.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Charlestown, Mass., was settled before Boston. Thomas Walford built a house before 1628, and that year six persons from Salem settled near him. In 1629 about one hundred more came. Worship on the Sabbath was under a large tree. That year the town was incorporated.

In the summer of 1630 a fleet of fourteen sail, with about 1400 persons, came over. With them was Gov. Winthrop and Deputy Governor Thomas Dudley. They stopped awhile in Charlestown, intending to remain there, but a great sickness prevailing, which they supposed was owing to the badness of the water, and learning from one solitary man, who had built a cottage on the other side of Charles river, in the place now Boston proper, that there was good water, they resolved to go there. The name of the gentleman on the other side and the first settler was Rev. Wm. Blackstone. He was an Episcopal minister, but I have no account of his preaching in those years. That same year these colonists erected cottages in what is now Boston, and that was the first settlement, so that it is now 247 years old.

This company had with them a minister, Rev. John Wilson, who preached some while they were on the Charlestown side, also in Boston. But soon Rev. John Cotton joined them, and he was properly the first settled minister in Boston. The town was named for Boston in England, where Mr. Cotton had preached.

Mr. Cotton was a very worthy man and helped to give good character to the early settlement. This influence lived long, indeed lives now. He was at the head of a long line of ministers by the name of Cotton in this country. Three of them were settled in Hampton, Rev. Seaborn Cotton settled in 1660, Rev. John Cotton settled in 1696, and Rev. Ward Cotton settled in 1734. Another, Rev. Josiah Cotton, was ordained in Sandown in 1759, the first minister settled in that town.

In the early years all affairs were simple. Small farms and gardens were laid out where now are blocks of brick and granite, and fine churches, and marts of trade. As early as 1634 there was a regulation, forbidding laying stones and "logges" near the bridge and landing place as boats were much bruised. If fish or garbage was left at such place, five shillings were to be paid.

The streets of Boston are in many cases crooked. It has been said when first laid out, they were made to follow cow paths. There is a record ordering one to be laid out. "That there shall be a streete way betweene Henry Lynn and Mr. Samuell Coles' ground to runn up from the water syde to the next great cross streete one rod and a halfe broad."

Education was not neglected, but it seems none were very desirous to teach. In 1635, "It was generally agreed upon that our brother Philemon Porment shal be entreated to become scholemaster for the teaching and instructing of children with us."

In 1638 is this record, "Whereas there was a stray sow that had often been taken in the Corne and some five or six weeks kept up at our brother Fairbanks and often Cryed, but no owner thereof to be knowne it was therefore prysed at 40 s. whereof to Samuell Gryne towards his losses in his Corne 30 s. and the residue allowed to Richard Fairbanks for the charges of her keeping all that time."

It is interesting to find how careful they were about the good conduct of those admitted to the privileges of being residents. About 1640 it was agreed that "William Douglas be allowed to be a townsseman he behaving himself as becometh a Christian man."

Temperance Camp Meeting.

A grand gathering of the friends of and workers in the temperance cause will be held at Old Orchard beach, commencing Aug. 7th and closing on the 13th, under the auspices of the National Christian Temperance Camp Meeting Association. Hon. Sidney Perham is to preside over the session, and the programme of exercises is as follows:

Wednesday, Aug. 7th, devotional services, conducted by Rev. A. S. Ladd, and fraternal addresses; address of welcome by Governor Seldon Connor. Responses by Governor Tilley of New Brunswick, Rev. J. Benson Hamilton, Lewiston, Me., Rev. Charles B. Fitblado of Portsmouth, N. H., and Hon. Sidney Perham.

Thursday, Aug. 8th, is to be the day for the Good Templar lodges, and A. J. Chase of Portland, G. W. C. T., is to be in charge of the services. In the evening representatives of the order in various parts of New England are to be present and address the meeting.

Friday, Aug. 9th, "The Gigantic Crime of Crimes," by Hon. Lot M. Morrill, M. C.; "How to Dispose of This Crime," by General A. J. Hall of Damariscotta; remarks by Professor George E. Foster, University of New Brunswick; "Rights of the Rumseller Considered," by Hon. Nelson Dingley.

Portsmouth Chronicle

MONDAY, JULY 22, 1878.

Chronicle Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 20th.

This week has been one of filibustering on the part of the democrats, and much useful legislation has been defeated and deferred by the disgraceful action and proceedings of the minority. The main fight has been upon the amendment to the charter of the city of Portsmouth. Wednesday, after a struggle of over two hours, the bill was ordered to a third reading. Mr. Wendell of Portsmouth displayed his party spirit in a manner that was offensive even to members of his own party. The democrats did all in their power to defeat the bill and it was owing to the persistency of the republicans that the bill was advanced to the stage that it was. At three o'clock Thursday afternoon Mr. Stevens called for the general order, and the first bill that was read a third time was the Portsmouth bill. Then again began a series of dilatory motions for defeating the bill. It was not until five divisions and six roll calls were had that the bill was finally passed. In the passage of this bill and the general management of affairs in the interest of the republicans, Mr. Stevens of Nashua has proved himself an able and efficient leader. The friends of the Portsmouth bill have to thank Mr. Stevens, and him alone, for the skill and tact he used in defeating the schemes of the minority. He is his clear, cool, and parliamentary manner has won golden encomiums as a party leader and thorough republican. He stands out in prominence in comparason with the disgraceful manner of the minority leaders.

On Thursday, during the fight on the Portsmouth bill, Mr. Huse of Manchester was called to the chair; and as a Speaker he proved himself an able one. The minority resorted to all kinds of petty tricks to disconcert him, but they found their equal and superior in the matter of parliamentary rulings. It was the verdict on all sides that if the voters of Manchester have the good sense to send Mr. Huse another year he will be unanimously selected as Speaker. After the passage of the bill, Mr. Wendell of Portsmouth changed his vote from no to yes, and then gave notice that he would move subsequently to reconsider the vote; but he was not sharp enough, for Mr. Stevens moved the immediate reconsideration, and the reconsideration was laid upon the table after a sharp fight—and thus ended the contest as far as that bill is concerned. Upon the motion to lay the reconsideration upon the table the democrats refused to vote, although in the hall, so as not to make a quorum. Mr. Huse after reading the rule which compels every member present to vote, directed the clerk to call the names of some of the prominent democrats present. As a specimen of a democrat I will give you the reply of Mr. Wendell when his name was called: "It is too hot to vote." Bingham of Littleton, when displeased with a ruling of the Speaker, sat on one of the front seats and stamped his feet like a school boy. On one occasion during the week when told by the Speaker that he was out of order, as Mr. Parker of Merrimack had the floor, he said in an impudent way, "Oh, has he; well, then let him speak." On another occasion, when told he was out of order he said, "Well, what are you going to do about it?"

The Portsmouth bill was sent to the Senate on Friday morning, and was referred by the President to the committee on judiciary. At a time when some of the republican senators were absent a democratic senator moved it be referred to the committee on towns, and it was so referred. When the republican senators awoke to the probable effect of what had been done, the committee on towns having a democratic chairman who would not be likely to report the bill in a hurry, a resolution was offered transferring it from the committee on towns to the judiciary committee. The democrats commenced to talk against time, and just before the train left the democratic chairman of the committee on towns left the Senate, and although the resolution was passed, in all probability the bill will not be seen again until next Tuesday or Wednesday; so much for democratic partisanship.

It is the open boast of the democrats that they are going to prolong the session as much as possible, and on Friday morning Mr. Sinclair made the boast that the democrats as a party proposed to resist to the last degree in every way possible anything that has the least bit of partisan matter in any bill coming either from the House or Senate. Very little of business was done on Friday, the democrats using most of the day in talking against time. A. B.

News and Notes.

Congressman Levi Warner, of Connecticut, enraged at severe criticisms of his course in Washington by the Norwalk Gazette, on Thursday evening attacked the editor, Mr. A. H. Byington, with a heavy cane, striking him several times over the head. Byington took the cane away from him, struck him with it several times, and then walked off with it in his possession.

Official inqury into the ironclad disaster on the British coast has resulted in a verdict acquitting the officers of the Grosser Kerfurst and Koenig Wilhelm, and attributing the collision to a mistake of the helmsman of the Koenig Wilhelm.

The veteran American soldiers of all wars, including the war of 1812, war with Mexico, the Indian wars and the war of the rebellion, will have a great reunion at Mt. Vernon, in southern Illinois, August 13 and 14. General Sherman and General Shields, and many other prominent old soldiers will be in attendance.

The Berkely woolen mills at Lawrence, Mass., have shut down in consequence of an attachment to satisfy a claim of $1,100 by Nichols & Co., of Boston. The mill is owned by Thomas Greenback and has been in operation since 1873. Seventy-five hands are out of employment.

The prison workshop at West Concord, Mass., was burned Friday. Loss to the State, $50,000; total loss, $150,000.

Steamship Europa, of the Anchor line, was run down and sunk on Friday by the steamship Staffa. No lives lost. The Europa registered 2277 tons.

Quincy Additon, twenty-five years old, a hostler at the Summer House hotel in Randolph, Mass., was cut to pieces and scattered along the track on Saturday by a swiftly moving train. His remains were gathered in a box.

President Hayes has removed J. M. G. Parker from the postmastership at New Orleans, and put Gen. A. S. Badger in his place. Parker is Gen. Butler's brother-in-law. Badger commanded the militia in 1872, and was left for dead in the streets of New Orleans at the time of the democratic riots in that year. He commanded the 26th Mass. Vols. during the war.

New Hampshire Items.

Rev. Michael Lucy, Catholic priest of Exeter and Newmarket for the past three years, died at Exeter Friday, after a sickness of about four months. He was well known and highly esteemed, having been a priest about twenty-five years in Maine and New Hampshire. He was the first priest in Great Falls and Salmon Falls, and built a church in each place. He also built the St. Joseph church in Lewiston, Me., while he was priest there. His last labor was the new church in Exeter, completed this year.

A dispatch from White River Junction to the Boston Journal says: "A child aged two weeks died from sunstroke Friday afternoon while waiting in the station for a train to Burlington. Its mother, Rose Ladoue, states that the authorities of Suncook hurriedly sent her to Burlington without money, where she is to make her way to friends at Westport, N. Y. Her deep affliction excited universal sympathy as well as indignation at her treatment by the town of Suncook. Medical aid availed nothing as the child was dying when the train arrived. Considerable assistance was given the unfortunate woman before her departure for Burlington with her dead child."

Suncook had another destructive incendiary fire at an early hour Friday morning. A dwelling owned by Mrs. Colland and occupied by Dr. Dame, president of the local reform club, was set on fire and entirely consumed; the flames spread to the adjoining house, owned by Henry Merrill, which also was destroyed. Loss $5000; insurance small.

A house in Deering, owned by Mrs. Willey and occupied by Benjamin F. Philbrick, was burned early Thursday morning, and a young man named Chas. Johnson perished in the flames. Johnson was a very sound sleeper and it is supposed was suffocated by the smoke.

Naval Affairs.

At a recent race for man-of-war boats of all nations, distance two miles, at Yokohama, Japan, the first and second cutters of the U. S. S. Monocacy came in ahead of all others by a long way. Russian, English and Japanese ships' boats competed.

Chaplain William H. Stewart is granted leave of absence for thirty days from August first.

The U. S. S. Marion, Commander Bradford, sailed from Gibraltar for Malaga and Nice July 2d.

—When you have no observers, be afraid of yourself.

— Mistress—"But I thought you were very comfortable, Mary." Mary—"Yes, mem, but the young man as keeps company with me thinks there's too many gentlemen visitors comes here, and they might wean me from his young affections; so, with your permission, I will not be a medium for contention."

— A minister going to visit one of his sick parishioners, asked him how he rested during the night. "O, wondrously ill, sir," he replied, "for mine eyes have not come together these three nights." "What is the reason of that?" said the other. "Alas, sir!" said he, "because my nose was betwixt them."

— It is not always a successful operation to teach a two-year-old child its prayers, however intelligent it may be. The other day a young mother was showing off the early piety of her offspring to some callers, the result being muchly as follows: "Gorbesspapa, Gorbessmama, Gorbessbaby, avyergotanycandy?" The infant thought religion was sweet, anyhow.

— On the Fourth a native American was upbraiding a naturalized German for celebrating the day so enthusiastically. The German replied: "You, sir, are an American from necessity; I am one from choice. And besides, sir, when you came into the country you hadn't a stitch of clothing on your back, while I was comfortably clad." The American has been thinking about it ever since.

— A rival for O'Leary, the Chicago pedestrian, has been found in J. S. Robson of Liverpool, who, during the week ending June 22, at Newcastle-on-Tyne, managed to cover 526 miles and 2 laps, having been backed to walk 600 miles in six days. Twice he slept for an hour at a time, but at no other time did he rest more than seven minutes, nevertheless he was fresh and lively all the time. He is said to have walked 1600 miles in 19 days.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

Ex-Mayor Goodrich and family are at the Bellevue house, Bethlehem.

The Circuit Court of the United States opened in this city on Saturday, Judge Clark presiding, and adjourned after a brief session.

The new schooner Cocheco, Capt. Seawards, was on Saturday afternoon towed by the steamer Clara Batemen to the lower harbor, where she anchored in readiness to start on Monday for Bath, to load with ice for a southern port.

The greenback leaders in this city report a large number of clubs forming in Rockingham, Grafton, Merrimac, Hillsborough and Coos counties. The greenbackers expect to poll 10,000 votes for their ticket at the coming election.

The schooner Jessie Williamson, Jr., has changed hands, having been purchased by parties in this city, and will be commanded by Capt. Swett, of York. The price paid we are informed was $1400. Mr. Wm. W. Cotton will act as agent.

Moses White, seven years old, son of Mr. James White, fell from a shed belonging to the Godfrey estate on Vaughan street, Saturday evening, and struck upon a stub of shrubbery which penetrated the flesh and made a ragged wound. Two years ago the little fellow fell from a chamber window and was badly injured.

The Whale's-back horn commenced blowing at about one o'clock Saturday afternoon. It was a cheering sound in this city, for it proclaimed a fog and an easterly breeze, and under such circumstances the temperature cannot climb to such unpleasant heights as it managed to reach nearly every day for two weeks previous.

As Mr. William Andrews was driving along Pleasant street, shortly after nine o'clock Saturday evening, when near Mrs. Kenney's residence he was run into by a rapidly moving team. Mr. Andrews was thrown out of his wagon, which had its shafts broken and was otherwise damaged. The driver of the other team kept on without waiting to see what damage he had done.

Work has begun on the enlargement of that part of Exchange building in which our office is located. The alterations and improvements are to be extensive, including an addition twenty-three feet long and two stories high, in the rear, and the putting in of a new glass and iron front to the store so long occupied by Mr. Henry H. Ham; thorough repairs are also to be made on the premises of the CHRONICLE and to Gardner's job printing office. The ground floor we understand will be occupied by Mr. D. H. Montgomery for his music and picture frame business.

One evening recently two young ladies, who had just made some small purchase which one of them had placed in her pocket, were accosted as they passed along the street by a young gentleman with whom they were unacquainted, who respectfully enquired if they were aware that they were "carrying off the man's store?" Their rising indignation at being addressed by a stranger was turned to mirth on discovering that the merchant had neglected to cut the twine with which he had tied up the bundle, and that consequently telephone connection was established between the young lady's pocket and the store some rods away.

Steamer Cambridge, with some 1500 excursionists from Boston, arrived here at five minutes past three o'clock Sunday afternoon, landing at Commercial wharf, where the band on board furnished some good music. She was brought up the river by Pilot John Amazeeu of Newcastle, who went around to Boston on Saturday and came down in the steamboat for that purpose, having been sent for by her agent. The tug Clara Batemen awaited the big steamer in the lower harbor, and on her arrival hooked on to her to assist her in making the turns on her way up to the wharf. Her passengers scattered about the city for an hour and fifteen minutes, when they were recalled by the whistle and the Cambridge took her departure, a number of Portsmouth people taking advantage of the opportunity to go to Boston for a dollar.

THE P., G. F. & C. R. R. BONDS.

An informal meeting of several of the bondholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad was held in this city on Saturday afternoon, to consider the rights and remedies of the holders of these securities. After remarks from several gentlemen, and conference on the subject, it was determined to call a meeting inviting the co-operation of every bondholder with a view to protect the property from being rendered worthless by the proposed bankruptcy of the corporation, and to determine what are the legal rights of the bondholders in the present exigency, the meeting to take place at the Common Council room in this city on Wednesday afternoon, 24th inst., at four o'clock.

The notice for the meeting will be found in our advertising columns.

BASE BALL.

The game of base ball at the Plains, Saturday afternoon, between the Granite States of this city and the Clippers of Farmington, created no little interest among the lovers of this amusement, from the fact that it was expected—or at least feared—that the visitors were going to give our boys a severe defeat. About two hundred foot passengers from the city were on hand, and a large number of teams. Game commenced at half-past two o'clock, the Granite States going to the bat—and going away again in one-two-three order, the Clippers then making two runs. On the second inning both sides were blanked. The friends of the home club looked doubtful and cheered them with dubious expressions, "wake up," etc.; but they evidently meant to work in their own way, feeling their antagonists' prowess as they progressed. The third inning ended with the game six to two in favor of the Clippers; then the Granite States left practice and went to work, making three runs to the Clippers' none. There was some good play by the local club in the fifth inning, Rowe at the bat bringing Walden and Getchell home in good style, making three runs, the Clippers making one. On the sixth inning the Clippers made a break for four runs, the home club making none; but next inning the Granite States made three runs and left their opponents out in the cold. At this stage of the game the Clippers gave up playing in order to catch their train, though the others were eager to play one more inning, thinking there was sufficient time for it. The game was awarded to the Granite States by the score of nine to nothing. Both clubs have good material, and at the return game at Farmington we expect to receive a better score. As the Clippers claim to be the champion amateur nine in the State, we presume that instead of being daunted by the result of their visit to this city they will only be all the more determined to win the return game.

For the home club, Walden and Crowley made some fine catches, and Crowley, Rowe and Walden did good service at the bat. McGlinchy as pitcher and Buckley as catcher were excellent. The pitcher of the Farmington club, Eddie Carlton, though only sixteen years old, is a prize to the Clippers; he did some excellent playing, which was well appreciated by all who saw it and understand the game.

The Granite States have engagements ahead for several weeks.

The following is the score of the game:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Granite States	0	0	2	3	0	3	—11
Clippers	2	0	4	0	1	4	0—11

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. John Hodgdon of this city died very suddenly Saturday forenoon at the navy yard. He had been slightly indisposed for several days, the intense heat taking hold of him severely, but he was not ill enough to interfere with his work as one of the joiners in the department of construction. He was engaged in the ward room of the Ticonderoga when he remarked to a companion that he felt very badly, at the same time putting his hand to his side and sitting down; his mates immediately carried him on deck and sent for medical aid, but he was dead within a few seconds of being attacked. Heart disease was probably the cause of his death. He was a very pleasant companion and unassuming man, and we should suppose could not have had an enemy in the world.

A TEMPERANCE HOTEL.

A party of twenty-two young men of this city took a ride to the beaches and other places of interest one evening last week, and at length found themselves at Little Boar's Head. Here one of the party suggested that they go to the hotel and get some refreshments; he was told by his companions that there was no hotel there, but he knew better than that and finally led the way into a spacious and brilliantly-lighted parlor, where he brushed the dust from his boots with his handkerchief upon the Brussels carpet, touched up his hair and arranged his collar before the glass, and then sounded a bell which was on a centre table. The summons was answered by a gentleman who did not greet his guests with the effusiveness of some landlords, though he bowed courteously to his intending patrons, and then quietly took the order of the leading visitor to furnish champagne for the party. The brevet "landlord," who is an active promoter of temperance, informed the thirsty soul that the party could be accommodated with excellent water in lots to suit, but that there was no champagne in the house; and further enquiries developed the fact that there was nothing to be had there stronger than water. A baleful suspicion that something was wrong crept into the visitor's mind, and he asked; "Is not this a hotel?" "Oh, no," replied the proprietor; "this is my private residence." Apologising as well as they were able for their intrusion, the party were advancing backward in tolerable order when the host suggested to the "pathfinder" that he had forgotten something, and placed in his hands a package, which he accepted under the supposition that it was a reward for his good behavior; but when he opened it on the way home at the earnest request of his companions, it was found to be but a bundle of "ravellings," evidently given him by mistake. His friends are now trying to raise by subscription enough money to buy a glass case, under which the hero of that evening can preserve his present as a memento of his success at hunting out hotels.

THE VICINITY.

Friday was the hottest day at the navy yard for years. The thermometer stood at 102 in the shade for an hour or more, and was at 98 at five o'clock in the evening. Several workmen were overpowered by the heat at about two o'clock, soon after which the order was given to suspend work.

On Friday evening about forty members of Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars, of this city, paid a visit to Pepperell Lodge of Kittery Point, going down in barges. They were cordially received and entertained by the Kittery lodge at the house of Mr. Jesse Tobey; the evening was taken up with speeches by members of the order, and amusements of various kinds, followed by a collation. The visitors embarked for home at half-past eleven o'clock, arriving in this city shortly after midnight, all well pleased with the excursion and their treatment by the Kittery brethren.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds:

Surest Tranquillizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquillizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

Fat People.

Corpulent people can be reduced from two to five pounds per week without starvation, by using Allan's Anti-Fat, a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy. It acts on the food in the stomach, neutralizing all saccharine and oleaginous matter.

383 Washington St., BOSTON, MASS., May 21st, 1878.

BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., Buffalo, N. Y.:
Gentlemen: Without special change of diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-half pounds. Yours respectfully,
M. A. BUSH.

Hundreds of letters similar to the above have been received by the Botanic Medicine Co. Anti-Fat sold by druggists.

The Princess Yturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

Beautiful Helen no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more than doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Sold by all Druggists. HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. tfy21

Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 12 Wall st., N. Y., make careful investments for customers, in sums of $25 to $100, which frequently pay ten to twenty times the amount invested. Their Weekly Financial Report, sent free, gives full information. 8

Everybody sings the praises of Adamson's Botanic Balsam because it is an article of merit, of more value than gold; it relieves distress, restores health, and prolongs life. What greater office of kindness and mercy could it perform? Price only 35 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

—Every boy has to let something off sudden near a cat, at least once in his life.

— The Manchester (Eng.) Guardian says that the excessive heat—120 in the sun at Wigan—had a singular effect on the railway metals between Wigan and Manchester, on the London and North-western line. Near Plat Bridge station the up line to Manchester was found bulging for eight lengths in the shape of an S, the metals and sleepers having been bodily moved at one point nearly two feet. The rails appear to have been set too tightly, and on the heat expanding them they had been twisted out of their original course.

— It is noticeable that the names of some of the most celebrated men that ever lived are mainly perpetuated by articles in common use. Napoleon lives in English-speaking countries in a kind of boot christened after him; so does Wellington; while Brougham has become embalmed in a well-known carriage. Lord Derby has transmitted his name and fame to a fashionable hat. Ragian, the unjustly abused leader of the British forces in the Crimea, survives in a coat. Gladstone is rendered memorable by a cravat; Byron's immortality is assured by a turned-over collar; Louis XIV. is reproduced in furniture; Louis XV. in a woman's high heels.

— Muria Kimata, of Tokio, Japan, formed a company to loud money to the poor at low interest. It proved a failure, for though there were enough poor people anxious to borrow, few of them would repay their loans. Muria Kimata therefore had to abandon his project, having lost heavily himself and involved many of his friends with him. A large fortune, however, still remained to him. On the anniversary of his father's death he called the stockholders together, and out of his private means paid to each the amount of his loss; then placing their receipts, with all the obligations and securities given to the company by the poor borrowers, in a brazier, with incense, he burned them before the shrine of Hetoke Sama.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; it provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford opportunities of exercise.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this Institute of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the dormant energies of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, treated by the most improved methods of facility, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a Graduate of eminent judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.

EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagements to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriages, omnibus, or street cars. MILLARD'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

PENNSYLVANIA

RAILROAD.

GREAT THROUGH LINE

AND

UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction AND Equipment

THE

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,

JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

Are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

THE GREAT

FALL RIVER LINE,

BETWEEN

BOSTON and NEW YORK.

THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS

Bristol and Providence,

Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!

Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 P. M. (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 7 A. M.

No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—

ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,

Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—

NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,

But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.

Grand Promenade Concert on each Steamer every evening during the summer.

New and Elegant Drawing-Room Cars on Steamboat Express Train.

BROOKLYN ANNEX STEAMER connects with this Line only, leaving Pier 28, North River, New York, on arrival of steamer from the East. Passengers and baggage for Brooklyn transferred free.

Staterooms and Berths secured at No. 3 Old State House or at the Old Colony Depot.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALT. EXT. OR

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, restoring the liver strengthened and healthy.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19th.

Less than two weeks ago we had assurances more or less positive from nearly all the so-called influential papers of the country that immediate resumption had been determined on and was only delayed until all the details should be so thoroughly understood as to avoid any risk of going off at half-cock. Their pretensions to infallibility and their exceptional facilities for knowing all about everything led people generally to accept their prognostications as the whole, and nothing but the truth. The secretary was badgered almost to death by dispatches, letters and verbal requests, all desiring to know the exact date fixed upon for inaugurating specie payments. He upset all the calculations based on the assurances of the newspaper prophets by replying—at least he was so understood—that though he held over $200,000,000 in coin in the Treasury vaults which had been accumulated to meet the requirements of resumption, existing laws so restricted him that resumption would not be practicable before the date fixed by law, Jan. 1, 1879. As every one who had business relations to be affected by Mr. Sherman's alleged intentions, began at once to set their houses in order, some derangement and inconvenience was inevitable which was aggravated when it was known they had been playing at a game of cross-purposes. Their prematurely made preparations were allowed to lapse and they went back to the old grooves. Later still, Secretary Sherman went to New York and was closeted several days with sub-Treasury and representative bank officials. All his movements have been invested with a degree of mystery that has made every one more than ever uncertain as to his intentions. Just enough has been let out, apparently authorized, to stimulate curiosity to its highest, but not enough to enable business men to plan future movements with any degree of certainty, and no little grumbling is heard at the alleged mischievous reticence of Mr. Sherman when it is his duty to speak. It seems settled, however, that no attempt to redeem legal tenders in coin will be made till the beginning of the new year.

It was supposed long ago by the Washington public that its capacity for being surprised at any fraud developments in the Indian Bureau had been exhausted. But Livingston's exploits at the Crow Creek Agency, jointly with those of the post-trader, have been so far in advance of anything of the sort ever before made public, that we are well nigh astounded. Livingston and his pal appear to have stolen, robbed, defrauded and swindled right and left from almost the first day of his official life. Everything was grist that came to their mill. The Government, the Indians, the Agency's employes and everybody else who came under the influence of these two vampire, appears to have been victimized, the extent of the swag being limited only by the come-at-able possessions of the victims. A system of terrorism so rigid as to have induced suicide, was brought to bear on the Agency employes to keep their mouths shut. From the first outbreak of the present Indian hostilities, there has been a marked lack of enthusiasm, because it was felt that the revolt was the logical result of the systematic frauds and robberies perpetrated on the long-suffering savages by the Government agents sent out as almoners of its munificent gifts. This development has confirmed that view; and no one would be heard to complain could this ranting swindler (who is said to have been appointed at the instance of the Episcopal Church and who has been making her the most expensive presents with his blood money) be made to suffer the pangs of death for every life that has been and will be sacrificed through a war that he and his kind have provoked.

The mercury ranged from three to five degrees higher Thursday than it had done during the several hot days immediately preceding, thereby vindicating the wisdom of the Weather Bureau's prediction that the hot wave from the west would reach us early in the day. There have been very few cases of sunstroke or even of prostration from the heat, as compared with other towns of not half Washington's population; not a few in the west or other sections less than one-fifth its size report more deaths from the extreme heat in one day than have occurred here since the advent of the "heated term." Altogether I doubt if there have been a half-dozen deaths from sunstroke reported; and the minor casualties have been proportionately few. The facts observed here as showing that all but a very small fraction of those who have seriously suffered are from the ranks of habitual drinkers, are confirmed by the pains taken at the other points to establish or explode this theory. The results of observations made with this object specially in view are dead against the whiskey and beer drinkers, as they are in cases of epidemics generally. The marked progress made within the past few years in educating the owners of animals to the duty of caring for them and looking after their comfort and preserving their health is seen in the care taken of the horses and mules driven in our streets. Special contrivances have been adopted by nearly or quite all the corporations, such as street railroads and ice companies, to shield their animals so far as practicable from the damages and sufferings incident to the intense heat. The same may be said of the smaller owners, though the sensibilities are still occasionally shocked by instances of cruelty and brutal indifference to the discomforts of the animals driven in our streets.

It is pretty hot weather for the revival of the "code of honor" as recognized by the typical F. F. V. Yet that is precisely what Mr. Eppa Hunton, the member of Congress from the Virginia side of the Potomac is accused of trying to do, in order, it is intimated, to silence the batteries of Columbus Alexander of this city who is pouring into Hunton terrible broadsides of shot and shell through the Alexandria papers, somewhat to the detriment, probably, of Hunton's chances for a renomination. Alexander is like Hunton, a pronounced democrat, and has become locally famous for the stubborn fight he made against the Board of Public Works. He refused to pay the assessments made under its regime against his property and has kept up the fight to the present time in the District courts. He was almost alone at first, but was gradually reinforced as citizens began to realize something of the load of taxes the board was piling up on their property. To have requested Hunton to vote to legalize the assessments, as Hunton charges he did, would have been inconsistent with his whole record in the matter, and those knowing him will believe Hunton must have misapprehended the drift of his (Alexander's) request. He promptly denied the statement and Hunton has got 60 far along as to have invited Alexander to meet him somewhere in Virginia to settle the hash.

KNOX.

Portsmouth Chronicle

TUESDAY, JULY 23, 1878.

Death of Judge Shepley.

George F. Shepley, Judge of the Circuit Court of the United States for the first judicial circuit, died at his residence in Portland on Saturday afternoon after a three days' sickness from an attack of cholera morbus, in the 60th year of his age.

Judge Shepley was the son of Ether Shepley, who was Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine from 1848 to 1855, was celebrated as a lawyer and a jurist, and after a very ripe old age died at a comparatively recent date.

His son possessed a marked ability, and in private practice, as well as in the office of District Attorney of Maine, he acquired a high reputation as a lawyer. He graduated at Dartmouth College in the year 1839, and it was at last Commencement that the College conferred upon him the degree of LL. D. Originally a democrat, he during the war was appointed a Colonel of one of the Maine regiments and served under General Butler at New Orleans. He was promoted to the rank of Brigadier-General, and subsequently was made provisional governor of Louisiana. After his return from the war he served as representative from Portland in the Maine Legislature.

Under the act of Congress of 1869 providing for the appointment of Circuit Judges, Judge Shepley was appointed in December, 1869, as the Judge resident in the First Circuit, embracing the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. This office he held at the time of his death. He was regarded as one of the clearest men that ever sat upon the bench in this Circuit. He was quick to see the points in a case, well versed in the various questions coming before this court, and especially acute in all matters of patents, which with the great pecuniary sums involved, and large industrial rights questioned, consume so much time in the consideration by the judges of this Circuit. In the various public and professional positions Judge Shepley had before filled, he always shew himself fully equal to the expectations of his friends, and the requirements of the place he occupied; but as Circuit Judge he gained the high reputation among the learned professors of the law which so few men of his years attain. He was overwhelmed with work, the business of the Massachusetts District alone being enough to occupy all the time, from the many important and intricate questions constantly presenting themselves in the course of the administration of the law in this court.

In social life Judge Shepley was appreciated by all who had the good fortune to know him. He was of kind, genial and pleasant disposition; and especially by his fellow citizens of Portland, was he keenly appreciated as a citizen, a friend and a neighbor. He was at one time a Director in the Kennebec and Portland Railroad, a Trustee of one of the Savings Banks of Portland, and President of the International Telegraph Company. This sudden and unexpected event, while it deprives the State of Maine of one of its brightest ornaments, is a great public loss to her sister States in the Circuit in which Judge Shepley administered the laws of the United States, and it creates a vacancy in the judiciary which will not be easily filled. Judge Shepley was twice married, and leaves a widow. His funeral occurs on Wednesday.

Storms on Sunday.

On Sunday a tornado swept over eastern New York and western Massachusetts, doing great damage to property but as far as reported causing no loss of life. In Albany, N. Y., sixteen buildings were destroyed. At Middletown a church steeple was blown over upon a dwelling, and crushed through to the ground; several houses were unroofed, and buildings and a factory chimney blown down. At Springfield, Mass., considerable damage was done to trees and fences.

A heavy thunder shower passed over Gloucester, Mass., Sunday afternoon, and many buildings were struck by lightning. Miss Byers and Mrs. McPhee, living in a house on Webster street, were instantly killed. Mrs. Kate Rice and her child, and Patrick Hennessey, were injured but not fatally. A house and barn in Ipswich, owned by a Mr. Lowe, were set on fire by lightning, and destroyed.

During a heavy shower in Concord, Sunday morning, the main building of St. Paul's school was struck by lightning, set on fire and burned. The building was of two stories, with dormitory wings and laundry. Loss $20,000 above insurance.

The farm buildings of George Colby, in Henniker, were struck by lightning and consumed on Sunday.

Some Fools.

Edward Griffin, driver of an omnibus for Richard Craig, a hotel proprietor at Far Rockaway, New York, recently became acquainted with an heiress to $100,000, Miss Treston, son-in-law of Craig, during his drives to the beach, and induced her to accompany him to Jamaica to be married. Miss Treston is twenty years old; Griffin is a red-headed, freckle-faced young fellow, tall and gaunt, about twenty-two years old, and has been in jail several times for offences committed while under the influence of liquor, the last occasion being on a charge of burglary. When the judge was asked to marry the pair he hesitated, but after some talk finally consented, and before they left the village for New York the bridegroom became intoxicated.

A duel was fought six miles from Columbia, S. C., on Wednesday of last week, by E. L. Jennings and James Logan of Atlanta, Ga. At the third shot both were dangerously wounded in the shoulder. These fellows are "chivalry," of course.

Eppa Hunton, of Virginia, ex-rebel general, democratic member of Congress and "reformer," etc., having gotten into a dispute with another well-known democrat, Columbus Alexander of Washington, D. C., sent Alexander a challenge. Alexander, who is quite as pugnacious as the bold Eppa, but has more brains, publishes the latter's challenge in the papers instead of going out to fight him, and in case Hunton is renominated for Congress will stump his district against him. Columbus is not included among the fools.

News and Notes.

A brutal murder was committed Saturday afternoon by a drunken scoundrel named John Dailey, who keeps the State Line House at Stamford, Vt., about four miles north of the village of North Adams, Mass. An inoffensive old man named James Patrick Spellman, who gained an honest living by grinding scissors, sharpened a couple of razors for Dailey, charging him fifty cents for the job. Dailey refused to pay more than twenty-five cents, and because the old man would not agree to his terms Dailey pounded him so that he died. The murderer was arrested. Dailey's "hotel" is situated part in Massachusetts and part in Vermont, and though it has long been a notorious house of assignation and resort of infamous characters, the officers have failed to abate the nuisance owing to the impossibility of proving in which State offences committed in the house took place. The assault on Spellman was committed in Vermont, and he died in Massachusetts.

Bars of pure gold, weighing twenty ounces each, have been ploughed up at or near Lexington, N. C., to the value of some $10,000. It is supposed to be the proceeds of a stage robbery committed some forty-five years ago, when the thieves hid the metal.

The steamer City of Fredericton, built in the British provinces, is denied registration under our laws of 1793, and the government officials have notified the owners to discontinue business. She is owned in Haverhill, Mass., carries a thousand passengers on a very light draught of water, had been profitably employed and was engaged by thirteen large parties. The disappointment is great, as she was the best passenger steamer ever run on the Merrimac.

A gang of armed roughs and tramps boarded a crowded excursion train on the New Haven & Northampton railroad, at Cheshire, Conn., on Saturday night, as a party were returning from the Sound. Women were insulted, clothing stolen, men struck, the rear car unshackled and the train stopped several times. The passengers and conductor were helpless. A few tramps were thrown from the train and the rest left at Plainville. The train was four hours late at Westfield.

Yacht Cosette was driven under in Boston harbor by a squall, Sunday afternoon, and James F. Robinson, aged twenty-five, was drowned. Thomas Sturgeon was drowned in the river at New Worcester while bathing, Sunday afternoon.

The "Unknowns," a new base ball club formed in this city, will play a practice game with the Granite States some day this week.

A party from South Newmarket reached our warves early Monday morning by steamer en route for a chowder on one of the islands at the mouth of the harbor.

The "bulls" were about, Saturday morning, creating a corner in blueberries—making a start from ten cents a quart at retail to fourteen cents a quart by the bushel.

The first round trip of the new schooner Cocheco, which sailed from the lower harbor for Bath on Monday, will be from Bath to Baltimore with ice, and from Baltimore to Dover with a cargo of coal. Mr. Charles E. Walker is her agent.

Alvin Emery, residing on Christian Shore, is reported to have attempted suicide on Saturday night at about eleven o'clock by hanging himself under the mill-bridge at the Shore. He was discovered just in season to save his life. Depression of spirits was the cause.

It is reported that Secretary Sherman has issued orders to collectors of customs in the seaboard cities to use extra vigilance concerning the quarantining of vessels from southern ports, on account of the danger from yellow fever. The U. S. S. Tallapoosa has been in Brooklyn, where they have the yellow fever, and is now on the way here. We respectfully suggest to the health officers the propriety of catching the Secretary of the Navy as soon as the Tallapoosa arrives, and clapping him in quarantine at Wood island.

There seems to be a regular system of re-dressing old jokes and palming them off upon the editor of Harper's Drawer as new. Dispute the fact that there is in this fively country new development of wit which is worth publishing, aside from the negro sermons and sayings of precocious children the Drawer seems of late to have dropped into a state of chronic dullness. We submit to the crow story of the soldier at Fort Niagara, so many times has it like a faithful sentinel gone all the rounds year after year; but the attempts in the August number to metamorphose the time honored anecdote of the late Col. Isaac O. Barnes, the New Hampshire born wit, that has in times past been so frequently and so well told as it actually occurred, has not improved the story, nor is any zest added to it by the change of base.

A WORN-OUT SHIP.

From a California paper of July 14th we take this notice of a once famous vessel:

The following is a brief history of a noted ship, and, as she is rapidly approaching her end, it will be interesting: Fifty-seven years ago the ship John Jay was launched at East Brooklyn and sent to sea the following year as a first-class packet. In 1827 she brought Marquis de Lafayette to the United States, and for many years before steam was adapted to sea-going vessels was accounted a first-class passenger vessel. Years sped away, and when steam took the place of sails on the Atlantic, the John Jay was sent around the Horn, in '49, with a crowd of gold-seekers. Afterward she ran in the China and Australian trade, and for the last twelve years has been employed in the Puget Sound lumber trade, making many successful and prosperous voyages. But ships, like men, wear out, and time is beginning to tell on the John Jay. On the 15th of June the old ship sailed from Seattle for San Francisco, with a cargo of coal. When off Protection Island the planks opened out. She sprang a leak, making fifteen inches per hour, and was put back to Seattle, where she was temporarily calked and new pumps were put in, sailing again on the 29th of June. On the night of the 3d inst., when about fifteen miles southwest of Cape Flattery, a heavy swell rolling in from the southwest, with light air prevailing, the planks opened out again, the ship making water at the rate of thirty-five inches per hour. A consultation was held, and the ship put back again. When she got into smooth water, the leak decreased to nine inches per hour, and kept at that. She arrived at Port Townsend on the morning of the 5th, when all hands—officers as well as crew—were discharged. It is thought a new crew and officers can be induced to try and take her down, the captain alleging that the late officers and crew were scared without just cause. It is time to be scared when one has put to sea in a sieve—which a vessel while in a calm makes thirty-five inches per hour, undoubtedly is. The men say that when she rolled her timbers cracked and creaked beneath their feet. At latest accounts the John Jay was lying at Port Townsend, awaiting orders.

This old ship John Jay was formerly owned here, and was thoroughly rebuilt by the late George Raynes, we think in the year 1841. She hauled through the draw of Noble's island bridge on the day the ship Venice was launched, and was taken up on ways specially prepared for her soon after; and when she was again put in the water she was probably as sound and strong as when first launched.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, July 22; Batchelder, J.

Charles Fernald was complained of for being drunk; complaint nol. pros'd. He was then arraigned for being a common drunkard, and was sent to Brentwood for sixty days; costs $9.18.

Arvilow V. Palmer, for being drunk and disorderly, was fined $10, costs $8.04. He will work it out on the county farm.

Frank Turner paid $9.90 for one drunk.

Wm. Berry was assessed the same amount for a similar offence. He expressed a wish to appeal, and was informed that he could do so on furnishing bonds in $100 to prosecute his appeal.

THE VICINITY.

Col. E. L. Whitefield and family of Concord are at Marden's in Rye.

John M. G. Emerson has been appointed postmaster at Goodwin's Mills, York county.

The full bench of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire are to pass a week at Old Orchard beach, for the consideration of law cases referred to them to be reported upon at the next session.

Another "Financier."

John G. Tappan & Co., selling agents of the Boston Rubber Belting Co., have failed, with liabilities of over $600,000. John G. Tappan was treasurer of the company, and has made over to the corporation a large amount of property to cover it from losses, the responsibility for which rests with him. It is stated that the amount involved is more than $500,000.

New Hampshire Items.

Carlos Smith of Laconia has died from the effects of sunstroke received in Meredith on Friday.

The contractors of the Manchester Soldiers' Monument have notified the committee that they cannot promise that the artistic portion of the monument will be ready before November 1st. This is a great disappointment, as extensive preparations had been made to dedicate the monument September 11th. Invitations have already been sent to prominent representatives of the army and navy and distinguished civilians throughout the country. Arrangements are already perfected for a parade of the entire militia of the State, and the occasion, whenever it comes, will undoubtedly be the greatest day Manchester has ever seen.

The New Hampshire Agricultural Society propose to present a novel feature this season, at the annual fair at Manchester, October 8th to 11th, in a rowing regatta on the Merrimac river above Amoskeag falls, on one day of the fair. It is proposed to make the course three miles—mile and a half and turn. The races are to be two in number, one for four-oared working boats, for which an elegant silver cup will be offered to the winner, with a medal to the boat coming in second. The same prizes are also to be given to single scullers. The fair managers have under consideration building a moving grand stand, such as was used at the Harvard-Yale regatta at New London, Conn., consisting of freight cars with elevated seats, so that several hundred people can follow the race from the start to the finish, the speed of the locomotive being regulated to correspond with that of the rowers.

Naval Affairs.

Paymaster George R. Watkins is ordered to the navy yard at Boston.

It appears that the yellow fever on board the naval vessels at the navy yard in Brooklyn is mainly attributable to a bed of putridity which has been allowed by the negligence of the naval authorities to form under the Vermont and Colorado, floating from the offal dock in close contiguity to the yard. The offal contractors of Brooklyn have allowed whole scow loads of offal and night soil to be dumped through the false bottoms of their scows, and this matter has floated right to the navy yard. No effort is known to have been made by Commodore Nicholson to prevent this accumulation. The health authorities of Brooklyn are energetically acting in the matter.

— It is not always easy to remember the exact name of a book. Somebody the other day at the Hartford Library inquired for the story called "The girl with a red face." An agreement was finally had upon "Red as a rose is she."

— The happy man just now—The Coolie.

— The "Keramic" bathing suit is the latest. It is made of gaily-figured cloth, and makes the bather look like a collection of foreign postage stamps.

—An English lady, who, in defiance of the law, married the brother of her dead husband, is in the habit of alluding to her first spouse as "her poor brother-in-law."

—A Chicago communist who regards (other people's) property as crime sold a lot of tickets for a communist picnic and then retired to commune with the proceeds.

—It is useless for physicians to argue against short-sleeved dresses. The Constitution of the United States says that "the right to bear arms shall not be interfered with."

—One of Bismarck's amusements is to keep as souvenirs the pistols and other weapons with which his assassination has been attempted. He has quite a large and varied collection.

—A Binghamton, N. Y., wife the other day found a letter in her husband's old clothes given him to mail eleven years ago, the non-receipt of which has estranged two families ever since.

—Business in Washington Territory is subject to interruptions peculiar to that section. A notice on the closed door of the Walla-walla Land Office: "Gone to fight the Indians forty miles away."

—A steamer plying between San Francisco and Stockton keeps an eccentric and useful sheep on board. The sheep is trained to go out on a gang plank at a landing when a flock is to be loaded, to show that the approach is safe and to act as a pilot.

—One of those Sunday school teachers who are always desirous of drawing out the ideas of children, asked her class what they supposed Daniel said when he was placed in the lion's den. One of her scholars, who has a practical turn of mind, answered: "Good-bye! I'm a goner."

Fat People.

Corpulent people can be reduced from two to five pounds per week without starvation, by using Allan's Anti-Fat, a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy. It acts on the food in the stomach, neutralizing all saccharine and oleaginous matter.

383 Washington St., BOSTON, MASS., May 21st, 1878.

BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., Buffalo, N. Y.:

Gentlemen: Without special change of diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-half pounds. Yours respectfully,

M. A. BUSH.

Hundreds of letters similar to the above have been received by the Botanic Medicine Co. Anti-Fat sold by druggists.

Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

The Princess Iturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

Beautiful Helen no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more than doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Sold by all Druggists. HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. tjy21

A Brooklyn man last summer deposited $300 with Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 12 Wall st., N.Y., as margin on a purchase of 100 shares St. Paul R. R. stock. The stock was sold six weeks afterwards, realizing $2,200 profit. Their Weekly Financial Report is sent free. 9

Everybody sings the praises of Adamson's Botanic Balsam because it is an article of merit, of more value than gold; it relieves distress, restores health, and prolongs life. What greater office of kindness and mercy could it perform? Price only 35 cents.

DEATHS.

SANBORN. In Kittery, July 19th, Mrs. Mary A. Sanborn, wife of Mr. William H. Sanborn, aged 47 years.

For twenty-five years Mrs. Sanborn had been an invalid; but though her sufferings were often excruciating she was always patient, and was never known to murmur at the Divine decrees; and she passed to her final rest willingly and fearlessly, even triumphantly, and with an assured confidence that all was well. Though prevented by her impaired health from taking an active part outside her family circle, she won very many friends; and the bereaved husband, whose unfailing love for the partner of his youth has made it the gladly-rendered service of his later years to minister to her every want and wish, and the daughter who has been to her a loved companion and trusted friend, have many sympathizers in this their hour of sorrow—sorrow which should be softened by the remembrance that their loss is the loved one's sure and eternal gain. THE NEW HAMPSHIRE

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Fair Play.

If a few doses of a proprietary medicine fails to cure a malady for which it is advertised, some week a physician, and contentedly take his routine prescriptions for months, even though they receive no benefit. Is this fair? Suppose the traveler on a strange and dangerous road inquires the route to a town some twenty miles distant, and, after going one or two miles, concludes to abandon the road, because he cannot see the town. If lost, could any one be blamed but himself? The Family Medicines manufactured by R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., are a safe and certain cure for the various diseases for which they are recommended. His Golden Medical Discovery has long been the standard remedy for the cure of scrofula, bronchitis, consumption, dyspepsia, liver complaint, skin diseases, and all impurities of the blood, while Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, if used in connection with the Discovery, effects a speedy and perfect cure of the most aggravated catarrhal affection. For many years the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women were regarded as incurable. The knife and caustic were freely used with but exceptional benefit. The success attending the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription induced the Doctor to sell it under a positive guarantee to cure this class of diseases. If afflicted, do not delay or hesitate to try it. See Pierce's Memorandum Book, given away by all druggists.

—The heat in the California and Consolidated Virginia mines is at present so intense and the demand for ice so great that the consumption of ice amounts to ninety-six pounds per day per man.

—A superstition which is religiously observed in Bohemia is that it is unlucky for a lover to visit his sweetheart except on Thursdays and Sundays. The saving in lights and fuel is simply incalculable, and the young women of the country, being thus enabled to get five nights' sleep every week, preserve their singular beauty for many years.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R.V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the Queen City, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved bathing, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialties.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this infirmary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the care of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in most approved form, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and promote recovery, are not neglected.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus' Dance), Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patient.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a division exhibited equally well and surely being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by street cars, omnibuses, and the Free Carriages of Hotel Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important cities and towns. 16eb20 79

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALTERATIVE
Golden Medical Discovery
CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.
In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in a more perfect form of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

Daily Chronicle.

Political.

Kearney, the San Francisco communist, left that city for the east on Sunday, and was escorted to the depot by a great procession of "workingmen," including all the roughs and hoodlums of the vicinity. He will make his first pause at Albany, and then will visit Boston to make Ben Butler governor of Massachusetts, if he finds him a proper man for the place.

Mr. Thomas M. Patterson has been renominated for Congress by the democrats of Colorado. He obtained his seat in the present Congress without being elected, but he may find it necessary to secure a majority this time in order to become a member of the next Congress. The chances are against him.

The mere mention of Grant's name for a third Presidential nomination has caused the democratic press to burst out with much talk about Cæsarism, centralized government, an empire, etc. The democratic fear of the "man on horseback" is rather funny, when we remember that it was Frank Blair's letter to Col. Brodhead in 1868 which secured him the democratic nomination for Vice President, and that in that letter the following passage occurred: "We must have a President who will execute the will of the people by trampling into dust the usurpations of Congress known as the reconstruction acts."

Mr. Jefferson Davis can still find audiences to applaud him while he shouts treason and reproclaims the right of secession; a few weeks ago two colored men who had been elected delegates to the democratic Alabama State Convention, were driven from the convention, their sole crime being that they were colored; citizens of Alabama are informed by leading democratic organs that unless they vote the democratic ticket they will be considered as enemies and treated accordingly; a Mississippi newspaper tells its readers that "a union of the States is and always will be galling." These are a few of the latest straws which show how the wind is blowing at the South.—Albany Journal.

It Didn't Work.

The latest idea to ensure purity of elections was carried out recently in the west, and proved to be a perfect failure, according to the New York Evening Post. The ballot-box was constructed of thick glass, and was seven feet square, so as to admit of two men being inserted in it through a door in the side! The idea was that they should sit there all day, and tally every vote cast, with a view to prevent any stuffing of the huge box by interested parties. They got along pretty well till noon, one being of course a red-hot democrat and the other a violent republican, when the glass became clouded through the exhalations of their breath. This prevented the bystanders from observing the action of the imprisoned politicians, but it served the purpose of the scrutineer of the democratic party to a turn, as when the box was opened at sundown it was found that he had eaten just one hundred and eighty-three republican votes, the exact number necessary to secure a victory for his party. He looked very pulpy as he left the polling-place, but he told a friend afterward that in the cause of right and justice he thought he could have masticated eleven more tickets.

—A Chicago young man having asked to be excused from jury service in a murder trial, through fear that he would lose his position if he served, the judge declared that he would fine and imprison for contempt any person who should discharge an employe for such a reason.

—Our consul at Glasgow writes the State Department that whiskey, which in Scotland is numbered among the necessities of life, costs three times as much there as it does here. No amount of the article itself will enable the bibulous American to explain, in the light of this statement, how it is that Scotch whiskey is as cheap here as the home made liquor.

By the Hon. Judge of Probate for said County.

TO LULU ENERY, of Portsmouth in said County, a minor, for whose benefit certain estate has been held in trust by SAMUEL C. PERKINS, her heirs expectant, and all other persons interested: You are hereby notified that said FRANCES M. PERKINS, admx. of the Estate of said SAMUEL C. PERKINS, deceased, will exhibit her account of said Trusteeship at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the second Tuesday of September next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., for examination and allowance. You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections, as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court.

The Vacant Judgeship.

Massachusetts papers promptly suggest the names of Judge Nowell of the District Court and Attorney General Devens for the vacant Circuit Judgeship. The position requires in addition to a thorough knowledge of law and aptness for judicial duties, a strong physical organization, to cope with the severe strain which a proper discharge of the burthensome duties of the Judgeship requires. It seems to us that Hon. Bainbridge Wadleigh, of this State, would in many respects prove an able and satisfactory incumbent. His Congressional experience as well as his law practice have given him great opportunities to become familiar with patent laws, and he is a lawyer of acknowledged learning and ability. The difficulty, of course, will be to find a strong man who is not better off in his legal practice than he would be on the bench, although the attractions of judicial position have often been sufficient to induce the most successful practitioners to leave the bar for the bench. The acceptance of the position requires a life of toil, a kind of labor never ending, and a task always incomplete and to be performed at a time in the life of the official when he can afford less draught upon his vigor than in preceding years. Benj. F. Thurston, of Rhode Island, one of the ablest patent lawyers of the day, would make an excellent Judge if he could be induced to accept the place. The appointing power will have an opportunity to display great discretion in the selection of a worthy successor for the lamented Shepley.

The Latest Wholesale Steal.

The operations of John G. Tappan turn out to be even more extensive than at first reported, and place him alongside of Chace and Hathaway of Fall River. The deficit in his accounts amounts to $800,000. Tappan's private property, which he has made over to the Rubber Belting Co., cost him about $1,100,000, but is largely depreciated. The New York Belting and Packing Co., which is closely identified with the Boston Co., will also have to suspend; liabilities $600,000. Tappan is seventy years old, and has a wife, two sons and four daughters; in 1874 his fortune amounted to $500,000. He was one of the founders of the Boston Rubber Belting Co., and has been its treasurer thirty-two years. He has had entire charge of the finances of the corporation, and his integrity was unquestioned until the late surprising developments. His long and successful business career had made him widely known and highly respected.

Jeff Davis, the Patriot Leader,

Jeff Davis recently made a speech at Mississippi City, in which he maintained the right of any State to destroy the Union at pleasure, denounced the north, and virtually proclaimed that "conciliation" can never be complete until the men who opposed secession acknowledge their crime and meekly bow to whatever punishment the defeated Confederate leaders may see fit to inflict. One single democratic paper in the entire south has so far denounced this secession speech—the Memphis Herald; every other one has either printed it without comment, or commented on it favorably. Referring to Davis as "the patriot statesman," the New Orleans Democrat asks:

But to whom will an impartial generation award the palm of honor, patriotism and statesmanship? Will posterity confirm the verdict of the triumphant north? Or will it declare that the head of the Confederacy who led his countrymen through one of the most heroic struggles in the annals of mankind, in defense of great principles which he believed to be right, and which the American people are now returning to, was the true patriot, and that the real traitors to the Constitution and enemies of the republic were Grant and the demagogues and conspirators who swarmed in Congress on the fall of the Confederacy.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, commenting on the Democrat's query, says: "This is putting the issue squarely. Are the people of the Union ready for the question? Grant and his soldiers were traitors, and the statesmen who served the Union cause were conspirators. Jeff. Davis is a patriotic statesman, and Lincoln was a traitor. This is conciliation. These are the utterances of the men who, through an alliance with the democratic party, hope soon to control the country. They make the issue and boast of the return of the country to the secession platform of 1860. When the people are ready to admit that Grant was the traitor and Jeff. Davis the patriot, the triumph of these southern leaders will come. These leaders no longer conceal their principles, but feeling sure of victory, boast of what they will do."

The Advertiser, of Montgomery, Alabama, thus discourses concerning Davis' speech:

The entire address was calculated to promote true harmony and reconciliation between the people of the two sections of the country, because the vital leading truth that he so eloquently emphasized is one that must be appreciated and accepted by the people of the north as an essential pre-requisite to the restoration of unrestrained good feeling between the north and south.

And the Raleigh, N. C., Observer, speaks as follows:

It is true that the government still refuses Jeff Davis some of the rights of citizenship, but if he be not the full peer of Ulysses S. Grant or Rutherford B. Hayes in all the rights of an American citizen, as he is their superior in all other respects, it is not because he has forfeited these rights by the commission of any offense against the laws of his country, but because of the malignant hate of an impotent enemy that dares not otherwise wreak its much coveted vengeance on him.

When his speech was first given to the public the northern democratic papers instantly announced that Davis was of no consequence, and that his speech had no significance. But its true significance is in the manner of its reception at the south, and it has been almost universally received there as the utterance of a statesman, patriot and prophet. Whenever a batch of comments by southern democratic papers denouncing the treasonable sentiments of the speech is collected, we will willingly publish the lot.

A Silly Boy's End.

Some ten or eleven weeks ago a boy named Abijah Tarbox, belonging in Hope, R. I., and employed as a spinner, in company with two other young ninnies named John Wiley and William Carr, "ran away" and went west "in search of adventures," impelled thereto by constant reading of such wretched trash as the Boys of New York and kindred disseminators of crime-worship among callow youth. Tarbox once before ran away, and stopped a week in New Jersey, when he was glad to return; but the last time he went he went for good. The postmaster of Hope on Saturday last received a letter from the coroner of Shell Rock, Iowa, informing him that on the 9th of July a gang of tramps tried to take possession of a railroad train at Shell Rock, attacking the train men with clubs and stones, when the conductor fired into the crowd and young Tarbox fell dead; Wiley, who was with him, ran away, and afterward got work on a farm near the town, hoping to make money enough to get home with.

News and Notes.

The Tallapoosa, with Secretary Thompson and party of twenty-two persons, arrived at the Boston navy yard Monday morning. They will make a three days' stop at that station before coming here.

C. H. Williams, who swindled banks at Thomaston and Rockland, Me., by means of forged checks some days since, has been arrested and was committed to Wiscasset jail on Tuesday.

Monday morning, as a boy was returning from Sheffield to Canaan, Conn., with a team belonging to a Mr. Bennett of Canaan, he was met by two tramps who demanded the team. When the boy attempted to escape they shot him, it is feared fatally. The scoundrels were arrested.

Sam Boss, a noted desperado and train robber, with two others, entered Round Rock, Texas, to perfect a plan for robbing a bank, but were recognized by Deputy Sheriff Grimes, who attempted to arrest them. They shot him down and retreated, closely pursued by Morris Wayne, a deputy sheriff, who killed one of the outlaws and was wounded himself. The surviving ruffians escaped for the time being, but were pursued and overtaken by a detachment of State troops, on whom they opened fire; the troops returned the fire, mortally wounding Boss and crippling the other thief so that he was captured.

The following notice has been distributed through Boonsboro, western Maryland, and has given the people quite a scare: "We, the citizens of Boonsboro, have resolved to notify the property-holders of Boonsboro that they must put down the rent on their property on each individual five dollars between this and the first day of August, or the town will be laid in ashes. We will notify you no more. We are poor, and can't get along with the rents so high, and, as they don't come down, we will bring them down or burn them down. From the committee on lower rents or fire."

In the last three days of last week the banks called on the Treasury for $310,000 in silver dollars.

An eminent lawyer, J. S. Archibald, has created a profound surprise at Montreal by giving it as his opinion that the act against secret societies, and under which Orangemen were arrested, expired in 1842, and was not revived before it was placed in the consolidated statutes. If he is right, the prosecution fails, and Mayor Beaudry is liable for heavy damages.

Queen Victoria on Monday invested Lord Beaconsfield with the order of the Garter.

A family named Sample, consisting of twelve persons, are reported to have been murdered in Tippah county, Miss., on Saturday night, by unknown parties.

John Dailey, the murderer of the old scissors-grinder at Stamford, was committed to jail at North Adams, Mass., Monday, without bail. Dailey's paramour, Nelly Grant, who is a principal witness against him, was committed to jail in default of $100 bail.

The island of St. Thomas was visited by a hurricane July 9th and 10th, and finished up with an earthquake on the 11th, but no serious harm resulted, only a few houses being thrown down and a dozen persons injured.

In France, the paradise of paper money, extensive strikes of miners have occurred, and the military have been called out to suppress the disturbances. On Monday extensive strikes took place among the lace and silk workers. Our greenbacked brethren should attend to this.

The barn and stable, with contents, of John Simpson, in Winslow, Me., were destroyed by fire last Saturday morning. The fire is supposed to have been accidentally set by a tramp who perished in the flames, as the bones of a human being were discovered in the ruins.

An elopement of a married man with a hitherto respectable widow, the mother of seven children, is reported from Newburyport.

A few days since a party of Russian officers visited the Evans rifle shops at Mechanic Falls, Me. One of the party asked to go into the store-room of completed parts. Selecting at random the several parts he asked for a workman. Mr. Evans sent a man from his force, who in the presence of the officers got up the gun and was firing cartridges within seventeen minutes.

General Grant was received with great enthusiasm by crowds of people when he landed at Gottenburg, Sweden, and on reaching Christiana, the capital of Norway, over 10,000 people greeted him. King Oscar will go to Christiana to receive General Grant and give him a State dinner.

A singular freak of lightning was that which made a brunette of a little Chicago blonde. The bolt crashed through H. I. Guild's house at night, turning every one out of bed and changing the golden hair of a little girl of four, and her scalp, to an inky black, which will not wash out, though the little one is as bright as ever.

A balloonist named L. D. Atchison, while making an ascension at Elmwood, Ill., Sunday evening, was killed instantly by falling two hundred feet.

Herr Strousberg, the ex-railroad king, has offered his creditors three cents on the dollar. Their claims amount to $16,000,000.

A child for which James G. Bennett acted as godfather on the steamer coming over received from him several bonbons and 1,000 francs.

It is announced that James G. Bennett intends to fit the yacht Dauntless with an engine and propeller, and otherwise fix her for Arctic explorations; she will then be sent north by the Spitsbergen route.

Gen. Garfield, in an address to the Ohio editors, recently said: "During our late war Gen. McDowell, one of the noblest, the most accomplished soldiers of the Union, was most unjustly assaulted by a group of war correspondents who represented him to the country as incompetent, drunken, and perhaps disloyal. It was circumstantially stated that on one occasion he was so drunk that he nearly reeled from his horse. As a consequence, he rested for a long time under this cloud of cruel and unjust suspicion. He is almost the only adult man I ever knew of whom it can be said with truth that he never tasted spirituous liquors, tea, coffee, or tobacco; and yet several million of his countrymen were made to believe, and perhaps many of them still believe, that he lost the battle of Bull Run in consequence of intoxication."

New Hampshire Items.

Charles Smith, aged thirty-five years, died of sunstroke in Meredith Village Monday noon. He was perfectly well at eleven o'clock.

J. F. Levis' house in Londonderry was robbed Monday of $126 by a tramp, who entered the house during the owner's absence.

During a severe thunder-storm, Sunday, lightning struck the residence of Samuel Hill at Campton, stunning the inmates and badly damaging the house.

Edgar B. Burke, chief engineer of the Nashua fire department from 1868 to 1871, and who had been a member of both branches of the city government, died in Nashua on Monday. He was a prominent Freemason and Odd Fellow. His age was forty-seven years.

Dr. John McNab, of Woodsville, the oldest physician in the State, died Saturday, aged ninety-five years. He was buried Monday at McIndoes, Vt., with Masonic honors. He was born in Scotland. He was very smart for his age, and made a trip to Boston and back unattended, only ten days before his death.

John H. Degross, of Manchester, committed suicide on Monday afternoon by shooting. His age was fifty-two years. A week previous he took out an accident policy for $6000 for three days, and the same night he fell from a boat on Massabesic lake, but was rescued. Saturday he took out a policy for $3000, showing deliberate intention to kill himself. He was a man of some property, leaves a wife and children, and was born in Madrid, Spain. He was a member of the Odd Fellows' Mutual Relief Association.

—The two Messrs. S., father and son, distinguished lawyers of Boston, are noted for quick temper and quick wit. They rarely meet without an amicable passage at arms. Last week young S. was making a call at the paternal mansion, when a cur of his father's attacked him, and received a kick which sent him howling down the staircase. The noise brought out the old man from his lair, and the following colloquy ensued: S. Senior—"What did you kick my dog for?" S. Junior—"He bit me." S. Senior—"He didn't bite you." S. Junior—"I didn't kick him."

THE CITY.

Hon. James Shaw, editor of the Aurora, Ill., Herald, is in this city on a brief visit to his native place.

Two thousand hard silver dollars, fresh from the mint, went over to the navy yard on Monday to be used in paying off the workmen.

It is said it will take Secretary Thompson three days to do the Boston navy yard, and he will stop over a day in Gloucester on his way to this port to visit the Fish Commission, so he is not likely to arrive here before Friday morning.

It was reported Tuesday evening that at about seven o'clock Mrs. James Dermody jumped overboard from Russell's wharf with intent to commit suicide. Her husband jumped in after her, and some of the young men of the neighborhood fished the pair out with some difficulty, both alive but very wet indeed.

The residence of Mrs. William P. Jones on Court street was entered on Monday afternoon sometime between the hours of four and eight o'clock, during the absence of the family at the beach, and a jewel casket was stolen. The casket contained a lady's gold hunting-case watch with bead chain, a gent's open-face silver watch, a gold necklace with pendant, a gold cross with coral ornaments, a gold locket, an onyx necklace with locket, a set of watch charms, a topaz pendant, a gold handkerchief-holder, a gold pin with flower painting thereon, a gold and black enamel watch chain with locket attached, a set of coral sleeve buttons, a silver chatelaine, a tortoise shell pendant and pin, a pair of gold earrings and a fancy card case.

A letter received in this city from an officer of the U. S. S. Enterprise, dated "June 16th, off Sarpa, near the mouth of the Madeira river, seven hundred miles up the Amazon," reports all well and hard at work on the survey. The Enterprise would proceed in a day or two to a point about three hundred miles up the Madeira, where she would stop, and send her steam launch about four hundred miles further up, to the falls of San Antonio, to finish the survey to that point. The writer reports the Amazon a vast but monotonous river, with heavily wooded banks and an occasional hut on them; it is about ten miles wide at its confluence with the Madeira. The surveyors do not find the weather uncomfortably warm, as a strong breeze blows up the Amazon every day, dying away at nightfall; the nights are not so warm but what the sleepers on deck (comprising the whole ship's company) manage to get a good rest.

There is hardly anything that goes farther, in these days of heat, towards preserving the comfort and equanimity of man, than a good fitting collar and a properly laundried shirt. Without these life becomes a burthen, and existence is rubbed of its attractions. A proper "doing up" of the linen of the master of the house is the secret, often, of family peace and happiness. Without such results in the domestic economy, the best regulated establishment is likely to become out of gear. If there is any one who delights in a well-done-up shirt; if there is any one whose domestic laundry does not fill the bill in this respect; if there is any youth, for whom the girl of the kitchen does not satisfactorily starch his standing collar; in short, if any of our readers have felt the want of an improved result in the matter of laundried articles, let such at once try the Star Laundry of Salem. Our friend William P. Walker, of No. 8 Market square, receives and transmits articles for this laundry, and from an ample test of the results we are able to assure our readers that a trial of this superior establishment will result most satisfactorily. It is altogether the best laundry, in point of its work, in this part of the world; and with its accommodating agent is doing the clean thing for many of our people.

IN MEMORIAM.

The recent death of Miss Lizzie H. Dodge, while a source of grief to a large circle of relatives and immediate friends, is a loss to the educational interests of Portsmouth. Miss Dodge has for some time been engaged as one of the teachers in the Haven school, and was greatly beloved by her pupils and appreciated by her fellow teachers. She was of pleasant disposition and kindly manners, and her untimely demise not only brings its weight of sorrow to her own household, but casts a shadow of deep regret over the entire community, where her excellent traits were so keenly appreciated.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, July 23; Batchelder, J.

Annie L. Fay was complained of for throwing a quantity of oil into a cistern at Newcastle, with intent to render the water it contained unfit for use. She pleaded guilty, and was bound over in $100 for her appearance at the Supreme Court.

Mary Sullivan, a little bit of a girl, was charged with assaulting a little bit of a boy named Edwin P. Ham. Mary confessed the crime. The evidence showed that the terrible affair was a child's quarrel; the complainant and other small folks had been playing with defendant, and at last got to teasing her by calling her "Modoc! Modoc!" when she at length slapped complainant's face. After giving the parties a suitable lecture on the enormity of their conduct, and warning the name-callers that they were as liable to arrest as the assaulter, the magistrate placed Mary on probation and turned the whole lot out of court.

BOATING ACCIDENT.

The schooner Fleetwing, Capt. Amos Rackliffe, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., Tuesday morning, having on board three men named George L. Carpenter, Herman Carpenter and Sylvester Abbott, who were taken from the bottom of a sailboat between the Isles of Shoals and this port on Monday afternoon. These rescued men with another named Alonzo Garvin, sailed from South Berwick, Me., Monday morning, in the sloop yacht Fearnaught, on a fishing excursion, and their boat was struck by a squall and capsized. Garvin was drowned, but the others clung to the boat for three hours; for half an hour they held the body of their unfortunate companion, but were obliged to abandon it to the waves at last. The steamer Appledore passed near them, but they were unable to attract her attention. The men were greatly exhausted when taken off. One arriving at Gloucester they were taken in charge by Officer Cook and left for home by the morning train, expressing great gratitude to Capt. Rackliffe and Mr. Cook for their kindness. Garvin was thirty-five years of age and leaves a widow and two children.

THE VICINITY.

Steamer Empire State made a trip from Boston around the Shoals on Tuesday.

Hoar, the artist, will leave the Isles of Shoals shortly to paint a fog at Mt. Desert.

Hon. James G. Blaine took up his quarters at York beach Monday, to remain several days.

Hon. John Wentworth of Chicago arrived at Boar's Head on Monday. He is the guest of Hon. Edmund Burke.

The Eastern railroad station at Rochester was entered by some unknown person on Saturday night, and the safe was blown open and rifled of its contents, including about $56 of the company's money.

City Marshal Entwistle and Assistant Marshal Gray went to Portland on Tuesday to give evidence in the case of Oren Goodwin and James Stackpole, arrested in this city some weeks ago for robbing Getchell's store and post office at Wells.

Mary York and Samuel Tibbetts were arraigned at Newmarket on Saturday, the former on two complaints and the latter on one, for selling liquor. The woman York was held on one complaint; Tibbetts was discharge. The cases were brought through the agency of David Webster and Thomas E. Drake. After the court adjourned a mob of some two hundred persons assaulted Webster and Drake, threw them down a flight of stairs, and beat and otherwise abused them. It is not reported that any of these ruffianly law-breakers have been arrested. The liquor detectives, after getting away from the free-rum mob, walked to Stratham and took the cars for this city, arriving here in the evening.

Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway Railroad Bonds.

NOTICE TO BONDHOLDERS.

A MEETING of the holders and owners of the bonds of the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway Railroad will be held at the Common Council Room in this city on Wednesday next, July 24th, at four o'clock P. M., to consider the condition of the property and to take such measures to protect the same, in view of the present position of affairs, as shall be deemed expedient. Persons, and officers of corporations holding bonds are requested to be present or represented upon the occasion.

By order of committee authorized to call the meeting.

Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

Anti-Fat Chemically Examined.

The analytical chemist, W. B. DRAKE, of Buffalo, N. Y., recently analyzed Allan's Anti-Fat, and gave the following

CERTIFICATE.

I have subjected Allan's Anti-Fat to chemical analysis, examined the process of its manufacture, and can truly say that the ingredients of which it is composed are entirely vegetable, and cannot but act favorably upon the system, and it is well calculated to attain the object for which it is intended. W. B. DRAKE, Chemist.

Sold by druggists.

Man never is, but always to be blest. So thought a leading citizen of Evansville, Ind., and the reader may be equally fortunate by addressing M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans. But hear his pathetic history:

The undersigned certifies that he held for collection for account of M. W. Runge, of Vierling & Runge, Wholesale Druggists Evansville, Indiana, One-tenth Ticket No. 83,585, Class "F," in the Louisiana State Lottery, which drew the Second Capital Prize of Fifty Thousand Dollars on Tuesday, June 11th, 1878, having cost the sum of One Dollar, and that the amount was promptly paid in a check on the Louisiana National Bank, on presentation of the ticket at the office of the Company. THE NEW HAMPSHIRE

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

A Great Eel Preserve.

The Brooklyn Eagle says: On the farm of James N. Wells, in the town of Riverhead, is the greatest eel preserve ever seen island. The pond covers five acres. Two years ago Mr. Wells put into the pond 24,000 eels, with no intention of disturbing them for five years. They have increased wonderfully, millions being in the pond, and it is thought that there will be quadrillions before Mr. Wells gets ready to market them. The eels are fed regularly every three days on what is known as "horse feet," a sea product, with meat inside a shell which takes the shape of a horse's hoof, and it is doubtless from that that it derives the name. They consume 700 horse feet in three days. It would seem impossible to furnish so many, but the number does not begin to detail the extent of the catch. Millions of them are annually fed to swine and poultry, and some men make a business of catching them. On June 15th, after a storm Mr. Downs, with a trap of his own invention, caught 1000 "feet," and between the 15th of June and April his aggregate catch was 19,000.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and comodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is complete in its appointments as has any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved medical bathing apparatus, and has connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our several specialities.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of the Institute of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to relieve and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the energies of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
REMARKABLE CURES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of our Specialist in this locality, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results obtained.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of great judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

$777 is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment we furnish. Send per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and $5 Outfit free. PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the road, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and round-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns. ufeb29 79

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT. OF
Golden Medical Discovery
CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD
In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has established its medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness" in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

Daily Chronicle.

Tramps.

Gen. Marston's tramp bill is a very severe one, but not more so than is demanded by the representatives from the rural districts, in which the vagabonds have spread a terror of which residents in thickly settled localities know nothing. With policemen and neighbors within easy call a tramp is only an annoyance and a tax; but in a country town where women, children, and property are necessarily left much of the time without protectors, he is a constant menace and a terror, a robber whose exactions no one dares resist, a scoundrel whose villainous instincts everybody dreads. The bill does not state when its provisions shall take effect, which omission will put it in force on the 16th of September, under a provision of the General Statutes. This will give tramps ample time to put themselves outside the State line. Following is a copy of the bill:—

Sec. 1. Any person going about from place to place begging and asking or subsisting upon charity, shall be taken and deemed to be a tramp, and shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor in the State prison not more than fifteen months.

Sec. 2. Any tramp who shall enter any dwelling-house, or kindle any fire on the land of another, without the consent of the owner or occupant thereof, or shall be found carrying any fire-arm or dangerous weapon, or shall threaten to do any injury to any person, or to the real or personal estate of another, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor in the State prison not more than two years.

Sec. 3. Any tramp who shall willfully and maliciously do any injury to any person, or to the real or personal estate of another, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor in the State prison not more than five years.

Sec. 4. Any act of beggary or vagrancy by any person not a resident of this State, shall be evidence that the person committing the same is a tramp within the meaning of this act.

Sec. 5. Any person, upon view of any offense described in this act, may apprehend the offender and take him before a justice of the peace for examination, and, on his conviction, shall be entitled to a reward of ten dollars therefor.

Sec. 6. The mayor of every city and the selectmen of every town are hereby authorized and required to appoint special constables, whose duty it shall be to arrest and prosecute all tramps in their respective cities and towns.

Sec. 7. This act shall not apply to any female or minor under the age of seventeen years, nor to any blind person.

—The following anecdote is characteristic of the sake of the Sultan's mind: In a farewell visit of Princess Reuss, wife of the German Ambassador, this lady congratulated the Sultan on the deep reverence and affection entertained toward him by his subjects, gently insinuating that so much devotion should be rewarded by showing himself more frequently in public. The Sultan listened with an astonished face, and when the Princess left, remarked to the bystanders, "I would like very much to know what interest that woman can have in having me assassinated."

Portsmouth Chronicle

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1878.

South Carolina's New Rebellion.

A contest is now going on in South Carolina which is deservedly attracting a great deal of attention from thoughtful men, as the question involved is as to the power of a State judge to set aside the laws of the United States at his pleasure. The case in brief is as follows: Four revenue officers, approaching the house of a noted illicit distiller in order to arrest him, were threatened by one of his accomplices whose gun missed fire, and who was himself shot before he could get a second chance. The officers surrendered themselves, and have been indicted for murder. An application to transfer their cases to the United States Circuit Court as the law of the United States provides shall be done in the case of United States officials when suits are brought against them arising from the execution of their duty, has been rejected by Judge Kershaw, who holds that the prisoners' plea that they shot in self-defence makes their act a personal one, and that therefore it was not done in their official capacity. To this view the Court adheres, with an apparent determination to resist the authority of the United States at all hazards. The nullification standard has thus once more been openly raised in South Carolina.

The "democratic House," at its last session, voted to repeal the law which authorizes Federal officers to take their suits from State to Federal courts, every democrat voting for such repeal; and only the fact that the Senate was republican prevented its final passage. The law was passed by Congress at the time of the attempt of South Carolina to resist the collection of tariff duties during the administration of President Jackson, and upon his earnest solicitation. At that time the measure received the hearty support of the democratic party and its representatives in Congress. Now the democracy, north as well south, is so thoroughly imbued with the heresy of State sovereignty that its representatives solidly vote for its repeal, and champion the nullification of the laws which a democratic Congress years ago almost unanimously adopted. To all intents and purposes the democrats in Congress committed themselves not only to the doctrine of State supremacy over the Federal authority, but practically raised the standard of nullification which the State Rights men of South Carolina elevated during the time of President Jackson.

Had the law been repealed the government would have been utterly powerless to collect the whisky tax in any southern State, as revenue officers would not have dared run the risk of being sent to the penitentiary as convicts by hostile State courts in defiance of justice and law; and as it is, if the general government allows this Kershaw to nullify the law, revenue officers will hardly dare in the future to defend their lives against the attacks of outlaws, for fear of being held by some rabid State Rights judge, and convicted of murder by a jury of illicit distillers.

News and Notes.

Tappan, a highly respectable Bostonian, seems as treasurer to have played the rubber game with the stockholders of the Boston Belting Company, whose assets are nearly rubbed out.

Harris Lowenburg, an aged Jew of New York, has been committed for trial on charge of being the receiver of $20,000 worth of jewelry stolen a year ago from the store of Simeon J. Radberg of Baltimore. The thieves are now in Auburn prison. The hiding place of the goods was discovered through a quarrel between Lowenburg and his daughter, who was the mistress of one of the thieves.

A boat, smaller in every way than the "Nautilus" of Beverly, and manned by two retired seamen, will sail from Boston about the 1st of August for a life-and-death voyage across the Atlantic.

A report from Rome is that the Vatican councils contemplate placing the Roman Catholic churches in Great Britain under the immediate authority of the Pope, removing them from the control of Propaganda Fide. A subsequent report is that the Vatican is elaborating a project with relation to the Catholic church in the United States similar to that in regard to the churches in the British Isles, placing it under immediate authority of the Pope.

The schooner Parallel, at San Francisco July 23d, reports that on the 7th, off the coast about 100 miles north of San Francisco, fell in with a Japanese junk. Not a living person was on board. A number of corpses were found, some shackled together. They must have been dead at least a month. There was no food on board. Some of the bodies were dressed in a costly manner.

A young man by the name of Josselyn, with a wife in some unknown parts, who has been for some months in the employ of Chas. McKenney, of Buxton., Me., has disappeared with the daughter of Mr. Hiram Davis, at whose house he boarded. He hired a team at Saccarappa and took her to that place, and from thence he is said to have hired a passage to Portland and took the Boston boat. With the daughter $200 are missing from Mr. Davis' house.

England, with a population of 37,500,000, has 392 serviceable men-of-war and a mercantile marine of 5,740,000 tons; France, with 38,600,000 inhabitants, has 339 men-of-war and a mercantile navy of 1,000,000; and Germany, with 46,000,000 inhabitants, has only fifty servicable men-of-war and a mercantile marine about equal to that of France.

The Zurich Gazette, Switzerland, recently contained the following: "Church of Fluntern. On the occasion of the national rifle contest, which will commence on Sunday morning, public worship will be suspended. The Council of the Parish."

A despatch from San Antonio, Texas, says Gen. McKenzie has again crossed the border into Mexico in pursuit of cattle thieves, with eight hundred troops.

Gen. Escobedo has been captured by the Diaz troops under Col. Nancio. His captors started for Monterey with him, but it is not supposed he will reach there alive.

Wilson Howchins, of Fluvanna Court House, Va., on the 22d inst. murdered his wife and one child and his wife's mother, and then killed himself. A son seven years of age, who saw his father commence the murderous work, took a baby from its cradle, ran away with it and saved both their lives.

Nathaniel Latham, of Gloucester, Mass., master of fishing schooner Viking, drew on the owners for several hundred dollars, stole a dory and fishing gear from the schooner, and abandoned her at Canso, N. S. The vessel was brought home by the crew, in charge of one of their number. Latham has borne a good reputation, and has a wife and children in Gloucester.

Paper napkins are among the latest uses to which paper is brought.

Capt. Bogardus, the champion wing shot of America, has defeated Pennell, the champion shot of the London Gun Club, in a pigeon shooting match, killing two more birds than Pennell.

The Duke of Connaught, Queen Victoria's third son, is to marry Princess Marie Louise of Prussia, daughter of Prince Frederick Charles.

Mrs. Major Newell, better known as Miss Minnie Warren, died at Middleboro', Mass., July 23d. She gave birth to an infant weighing six pounds, and mother and child lived but a few hours. The weight of the mother was but forty-five pounds.

A farmer near Fairbault, Minn., on July 23d shot and instantly killed two tramps whom he caught setting fire to a harvesting machine in his wheat field. He gave himself up, but was immediately released.

The funeral of the late Judge Geo. F. Shepley occurred at Portland on Wednesday. There were present Judges Clifford and Fox of the United States Court and a large number of the members of the bar of Cumberland county, and prominent citizens of Portland. From Massachusetts, Judge Lowell of the District Court, District Attorney Sanger, Marshal Usher, H. L. Hallet, United States Commissioner, John G. Stetson, Clerk of Circuit Court, Messrs. E. R. Hoar, Carleton Browne and Thomas Talbot of the bar. From New Hampshire, William H. Hackett, Clerk of the Circuit Court, and from Rhode Island, Hon. J. A. Knowles, District Judge, were in attendance. The services were conducted at St. Luke's church after private services at the residence of the deceased. A large concourse of people filled the church. Judge Shepley was for many years one of the vestry men and a liberal patron of St. Luke's.

New Hampshire Items.

Lewis Carpenter of Keene was drowned on the night of July 22d while out in a boat fishing. He leaves a wife and children.

William Sanborn of Laconia, who had been missing since the previous Thursday, was found dead in the woods in Gilford, Monday, July 21, having committed suicide by hanging. He was sixty-eight years old, and insane.

An Associated Press dispatch says that the name of Hon. Daniel Clark, Judge of the United States District Court for New Hampshire, is being urged for the United States Circuit Judgeship, made vacant by the death of Judge Shepley. Judge Clark has for some time performed the duties of Circuit Judge, and is regarded as one of the clearest headed jurists in the country.

Political.

The democrats of Texas have succeeded in nominating a State ticket at last, all the original candidates for governor having been thrown overboard. O. M. Roberts, chief justice of the State, secured the nomination.

The New York greenbackers met in State convention at Syracuse, Tuesday, July 23d, had a glorious row, voted to exclude all delegates from the city and county of New York from the convention, and then adjourned to Wednesday. The banished patriots started an opposition show with about seventy-five performers, appointed a committee on credentials to get in more delegates, and then also adjourned to Wednesday. One of the speakers, Alexander Troup of New Haven, Conn., declared that the greenback-labor ticket will sweep nearly every New England State at the next election, there being no doubt of its success in Maine!

If a quickened conscience ever comes over S. J. Tilden he may also admit that the greenback is the only currency. Confess, S. J., and awaken a little western enthusiasm.—Cincinnati Enquirer, dem.

Why does not England use greenbacks instead of Bank-of-England notes? Has that greatest nation in the world to learn finance of the United States of America? Who will say so?—Richmond Dispatch, dem.

Alexander Stephens is evidently enjoying himself in his canvass for a renomination. He rehearses his controversy with Mr. Potter with keen relish in every speech he makes. At Thompson, recently, he said, while addressing an immense open air audience: "I believe Tilden was elected by a fair count, and I have as much nerve as most people. I never yet shrank from danger or steel, but I want no more war. Hayes was inaugurated, and has done what Tilden could not have done. I said that Potter was wrong; they thought it was I who was wrong; now they say Stephens was right, and I am not going to run away from my platform because they go on it. Potter got up this scheme without consulting either Bayard, Butler or Thurman. The fact is, I think it came from Tilden himself. Soon after I was howled down I was vindicated. The mighty voice of Pennsylvania sustained me. Then came old Tammany in New York, right under Tilden's nose—all said I was right. In less than one month, yea, less than one moon, all the democrats, save fourteen, voted nearly identically the same language I had used in amending the Potter resolution. I don't know what effect the moon had; I thought they were a set of lunatics anyhow." And the country coincided in the opinion.

Hayes is doing so well, most of the democrats would rather see him in the Presidential office than Tilden.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

— Wax figures do not lie.

—Noting the fact that a bankrupt has just sailed for Europe, after settling with his creditors, the Commercial Bulletin says, "His creditors remain at home—they cannot afford the trip.

— A good natured Milwaukee justice not long ago fined an offender $100. Whereupon his counsel, an eloquent and sympathetic orator, again addressed "His Honor" in mitigation, and the fine was then adjusted at $75. Once more an appeal for mercy was made, and the fine stood at $50. Another burst of rhetoric reduced it to $25. But as the counsel once more returned to the charge the justice mildly interposed, "Brother ——, this thing is assuming the proportions of an inverse auction, and must stop."

The analytical chemist, W. B. DRAKE, of Buffalo, N. Y., recently analyzed Allan's Anti-Fat, and gave the following

CERTIFICATE.

I have subjected Allan's Anti-Fat to chemical analysis, examined the process of its manufacture, and can truly say that the ingredients of which it is composed are entirely vegetable, and cannot but act favorably upon the system, and it is well calculated to attain the object for which it is intended. Surest Tranquillizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their superexcitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

Man never is, but always is to be blest. So thought a leading citizen of Evansville, Ind., and the reader may be equally fortunate by addressing M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans. But hear his pathetic history:

The undersigned certifies that he held for collection for account of M. W. Hungo, of Vierling & Runge, Wholesale Druggists Evansville, Indiana, One tenth Ticket No. 83,565, Class "F," in the Louisiana State Lottery, which drew the Second Capital Prize of Fifty Thousand Dollars on Tuesday, June 11th, 1878, having cost the sum of One Dollar, and that the amount was promptly paid in a check on the Louisiana National Bank, on presentation of the ticket at the office of the Company. EUGENE SULLIVAN'S MURDER.

A Long-Concealed Crime Exposed.

Eighteen years ago, on the 12th of April, 1860, Eugene Sullivan, an Irishman who worked as hostler in this city, disappeared, and no clue to his whereabouts was found until his dead body was picked up on the shore of the river in Newington, on the 17th day of May following. His coat and cap were found near the Spring market about the time of his disappearance, and it was the general impression that he accidentally fell overboard at that point and was drowned, though his relatives have always suspected that he was foully dealt with.

Thus the matter rested until some time last week, when Patrick Kiley, a stevedore along the city wharves, got into some trouble at the north part of the city, and as he claims was shot at by some person; being somewhat under the influence of liquor at the time, Kiley made some remarks which were taken notice of by those present, and reported by them to the police. Acting on this information the City Marshal and Assistant Marshal Gray proceeded to quietly "work up the case," and secured sufficient evidence to justify the arrest of Kiley, which was done on the evening of Tuesday, 23d inst., at ten o'clock. Kiley was confined in the station house during the night, and a warrant against him was issued by County Solicitor Harriman for aiding and abetting in the murder of Sullivan, which it would now appear was committed in a drinking saloon on Water street at the head of Long wharf, then kept by one Davidson. Davidson, we are informed, left the city on the morning after Sullivan's disappearance, and he did not revisit it for twelve years.

Kiley was arraigned before Judge Batchelder on Wednesday forenoon, and pleaded not guilty.

Timothy Sullivan, brother of Eugene, was examined, and stated that on examination of his brother's body after it was picked up his front teeth were found to have been knocked out, and there were bruises upon the head apparently made with a club or some hard instrument.

City Marshal Entwistle and Asst. Marshal Gray testified that in conversation with Kiley, Wednesday morning, he told them that he was in Davidson's saloon on the night in question, and the first he noticed of Sullivan was when his attention was drawn by his saying, in substance, "You can't do it except you had backers." Then Daniel Hennessey, (who is now dead,) took up a chair and struck Sullivan over the head; Sullivan fell, throwing up his hands; the lights were then put out, and he (Kiley) walked out of the front door, and as he went heard sounds as if some heavy body was being tumbled down stairs, or as if a scuffle was going on there. Marshal Entwistle testified that Kiley told him in presence of another gentleman that he (Kiley) saw that the deceased's teeth were knocked out and that there were bruises on his head. On the Marshal asking him who were in the saloon at the time, he said Hennessey and Davidson, afterward admitting that John and Patrick Sheehan were there also. [John Sheehan is living in Boston; Patrick Sheehan is serving out a sentence at Brentwood, and will probably be brought to trial for complicity in the murder. The latter has already stood one trial for murder, being cleared by strongly-suspected perjury; and he was afterward sent to State prison for ten years, for highway robbery with violence, being pardoned out at the end of eight years.]

At his own request Kiley was then sworn, and told a story in substance as follows: On the night Sullivan was murdered witness left home at about eleven o'clock, and passed down by the gas house toward Water street, and when opposite Davidson's saloon he heard loud talk which attracted his attention. He looked across the street, and through the window saw Sullivan and Hennessey, who were stripped as for a fight, and heard them talking in a loud tone; then he saw Hennessey take up a chair and strike Sullivan over the head, Sullivan throwing up his hands and falling backward to the floor, his head falling in a doorway leading to the rear of the saloon. Witness then heard a noise as of a scuffle, or of something being thrown down stairs. He then passed on to Cunningham's saloon, where he took a drink of beer and then went home. On cross examination he gave as a reason for not informing the authorities of the murder that he was a friend of Hennessey's father. His direct testimony was considerably shaken by the cross examination, and his manner gave to the spectators the impression that he knew more than he wished to tell.

Judge Batchelder considered the evidence sufficent to hold Kiley to answer before the Supreme Court at the October term, and he was committed to jail without bail. According to his own story he was accessory to the murder after the fact, which we believe is not a bailable offence.

Mr. Sullivan left a wife and five children. He was an industrious man, not at all aggressive, and was well liked by his associates. Three of the children are still living. After her husband's death Mrs. Sullivan married Mr. Michael Stack, who went out on the U. S. S. Marion as boiler maker, but was invalided home and died about a year ago.

Davidson, the keeper of the drinking place where Sullivan was murdered, was an Englishman; as might be suspected, he was not of the best reputation. We believe he is now dead.

CONWAY RAILROAD BONDHOLDERS' MEETING.

Agreeably to call a meeting of holders of the bonds of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad was held in the Common Council room in this city on Wednesday afternoon, 24th inst. The meeting was called to order by Hon. Daniel Marcy; Ezra H. Winchester, Esq., was chosen to preside, and John Sise, Esq., was made secretary of the meeting. On motion of Mr. Thomas H. Odion it was Voted, That in view of the present position of the property, and of the facts that the lessees of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad have declined to pay the interest on the bonds as provided in the lease, and that proceedings in bankruptcy are threatened, which in the opinion of this meeting would greatly impair the value of the bonds, and whereas it is the opinion of this meeting that under proper management the road is capable of earning, above its expenses, the interest of said bonds: that a committee of three be appointed by the chair, to nominate a committee of five bondholders, who shall protect the interests of the bondholders by taking such steps towards the preservation of our rights in the courts of this State, and elsewhere, as they may deem expedient.

On motion of Hon. Frank Jones this resolution was amended by adding "And that this committee shall act in conjunction with the committee which will be appointed at a meeting to be held by the bondholders in Boston on Thursday, July 25th."

Voted, That said committee be requested to make a list including every bondholder who is entitled to participate in, and become a party to the legal proceedings already instituted in the courts of this State concerning the property; to confer with such upon the measures needed to be employed, and procure their cooperation; to call future meetings of such bondholders, and generally at their discretion to act for and in behalf of these interests, in the employment of counsel, prosecution of suits, and like proceedings, as in their judgment may be deemed fit and proper.

The chair appointed as a nominating committee Hon. Daniel Marcy, Dr. J. F. Hall and E. H. Winchester, Esq., who reported the following named gentlemen as the permanent committee: A. K. Shurtleff, of Portland; David H. Buffum and Micajah C. Burleigh, of Somersworth; Frank Jones and E. H. Winchester, of this city.

On motion of Mr. Jones it was voted that all present would attend the meeting of bondholders in Boston on the 25th, or send proxies.

The meeting then adjourned to the call of the committee.

THE CITY.

The funeral of Miss Lizzie H. Dodge will take place from No. 3 Penhallow street this (Thursday) afternoon at half-past three o'clock.

President Hayes has appointed Col. Wm. H. Hackett of this city a Commissioner of Deeds in the State of New Hampshire for the District of Columbia under the recent act of Congress.

Visitors to Portsmouth and the beaches find a new attraction this season in a monster salt water aquarium at the second bridge in Newcastle, placed there through the public spirit of Major Urch, a member of the State militia, wherein are found twenty-nine varieties of fish, in weight varying from one-quarter of a pound to sixty pounds; in lenth from an inch to fifteen feet, and of all colors.—Haverhill Gazette.

One of the "raciest" looking boats that has sailed the Piscataqua for some time is the Nimport, lately purchased for the use of the customs officers as a boarding boat. She was built in Boston last fall under the supervision of Mr. George Pierce, and in the several races in which she entered came out on the lead. She is twenty-six and a half feet long and ten feet beam, measures about seven tons, has a centreboard and is cat-rigged, her sail containing one hundred and six yards of canvas. Her passenger room is finished in cherry and chestnut. Her original cost was about six hundred dollars, but she was bought by her present owners at a much less price. Judging from what we have seen of her sailing qualities it will take a smart boat to "get away with her" in a light or moderate breeze; but she carries a tremendous sail for heavy weather.

There were caught in the Gerrish's island weir, Wednesday morning, eight barrels of mackerel and a shark measuring fourteen feet. Porgies have been scarce this season, but late indications show their presence in the harbor.

The three-cent nuisance is now in a fair way to be abated, postmasters having been ordered to send all money of that description, which they may receive at their offices, to Washington, in order that its circulation may be stopped.

THE VICINITY.

Rev. Mr. Rokes of Manchester has been invited to preach one year in the Congregational church at Newington.

A large auction sale of the blankets, robes, etc., manufactured by the Norway Plains Co. at Rochester, was held in New York this week.

A most villainous attempt was made between Manchester and Lake Massabesic to wreck the up passenger train from this city on the morning of the 23d inst., by placing sleepers across the track, on which were piled large stones. The train ran into it full force, but fortunately no serious damage resulted. A half hour's delay was the only inconvenience.

For several years many of the citizens of Biddeford have petitioned the owners of the river boats to make Sunday trips to the Pool, thus affording people who are obliged to work all the week a chance to get a breath of pure air and a sniff of a real sea breeze. This summer, the owners of the steamer Augusta have inaugurated Sunday trips, which are proving successful and patronized by a very orderly class of people.

How to Drown Comfortably.

The Popular Science Monthly says: "If death by drowning be inevitable, as in a shipwreck, the easiest way to die would be to suck water into the lungs by a powerful inspiration, as soon as one went beneath the surface. A person who had the courage to do this would probably become almost immediately unconscious, and never rise to the surface. As soon as the fluid filled his lungs, all feelings of chilliness and pain would cease, the indescribable semi-delirium that accompanies anæsthesia would come on, with ringing in the ears and delightful visions of color and light, while he would seem to himself to be gently sinking to rest on the softest of beds and with the most delightful of dreams."

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

FRANK E. DEARBORN,

NO. 40 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH.

An Odd Centenary.

Mrs. Judge Conover, whose residence at Marlborough, N. J., was recently robbed, says:—"It was rather singular that the same silver which belonged to Colonel Henderson, my grandfather, who was the single horseman who informed Washington of Lee's retreat at the battle of Monmouth, should have been the only things saved from the burning house on the day of the battle and should have been discovered by the searching eyes of robbers and stolen by them on the anniversary of the battle, just 100 years afterwards. On the morning of the battle the family went to Englishtown to get under the protection of the American army, vacating their home in haste. Articles of value were packed and despatched, and this same silver was buried under a currant bush in the garden, a mile and a half southwest from the town of Freehold. The British troops came along and gobbled up all valuables they could find, including the articles of value that had been packed and despatched. The currant bush was a safe hiding place, and I wish our family had been endowed with as much wisdom as our forefathers. The British troops burned down the house, but left the silver untouched under the bush, where it was subsequently recovered. As to the hiding place of the silver, it was supposed to be safe under lock and key, but it was found and stolen, and we have no hope of ever recovering it."

— Count Joannes was pelted nearly to death with beans in New Orleans, and he alludes contemptuously to the residents of that city as a bean-nighted people.

— "Doesn't Boston harbor remind you of the bay of Naples?" asked an enthusiastic yachtsman: "Yes," was the answer, "at least in one respect. They are both full of water."

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, rendered it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more compacted in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being attached to the value of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors; is provided with all kinds of approved baths, and has also connected with it a well-appointed gymnasium and bowling alley to afford proper means of exercise.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of one or several specialties.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are the facilities of this Dispensary of a superior order as regards the remedial means and appliances for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of tonic, chemical, electro-thermal, and other approved baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial means to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and regulate the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the conditions of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the dormant energies of the diseased system, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
SOLE CHRONIC DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an author in this specialty, who has the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on these organs by a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. MILLER'S Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. Its
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and round-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT. OR
Golden Medical Discovery
CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.
In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony some of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Political.

While Wade Hampton continues to advise the administration of the success of its southern policy in South Carolina, his home organs of the Edgefield Advertiser stripe continues to advise the people of that State as follows: "As for us, we say this: People of Edgefield, watch this thing [the attempted revival of the republican party] narrowly, ceaselessly, jealously, and if you discover any ring, or any fellows trying to work this game, seize them and hang them. Do not be satisfied with abusing and ostracizing them, but seize them and hang them! In Edgefield let us have no more of the negro in politics."

The Greenback party is fast swallowing the democratic party, we should judge. The Cincinnati Enquirer, the democratic paper of the west, says "There is no need of a greenback movement outside the democratic organization. All reforms, particularly currency reform, can be found inside of the democratic party." And the Boston Post, which has hitherto stigmatized the greenback party as the devil very thinly disguised, now advocates a fusion of the democrats and greenbackers of Maine.

Steedman, who stands on the books of the United States Treasury as a thief to the tune of $500,000, and who of course is now a democrat and reformer, has been running for a nomination for Congress in the Toledo district of Ohio, but though backed by the Cincinnati Enquirer he was defeated by one Hurd. Steedman was very popular, but though he stole $500,000 he did not keep enough of it to make his fortune equalt o Hurd's, and his popularity was no match for Hurd's dollars.

Col. Jones, the late democratic treasurer of Georgia, is over $250,000 short in his accounts. A suit has begun, but the democratic papers are expressing sympathy for the "misfortune" of Mr. Jones. Ben. Hill is retained to defend him, and all the indications point to his acquittal. If he was a "carpet-bagger," republican and ex-soldier of the Union, what a howl the democrats north and south would have made about his wholesale steal; but he is a "chivalry," fought bravely to destroy the Union, and has never voted anything but the straight democratic ticket, so he is simply the victim of "misfortune."

Says the Indianapolis Journal: "The proper place for every honest greenback man is in the republican party. It created the greenback, and has maintained and defended it against the attacks of rebels, repudiationists and democrats. Under the wise and fostering policy of the republican party, the greenback has appreciated to within a fraction of parly with gold, and it is the intention of the party to make it fully equal to gold and keep it there. The democratic party has always fought greenbacks, and would degrade them now if they had the power."

Portsmouth Chronicle

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1878.

Public and Private Faith.

The holders of the bonds of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, in value amounting to about six hundred thousand dollars, guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Eastern Railroad Company, have been lately shocked to discover that the guarantee is of no value, and cannot be enforced under the ruling of the courts in this State. We have before us a bond for one thousand dollars, issued by the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, signed by Thornton K. Lothrop, president, and J. B. Parker, treasurer. The gentlemen held at the same offices in the Eastern Railroad Company; but that is not material. On the back of this bond are these words:

"For value received the EASTERN RAILROAD COMPANY hereby guarantee the payment of the within bond and coupons according to the tenor thereof, as they severally mature.
JOHN B. PARKER, Treasurer.

Approved.—
T. K. LOTHROP, P. HAVES, } Directors."

The words "Eastern Railroad Company" are printed in capital letters to emphasize the guarantee and secure their more ready acceptance by investors. Was ever obligation more clearly expressed? Was ever guarantee more positive and explicit? Is the widow who trusted to such a promise, and who expected the courts would see that it was fulfilled, to be blamed for her confidence? Or has she not indeed been grievously wronged when she is denied the poor privilege of being dealt with as other creditors of the Eastern railroad have been? It has been decided that she shall not so share, and it does not yet appear that anything remains for her but to submit to the wrong, unless her rights find a more potent voice in the courts of New Hampshire.

The supreme court has decided, as we understand it, that under the act of the legislature of Massachusetts, chapter 236, 1876, the Eastern Railroad Company may convey away all its property for the benefit of its other creditors and nothing for the holders of these bonds. It has gone farther and decided that the Eastern Railroad Company may take the money earned by the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, and apply it for the benefit of its own creditors,—leaving nothing for the creditors of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway. It is obvious that this does great injustice, which the legislature of Massachusetts never actually intended. There must be a mistake somewhere; either the legislature was very careless in passing the act, or the court has put a wrong interpretation upon it.—Boston Advertiser.

In justice to the ex-directors who approved these bonds it ought to be stated that they have no part in the repudiation which has created such a breeze of indignation in financial circles. Indeed, it is contended that some of the directors and many of the stockholders of the Eastern road are in favor of good faith. The trouble is, the road is in a measure controlled by the English capitalists, the Barings, who were "stuck" on a lot of the bonds of a former issue, and are now paying from their own coffers the difference between the interest on the 3 1-2 per cent. bonds and the six per cents, and are endeavoring by cutting off the other liabilities of the E. R. R. to carry up the three and a half per cent. bonds to par in the market, that they may unload them. The knowledge of these facts has caused P., S. & P. R. R. shares, guaranteed six per cent. stock to hang at eighty-five, depressed Portsmouth & Dover railroad ten per cent., and led to a distrust of the Eastern to such an extent that savings banks and investors decline to take these bonds in the fear that some one will bye-and-bye discover that the act of the Legislature of Massachusetts concerning the E. R. R. bonds is defective, and their turn for repudiation may come next. In the meantime, if the Conway road goes into bankruptcy, it cannot withdraw, but must be sold, and parties not in the Eastern railroad interest, will stand ready to purchase it and run it as a competing road, using the Boston & Maine, Eastern and Nashua & Rochester roads as equal outlets. Good judges have examined the property, and are quietly biding the time when a sale under the bankrupt court will enable them to pay for this road as much as its present bonded debt amounts to, and then will contest the claim of the Eastern to any balance due that corporation on the ground that the latter road owes in a proper adjustment of freight charges immense sums to the Conway road, and for other unrevealed charges. Indeed, it looks as if in the recent Massachusetts decision, the Eastern had caught a tartar, and from the determined character of the men who are watching the movements of the Eastern advisers, it is not improbable that the English repudiators will discover that when they ordered this default of payment they initiated a series of blunders that will lose to the Eastern the control of the Conway line, and diminish the receipts of the trunk road to such an extent that it will be difficult to pay the interest on its bonded debt, and a general collapse will follow.

One hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars (at par) of Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway bonds are advertised to be sold at auction in Boston next month. They are (with a number of shares in the Pullman Palace Car Co.) held as collateral security for the notes of the Eastern railroad, and are sold under the decree of the Massachusetts court in the recently decided case in that State.

"The State Will Stand By Him."

Judge Kershaw, the South Carolina judge who recently decided to "nullify" the United States law which provides for the removal of cases against Federal officers from the State courts to the Circuit Court of the United States, closed his carefully written refusal to obey the Federal law with the following significant threat:

A resort to the compulsory power claimed for the Circuit Court might transfer the question from the quiet arena of the courts to the executive departments of the government, and lead to great irritation and consequences greatly to be deprecated.

The Charleston News has been widely quoted as one of the most conservative of the conciliated papers. The News, commenting upon the announcement that the government will probably proceed by a writ of habeas corpus from the Circuit Court of the United States, to release the revenue officers confined in that State, says:

Unless the government recedes, a distinct issue will be raised with the State courts. In his decision in the Ladd case Judge Kershaw intimated that any resort to compulsory process might lead to unpleasant consequences, and in his charge to the grand jury at Pickens, last month, he said that if the United States Court acted outside of its authority it would be the duty of his court "to disregard it as an unlawful interference." That Judge Kershaw will regard the proposed action of the United States Court as being "outside of its authority" is evident from the decision already rendered by him. We presume he weighed the full meaning of his words, and the State will stand by him and his officers in making them good.

That kind of talk is plain enough to be understood by the most determined believer in the statement that "the war of secession ended in 1865." The old State Sovereignty doctrine is revived, and thrust into such prominence that no one can help seeing it. A State judge decides that when a State chooses to set aside a Federal law that law becomes a nullity, and he threatens that any attempt by the general government to enforce the Federal law will lead to serious trouble; and the most "conservative" paper in the State warns the National Government that "unless it recedes" from any attempt to enforce the law, "the State will stand by" the nullifying judge and his followers in any measures they may take to destroy the National authority.

This is not merely nullification threatened; it looks very much as though it was nullification triumphant, for the anti-Union sentiment is strong as ever in the south, as is shown by the universal favor accorded Jeff Davis' assertion that there can never be lasting peace between the north and south until the former acknowledges its crime in coercing the rebels; and the ex-confederates in Congress, aided by the entire democracy of the north, have provided by law that United States troops shall not be used to enforce United States laws.

The "solid south" has done well; the ex-rebels seem to have indeed gained in council, as they said they would, what they lost in battle. "The grey's on deck again," without a doubt. How does the north like it?

News and Notes.

The visit of Secretary Thompson to the naval stations is not a pleasure excursion. He devotes from six to eight hours each day to a thorough inspection of the ships and construction departments, and is becoming thoroughly conversant with the leading constructors and their methods of doing business.

Yellow fever is raging at Havana and New Orleans. Fourteen fatal cases have occurred in the latter city.

Wages in Scotland are very low, and still declining. Laborers receive from fifty to seventy-five cents a day; miners eight to twelve cents an hour; mechanics $7 a week; printers $8. On railways, conductors are paid $5 to $6 a week; switch-tenders, $5; engineers, ten to fourteen cents an hour; firemen, six to seven cents an hour. The cost of living is about the same as in the United States.

A Wilkesbarre, Pa., dispatch says that the leading manufacturers believe that in the communistic strike threatened in August by miners, railroad men and workmen in manufactories, the banks will be pillaged, rich men's houses and manufactories robbed, and all manner of outrage committed. The strike was advertised for June, and was to have begun in Pennsylvania, but the prompt action of Gov. Hartranft led to its postponement till August 15th. Bishop O'Hara of Wilkesbarre is said to share the anxiety relative to the trouble threatened next month.

About eighty boys from the training-ship Minnesota, at New York, were marched on Sunday evening to Christ Church. After the sermon, as the boys filed out of the church, a lad about seventeen years of age broke ranks and ran with great rapidity, down Park-avenue. In a moment more two other boys followed. The first boy escaped, but the two latter were overhauled on Madison avenue.

James Carroll, who said he was a native of Lawrence, and was a captain in the Twenty-fifth Massachusetts Regiment during the rebellion, committed suicide at Tucson, Arizona, July 2, by taking strychnine.

John Crossley, a clerk for the Fall River Coal Company, is a son of Anthony Crossley of Manchester, N. H., who has just fallen heir to a large estate, in Yorkshire, England. It is worth $35,000 a year, and will eventually come into young John's possession.

The long contest about the Manchester & Keene railroad crossing the Cheshire railroad, before the New Hampshire Railroad Commissioners, terminated Wednesday by the Manchester & Keene railroad accepting the Cheshire road's offer giving $8000 towards the additional expense of crossing over the Cheshire railroad track.

Wednesday afternoon Charles Chase, a young lad about fourteen years old, living in Manchester, caught his right wrist in a shade-planer at Austin Johnson & Co.'s sash and blind factory. An ugly wound was cut but no bones were broken.

Tuesday afternoon, Napoleon Gagnon, son of Charles Gagnon, was killed by the falling of a tree in Candia. The father left Manchester in the morning for the woods, and took his son, aged eight years, with him. The boy went prepared to have a good time while his father was busy chopping. In the middle of the afternoon a small-sized tree which had been partly cut, fell to the ground, and in falling struck the unfortunate boy, who was standing near by, killing him instantly, the skull being completely shattered by the blow.

The republicans of Indiana are daily more confident of carrying the State this fall. They are making preparations for an energetic canvass, directing most of their fire against the return of Voorhees to the Senate. If the national party were out of the field their success would be comparatively easy. But the third party is dangerously strong, is well organized, and is working with the democrats in all close districts. The danger is that the legislature may be so evenly divided as to throw the balance of power into the hands of a few nationals, who would, in all probability, vote for Voorhees.

Surest Tranquillizer of the Nerves.

The surest tranquillizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quiescence of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional men, litterateurs, clergymen, and others who have testified the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine.

THE CITY.

John G. Tappan, the defaulting treasurer of the Boston Belting Co., was a pupil in his boyhood at the Portsmouth Academy, Amos Tappan, his relative, being the teacher.

The "Rockingham" base-ball nine of this city, (color, blue,) will play a match game with the "Farragut" nine of Rye Beach, at the Plains to-morrow. Game called at three o'clock P. M.

The Weekly, in announcing the death of Mr. Edgar L. Morse, says he was "a native of Taunton, Mass., and a soldier in the rebellion in Co. K, 4th Mass. Vols. He was severely wounded at Port Hudson, receiving seven bullets in his body, three of which he carried till his death, and losing an arm. But, though he suffered ever after from chronic disease contracted in the service, he was industrious to the last, as clerk and messenger for Mr. R. K. Oxford, and elsewhere, and being temporarily employed on the navy yard of late, was fatally prostrated by the extreme heat and his old ailment. He leaves a widow and infant child, for whom it is hoped his pension may be continued."

The yacht Unknown, in sailing about the river on Thursday afternoon, got on shore on Pumpkin Island ledge. One of the means taken to assist in getting her off the ledge was a line attached to her tender, two of the crew rowing. She came off easily, and a heavy breeze blowing at the time she went with good speed up the river, dragging by the stern her tender, which capsized, throwing the occupants into the water. Several boats were in the vicinity and but one party had presence of mind enough to go to the rescue. The men clung to the boat and in less than two minutes were on board their yacht again. Their baptism in the Piscataqua will probably form one of the principal incidents of their voyage.

The Underwood house, corner of Deer and Vaughan streets, is being newly shingled. It last went through that operation in 1839, when John Norton, Esq., as master-workman gave it a covering of old New Hampshire pine. One of his workmen, Moses Yeaton, Esq., has this week been working just where he worked so many years ago. The old house shows little signs of age, but most of those who then worked with Mr. Yeaton have passed way. The sparkling jest and merry laugh are still fresh to the memory, but the lips that gave them utterance have long been silent. We doubt not the work is being as well done as it was thirty-nine years ago, but whether the cedar of to-day will last as long as the old pine has is quite a different question.

On one of the days during the "heated term" a party of ladies and gentlemen from this city were at one of the beaches, among them being Mr. Matthew T. Beton, who with others indulged in a salt-water bath. As a thunder-storm was threatening the bathers soon left the water, and had just gotten on the beach when Mr. Betton remarked that he felt badly, and immediately lost his sight and fell on the sand. His friends hastened to use all the means of restoration at hand—though they for a long time thought him dead—and by persistent rubbing and the administration of stimulants he was at length revived, though he was very feeble for hours afterward. The trouble was caused by an undue rush of blood to his heart and liver. Had he fallen senseless while in the water he could hardly have escaped with his life.

One evening recently an active and enterprising young man who runs with one of the fire engines, and who is particularly proud of his ability as a boatman—doubtless because men are generally most vain of accomplishments they do not possess—hired a boat and "made sail with a white ash-breeze" on the raging Piscataqua, just to show his unbelieving mates in the engine company what he could do in that line if he tried. The manner in which he feathered his oars, and the speed he made until he reached the middle of the river, were equally terrific; but just then he "rowed dry" on one side, and, as he slued half round on the thwart and his heels flew up until he looked like a gigantic letter V, one oar slipped from his grasp and slid overboard. Making a desperate but unavailing grab for the runaway oar, he loosed his hold of the other and that one too went adrift, in the opposite direction; and finding himself hopelessly wrecked in port, and that the tide was whirling him about perilously near buoys and things, the daring mariner lifted up his voice in such manner as to soon bring to the rescue a Kittery boatman, who towed the castaway to a haven of safety.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the proprietors of the Portsmouth Bridge, held in this city on Thursday, the following named gentlemen were chosen directors, viz.: Ichabod Goodwin, W. H. Y. Hackett, Portsmouth; Alfred P. Rockwell, Boston; S. Lothrop Thorndike, Beverly; George E. B. Jackson, Portland; George P. King, Salem, and George S. Morrison, New York.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, July 25; Batchelder, J.

John Ferguson and John Maguire, two transient persons, alias tramps, were sent to Brentwood in default of $9.90 each, fine and costs. Rum did it.

Andrew Stevenson, a lieutenant of marines, appeared to answer to charges for impeding and insulting citizens, and using profane and indecent language on the public streets. Among the principal witnesses summoned by the prosecution were Ex-Judge Calvin Page and Dr. Edgar M. Jewett. There were three complaints against Lieut. Stevenson. Owing to the absence of his counsel the hearing was continued to Friday forenoon at ten o'clock, bail being required in the sum of $100 on each complaint.

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

Request of John H. Hutchinson for gravel on Lincoln avenue was referred to committee on streets.

Timothy Chellis requested that poll-tax heretofore paid by him be refunded, he having never voted here. Referred to committee on claims.

Committee on city lands and buildings, to whom was referred the matter of a landing at the foot of Daniel street, recommended that steps be built. Report accepted, and same committee empowered to build said steps.

Committee on streets recommended that petition of H. R. Stoddard and others, for improvement of street at the corner of Vaughan and Hanover, be granted. Report accepted and adopted, and referred to next board.

Same committee recommended construction of cross walk on Market street, on petition of Alexander Ladd and others. Approved, and referred to same committee, with power.

On the recommendation of the committee on drains, it was voted that one member be sent to Boston to inspect drains now being laid there. Ald. Hoyt was appointed to that duty.

Voted that two naphtha lights be placed on Middle street, between Cass street and the residence of Charles H. Mendum; and one on Lincoln avenue, near the corner of Broad street.

Adjourned for one week.

DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.

For some days quite an excitement has existed in certain circles in this city, and several commotions have taken place near the corner of Market and Daniel streets, caused by the threatening demonstrations made by a marine officer named Andrew Stevenson towards Dr. Edgar M. Jewett, who Stevenson claims has slandered him. Feeling his honor called in question, Stevenson has several times interviewed the doctor on the streets, using language entirely unworthy a gentleman, and which is prohibited by the statutes of this State. He also appointed a time when he would meet the doctor in his office and "slap his chops" but the doctor being absent from the city at the appointed time did not receive the promised castigation.

On Wednesday evening Stevenson followed Dr. Jewett into D. H. Montgomery's store, and by threats induced him to sign a paper. The two then left the store and went toward Market square, where a number of gentlemen stood who asked Jewett if he wanted protection. He said he did, and then snatched from Stevenson's hands the paper he had signed. Stevenson then made use of grossly insulting language to some of the gentlemen present.

Late in the evening he again made his appearance in about the same place on the street, and commenced using violent and abusive language toward another gentleman. Assistant Marshal Gray warned him to desist, or he would lock him up. The officer leaving, Stevenson continued his performance and was ordered out of a store he was then in, and when on the sidewalk was advised by several citizens to leave the vicinity, he having created disturbance enough. Still keeping up his loud bluster he collected a crowd, when he was arrested by the City Marshal and Asst. Marshal Gray, and taken to the station. At a later hour he was released on a prominent citizen becoming responsible for his appearance before the police court in the morning. The result of the police court examination appears in another place.

On Thursday Commodore Guest, commandant of the navy yard, authorized Lt. Col. Field, commanding the marine corps, to investigate the case; and in pursuance of that duty Col. Field procured the depositions of several well known citizens as to Stevenson's conduct, and a full report will no doubt be made to the proper authorities.

THE VICINITY.

Charles Gorham, proprietor of one of the large hotels at Old Orchard beach, has been sentenced on four indictments for liquor selling to twenty-five months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $600, with $200 costs additional.

Edmund B. Whittier, son of Mr. Otis H. Whittier, of the Union House, Hampton, who lost a large portion of one of his hands a few days ago by the accidental explosion of a cartridge shell which he was loading, died on Thursday morning of lockjaw. On the Tuesday previous he was riding out, and appeared to be doing well.

A company of students from Harvard, styling themselves the Arion Quartette, are making a tour northward, and have, so far, met with success. At the Masconomo house at Manchester, Mass., on the evening of July 22d, and at the Farragut house at Rye beach on the 24th, the concerts were enthusiastically received. The quartettes, and particularly the college songs, were rendered with good effect, while the solos by the first tenor, Bingham, were all encored. One of the company says that Bingham has made a "clean record," having at no concert failed to elicit a spirited encore to every one of his songs. The Arions sang Thursday evening at the Appledore house, Isles of Shoals. To-night they sing at the Pepperell house, Kittery, and on Saturday night at the Marshall house, York harbor.

About a week ago a man giving the name of Pike visited the Union House, at Hampton, with a horse and team, and offered to sell the animal for $100 to Mr. Otis H. Whittier, proprietor of the hotel. The offer was accepted with the stipulation that the amount should be paid in a week's time if the horse proved all right. On Tuesday of the present week the man went for his pay, but Mr. Whittier still being suspicious that all was not right, compliance with the demand to pay was deferred, and Pike left. It has since been discovered that the team was stolen from Moultonborough on July 12th. Pike sent the wagon and harness by rail to Boston, where they were sold.

CONCORD POINT AND FOSS' BEACH.

The people from this seaside resort are frequent travellers if one may judge from the passengers carried by Henry Knox's coach, which with its four-in-hand is one of the best teams of the kind in the State. On Thursday evening, this establishment went to Rye with twenty-three passengers; at least so many could be counted in sight; there may have been others too small to be seen as the horses trotted on with their load, with the driver's legs hanging over the foot board. High in the air was a pile of "Saratogas," while in front a beautiful mansard of fine girls—our cousins from the country—added a fine effect to the lively picture. Henry has the best of the many seaside teams seen on our streets, at this season, and does a good business. It is a good road most of the way to Foss' beach, and the team under Dearborn's driving and Knox's supervision seems to thrive on hard work. Probably nowhere in the State can be seen a better-turn out, not even in the White Mountain region, for these horses, like the passengers, come down from the interior, and improve with the sea air they here enjoy.

Ice freights from the Kennebec to Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York are quoted at $1 per ton.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Another Call for Bonds.

The Acting Secretary of the Treasury has issued the 63d call for the redemption of 5-20 bonds of 1865, consols of 1865. The call is for five million dollars, of which two and a half millions are coupons and two and a half millions registered bonds. The principal and interest will be paid at the Treasury on and after the 23d of October next, and the interest will cease that day. Descriptions of the bonds, coupon bonds dated July 1, 1865, viz:

$50, No. 68,061 to 69,600, both inclusive.
$100, No. 114,761 to 117,600, both inclusive.
$500, No. 19,501 to 19,600, both inclusive.
$1000, No. 105,001 to 106,600, both inclusive.

Registered bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after the first day of July, 1870, as follows:

$50, No. 2391 to No. 2250, both inclusive.
$100, No. 10,251 to No. 10,350, both inclusive.
$500, No. 10,851 to No. 10,900, both inclusive.
$1000, No. 35,201 to No. 35,450, both inclusive.
$5000, No. 1631 to No. 9600, both inclusive.
$10,000, No. 16,484 to No. 19,600, both inclusive.

How It Works.

Special postal agent Adams reports from Lincoln, New Mexico, that Postmaster Dolan of that place has been forced to flee to Fort Stanton for protection from a gang of murderers under McSweeney. At least a dozen men have been killed by this gang because they were friends of Postmaster Dolan. The gang holds complete sway, and as under the late law of Congress no Federal officer can claim military protection in the execution of his duty.—all the government can do is to remove the postmaster and appoint some one whom the gang of murderers will not object to. Thus a pack of ruffianly assassins are superior to the United States government. Special Agent Adams recommends the acceptance of Dolan's resignation, and the appointment of Mr. Walz, the latter being a stranger.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.
The very large number of invalid people who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult Dr. R. V. PIERCE, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery associated with him, renders it necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and comprehensive scale for their entertainment and comfort.
ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more compact in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. The building is located in one of the most healthful and desirable portions of the City of Buffalo, and commands a fine view of Lake Erie, Niagara River, and the surrounding country, being situated in the midst of an extensive system of beautiful parks. The Hotel is furnished with a patent safety passenger elevator, to convey patients to and from the different floors. It possesses all the conveniences of hot and cold pressed baths, is in many cases an invaluable auxiliary to the remedial agents to which we resort in such cases. Dry friction to the surface, general shampooing, Swedish movements, and light calisthenic exercises, to enliven and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully selected, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the wards, the cheerful, cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all those agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from despondency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty, by which the greatest skill is attained and the most happy results secured.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a gentleman of extensive judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this Hotel, and the results which have been highly gratifying to both physician and patients.
EYE AND EAR.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.
Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come at once to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. Mr. LEWIS Omnibus Agents, on all incoming trains, can be relied upon to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

PENNSYLVANIA
RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World.
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT. OR
Golden Medical Discovery
CURES DISEASES OF THE
THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.
In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poison, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

CAUTION.
☞ The great popularity of "ASTRAL" OIL has induced some unprincipled persons to sell worthless and dangerous imitations for "ASTRAL," while others palm off inferior oils, representing them as good as "ASTRAL." To prevent this fraud, purchasers should demand "ASTRAL" and take no other.

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Couldn't Fool Her.

A nice young man resolved the other day to present his beloved girl with a nice pair of shoes. He accordingly procured her measure and went into one of the fashionable boot stores and purchased a two-dollar pair of shoes. In order to make the present appear more valuable he marked $5 upon the soles of the shoes, and at his request the clerk put a receipted bill for $5 into one of the shoes. The presentation was made, and the lovers were happy, as lovers should be. But mark the sequel. The girl examined the shoes in the daylight and was not satisfied. She was convinced that her lover had been cheated in the purchase of such a pair of shoes at that price. She decided to go and change the shoes and obtain a better bargain. Yesterday she appeared in the store and selected a pair of shoes, price $3.50, and politely requested the clerk to take back the shoes for which she said her husband had paid $5. The receipted bill was produced in proof, and the boot man found it impossible to go "behind the returns." The smart girl took her $3.50 pair of shoes and obtained $1.50 in money, and went home happy and satisfied. The boot seller sent a bill for $3 to the young man who promptly paid the difference, but he thinks that girl too smart for him.—Kansas City Times.

A Relic of the War.

The dredge boats in the canal at Spanish Fort have lately brought to light a most curious monster of the deep, in the shape of an ex-Confederate torpedo boat. It now lies right side up upon the shore of the canal, opposite the fort. A careful examination shows that it conforms to the following description.

It is made of 1-4 inch boiler iron, riveted in plates. Its length is eighteen feet, breadth five, and depth seven. In shape it somewhat resembles a sun perch, although it is equally pointed at both ends. A three-bladed screw is attached to the stern, while at the bow are two species of steering apparatus, consisting of set fans, which, being set at certain inclinations, force the vessel upward or downward, to the right or to the left. In the point of the bow is a socket plugged with wood. From this fact it is seen that the torpedo was suspended from the bow on a wooden pole, which, judging from the diameter of the socket, could not have been very long—not more than six feet. Neither could it have sustained a very heavy torpedo.

Through the upper deck of the boat, or rather through the back of the iron fish, rises an iron pipe, six inches in diameter. This is broken off at the height of four inches above the deck. It probably was several feet in length, and was used, doubtless, to permit a circuit of fresh air to pass through the vessel while passing beneath the surface of the water. The entrance to the interior is through a two-foot hole in the deck. An iron stove-lid door closes this aperture. There are traces of keys, etc., by which this door was battened down air tight.

Entering the little ship, one finds one's self in very narrow quarters indeed. In the bow is an air pump, with a pipe piercing the starboard side of the boat above the water-line. This pump is worked by a straight driving crank about three feet long. It was intended to be used in fair sailing upon the surface of the water. When found necessary to go beneath the waves the pump would be vigorously worked, and as much air forced in as possible. For the rest the occupants of the vessel would have to depend upon the air they could obtain through the supply chimney above mentioned. Still further toward the bow is the mechanism for the working of the elevating fans and the rudder. This consists of a series of cranks of limited movement, but sufficient, doubtless, to give the fans and the rudder the necessary inclination. A little back of midships are the cogwheel and rotary crank arrangements for the working of the screw. From the size of said screw it seems that it must have required two men to work it effectively. One man could handle the steering gear. Total crew, three.

The official history of this little instrument of war is probably embraced in the archives of the Confederacy now in Washington. What is here to be discovered about it is mere conjecture. It was made probably in 1862, and never took any active part in the civil war. This last fact is evident because the vessel was found in port and unoccupied. Had it gone out to action in the lake, it would never have returned, and had it sunk fighting in the canal, it would have had the bones of the crew within it. Very likely it never made even its trial trip, but was sunk as a matter of precaution by the Confederates when the city was captured by the United States troops.—Times.

Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway R. R. Company Meeting.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad Company will be held at the Ward Room on Elm Street, near the Eastern Railroad Station, in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, on the thirtieth day of July, A. D. 1878, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the following purpose, to-wit: To inquire into the condition of the affairs of said corporation; to consider the expediency of said corporation going into voluntary bankruptcy; and if it shall be deemed so expedient, to authorize some officer of the corporation to file a petition in the behalf for the purpose of having the same adjudged bankrupt, and for the benefit of an act of Congress entitled, "An act to establish a uniform system of Bankruptcy throughout the United States, approved, March 2, 1867," — and of all acts in amendment thereof.

By order of the Directors,

WALLACE HACKETT, Clerk.

Portsmouth, N. H., July 18, 1878.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25th.

It appears that a large portion, if not the entire region of illicit whiskey manufacture in the south, is virtually in rebellion against the government. Officers detailed for service there have come to regard it as about as hazardous as active service at the front during the existence of actual war. They fall victims to the familiar shot-gun, the bludgeon and the assassin's knife. It is found difficult to arrest the offenders and next to impossible to convict them. They are encouraged by the force of public opinion to continue their illegal practices and their murderous assaults on the officials striving to do their duty. They are shielded by the courts, and every obstruction is thrown in the way of bringing them to justice. On the other hand the officer killing one of his assailants in self defense is, if he escapes lynching by a mob, thrown into prison and all the weight of the State government, from the "conciliated" governor down, is brought to bear to secure his conviction of a crime liable to capital punishment. The cases of several officers in South Carolina who recently killed one of a party who sought to liberate a prisoner in their hands, are in point. They were arrested for murder and thrown into prison. The government, despairing evidently of having justice done in the State court where the trials were to be had, took measures to have them brought before the U. S. Court. But it has seemingly been deterred from protecting its own officers, by the bullying bluster of one Judge Kershaw; and the mutterings of discontent at what looks like a vacillating and temporizing course, are heard on every side.

The Hunton-Alexander sensation has been about exhausted. They are both Bourbons, and what local sympathy is felt for Alexander aside from politics is due to the stubborn fight he made against the high-handed and arbitrary measures of the famous Board of Public Works. Alexander's offence consisted in a denial of a reported statement of Hunton's in a speech to his constituents, explaining his vote in favor of legalizing the assessments of the Board which the courts had decided fraudulent and illegal. He was reported to have intimated that he was influenced in his vote by Alexander's favorable representations. Alexander accompanied his denial with some strictures on Hunton's alleged co-operation with District rings. But the estimate of Hunton's law-abiding character and his courage has not been enhanced by his challenge to a man nearly sixty-five years old, and who is probably wholly unfamiliar with the use of a pistol; and the load of ridicule he has invited by "posting" Alexander as an "irresponsible coward and malicious liar" will not aid a coveted re-election to Congress. It is fair to add, however, that Hunton secured a fair share of our good will by his generally liberal votes in District affairs.

The many changes made at the White House recently in important Federal officials, without, it is alleged, even consulting members of the Cabinet, has subjected the President's peculiar methods of "reforming" the civil service to severe criticism. Even his friends seem to shrink from attempt at justification. It is openly asserted, and not to my knowledge denied, that Louisiana patronage has practically been turned over to Senator Kellogg in return for his support; and the charge is made that Union soldiers have been appealed to for a support through the Grand Army of the Republic, which it is evident efforts at "conciliation" has failed to secure.

The soldiers of fortune and chronic disturbers, of whom the ex-rebel Gen. Pillow may answer as a type, who constitute the Mexican lobby, are turning up here again in considerable numbers, all ready to lead (or follow) our soldiers across the Rio Grande border to work out our "manifest destiny" as formerly interpreted by fillibustering democracy. They predict that Ord's next movement across the line will quickly lead to a formal declaration of war by Diaz.

Our several recent victories over the Indian hostiles has quieted excitement in that direction. It is hoped they may soon submit and return to their reservations. If what is heard here correctly reflects public sentiment at large, severe punishment for their rebellion will not be encouraged after they have surrendered. Then it is hoped the war may direct attention towards Indian agent thieves.

It seems the general impression that resumption, so far as it will not clash with the letter or spirit of existing laws, will be undertaken as soon as practicable without waiting for a particular date.

Work has at last been resumed upon the Washington Monument, and the ground has already been broken for the new building for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing authorized by the last Congress. KNOX.

Bulldozing the "Independents."

There was an affray at Nashville, Tenn., July 24th, between an "independent" democrat named Samuel Hicks, and Edwin, Nathaniel, Jeremiah and Jones Baxter, sons of Judge Nathaniel Baxter, the democratic nominee for re-election as Judge of the Circuit Court. Hicks and Jones Baxter were fatally shot. The former received several shots from the Baxters, and had his skull fractured in two places by blows from the muzzle of a pistol in the hands of one of them. Jones Baxter received only one shot, near the heart, and from a party unknown. Hicks expired in a few minutes, and Jones Baxter lived scarcely an hour. Jere. Baxter received a slight wound in the head, Nathaniel Baxter received one in the foot, and a negro girl of thirteen years was struck in the thigh by a stray shot, inflicting a painful wound. The affray grew out of some remarks derogatory to the character of the father of the Baxters by Hicks in a speech at a meeting of candidates for county offices on the Independent ticket, the evening previous. The Baxters gave bonds in $2000 for their appearance.

A Queer Show.

An odd case of suicide took place in Capron, Ohio, on the evening of July 23d. Early last May George W. Burleigh, an old resident of Ohio, came to that town, ostensibly to start a barber shop. Burleigh was a man of varied accomplishments, fine education and versatile in conversation. While at Capron he was often in depressed spirits. On July 21st he published a card informing the citizens that in order to gratify an often-expressed curiosity on the part of his townsmen to witness some such tragedy as the hanging of Sherry and Connolly in Chicago, he would, on the evening of the 23d, deliver a lecture in Thornton hall, and at its conclusion gratify them by shooting himself through the forehead. The price of admission would be one dollar, and the amount realized should be used in his funeral expenses, and the remainder be invested in the works of Huxley, Tyndall, and Darwin for the town library. His idea in ending his life was to secure eternal peace by annihilation. At the appointed time the hall was crowded, and after delivering an infidel lecture of great power, in a manner and tone which marked him as an adept, he suddenly drew a derringer, placed it against his forehead, and despite all attempts to prevent the rash deed, fired, and fell into the arms of two friends who stood at the wings of the stage for the purpose of hindering the execution of his design. The large-sized ballet literally tore his brain to pieces. He left a request that his remains be forwarded to his Cincinnati friends.

A Nice Man.

It is pleasant to learn that Wade Hampton has assured the Federal government that Judge Kershaw, the nullifier, is "remarkably free from political or party feeling," and "a man of the highest character, both private and official." Also that "nothing would make him overstep the bounds of his office or violate the law." The only trouble is that this pure patriot considers Federal law no law at all when a State law of South Carolina conflicts with it.

News and Notes.

Mr. Shaw of Willimantic, Conn., heard a noise at his barn one night last week, and soon saw a man trying the door and lighting a match. He fired at him, and he cried out, "My God, I'm shot!" Mr. Shaw went out, but found nothing except a pair of boots. Later that night the rascal set fire to the house, but it was saved.

A Mrs. Lehman, of Pittsfield, Mass., has confessed setting fire to the barns and other property of Jeremiah Buck in that town last summer, by which $15,000 worth of property was destroyed. The woman has been living with Buck's nephew, and set the fire in revenge for his relatives trying to break up the intimacy.

Miss Abigail H. Smith, of Glastonbury, Conn., who all her life protested against taxation without representation, died at her home in that town, Tuesday night, July 23d, aged eighty-eight years. Her sister Julia survives her, aged eighty-six years.

Barque Palestina, from Portland for Havana, has been wrecked at Abaco and ten lives lost.

Ship Loch Ard, from England for an Australian port, has been wrecked near Cape Otway, west coast of Australia, and of fifty-two persons on board only two were saved.

During an opera, given in Pottstown, Penn., a flash of lightning was produced by the stage manager, the alcohol in the instrument he was using escaped, and catching fire, spread over the dress of one of the fairies, the flames enveloping her instantly. A dozen other fairies ran immediately to the rear and she ran across the stage and jumped into the arms of the manager, who was playing the piano. His hands were badly burned in endeavoring to save her. Her hair, face and arms were scorched before the fire was extinguished.

It is curious that what is ridiculous now in a negro preacher of Richmond, Va., that the earth is fixed and that the sun moves around it, was only a short time since a doctrine of the church, to deny which was heresy. In 1600 Giordano Bruno was burned at Rome, for denying brother Jasper's doctrine, and even as late as the year 1636, Galileo Galilei, a friend of the Pope and cardinals, was forced to deny that the earth moved, lest he too should suffer the fate of Bruno.

Charles Long of Whitehall, Vt., was shot dead by some person unknown while fishing in Lake Champlain, Thursday evening. The deed is supposed to have been committed to prevent fishing in that locality.

Political.

The Cincinnati Gazette gives the following hint to the Potter-fraud-democratic-campaign committee, which it irreverently calls the Butler committee: "It has been proved beyond a doubt that the so-called Anderson-Weber agreement was a product of the democratic forgery mill in New Orleans. The same bureau ought to be able to turn out a Sherman letter. It would be an irrepressible boon to the Butler committee just now."

The socialist Schwab in the couse of a printed interview, says that all his party asks is that the land, machinery, railroads, telegraphs and canals, shall be made the common property of the people; that the wages system shall be abolished; that churches shall be allowed to fall into decay and that "if we cannot work out our ends in improving society peaceably, we shall do it with the strong arm." Citizen Schwab, whose life has been spent in hard labor behind a bar, does not say what disposition he wishes made of his lager beer saloon.

Natural Selection.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man! An inferior cannot supercede a superior article. Illustrative of this principle are the family medicines of R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y. By reason of superior merit, they have outrivaled all other medicines. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit. It is safe to say that no medicine or combination of medicines yet discovered equals or can compare with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for the cure of coughs, colds, and all pulmonary and blood affections. If the bowels be constipated and liver sluggish, his Pleasant Purgative Pellets will give prompt relief; while his Favorite Prescription will positively, perfectly, and permanently, cure those weaknesses and "dragging-down" sensations peculiar to females. In the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, an illustrated work of nearly one thousand pages, the Doctor has fully discussed the principles that underlie health and sickness. Price $1.50, post-paid. Adapted to old and young, single and married. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

—Sunset Cox's claim to public gratitude is that through his instrumentality twenty-six new light-houses, beacons and fog signals have already been established. Therefore he looks upon his re-election as a foghorn conclusion.—Journal of Commerce.
